Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Your letter of September 28 chased me around Africa and I have just settled to correspondence after my return.

I have had some correspondence with the University of California Press and have followed their suggestion that I appeal to the National Science Foundation. I have just written for their forms and will know more about it when they arrive.

Your idea of publishing a condensation is something else again. Have you discussed this with Dr. Steinhaus? In the meantime, I will keep you informed of anything I do from this end. I am very sorry that my absence and reluctance to correspond while traveling might have appeared to indicate my loss of interest.

Sincerely yours,

Walter Carter
Head, Entomology Dept.
