PREFACE

The following Tables of Organization have been compiled for the convenience of students in the solution of problems at the Medical Field Service School. Certain of the tables have been amplified by block charts in order to provide a means of rapid visual comprehension of the specified unit. These tables are correct as of March 1, 1941 and proper notation should be made of any changes published after that date.

The authentication of War Department tables has been omitted for convenience of spacing. The originals bear the following authentication:

By order of the Secretary of War:

Official:

E. S. ADAMS,
Major General,
The Adjutant General

G. C. MARSHALL,
Chief of Staff

The serial number symbol shown in parentheses for certain specialists is an inseparable part of the specialist designation. For qualification analysts see corresponding serial number in section VI, MR 1-8 (old number 1-3).

This table represents the normal personnel requirements for station hospitals of various capacities in the communications zone. The bed capacity authorized for these hospitals is 5 percent of the total strength they are designated to serve. (For example, a station hospital located where 5,000 military personnel are assembled should have a bed capacity of 250; where 10,000 are assembled a bed capacity of 500; and where 15,000 are assembled a bed capacity of 750).

The administrative service ordinarily includes headquarters, registrar, receiving office, detachment of patients, medical detachment, medical supply, general supply and utilities, officer, detachment and patients' messes.

The professional service includes the medical, surgical, dental, laboratory, and roentgenological services. The distribution of the personnel shown hereon to the various services of the hospital is left to the discretion of commanding officers of the hospitals.

For special qualifications and functional assignment of officers the following breakdown may be applied:
