Dear Josh,

Thanks for your letter of 30 March. You will be interested in knowing that there is a very radical shake up of management in process, which is already being implemented and should be completed by the end of this year. I do not know whether your suggestions had any effect on this decision, and only time will tell whether the reorganization will take care of the objections you raised.

Unfortunately, I have not had a chance to see Ambassador Martin as yet, but I shall try to see him when I return from London after attending the third Pugwash Workshop on CW next week. I had already ascertained that nothing could be expected from the CCD on this subject during their current session. I would welcome any further information you gather on the matter mentioned in the last paragraph of your letter.

You will hear from me separately about the forthcoming ACRM.

With all good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Martin Kaplan
