

at Washington, N. J., alleging that the article had been shipped by the Flory Milling Co., Inc., Bangor, Pa., in two consignments, namely, on or about March 9 and 10, 1926, respectively, and transported from the State of Pennsylvania into the State of New Jersey, and charging misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act. The article was labeled in part: "Triangle Brand Cottonseed Meal * * * Guaranteed Analysis: Protein 43%."

Misbranding of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that the statement "Protein 43%," borne on the labels, was false and misleading and deceived and misled the purchaser.

On June 3, 1926, the Warren Beatty Estate, Hackettstown, N. J., and J. Kreidel, Washington, N. J., having appeared as claimants for respective portions of the product, judgments of condemnation and forfeiture were entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to the said claimants upon payment of the costs of the proceedings and the execution of bonds in the aggregate sum of $750, conditioned in part that it be relabeled under the supervision of this department.

14357. Adulteration and misbranding of canned tomatoes. U. S. v. 105 Cases of Canned Tomatoes. Default order of destruction entered. (F. & D. No. 18269. I. S. No. 19348-v. S. No. C-4017.)

On January 17, 1926, the United States attorney for the Northern District of Ohio, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 105 cases of canned tomatoes, at Tiffin, Ohio, alleging that the article had been shipped by A. J. Lewis, Walnut Point, Va., on or about October 5, 1923, and transported from the State of Virginia into the State of Ohio, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act. The article was labeled in part: (Can) "Potomac Brand Hand Packed Tomatoes * * * Packed By A. J. Lewis Walnut Point, Va."

Adulteration of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that a substance, added puree pulp or juice from skins and cores, had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce, lower or injuriously affect its quality or strength and had been substituted wholly or in part for the said article.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the statement "Hand Packed Tomatoes Our Extra Quality," borne on the label, was false and misleading and deceived and misled the purchaser. Misbranding was alleged for the further reason that the article was offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article.

On April 26, 1926, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of the court was entered, ordering destruction of the product.

14358. Adulteration of canned shrimp. U. S. v. 38 Cases of Canned Shrimp. Default decree of condemnation, forfeiture and destruction. (F. & D. No. 20795. I. S. No. 1857-x. S. No. C-4940.)

On January 27, 1926, the United States attorney for the Northern District of Ohio, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 38 cases of canned shrimp, at Toledo, Ohio, alleging that the article had been shipped by the Houma Packing Co., Houma, La., on or about August 18, 1925, and transported from the State of Louisiana into the State of Ohio, and charging adulteration in violation of the food and drugs act. The article was labeled in part: (Can) "Chef Fancy Shrimp Wet Pack."

Adulteration of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that it consisted in whole or in part of a filthy, decomposed or putrid animal substance.

On April 27, 1926, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.
