

Memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

To: Ezzie

SEP 7 1977

on "COUSINS, should they marry?"

Dear Ezzie: Your encyclopedia ^{etc.} sounds like a tremendous & very useful undertaking.

But besides this reference book, why don't you write your own handbook ^{OF LIVING} something a person could read from cover to cover;
that outlines the philosophy you use in problem-solving; and with chapters from birth to death illustrated by your experience on the column what to do with conflicting advice could be the most interesting.

P.S. Yes, I'll do it. I hope you accept some references for further reading.

P.P.S. - Will you have someone on incest? (if possible cross-reference.)

PROFESSOR JOSHUA LEDERBERG
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305