Dear Ed:

You will have received a letter from Bentley Glass asking about early publication in Science of our paper for the AAAS symposium. How do you feel about this?

I enclose a copy of my letter in reply, which asks that there be a footnote to explain the circumstances of this review. If they are willing to include this, I would be agreeable to this pre-publication (if only to get the d' thing out.)

In a P.S. that does not appear on your copy, I also asked about reprints. I could use up to about 800, probably less if you order a substantial number.

I also took heed of a recent note from the Rockefeller Foundation, which appears to ask that they not be acknowledged for research aid, and have therefore asked this to be deleted from my acknowledgments. Do you wish to do the same? If not, you probably ought to reaffirm it, to avoid any confusion.

Anything else? ^{no} It is understood, of course, that this depends on our joint approval. If you have any objection, I would ~~bet~~ be especially unhappy about it.

Sincerely,

Joshua
