Dear Dr. Lederberg:

You will find enclosed the photographs that you so graciously sent me to be placed in the book Medicine: Preserving the Passion that Lois DeBakey and I have written. You may be interested to know that the book is now in the hands of the publisher, Springer-Verlag, and it is likely that it will be released this year. Lois and I are most grateful to you for your help and, of course, for the photographs.

Sincerely,
