

1004 Redwood Drive
Green Bay, Wisconsin
August 14, 1953

● Professor J. Lederberg
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin

Dear Professor,

I am in need of advice and, after reading of your award as "the outstanding young bacteriologist of the country" I realized I could never find anyone better qualified to help me.

● I would like to know how you began your career, for I am interested in the same thing, and I would especially like to know what college courses helped you most.

I start in September at Beloit College, and plan on majoring in biology.

Realizing how busy you must be I do not wish to inconvenience you, but I would really appreciate any suggestions you could give me.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Gering