

seizure and condemnation of 15 tubs of butter, remaining in the original unbroken packages at New York, N.Y., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about August 12, 1932, by American Stores Co., from Philadelphia, Pa., to New York City, N.Y., and charging adulteration in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a product containing less than 80 percent by weight of milk fat had been substituted for butter, a product which should contain not less than 80 percent of milk fat as provided by act of March 4, 1923.

The Merchants Refrigerating Co., New York, N.Y., interposed a claim as agent for Coyne & Nevins Co., owner, and admitted the allegations of the libel, consented to the entry of a decree, and agreed that the product be reconditioned so that it contain at least 80 percent of butterfat. On September 21, 1932, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to the said claimant upon payment of costs and the execution of a bond in the sum of $400, conditioned in part that it be reworked so that it comply with the Federal Food and Drugs Act and all other laws.

20196. Adulteration of bluefin herring. U.S. v. 3 Boxes of Bluefin Herring. Default decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction. (F. & D. no. 28900. Sample no. 4543-A.)

This action involved the shipment of a quantity of bluefin herring that was infested with parasitic worms.

On August 15, 1932, the United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for the district aforesaid a libel praying seizure and condemnation of three boxes of bluefin herring at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about August 8, 1932, by R. Ege, from Two Harbors, Minn., to Chicago, Ill., and charging adulteration in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that it consisted in part of a filthy, decomposed, and putrid animal substance, and for the further reason that it consisted of portions of animals unfit for food.

On September 26, 1932, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

20197. Adulteration and misbranding of butter. U.S. v. 8 Tubbs of Butter. Consent decree of condemnation and forfeiture. Product released under bond for reworking. (F. & D. no. 28899. Sample no. 3572-A.)

This action was based on the interstate shipment of a quantity of butter, samples of which were found to contain less than 80 percent by weight of milk fat, the standard prescribed by Congress.

On August 22, 1932, the United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for the district aforesaid a libel praying seizure and condemnation of eight tubbs of butter, remaining in the original unbroken packages at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about July 29, 1932, by Producers Creamery Co., from Clinton, Mo., to Chicago, Ill., and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a substance deficient in butterfat had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce, lower, and injuriously affect its quality and strength, and had been substituted in part for the said article. Adulteration was alleged for the further reason that the article contained less than 80 percent of butterfat.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the article had been sold, shipped, and labeled as "butter", which was false and misleading, since it contained less than 80 percent of milk fat.

On September 1, 1932, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., Chicago, Ill., claimant, having admitted the allegations of the libel and having consented to the entry of a decree, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to the said claimant for
