

See C.V., libl.

DMF
7-20-70

BAYLOR COLLEGE OF MEDICINE
TEXAS MEDICAL CENTER
HOUSTON, TEXAS 77025

DEPARTMENT OF OBSTETRICS AND GYNECOLOGY
(713) 529-4951

July 9, 1970

Joshua Lederberg, M. D.
Department of Genetics
Stanford University Medical School
Palo Alto, California

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Just a note of thanks for your time and interest during my recent trip to Stanford. I will keep you abreast of our progress. Needless to say, if you have any suggestions, criticisms or comments at any stage I would be delighted to receive them. As mentioned, it may be a month or two before we pass the tax accreditation hurdle.

I do not want to appear presumptuous, but would it be possible to obtain a copy of your C.V.? As mentioned, I plan to make an effort to persuade the local newspaper (which is now paying for the rights to your column anyway) to utilize it on a weekly or frequent basis. I would like to have as much "propaganda" at my mental fingertips as possible. Not that I feel you need it, but the "laity" are often moved by different currents.

MUMFORD

One additional question - are your speaking plans full for the fall? If not, would it be possible for you to give (with appropriate honorarium of course) a talk(s) in Houston? There are a variety of forums (medical and nonmedical) that we might consider if you were agreeable. I would like to give you some "Texas exposure!"

Thanks for the clipping on Marjorie Shaw. I will endeavor to contact her soon. Sometimes one learns more about people in one's own locality from afar than when in contact -- such would seem to be the case regarding Margie's diversity of interests!

Best wishes for a pleasant and "cooler" summer!

With warm regards,

David

David M. Mumford, M. D.

DMM:mlp