President

Dear Dr. Lederburg:

As per our recent discussion, I am enclosing an article which we recently published in the New England Journal of Medicine and an outline of other research studies currently being funded by various sources.

In reading your report of the activities of Rockefeller University, I think that there may be some specific areas where our two institutions would profit by collaborating. I look forward to reviewing this matter with you at our next get-together.

To confirm, we are expecting you here at our meeting to discuss the state of the art of cancer prevention which is scheduled for April 14. We are looking forward to taking you out to the Naylor Dana Institute in Valhalla on May 9. I suggest that, on that day, we have lunch together here at the Ford Foundation building at 12:00 and then proceed to Westchester by car. Should time permit, I would be pleased if you could join me for dinner that evening at my home in Scarborough. ✓

I was most appreciative of your keen knowledge and support in the area of cancer prevention and I am looking forward to working with you in this area.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Ernst L. Wynder, M.D. ✓
