5010. Adulteration of mace. U. S. v. 65 Cases of Mace. Default decree of condemnation and destruction. (F. D. C. No. 9075. Sample No. 9723-F.)

On December 29, 1942, the United States attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana filed a libel against 65 cases, each containing 48 cartons, of mace at New Orleans, La., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about October 27, 1942, by the Quartermaster Supply Officer, Army Depot, from Atlanta, Ga., to New Orleans Import Co., Ltd., and that it consisted of goods which had been rejected by the Quartermaster and returned to the manufacturer at his request; and charging that it was adulterated in that it consisted in whole or in part of filthy substances, insects, insect fragments, and larvae. The article was labeled in part: (Cartons) "Rex Spices Finest Pure Ground Mace."

On June 11, 1943, no claimant having appeared, judgment of condemnation was entered and the product was ordered destroyed.

5011. Adulteration of mustard seed. U. S. v. 136 Bags and 10 Drums of Mustard Seed. Consent decree of condemnation. Product ordered released under bond for salvage of the good portion and destruction of the unfit portion. (F. D. C. No. 9483. Sample No. 32015-F.)

This product had been stored under insanitary conditions after shipment and, when sampled, the bags had been gnawed by rodents, rodent excreta was found on and between the bags, and the product itself contained rodent excreta.

On March 4, 1943, the United States attorney for the Southern District of Indiana filed a libel against 136 100-pound bags and 10 fibre drums of mustard seed at Indianapolis, Ind., in the possession of Food Specialties, Inc., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about October 12, 1942, from Havre, Mont.; and charging that it was adulterated in that it consisted wholly or in part of a filthy substance, rodent excreta, and in that it had been held under insanitary conditions whereby it may have become contaminated with filth. The bags were labeled in part: "Gold Star Montana Mustard Seed."

On April 3, 1943, Food Specialties, Inc., having appeared as claimant and having admitted the allegations of the libel, judgment of condemnation was entered and the product was ordered released under bond for salvaging of the good portion and destruction of the unfit portion, under the supervision of the Food and Drug Administration.

5012. Adulteration of turmeric root. U. S. v. 166 Bags of Turmeric Root. Consent decree of condemnation. Product ordered released under bond to be brought into compliance with the law. (F. D. C. No. 9481. Sample No. 5661-F.)

On March 2, 1943, the United States attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri filed a libel against 166 bags of turmeric root at St. Louis, Mo., in the possession of the David G. Evans Coffee Co., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about July 31, 1942, from New York, N. Y.; and charging that it was adulterated in that it consisted wholly or in part of filthy substances, beetles, larvae, cast skins, and insect excreta, and in that it had been held, after shipment in interstate commerce, under insanitary conditions whereby it may have become contaminated with filth.

On March 20, 1943, the David G. Evans Coffee Co., claimant, having admitted the allegations of the libel and consented to the entry of a decree, judgment of condemnation was entered and the product was ordered released under bond to be brought into compliance with the law, or destroyed, under the supervision of the Federal Security Agency.

5013. Adulteration and misbranding of sage. U. S. v. 100 Cases of Sage. Default decree of condemnation and destruction. (F. D. C. No. 8409. Sample No. 19714-F.)

On September 24, 1942, the United States attorney for the District of Massachusetts filed a libel against 100 cases, each containing 24 canisters, of sage at Boston, Mass., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce on or about July 24, 1942, by the Euclid Coffee Co. from Cleveland, Ohio; and charging that it was adulterated and misbranded. The article was labeled in part: (Canister) "Taste Rite Ground Sage."

The article was alleged to be adulterated in that foreign plant material had been substituted in whole or in part for ground sage (Salvia Officinalis), and in that foreign plant material had been added thereto and mixed or packed therewith so as to increase its bulk or weight, or reduce its quality or strength. It was alleged to be
