Dear Josh,

Here is the article; as you will see, I've confined myself as much as possible to your ideas and interests as they emerged during our interview and from your columns and other writings.

If there are errors, of fact or of interpretation, please call me. You can most likely reach me at home this coming week. The phone is 752-2517. I hope to get down to Stanford by mid-week to talk over some ecology questions with people in the biology department on the campus, so if you feel a need for me to come by your office, I'll be glad to.

Do let me know as soon as you can if you find any major problems with the piece. And thank you.

Yours,

P.S. You gave me three manuscripts marked "return." I have them and will drop them by your office when I'm on the campus.

Joshua

*no major ones at all
if modesty allowed,
I'd say it was a great job!
look at these
minor items
and I'll call you
later this week.*
