Dear Libby,

Lori joins me in conveying our heartfelt feelings of sorrow and loss on learning of Chiv's death. Although it has been a long time since we last saw each other, Chiv was always very much in our thoughts. I feel that it has been a great loss that I did keep more in contact.

As you must know, Chiv played a major role in the lives of many young scientists, and I was certainly no exception. I can truthfully say that whatever I have been able to accomplish is attributable to a great extent to Chiv's influence and example. Never one to preach or even attempt to instruct, Chiv taught by example - an example is always before me. His love for science, for individual initiation, for people, for Israel, for personal integrity - all of these are the legacy that he gave in life and that he leaves behind in death. For me, friend, colleague, and student, are great treasures.

Fondly,

Charles Epstein
