27317. Misbranding of canned cherries. U. S. v. 84 Cases of Canned Cherries. Decree of condemnation. Product released under bond to be relabeled. (F. & D. no. 39239. Sample no. 41418-C.)

This product was substandard because it was water-packed. It was not labeled to indicate that it was substandard.

On March 19, 1937, the United States attorney for the District of Kansas, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 84 cases of canned cherries at Emporia, Kans., alleging that they had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about August 11, 1936, by the Christopher Sales Co., from Kansas City, Mo., and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended. The article was labeled in part: "Royal Brand Red Pitted Cherries * * * H. D. Olson & Sons, Successors to Wm. Craig Canning Co. Headquarters, Ogden, Utah."

It was alleged to be misbranded in that it was canned food and fell below the standard of quality and condition promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture since the fruit was water-packed, and its package or label did not bear a plain and conspicuous statement prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture indicating that it fell below such standard.

On June 2, 1937, the Theo. Poehler Mercantile Co., of Topeka, Kans. having appeared as claimant and having admitted the allegations of the libel, judgment of condemnation was entered and it was ordered that the product be released under bond to be relabeled.

27318. Misbranding of canned tomatoes. U. S. v. 100 Cases and 50 Cases of Canned Tomatoes. Consent decrees of condemnation. Product released under bond to be relabeled. (F. & D. nos. 39281, 39282. Sample nos. 40963-C, 40964-C.)

These cases involved canned tomatoes that were substandard because they did not consist of whole or large pieces, and that were not labeled to indicate that they were substandard.

On March 25, 1937, the United States attorney for the Southern District of New York, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court libels praying seizure and condemnation of 150 cases of canned tomatoes at New York, N. Y., alleging that they had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about February 28, 1937, by the McKeon Canning Co., Inc., Burbank, Calif., and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended. The article was labeled in part: "Red Head Brand Hand Packed Tomatoes with Puree from Trimmings. * * * Packed by McKeon Canning Co., Inc."

It was alleged to be misbranded in that it was canned food and fell below the standard of quality and condition promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture since it did not consist of whole or large pieces, and its package or label did not bear a plain and conspicuous statement prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture indicating that it fell below such standard.

On May 3, 1937, Groth & Nathan having appeared as claimant and having consented to the entry of decrees, judgments of condemnation were entered and the product was ordered released under bond conditioned that it be relabeled.

27319. Misbranding of butter. U. S. v. 50 Cartons and 50 Cartons of Butter. Consent decree of condemnation. Product released under bond to be reconditioned. (F. & D. no. 39293. Sample nos. 29767-C, 29768-C.)

This case involved butter that was short weight.

On March 12, 1937, the United States attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 50 cartons of print butter and 50 cartons of roll butter at Pittsburgh, Pa., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about February 28, 1937, by Cloverleaf Creameries, Inc., from Decatur, Ind., and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act. The article was labeled in part: "Extra Quality Cloverleaf Brand Butter Net Wt. One Pound * * * Cloverleaf Creameries, Inc., Decatur * * * Indiana."

It was alleged to be misbranded in that the statement appearing on the label, "Net Wt. One Pound", was false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser; and in that it was food in package form and the quantity of the contents was not plainly and conspicuously marked on the outside of the package since the statement made was not correct.

On April 29, 1937, the Cloverleaf Creameries, Inc., claimant, having admitted the allegations of the libel and having consented to the entry of a decree, judgment of condemnation was entered and it was ordered that the product be released under bond to be reconditioned under the supervision of this Department. The butter was reprinted into full weight 1-pound rolls.

27320. Misbranding of canned tomatoes. U. S. v. 142 Cases of Canned Tomatoes. Default decree of forfeiture and destruction. (F. & D. no. 39308. Sample no. 24199-C.)

This product was substandard because it did not consist of whole or large pieces; and it was not labeled to indicate that it was substandard, but instead was labeled "Standard Tomatoes."

On April 2, 1937, the United States attorney for the District of Idaho, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 142 cases of canned tomatoes at Lewiston, Idaho, alleging that they had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about March 4, 1937, by the Mount Angel Producer's Packing Co., from Mount Angel, Oreg., and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended. The article was labeled in part: (Can) "Abiqua Brand Standard Tomatoes * * * Packed by Mt. Angel Producer's Packing Co., Mt. Angel, Ore."

It was alleged to be misbranded in that the statement on the cases and cans, "Standard Tomatoes", was false and misleading and tended to deceive and mislead the purchaser when applied to tomatoes which were substandard; and in that it was canned food and fell below the standard of quality and condition promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture since it did not consist of whole or large pieces, and its package or label did not bear a plain and conspicuous statement prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture indicating that it fell below the said standard.

On April 28, 1937, no claimant having appeared, judgment of forfeiture was entered and it was ordered that the product be destroyed.

27321. Adulteration of tomato puree. U. S. v. 228 Cases of Tomato Puree. Default decree of condemnation and destruction. (F. & D. no. 39309. Sample no. 30114-C.)

This case involved tomato puree that contained excessive mold.

On April 2, 1937, the United States attorney for the District of Nebraska, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 228 cases of tomato puree at Nebraska City, Nebr., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about July 31, 1936, by the Vincennes Packing Corporation from Crothersville, Ind., and charging adulteration in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

The article was alleged to be adulterated in that it consisted in whole or in part of a filthy and decomposed vegetable substance.

On May 12, 1937, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered and it was ordered that the product be destroyed.
