

On November 24, 1939, the United States attorney for the District of New Jersey filed a libel against 28 cases of peanut butter at Camden, N. J., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about September 8, 1939, by Old Reliable Peanut Co. from Norfolk, Va.; and charging that it was adulterated in that it consisted wholly or in part of a filthy substance. It was labeled in part: "Golden Tint Brand Peanut Butter."

On December 28, 1939, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered and the product was ordered destroyed.

309. Adulteration of peanut butter. U. S. v. 34 Cases of Peanut Butter. Default decree of destruction. (F. D. C. No. 905. Sample No. 61151-D.)

This product was found to contain sand and grit.

On November 8, 1939, the United States attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana filed a libel against 34 cases, each case containing 12 jars of peanut butter, at New Orleans, La., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about September 25, 1939, by Sessions Co., Inc., from Enterprise, Ala.; and charging that it was adulterated in that it consisted wholly or in part of a filthy substance. It was labeled in part: "Dubon Brand Peanut Butter * * * Distributed By Dubon Company New Orleans, La."

On December 30, 1939, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered and the product was ordered destroyed.

310. Adulteration and misbranding of peanut butter. U. S. v. 119, 104, 38, and 152 Cases of Peanut Butter. Default decree of condemnation and destruction. (F. D. C. No. 1159. Sample No. 79084-D.)

Examination showed that this product contained dirt and insect fragments. The 1-pound jars were also found to be short of the declared weight.

On or about December 19, 1939, the United States attorney for the Western District of North Carolina filed a libel against 413 cases of peanut butter at Charlotte, N. C., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about October 10 and 27, 1939, by the Dillon Candy Co. from Jacksonville, Fla.; and charging that it was adulterated and misbranded.

It was alleged to be adulterated in that it consisted in whole or in part of a filthy substance.

The article in the 1-pound jars was alleged to be misbranded in that the statement "Net One Lb." was false and misleading since it was incorrect. The article in the 1-pound jars was alleged to be misbranded further in that it was in package form and did not bear an accurate statement of the quantity of the contents.

On January 26, 1940, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered and the product was ordered destroyed.
