

7, Norham Gardens,
Oxford.

July
20th. 1905

Dear Jacobs

It might be well to catch Bloede early. I think his address is the Hotel Cecil, tho. I think from what he said that he was leaving soon for Germany He is very much in earnest.
It would be a pity to start a second place - I impressed that point upon him. The Catonville lot - 12-20 acres would be ideal for early cures. If he gave the $25,000 and you got Gamble's gift as well ~~as~~ splendid start could be made. We have been in Cambridge with the allhills. Things are slackening a bit - there have been so many 'junctions'

'in hand that we shall be glad you rest. I & the Wm. a next week at Lecester to glad to hear that the books are doing you both good.

Thanks for the Rabelaisian Glossary, which is full of most interested matter. Separe has fished out all sorts of valuable & unknown circumstances connected with her life love to Mrs Jacobs.

Samuel Green

W Osler