

64-
13, NORHAM GARDENS,
OXFORD.

(6. Dec. 1916)

Dear Jacob

Christmas greetings to you both. This should reach you in time, but boats are few these days & submarines plentiful.
We flood in much the same, only with the added anxiety of being on the anchor, but he writes so cheerily & seems wonderfully happy.
It is a dirty business though for a laddie of his type, but I suppose he will get went to it & return to the stone - age with the rest of them. I must send you one of his letters. He seems with very nice fellow. They poured away day & night at spots indicated to them by the air - men.

We have been in the thick of this I saw Hughes business - an awful boulder, so glad he has gone, but he left a nice row in the C.A. med. corps. I expect the first batch of 62 of my American next week for the London Army Hospital. I shall meet them & help Blankenship to settle them. There will be many more needed. a new division are formed

Have the Library all rearranged & shelved - marked & the catalogue up to date - My Sec. is still away but I'll find Bodley corner every evening & a restat who has been helping me with my vicinabula study, has come to work permanently in the Catalogue, with a view to printing (ultimately)

The chapin is with us. Norman Swayne has had trench even. Collection - much with the Grand fleet - we had the three Wags brothers here for a day - to see the Shakespeare exhibition & such nice men. You will have from me 5 copies. Also 1 man for 2 mos - interesting. love to Mrs. J. & C.

Yours sincerely
W. A. A. A.

15. NORMAN GARDENS
LONDON