Dear Josh,

Do you recall a conversation we had many years ago (Madison?) concerning this subject? I argued Snow's position & you took the opposite stance. Has your position changed? Why not write a column on the subject sometime (and send me a copy). Would you have to use an alias or "anonymous" by-line?

Barb & Fred are adjusting quite well to married life - Barb has been promoted to full-time programmer (from programmer trainee) at $600/month. (more than I earned as an assistant professor only 10 years ago). They will see them next week after he gives a seminar at Northwestern. I will go home to celebrate my Grandmama's 102nd birthday instead, then on to the Genetics Society Section meetings in Washington. (My family is inbred for longevity and short stature genes - not IQ genes!).

Why don't you plan a trip to (through) Houston soon - E family.

Sincerely,
Marge
