Sept. 23/30 -

Dear Ray: -

That was a glorious telegram announcing the coming of Margaret Newman - I shall keep it in the family archives - a part of both certificates of the young lady - I read it again & again to a host of admiring friends - a delightfully phrased heralding of the great event - I am thrilled, delighted, & happy beyond words for Catherine & you - and see the old bachelor Uncle is himself simply "nutty" about the idea of having a dear little niece in his family - it's a grand and glorious feeling - gives one a sort of new lease on life

I was happy too to hear the good news of how splendidly Catherine is doing - gives her my love and tell her how proud & delighted I am - and by the way, Ray, if there is anything you would like her to have or can think of, that would contribute to her comfort here deep, please get it right away, regardless, and send the bill to Uncle - nothing would please me more than being made to feel that I am something more than a cheer-leader in this big event.

You've certainly had the blue ribbons pinned on you these days - a prize baby & a prize picture all in one week is just too much - splendid work.

Congratulations - you hold the record in our family. - I told Homer kept this morning - he immediately phoned Emme - and was delighted.

Yesterday I happened in the store and thought you might like to have the enclosed - which I send you instead of a check so you may have a record of the coupon as due -

Minnie & the Edwards, Whelan - Dorrans family are overwhemed with joy - Sarah is happily married and looks it - like a young debutant - and the news from Newhall altogether has lifted the family into the eleventh heaven -

I have begun work in the Lab - lots to do - and things look interesting.

My love & thoughts are with you three - May we all be happily together long years to enjoy this new blessing that has come into our lives -

Kiss Margaret Dennis behind the ear, - a bacteriologist but affectionate Kiss from "Uncle Poppo" who never his long to her mother & father -
