Water Safety research

Dear Congressman Vanik--

I was most interested to note these remarks in the Record for Oct. 3, which closely match many of my own concerns. I enclose two articles on the subject that appeared some months ago.

I do not know the current outlook for research on water supply safety (in contrast to the billions that will go into sewage treatment); in fact, I would be grateful if you could get a reading on how this will go under the reorganization leading to the formation of EPA.

Yours sincerely,
