

[1954?]

ARMY MEDICAL SERVICE GRADUATE SCHOOL
WALTER REED ARMY MEDICAL CENTER
WASHINGTON 12, D. C.

IN REPLY REFER TO

Prof. J. Lederberg
Dept of Genetics
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin

Dear Joshua,

I am enclosing a manuscript (finally cleared by the army as not being too much of a security risk) and I would very much appreciate your comments and suggestions before anything further is done with it.

Also enclosed: Photostat of paper by Frisby + Hollis letter from Stuyvesant H.S. (I have no idea how they got my address) receipt of acknowledgement of cultures S.H.J.

At the moment we have been finding that Vi cultures are quite refractory to PLT-22; thus also appears to be some difficulty in preparing high-titered λ' (determinant) phage.

Major Morse (Harry Morse's brother) was by for a short visit and sends his regards to Harry.

Regards to all,

Lou

L. S. Baron

P.S. I assume the cultures you picked up were typical.