MAY/JUNE 1974 REVIEW.

Request: $3,000,000

Committee Recommendation: $2,200,000

Overall Assessment by Individual Reviewers: Average/Above-Average

Critique:

Members of the Review Committee agreed that this was one of the better applications from an obviously matured program. The region has established goals and objectives with priorities carefully spelled out. They are making a real attempt, in their cooperation with the CHP and other agencies, to solve the health authority problem. During the last 18 months the region has made good progress in restructuring its RAC by disciplines of members as well as geographic representation. South Carolina RMP is considered to have an excellent local review process. They were considered to have an experienced program staff under strong leadership.

There are many divergent political forces at work in the region at the present time, both medical and administrative, that affects the future of the health care agencies in this area. The Regional Medical Program may emerge as the agency to provide a platform to the resolution of the health care problems in the delivery system.

In arriving at the reduced funding level, members of the Committee were not convinced that the rather large amounts requested for activities had not had time to be completely reviewed under the local review process. For example, escrowed funds were requested for: regionalization of services; for health manpower development and improvement; for strengthening of quality assurance efforts and several other activities which the region was interested in to accomplish its objectives.

In arriving at the reduced funding level, the reviewers also did not believe that these particular activities were sufficiently developed at this time to allow for proper review by this Committee.

NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL: June 13-14, 1974

Council concurred with Committee recommendation. Also, the Council recommended that the following restriction be placed on the use of Division of Regional Medical Program funds by this region: that the use of grant funds to support project #32F - Health Services Development Initiative (Phase II), be contingent upon assurances being provided Division of Regional Medical Programs of acceptance by CHP (a) and (b) agencies and the South Carolina Health Policy and Planning Council.
