article on arms control

This piece may be somewhat elementary for your readership; but it was so dismembered as it appeared in the Washington Post that I am particularly anxious for a vehicle for the correct expression of my views.

Would you consdier it for the Bulletin with the footnote that "an abridged version of this article, with some confusing emendations, appeared in the Washington Post"?

Also, a footnote and a reference:

The interpretation of the 1962 Cuban missile crisis is borne out by Roger Hilsman's account of its background in "To Move a Nation", pp. 163-164.
