Silverstein paper (thank you)

is a fair account of the history
(It leaves out an important experiment that must have had something to do with the acceptance of clonal selection.

I recall a brief burst of resistance
(mainly from Lennax, Mel Chen-)
from people who prouly they themselves were lifelong true believers. I had made a note to check that through SCI, and will do that with reinforced interest.

See you soon,

Re Szilard -

He + I did talk about anti-bodies.

I thought he made so many gratuitous assumptions that I had urged him not to publish.

You raise an interesting point:
the (-) maturity of non-discoveries.
