Dear Professor Tiselius:

Enclosed is the cover material and a samplepage of a bulletin I just received in the mail. It seems to me quite an interesting enterprise along the lines of some of our previous correspondence. However, I do not know any of the people connected with it and have no intention of becoming involved. Do you know anything of the enterprise?

In any case, the bulletin (although it editorializes too much in the wrong places) illustrates an awareness service of a kind that might be of real use under the right direction.

Sincerely yours,

Joshua Lederberg
