

Prof. J. Lederberg
 Department of Genetics
 Wisconsin University
 Madison 6, Wisconsin

Dear Lederberg

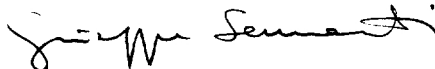

After deciding to change my program for my stay in the United States, spending some months with Bradley, I wrote to him, to Bonner and to you. It was the 26th of February.

At the same time I withdrew the invitation letter by Bonner which I had sent with the application for the Fulbright Travel Grant, promising the American Commission for Cultural Exchanges with Italy a new letter by Bradley. Of course I have also changed the terms of the application, and so on?

Since then I have received two letters from Bonner, who renewed his invitation to me writing that I could work with Streptomyces in his department as well. I again asked Bradley for an answer on the 27th March but I still have not get a single word from him.

May be you know something about him and his projects, if so I would be grateful to you if you would tell me what is happening, so that I may settle my program and complete my application which should have been done in February.

With all best wishes and regards to Esther
 Sincerely

(G. Sermonti)

My dear Sermonti - I cannot imagine what is happening unless for some reason Bradley's mail is not reaching you! I am forwarding a copy of this letter to him with advice to write or cable immediately. You should hear very soon.

Joshua Lederberg.
