Dear Josh,

I am sending you a copy of my letter to Bernie Davis on November 6. Eric Thurschwell on my staff talked to Davis and learned he is terminally ill and cannot write a Citation Classic® commentary. He told Eric that he was directing all his energies completing a book about David Baltimore.

Eric will try to locate the co-author of the paper, E. S. Mingioli. However, in case we cannot locate the co-author, could you advise me about someone who might write a commentary about this 1950 paper in the Journal of Bacteriology?

Hopefully we can get this Classic before it's too late for Bernie to read it.
