

The article was labeled in part, "Halls Pink * * * Sealect Brand Pink Salmon * * * G. Batcheller Hall Co. Distributor Seattle, Washington."

Adulteration of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that it consisted in part of a filthy, decomposed, and putrid animal substance.

On July 19, 1920, no claimant having appeared for the property, a default decree of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

8682. Adulteration and misbranding of gelatin. U. S. * * * v. W. B. Wood Mfg. Co., a Corporation, and W. B. Wood. Plea of nolo contendere. Fine, $250 and costs. (F. & D. No. 12477. I. S. Nos. 11371-r, 11400-r, 12429-r.)

On September 14, 1920, the United States attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district an information against the W. B. Wood Mfg. Co., a corporation, and W. B. Wood, St. Louis, Mo., alleging shipment by said defendants, in violation of the Food and Drugs Act, on or about March 4, 1919, March 25, 1919, and March 16, 1919, from the State of Missouri into the States of Ohio and Kentucky, of quantities of gelatin which was adulterated and misbranded. The shipment of March 4 was invoiced as gelatin. The remaining shipments were labeled "Gelatine."

Analyses of samples by the Bureau of Chemistry of this department showed that the article in each shipment consisted in part of glue and contained excessive quantities of zinc.

Adulteration of the article in all shipments was alleged in the information for the reason that it contained an added poisonous and deleterious ingredient, to wit, zinc, which might have rendered the article injurious to health, and for the further reason that glue had been mixed and packed with, and substituted in part for, gelatin, which the article purported to be.

Misbranding of the article in the shipments of March 16 and 25, 1919, was alleged in the information for the reason that the statement, "Gelatine," borne on the drum containing the article, regarding it and the ingredients and substances contained therein, was false and misleading, and the article was labeled as aforesaid so as to deceive and mislead the purchaser in that it represented that said article was gelatin, whereas, in truth and in fact, said article was not gelatin, but was a mixture composed in part of glue. Misbranding was alleged for the further reason that the article was a mixture composed in part of glue, prepared in imitation of gelatin, and was offered for sale and sold under the distinctive name of another article, to wit, gelatin.

On November 6, 1920, the defendants entered pleas of nolo contendere to the information, whereupon the court imposed a fine of $250 and costs.
