Dear Father,

I received your recent letter and the enclosed check for which I desire to assure you of my unbounded gratitude. Your unselfish propensity^{for} and vaulting ambition towards enhancing the happiness and felicity of your children must be a great influencing factor in the eyes of God in so bestowing upon you beautiful success. My only hope is that we shall grow up worthy of such a father and I shall do my best towards this end.

We have at last succeeded in having our transfusion instrument placed on the market. I have ordered one for Dr. Walter Moss and he should get his soon. I have also invented a new needle for transfusion which is in the process for manufacture now and which is apparently going to become a success as everyone that has seen it wants one like it. ~~My~~ I hope that I shall be rewarded financially and if God

wills it we may obtain something
