

Food and Drugs Act as amended. The articles were labeled in part: "King Arthur Pure Preserves Strawberry [or "Pineapple"] * * * Jas. E. Arthur & Son Distributors, Baltimore, Md."

The articles were alleged to be adulterated in that a mixture of sugar, acid, and pectin had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce or lower their quality; in that a mixture of fruit, sugar, acid, and pectin that contained less fruit and more sugar than preserves had been substituted for preserves, which the articles purported to be; and in that the articles had been mixed in a manner whereby inferiority had been concealed.

The articles were alleged to be misbranded in that the statement on the label, "Pure Preserves Strawberry" and "Pure Preserves Pineapple", were false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser when applied to products that resembled preserves but which contained less fruit than preserves, the deficiency in fruit having been concealed by the addition of acid, pectin, and excess sugar; and in that the articles were imitations of and offered for sale under the distinctive names of other articles.

On May 7, 1936, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered and it was ordered that the products be destroyed.

26026. Adulteration and misbranding of preserves. U. S. v. 25 Cases of Preserves. Default decree of condemnation. Product delivered to a public institution. (F. & D. no. 37381. Sample nos. 55517-B, 55518-B, 55519-B.)

This case involved shipments of blackberry, peach, and red raspberry preserves that were deficient in fruit and contained excess sugar. They also contained added pectin or acid or both added pectin and acid.

On or about March 19, 1936, the United States attorney for the Eastern District of Michigan, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 25 cases of blackberry, peach, and raspberry preserves at Detroit, Mich., alleging that the articles had been shipped during the month of January 1936, by the J. M. Smucker Co., from Orrville, Ohio, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act. The articles were labeled in part: "Quaker Pure Blackberry [or "Peach" or "Raspberry"] Preserves * * * Lee & Cady Distributors Michigan."

The articles were alleged to be adulterated in that a mixture of sugar and pectin in the case of the blackberry preserves, a mixture of sugar and acid in the case of the peach preserves, and a mixture of sugar, pectin, and acid in the case of the raspberry preserves, had been mixed and packed with the articles so as to reduce or lower their quality; in that said mixtures, containing less fruit and more sugar than preserves should contain, had been substituted for preserves; and in that the articles had been mixed in a manner whereby inferiority was concealed.

The articles were alleged to be misbranded in that the statements on the labels, "Pure Blackberry Preserves", "Pure Peach Preserves", and "Pure Red Raspberry Preserves", were false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser when applied to products resembling preserves but which contained less fruit than preserves; and in that they were imitations of and offered for sale under the distinctive names of other articles.

On May 5, 1936, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered and it was ordered that the products be delivered to a public institution.
