Dear David -

I am certainly more than pleased at the decision to proceed. My qualms (if any) are only about the synchrony of our efforts with the presidential cycle. We can address that as part of the Commission's own work.

Likewise, how far we address the organization of the Exec. office of the Pres.

My work on (indeed the very need for) the Ste-Wohlstetter strategy Commission has impressed that on me! And a sitting president will never (?) appoint such a ~~group~~ commission on that subject himself except in dire circumstances - he might have to follow its advice!

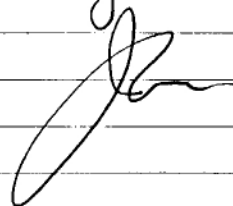

The Murphy Commission may be a useful prototype. And we could reflect on what impact it may have had. Particularly it published 7 volumes of essays which are Commission studies, reports to it - not necessarily imprimatur'd.

I happen to have a spare copy of the 1 Volume Report.

We surely have a lot more to talk about. See you soon,
