Dear Josh:

Here at long last is a corrected copy of the lecture at Stanford -- I hate to think how many months ago. I send it to you in the hope that you haven't entirely abandoned your interest in some collaborative paper. I certainly have not. There are perhaps fifty references which should be cited and which I will complete and send you when I return to Bethesda from Puerto Rico where I'm doing some studies on the development of the cerebral circulation in the fetal monkey.

Best wishes,

Seymour S. Kety, M.D.
