(HIV)
AIDS virus in lung cells?

Has anyone looked into this?

You + Gallo are handy for collaboration.

We may have to face the possibility of aerosol transmission
from AIDS-patients who have concurrent bronchitis, pneumonia.

You could certainly get at the most concentrated potential sources...
and if you ever get a positive
reading, then trace the attenuation up the bronchial tree.

HIV Conversely, why doubt that AIDS could be instilled into a lung? Or can you give some rationale on that point?

Yours,
JL
