Dear Josh:

No hits, no runs, no errors.

I spoke with Leonard Block yesterday, face to face after a board meeting of his company, but, alas, he displayed no interest in helping to support the Rockefeller University.

He said that were Sibyl and I going to one of the dinners (which we cannot do in November because we will be in China), he and his wife might be willing to go too if we urged him. In sum, I think he should be kept on the prospect list, but he seems to be a poor one, though wealthy.

I was edified by the Rockefeller Council meeting and enjoyed the luncheon and proceedings at your installation. I hope that your shoulder has been repaired and that you will soon be as good as, or better than, new.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

William T. Golden

Bill - are the following dates now possible for you (and the Block's)?
John
