Dear Professor Leachman,

I am returning the reprint which I had written, & appear to have carried off in my hurried departure from Wiscasset, & I should like to take this opportunity of thanking you for your hospitality.

I very much regret the last-minute curtailment of my visit & the unscheduled rapid exit. I do apologise for both, & for my apparent lack of organisation that day. However, in spite of this I thoroughly enjoyed what time I was able to spend with you & was disappointed at having to leave so abruptly. Please convey my apologies to both Tom Nelson & Newton Morton who I had hardly time to talk to.

We are leaving for the U.K. on December 15th & although I return to the Wright-Kennings, I have no concrete plans for the future until I have time to look around in London.

Many thanks once again for your interest & hospitality. When you are next in London, I hope you will allow me to reciprocate.

Sincerely yours

Rayster Claves
