

National Inst. of Genetics,
Miyama, Sizuoka-Ken,
JAPAN.

November, 4, 1958

1110

Dr. J. Lederberg
Department of Genetics
University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wis.
U. S. A.

Dear Jack:

Congratulation for your Nobel Prize award!
I have thought you will get it some day, but did not imagine it came so soon. I am very proud of it as a student of you.

I have been keeping busy since I started my work here 3 weeks ago, for the arrangement of my new laboratory. For the present, I am the only one in my lab., but I will be able to have two assistants next year. I have spent a part of my time for the research on radiation mutagenesis which is a general project in our Institute. I am not interested in the project so much; However, it is the ~~only source of research grant I can~~ receive from the Institute. I have a plan to make a research group on "microbial genetics" or on "immunogenetics" with Dr. Sasaki and some others, and apply to the Minister of Education for the research grant on the coming years.
I am not sure yet whether it will be worked out or not.

(To the reverse side)

ここにも通信文を記載することができます

This space is also for correspondence.

How is the manuscript writing on monophasic Salmonella going on? I imagine you are in the busiest time in your life at Madison.
When will you leave for Stanford?
Best regards to Esther and other people in the lab.

yours sincerely

Tetsuo Iino
