RULES AND REGULATIONS.

MEMBERS.

THE regulations of the Association shall be offered for subscription to all candidates for medical practice in this town, who have received a medical degree at Harvard University, or are members of, or have received letters testimonial of approbation, or of licence from the Censors of the Massachusetts Medical Society; and the Secretary shall be charged with the execution of this regulation, with which he shall comply in every instance, so soon as he shall learn that any candidate of the above description may have established himself in this town, or in case the Secretary has doubts in any instance, respecting the propriety of offering the articles to any candidate above described, he shall call on the Standing Committee for advice and direction; and in case any person to whom he offers the regulations shall refuse or neglect to sign the same, the Secretary shall make known such refusal or neglect to the Standing Committee.

Every candidate at the time of becoming a member of the Association shall sign the following obligation, which shall be in a book deposited with the Secretary.

The undersigned approve of the regulations of the Boston Medical Association, and agree upon their honour to comply with the same.

All the members of this Association, after arriving at the age of sixty, shall be considered as honorary members, and shall be invited to the annual dinner of the Association, and shall be exempted from all assessments; but in other particulars shall be governed by the rules and regulations of the Association.

All resignations of members shall be made in writing to the Secretary, who shall immediately lay them before the Committee, who shall either notify each member or call a meeting of the Association, as they may think most proper.

OFFICERS.

There shall be chosen by ballot at every annual meeting of the Association, a Secretary, and Standing Committee of five members. The duty of this Committee shall be, to advise and direct the Secretary in the admission of new members to the Association. They shall have power to call special meetings, and it shall also be their duty to attend to all matters, which concern the honour and interest of the Association.

MEETINGS.

There shall be an annual meeting of this Association on the first Wednesday in March, and the Secretary is empowered to provide a dinner, and assess each subscriber of the regulations for the same. Any member, however, by giving the Secretary notice ten days previous to the annual meeting that he does not intend dining with the Association, shall not be assessed for the dinner. The Secretary is directed to give a week's notice of the time and place of meeting by an advertisement in the newspapers, and a printed card sent to each member.

If any member refuses to pay his assessment for the annual dinner and other expenses, his connection with the Association shall thereupon cease, and the Secretary shall inform the members of it by a circular note.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

No member of this Association shall consult with, or voluntarily meet in a professional way, or aid or abet, any practitioner in this town, who is not a member of the Association.

When a physician, engaged to attend a case of obstetricy, is absent, and a second delivers the woman, the latter shall receive the fee and relinquish the patient to the first. If the first arrive, while the second is present, and before the woman is delivered, the second shall retire and resign the patient to the first.

If a physician be called to a patient, who has usually been attended by a family physician, on the arrival of the latter the patient shall be resigned by the former.

No member of this Association shall make a previous contract with any family for a definite sum as a remuneration for his annual attendance on that family.

If any member becomes acquainted with the conduct of another member, which he considers as a breach of the rules and regulations of the Association, it shall be his duty to make the same known to the Standing Committee, who shall enquire into the case and decide upon the same as they may think proper, provided, that both the Committee and member accused shall be at liberty to refer the question to the Association.

FEE BILL.

The following table contains the lowest fees, which shall be charged for the services, to which they are respectively annexed; but in proportion to the importance of the case and of the advice offered, or in consequence of an extraordinary attendance, the charges shall be increased; and the members of this Association consider themselves bound to increase their charges agreeably to this rule.

EXPLANATIONS.

In cases of Midwifery, when the child is born, but not the placenta, before the arrival of the accoucheur, the whole fee is to be charged. When both child and placenta are born before the arrival of the accoucheur, half or the whole fee is to be charged according to the circumstances. This rule is not to be applied to cases where the delay arises from the accoucheur.

Whenever it is necessary to make more than three visits to a woman after delivery, all additional visits shall be charged as in ordinary cases.

Notwithstanding the foregoing regulations, it is agreed that to any patient, who, in the judgment of his physician, will be unable to defray his whole account, a discount of one third may be made from the above charges, without expressing particulars, excepting in cases of obstetricy and rising and visit in the night.

All visits made at a late hour in the evening are to be considered as extraordinary attendance, and may be charged accordingly.

If, in any case of obstetricy, a second physician is called in consultation, both the attending and consulting physician shall charge at least the usual fee for delivery.

When the circumstances permit, every physician shall present his account immediately after his attendance in a fit of sickness. This shall be particularly attended to in cases of midwifery. In ordinary cases of attendance in families, an account shall be presented every January, and it shall be an invariable custom to endeavour to settle all accounts in that month, or at least annually.

No member of this Association shall omit charging any necessary visits made on the same day, on account of their number.

In cases of consultation the consulting physician should send his bill to the attending physician, as soon as his service is completed; and it should then be the business of the attending physician to present the bill. Printed blanks may be used of the following form :
