

The butter seized at Jacksonville and Nashville was alleged to be adulterated in that it consisted in whole or in part of a filthy or decomposed substance. The portion of the product seized at Chicago was alleged to be adulterated in that a valuable constituent, milk fat, had been in whole or in part omitted or abstracted therefrom; and in that an article containing less than 80 percent by weight of milk fat had been substituted wholly or in part for butter.

A portion of the article was alleged to be misbranded in that it was labeled "Butter," which was false and misleading.

On August 14, 1941, the Cudahy Packing Co., claimant for the product seized at Chicago, having admitted the allegations of the libel, judgment of condemnation was entered and the product was ordered released under bond for reworking under the supervision of the Food and Drug Administration. On September 11 and 18, 1941, no claimant having appeared for the product seized at Jacksonville and Memphis, judgments of condemnation were entered and the product was ordered destroyed.
