

April 25, 1951.

Dr. Harry Eagle,
Microbiological Institutes,
National Institutes of Health,
Bethesda 14, Maryland.

Dear Dr. Eagle:

In connection with program business, Dr. Porter mentioned your notification that you would be unable to attend the forthcoming SAB meeting. I was sorry to hear this, having looked forward to hearing your paper.

After the Chicago meeting, I am planning to drive East to attend the Symposium on Genes and Mutations at Cold Spring Harbor. I had hoped to travel via Washington, which would give me the opportunity of visiting you at your laboratory. Would this be convenient for you, especially in view of the necessity for your cancellation at the SAB? We would most likely reach Washington about June 3 or 4. Mrs. Lederberg was formerly a junior biologist (P-1) in the old Industrial Hygiene division and would enjoy revisiting with me the Institutes.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg