

district court an information against the Curtiss Candy Co., a corporation, at Chicago, Ill., alleging that on or about March 12 and September 7, 1935, the defendant company shipped from the State of Illinois, into the States of Michigan and Indiana, respectively, quantities of candy that was misbranded in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended.

The articles were variously labeled in part: "Curtiss Candy Company * * * Curtiss Baby Ruth 1½ Oz. Net Weight"; "Butter Finger * * * Net Weight 1½ Oz."; "Butter Finger 1½ Oz. Net Weight."

The articles were alleged to be misbranded in that the statements borne on the labels, "1½ Oz. Net Wt." and "Net Weight 1½ Oz.", were false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser since the products weighed less than the amounts indicated on the respective labels; and in that they were foods in package form and the quantities of contents were not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the packages, since the quantities were less than the amounts indicated on the labels.

On June 30, 1936, a plea of guilty was entered on behalf of the defendant company and the court imposed a fine of $50.

26194. Adulteration of butter. U. S. v. Benjamin Franklin Huggins (Huggins Dairy). Plea of guilty. Fine, $25. (F. & D. no. 37009. Sample no. 40871-B.)

This case involved butter that was deficient in milk fat.

On June 24, 1936, the United States attorney for the District of Idaho, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court an information against Benjamin Franklin Huggins, trading as Huggins Dairy, Lewiston, Idaho, alleging that on or about December 16, 1935, the defendant shipped from Lewiston, Idaho, into the State of Washington, a quantity of butter which was adulterated in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

The article was alleged to be adulterated in that a product containing less than 80 percent by weight of milk fat, had been substituted for butter, a product which must contain not less than 80 percent by weight of milk fat, as defined by act of Congress, which the article purported to be.

On July 9, 1936, a plea of guilty was entered by the defendant and the court imposed a fine of $25.
