

EDUCATIONAL TESTING SERVICE

PRINCETON, N. J. 08540

Area Code 609
921 - 9000
CABLE-EDUCTESTSVC

•
Division
of Psychological Studies

May 14, 1974

Dr. Joshua Lederberg
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305

Dear Josh:

It was quite an experience to be told by Luca when I called him last week, that a baby was born to the Lederbergs the day before. You must already have the letter Evy wrote expressing our great pleasure at the news. Congratulations and all best wishes!

Superseded 9/25

In your new condition are you able to look at a draft of a paper reporting the first findings of our study of XYY and XXY men? The paper covers the results of the case-finding work to this point and the data thus far available from the social records. If you can spare the time, and find yourself able to think about such mundane matters, I would be most grateful for your critical reactions to the paper. In any case, I think you will find these first results quite interesting. If you do read the paper, think back as you do so, to the night in your house six years ago when we first discussed the XYY phenomenon.

Our love to all four Lederbergs.

Cordially,

Herman A. Witkin

HAW:gn
Enclosure