

Memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

To: Joe Fletcher

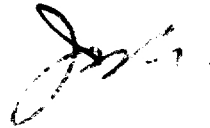

I'd like to have back just the pages with my, notes, plus your final version of the text, to write the introduction.

My general policy on remuneration is a "most-favored-nation" approach, but I'm a little puzzled how to apply it here.

For the work of reviewing plus writing the introduction my fee to a publisher would be $500 for the primary publication, plus the same for secondary (reissues, paperbacks etc.) In this case I would also settle for 5% of the net royalties, ~~which~~ If you think I have added more or less to the value of the product, suggest an alternative figure.

Awaiting a healthy delivery from a carefully monitored gestation,

Yours

* PS look up the legal defense of "Engliding" at common law. It bears on "who is a person".

PROFESSOR JOSHUA LEDERBERG
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305