Dear Dr. Plough:

Mr. Zinder and I thought you might be interested to have some new of our work with Salmonella transduction. The enclosed may be regarded as a pre-publication abstract. There is nothing new to add, except that the FA may possibly be attached to the phage particles themselves. We have not been able to find any evidence for a "sexual" recombination system like that of K-12 E. coli.

With best regards,

Sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
