

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF MEDICINE

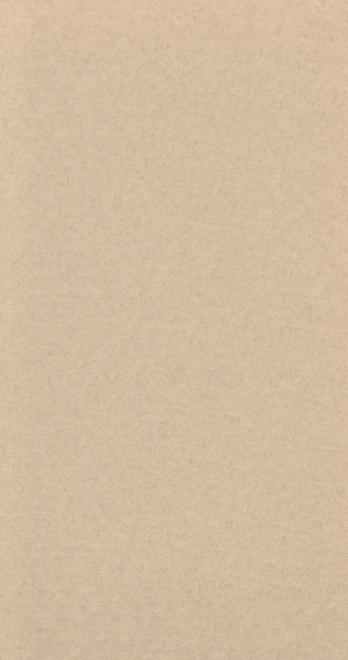

Bethesda, Maryland

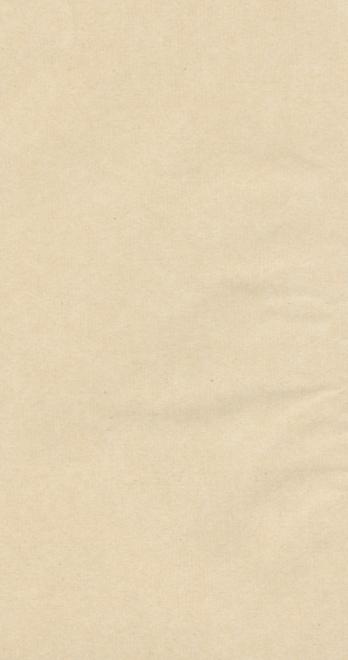

When of th DII Poses NUNS. In Three BOOKS. By Mr. BOYER. London, Printed for R. Baffett, at the Mitre by the Inner-Temple-Gate in Fleet-freet, and W. Turner, at the Angel at Lincolns-Inn Back-Gate. 1705.

TO HIS

GRACE

The Moft Reverend Father in GOD THOMAS, By Divine Providence, L d. Archbifhop of Canterbury.

May it please Your GRACE;

HE following Sheets contain an Account of a most Remarkable Passage that happen'd in France during the Ministry of Cardinal de Richelien; and which gives us a Sketch of the Arbitrariness of that Haughty, Designing Prelate; of the Malice and Revengeful Spirit of Popist Priests; A 2 and

and of the Sinister and Diabolical Methods whereby a Convent of Urfuline Nuns establish'd themselves in the Town of Loudun.

This Hiftory, which was originally written in French, has met with a very favourable Reception abroad : And 'tis justly prefum'd, That a Translation of it will not only be Entertaining, but likewife Uleful to an English Protestant Reader : Especially at this Time of Day, when the Restless Papists, and their Cabal, are fecretly endeavouring to undermine our Happy Settlement, and to divert the Course of the Succession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, from a Lawful Protestant Heir, to a Popifb Frenchified Pretender : In Order to bring in Popery, and its infeparable Companion, Arbitrary Sway, among us.

The Author of this Translation, (who is a Presbyter of the Church of of England) having defir'd me to take Care of its Publication, and to procure it a Patron, I thought I could not better discharge this latter Part of my Truft, than by laying thefe Sheets at Your GRACE's Feet ; whole Zeal for the Advancement and Defence of the True Religion did glorioufly Shine, notwithstanding the Threatning Storms from a Popifb Court, not only in the Erecting a Free-School at St. Martin's, adorn'd with a Choice Library, in Opposition to the College of the Jesuits in the Savoy; but also in Unravelling and Defeating the fubtle Diabolical Arts, whereby those Ministers of Hell and Tyranny endeavour'd to lead aftray Unwary Protestant Youths. Every Body will eafily apprehend, that by this I mean the Famous Conference Your GRACE had with Pulton, the Jesuit ; wherein Your GRACE's Learning, Strong Reafons, and Solid Judg-

Judgment, gain'd an Immortal Triumph over the Obstinacy and Noise of a bold fallacions Caviller.

Twas this Apostolical Zeal, exerted in the most difficult Times, together with your Exemplary Piety, Goodnels, Charity, and Forbearing Temper, that gain'd Your GRACE the entire Confidence and Efteem of Two of the Beft Princes that ever fway'd the English Scepter, King WIL-LIAM and Queen MART, of ever Bleffed and Pious Memory : And which induc'd his Late Majefty to raise Your G R A C E to that Supream Station you hold in the Church : That by this very Choice all England might be convinc'd, how truly he wish'd, and carneftly endeavour'd by all Gentle and Christian, (which certainly are the most Efficacious) Methods to bring Those over to the Establish'd Religion, whose Birth and Education has infenfibly led led them to Diffent from it. And indeed, as long as your G R A C E is alive, that Great and Good King is fure to have, here on Earth, an unexceptionable Witnefs of his Moral and Christian Virtues; The Liberties of England, a Firm Support; And the Church, a Wife and Vigilant D irector, and a most Tender Father.

That these Bleffings may be long continued to this Happy and Flourishing Nation, is the most Fervent Wish of him, who most gladly lays hold on this Opportunity to subscribe himself,

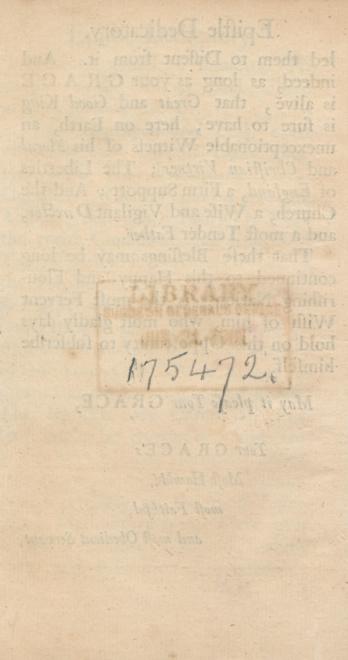

May it please Your GRACE,

Tour GRACE's

Most Humble,

most Faithful,

and most Obedient Servant,

THE HISTORY OFTHE DevilsofLoudun:

Or, an Account of the Possession of the Urfuline Nuns. AND THE Condemnation and Punishment of URBAN GRANDIER, a Parson of the fame Town.

BOOK I.

Sect. 1. Here is no doubt but that particular Relations of the nature of these which are contain'd in this Book, would have been much better received, and have made more impression, whilst they had the grace of Novelty, than when after a long course of time they feem to have been buried in Darkness and B Obli-

2

Oblivion. Neverthelefs it may not now be thought mproper to produce and revive them, fince they deferve it, both by their Importance, and their Singularity; and the only reason why they were buried in Silence, is, becaufe Arbitrarinefs and Tyranny have flopt the Mouths of those who would have attempted to entertain the Publick with them, and fet the Truth thereof before their Eyes. 'Tis upon this Motive, that becaufe at this time one may fpeak freely, and without conftraint, that now are publish'd the long and fatal Intrigues of a Convent of Nuns, and a great number of Ecclefiafticks, fupported by a party of the Magistrates and Inhabitants of a Town, and favour'd by the Court. These Intrigues have been of great Confequence; forafmuch as they have caus'd a Parish Priest to be Condemn'd to be Burnt alive; and that they tended to establish in France certain Maxims which would fubject the People to a real Inquifition. They have been peculiar, and of a ftrange fingularity, feeing that Devils are immediately concern'd, or that 'tis pretended that they did intermeddle, and that they have poffeft and caus'd all these Nuns to act their part. In fine, this Hiftory appears fo much the more confiderable, that the Facts it relates have been continued a great many years, that they have had for Spectators and Witneffes, a Number of Perfons illustrious by their Rank, and by their Merit; that there was never a Relation of the fame Nature, more closely furnish'd with Circumstances, nor better attended with all neceffary Proofs; and that it gives a clear and exact Idea of the Sentiments that one ought to have of the pretended Diabolical Polleffions, of the Apparitions of Devils, and of the Miracles that were. done upon these Occasions. It discovers also at the fame

the Devils of Loudun.

time the Obliquity of Mans Nature, and how far tis capable to go, when 'tisonce engag'd in an evil Design.

Sect.2. Although the Hiftory of the Martyrdom of Saint Urfula, and the Eleven Thousand Virgins which accompanied her, be liable to many contradictions, and that the greater part of the Learned doubt of its Veracity; This Saint has not been omitted to be Canoniz'd, to whole Honour the Beatified Angela of Breffe founded in the last Age in Italy, an Order of Nuns according to the Rule of Saint Augustine, which was approv'd by Pope Gregory the Thireenth, in the Year 1572. And fince, In the Year 1614. Magdalene l'Huillier introduc'd it Into Frence, with the approbation of Pope Paul the Fifth, by a Monastery which she founded at Paris, whence this Order fpreading it felf by degrees through all the Kingdom, there was eftabli-In'd in the Year 1626, a Convent at Loudun, which 15 a large Town, tho' ill peopled ; fituated between the Provinces of Poiton, Tourain and Anjou, and which feparates them all three, without having anciently made any part of them, or having had dependance upon either of them.

Sect. 3. In this Place this Society, although as yet very fmall, was in great want, and very defli-tute of necessary conveniencies for their fublistance. It was then part of an Order, fo little diftant from its Birth, that it was not fo rich and wealthy, as now it is at this Day, fince a few more years has given it the leafure to confider of its Affairs, and to provide more advantageoufly for its eftablishment. It was compos'd of Maidens of very good Families, Noble and Ignoble, but who were not Tich, or who would not give confiderable Portions to those, whom they put out of their Houses to cafe themthemfelves of the Charge. Therefore thefe Maidens were lodg'd in a hir'd private Houfe, which was of no great extent, and according to their Inflitution, took Boarders to teach them, and from their Penlions drew part of their Maintenance. The Houfe where they dwelt belong'd to Mouffaut du Fresne. The Prior Mouffaut his Brother, was their first Confession, but was not long fo, for he died fome time before the difcourfe begun, concerning the Diabolical Possession, of which we are to treat.

B 2

4

Sect. 4. The younger fort of these Maidens, who were of a very chearful Spirit, and who fought nothing but to divert themfelves, as much as the compafs of their Confinement would allow ; took an Occafion by this Mans Death (and the Conceit which fome Perfons had, that Spirits haunted the Houfe where they dwelt) to rife in the Night, and make a Noife in the Granaries, and to give themfelves the Paftime to fright the young Boarders; Some alfo of the more fimple and aged of the Nuns (to whom the others had not dar'd to difcover the fport) conceiv'd a great deal of fear : This en-, courag'd the Actreffes even to get upon the top of the Houle, which was not difficult at Loudun, where most of the Roofs are built in fuch a manner, that they admit of an ealie access. They came at length to enter into the Chambers of the Boarders, to take their Petticoats off from their Beds ; and at last to practice every thing that might ferve to give them a Divertifement, and to befool the Boarders and the other Nuns. One of the Boarders at that time between Seventeen and Eighteen years of 'Age, nam'd Mary Aubin, who was admitted into the Pleafures and Secrets of these Actreffes, ferv'd to terrifie the others by the fear which fhe

the Devils of Loudun.

5

the feem'd to have, efpecially when thefe Sprights came into their Chamber, the Doors whereof had been well bolted, but they had fince been foftly open'd by her, who conftantly related this Prank after the fame manner, to her most intimate Friends, till she was almost Sixty Five years old, when the died.

Sect. 5. After the Death of Monffant, John Mignon, Priest and Canon of the Collegiate Church of Saint Croffe, in Loudun, was chosen to be the Confellor of the Urfulines. The Elder fort of them expreft to him the caufe of their Fear, and the Younger made him a Confident of their Sport. This Man was an Intriguer, Malicious and Ambitious, and had then different Paffions working in him. He propos'd to himfelf, not only to fuffer the fport to continue, but to Authorize it, and to lend it a helping Hand, and to try if he could not make use of it, which might ferve him to revenge himfelf of his Enemies, and to gain a reputation of Piety and fanctity, to which he was a great Pretender. But that the Defigns of the Contrivers of this Tragical Piece, may more throughly be difcover'd, we must bring the principal Perfon on the Stage, who was mostly concern'd in the Tragedy.

Sect. 6. Urban Grandier was a Priest, Born of an honeft Family, the Son of Peter Grandier, and Nephew of Claudius Grandier, who was alfo a Prieft. These Urfuline Nuns, in the time of their being Posses'd, faid, that Urban Grandier had learnt Magick of his Father, and his Uncle; but the Inhabitants of Xaintes, where they had dwelt, diffipated this flander by the good Teftimony they gave of theirLives and Conversation. He perform'd the course of his Studies under the Jesuits of Bourdeaux, who observing in him very confiderable Endowments, B 3 took took an affection to him, and procurd to him the parfonage of Saint Peter, in the Market of Loudun, which is in the prefentation of the Jef. its of Poi-Stiers. He had also obtain'd a Prebend in the Chap. ter of the Church of Saint Croffe. The uniting of these Benefices in one Person, who was not of that Province, expos'd him to the Envy of many Churchmen, who would have been well fatisfied with one of the two. This he was fufficiently fenfible of, when he faw himfelf accus'd, for he often faid to his Friends, that one part of those of that Order, who had declar'd themfelves against him, had a Quarrel with his Benefices, rather than his Perfon. He was of a tall Stature, and of a good Prefence, of a fteady Mind, and fubtil Wit, al-ways Comely and well dreft, never going but in a long Garment; this outward neatnefs was accormpanied with a polite Wit; He express himfelf with inuch Eafe and Eloquence ; He preach'd often, and acquited himfelf in that Employment incomparably better than most of the Monks who went up into the Pulpit. There is a Funeral Oration of his, upon the Death of the Illustrious Scevela of Saint Martha, which is a very Eloquent Piece, and fets forth the finenels of his Genius. He was gentle and courteous to his Friends, but proud and haughty towards his Enemies. He was Jealous of his Rank, and never yielded any thing of his interefts, repelling injuries with fo much vigour, that he exasperated the Spirits of those whom he might have gain'd by taking other Methods. In the mean while he was exposed to many Enemies, his haughtinefs had rais'd him a great number, and the ex-traordinary inclination ke had to the Courting of Women, had made him fill many more : It was not the Rivals that he was to fear, but the Fathers and

The Devils of Loudun.

and the Mothers provok'd and enrag'd by the Evil Reputation, which his frequent Vilits had drawn upon their Families.

Sett. 7. In the year 1602 he had a Process before the Official of Poitiers against a Priest nam'd le Mounier, and the Twenty First of April in the fame Year, he obtain'd a Sentence against him, which he caus'd to be executed with much Rigour, to the end that he might terrise those that should attempt to give him Trouble in time to come; whereat le Mounier continued fo much provok'd, that when he faw him accus'd of Sacriledge and Irreligion, he became a Witness himself, and even thunder'd out Monitories against him by the Orders of Laubardemont, a Commillary fent by the Court, to take Cognizance of this Affair.

Sett. 8. Some time after Grandier had another Suit againft the Canons of St. Crofs, upon the occasion of a House which he contended for with the Chapter; Mignon powerfully opposid his Pretensions, who was in Credit for the fake of his Family, and he was well skill'd in Matters Benificiary, and had conceiv'd a great jcalous against Grandier, whose Proceedings he always oppos'd. Bat although this Canon had follicited the Suit with much Heat, the Chapter notwith standing lost their Cause. Grandier triumph'd and infulted over Mignon with so much Pride, that he had a fensible Refentment of it.

Sett. 9. Barot, the Uncle of Mignon, and Prefident of the General Affelfors, a rich Man, and Childlefs, and by Confequence much refpected and carefled by his Heirs, had alfo a Quarrell with Grandier, who treated him with the utmost Haughtinefs, and as a pitiful Fellow, which caus'd Baref'sFamily to conceive fo great an animosity against B 4. Gran-

Grandier, that every one of them put himfelf forward to shew their Resentments, the better to make their Court to their Kinsman.

Self. 10. But all this came nothing near the Difpleasure of Trinquent the Kings Attorney and who was also the Uncle of Mignon. He had a Daughter which Grandier had vilited too familiarly; fhe became fickly and languishing; She had an inti-mate Friend named Marthale Pelletier, whole Fortune being very mean, fhe engag'd to ferve her upon this occafion, and was always near her during her indifpolition. This Friend was fo affectionate and faithful to her, that at the Expence of her own Reputation, she charg'd her felf with the Child, and took care to provide it a Nurfe; but this kept not Perfons from believing that this Child was rather the lifue of her, who had been fo long retir'd and languishing, than of her who had been chari-table enough to be willing in a Cafe of necessity, to own her felt to be the Mother. Trinquant having a knowledge of the Rumors which ran about to the difadvantage of his Daughter, caus'd Martha le Pelletier to be put in Prifon, to oblige her to make a Declaration concerning the Birth of the Child, which fbe had put into the hands of the Nurfe; She own'd her felf to be the Mother; and promifed to bring it up with much care, that Juffice fhould have no hold of her. The publick laugh'd at this Proceeding, the Declaration was not believ'd, and Trinquant remain'd but the more mortified.

Sett. 11. This Affair was upon thefe Terms, when Barot was fo ill treated by Grandier, which was the occasion of the meeting together of Trinquant, Mignon and of Menuau the King's Advocate, who was the Kinsman, and intimate Friend of Mignon, and who was feiz'd with a violent Love Paffion.

The Devils of Loudun.

9

fion, wherein he had Grandier for his Rival, and that a Favourite Rival; It was there refolv'd to defiroy him, or at leaft to drive him out of the Country of London. A little while after, there was produc'd against him an Information before the Official of Poistiers, in the name of the Promoter; They accus'd him for having debauch'd fome Women, and fome Maidens; for being impious and profane; for never faying his Breviary, and for having layn with a Woman even in his own Church. His Accufers were Cherbonneau, and Bongreau, Two pitiful Fellows of the very Scum of the People. The Official having receiv'd the Information, commiffion'd Lewis Chauver, Lieutenant Civil, and Arch-priest of Saint Marcelle, and of the Country of London, to inform joyutly with him.

Sect. 12. In the mean time, Duthibaut, a rich and powerful Man, being in the Interests of the Adversaries of Grandier, spoke very disadvantageoully of him in the Prefence of the Marquis du Bellai, and made bloody Reproaches against him. This was reported to Grandier, who teftified his Refentment in fuch cutting Terms, that Duthibaut lifted up the Cane which he had in his hand, and ftruck him, although he was attir'd in his Prieftly Habit, and ready to enter into the Church of Saint Crofs, whither, he went to affift at the Service. Grandier being inrag'd at this Affront and believing he fhould not have right done him fo foon in that Province, as at Paris, he chose to go thi-ther with his Complaints. But whils he made this journey, they inform'd against him at Loudun, and there proceeded to the Hearing of inconfiderable Witneffels whom they had procur'd. Trinquant made Oath first to encourage the others, and gave gave Caution in the Action of the Informers. The Information being made, it was fent to the Bifhop of Poitiers, near whofe Perfon the fecret Adverfaries of Grandier had very powerful Friends. Befides this, he happen'd to infringe the Rights of the Bifhop, in giving a Difpenfation of the Banns for the Marriage of Delagarde, who dwelt in the Town of Mons. His Enemies knew fo well how to aggravate this Encroachment, and to prepoffers the Mind of that Bifhop, that he deliver'd out againft him a Warrant for the feizing of his Perfon, conceiv'd in thefe Words.

Sect. 13. Henry Lewis Chateigner of Rochpozai by divine Mercy, Bilhop of Poitiers, having seen the Accusations and Informations given to us by the Archpriest of Loudun, against Urban Grandier Priest, and Parfon of Saint Peter in the Market of Loudun, by Virtue of a Commission granted by us to the aforesaid Arch-prieft, and in his absence to the Prior of Chaffeignes; Having alfo feen the Conclusions of our Pro-moter thereupon: We have ordain'd, and do ordain, that the faid Grandier, fo accused, be brought without Tumult into the Prison of our Episcopal Palace at Poi-tiers, if he can be apprehended, if not, he shall be cited at his House by the chief Apparitor, Priest or Clark ton-Surate, to appear within Three Days' And moreover by the chief Sergeant Royal, with the Request of the secular Arm : and to whom, and to every one of them, we give Power and Commandment to perform the fame, what soever Oppositions or Appeals not with fanding, concerning this Matter, and the faidGrandier being heard, to take by our Promoter fuch Conclusions against him, as he shall see fit to be done. Given at Distai the Twen. sy Second Day of October. 1629. Thus fign'd in the Original, Henry Lewis Bishop of Poitiers. Sect. 14. Grandier was then at Paris, when the

Sect. 14. Grandier was then at Paris, when the Warg

The Devils of Loudun.

Warrant was delive'd out against him, he had cast himself at the King's Feet, and complain'd of the Blows with the Cane, which Dubithaut had given him publickly; The King had referr'd this Affair to the Parliament, that a Process might be made and concluded against Duthibaut, his Action having appear'd very infolent and worthy of a fevere Correction ; but he made use of violent Recriminations against his Adverfary, he accus'd him of being a Scandalous Perfon, of an ill Life, and very Criminal, and produc'd for the Proof of these Accusations, the Warrant for this Apprehenfion which was newly granted by the Bifhop of of Poitiers, which was the Caufe that the Court, before Justice was done, fent Grandier back to the Bishop, to clear himfelf of the Crimes laid to his Charge. Hereturn'd to Loudun, and in a few Days came to Poitiers, to put himfelf into a Condition for his Defence, but could not do it; for he was no fooner Arrived, but he was arrefted Prifoner by an Usher of the Court, named Chatri. Although it was the Fifteenth of November, and that the Bishops Prifon was cold and dark, he remain'd however there more than two Months, and began to believe, that he would never get out of this Affair. His Enemies at least feem'd very much induc'd to think fo; Duthibaut thought himfelf fecur'd from his Profecutions, the Iffue whereof could not but be very troublefome to him ; and Barot caus'd a Devolution to be executed upon his Benifice, to the Profit of Ismael Boulieau a Priest and one of his Heirs.

Sect. 15. In the mean while, the eagerness of the Conspirators happen'd to abate, for fear of the Expences; for altho' they were all very Wealthy, yet each of them excus'd themselves, as much as

11

as 'twas poffible, from defraying the Charges, which could not be finall, the Inftruction of the Procefs being made at Poitiers; where the Witneffes were oblig'd to make a perfonal Appearance, to give their Informations, and to be confronted to the Perfon Accus'd. But the Animolity of Trinquant was more powerful than that of all the reft; he in the end overcame those Difficulties, and acted so, that his Affociates contributed to the Expence as well as himfelf, and that the Profecution was not given over.

Sect. 16. The principal Article of the Accusation could not be made good. It was laid to Grandier's charge, That he had Debauch'd Women and Maidens; but there were no Plaintiffs produc'd; thefe Women and Maids were not nam'd; there was not any Witness that Swore directly to this Fact; and the greater part ac-knowledg'd, at laft, That they never heard a word concerning many things which they found writ in the Informations. At laft, it being neceffa-ry to proceed to the Judgment of the Process; there was admitted into the number of the Judges, the Advocate Richard, who was Trinquant's Kinfman; and the Bishop was befet by the fecret Ad-versaries of Grandier, who ceas'd not to fet him out in the blackeft Colours, and who knew how to mix fo much Probability with their Calumnies, that on the 3d of January 1630, he was Con-demn'd to Fast with Bread and Water, by way of Penance, every Friday during three Months; and interdicted from Divine Offices, in the Diocefs of Poitiers, for five Years; and in the Town of Loudun, for ever.

Sect. 17. On both fides there was an Appeal from this Sentence ; Grandier appeal'd to the Archbifhop

the Devils of Loudun.

bishop of Bourdeaux; and his Adversaries, in the Name of the Promoter of the Officiality, by Writ of Error, to the Parliament of Paris; to the intent only to Perplex him, and to bring him into fuch a Condition, as not to be able to undergo the burden of all the Affairs, with which they fought to overwhelm him. But they fucceeded not as they defir'd; for he prepar'd himfelf, and had his Caufe Pleaded before the Parliament. But it being neceffary to hear yet a greater number of Witneffes, who dwelt in a Place very far off, the Court remitted the Cognifance thereof to the Presidial of Poitiers, to judge definitively. The Lieutenant Criminal of Poitiers, gave Instruction for renewing the Procefs, as well by the Re-examination and Confronting of the Witneffes, as by the Fulmina-tion of a Monitory. This Inftruction was not favourable to his Accufers; there were found Contradictions in the Witneffes, who would yet perlift; and there were many others, who ingenuoully acknowledg'd, That they had been tamper'd with: One of the Accufers defifted from the Action which he had, begun; and declar'd, with fome Witneffes, who also gave over, That they had been put on, and folicited by Trinquant. At the fame time, it came to the knowledge of Mechin and Boulieau Priefts, That they were made to fay, in their Deposition, things that they had never. thought of; they were defirous to difown them by Writings under their Hands; and that of Mechin being found, we need not fear to infert it here, altho' it be long, as well as fome other Writings, which shall be inferted hereafter; because we believe that this Exactness will contribute to the Satisfaction of the Reader, and leave no caufe to doubt of the truth of those things which are contain'd in this Hiftory. Selt:

13

Sect. 18. " I Gervale Mechin Prieft, Vicar of " the Church of St. Peter, in the Market of Lou-" dan, do certifie by this prefeat Writing, and " Sign'd with my Hand for the discharge of my " Confcience, upon a certain Rumour which is " causid to be fpread abroad, That in an Informa-tion made by Giles Robert Archprieft, against " Urban Grandier Prieft, Parfon of St. Peters; in " which Information, the faid Robert folicited me to depofe, that I have faid, That I found the " faid Grandier lying with Women and Maids all " at length in St. Peter's Church, the Doors being " fhut: Alfo, That feveral times, at undue hours, " both by Day and by Night, I had feen Maids " and Women come to find the faid Grandier in " his Chamber ; and that fome of the faid Women " continued there, from one of the Clock in the " Afternoon, till two or three in the Morning; 44 and caus'd their Suppers to be brought thither 22 by their Maid-Servants, who immediately re-. 50 tir'd: Alfo, That I had feen the faid Grandier " in the Church, the Doors being open; and fome " Women being entred there, he shut them. Not " defiring that fuch Reports fhould any longer 56 continue, I declare by thefe Prefents, That I " have never feen, nor found the faid Grandier " with Women, or Maids, in the Church, the "Doors being fhut; nor alone with them by themfelves, but when he has fpoken to them, " they were in Company, and the Doors wide " open: And as touching the Pofture, I think it " fufficiently clear'd by myConfrontation, and that " the faid Grandier and Women were fat down a " good diftance one from the other : As alfo, I " never faw Women and Maids enter into the faid " Grandier's Chamber, neither by Day nor Night. Indeed,

the Devils of Loudun.

" Indeed, 'tis true, I have heard a great many Peo-" ple come and go very late at Night, but I can-" not fay who it was; alfo, That there lyeth al-" ways a Brother of the faid Grandier near his " Chamber ; and that I have neither known, that " Women or Maids have caus'd their Suppers to " be brought thither ; neither have I depos'd, That " I had never feen him fay his Breviary, becaufe " that would be contrary to truth ; forafmuch as " that he borrow'd mine feveral times, which he " took, and faid his Hours. And in like manner, " I declare, That I never faw him flut the Doors " of the Church; and that in all the Difcourfes " which I faw him have with the Women, I never " beheld any thing unbefeeming, nor that he did " even any ways touch them, but that they only " fpoke together; and that if there be found in " my Depolition, any thing contrary to what is " faid above, it is contrary to my knowledge; " and it was never Read to me, left I should not " have Sign'd. This is what I have faid to give a " testimony to the Truth. Made the last Day of " October, 1630; Signed thus, G. Mechin.

Sett. 19. The Prefidial of Poitiers gave his Judgment the 25th of May 1631. whereby Grandier was fent away Abfolv'd, for the prefent, of the Accufation made against him. He triumph'd and infulted over his Adversaries with so much Haughtinefs, as if he had been wholly clear of this Businefs. In the mean time, it was neceffary that he should prefent himself before the Tribunal of the Archbishop of Bourdeaux, to whom he had appeal'd, and that he might obtain there a Sentence of Juflification. This Prelate, a little time after that this Judgment had been given at Poitiers, came to visit his Abbey of St. Jouin les Marnes, which is but three Leagues from Loudun. Grandier prepar'd himfelf to appear before him; and his Adverfaries, who feem'd to have loft their Courage, did heartily Defend themfelves. This is the Sentence of Abfolution, which the Archbishop pronounc'd, after he had proceeded to a new Instruction of the Process.

Sect. 20. " Henry d'Escoubleau de Sourdis, by the " Grace of God Archbishop of Bourdeaux, Primate " of Aquitain, To all Perfons, to whom these pre-" fent Letters shall come, Greeting. Know ye, " That a Process being begun between Urban Gran-" dier Priest and Appellant, from the Sentence gi-" ven by the Most Reverend the Bishop of Poitiers, " the 3d of January 1630, and from all that which " enfued thereupon on the one part, and James " Cherbonneau, joint Promoter of the Officiality, " cited to Appear on the other part; (faving that " their qualities may be prejudicial to either) our " Sentence of the 30th of August last, with the "Pieces there mention'd, being feen by us; the Examinations given by Giles Robert Archprieft, " Gervase Mechin, and Boulieau Priest; Our Sen-" tence given upon a Petition, prefented to us by " the faid Grandier the 15th of October last, at the "bottom whereof is our Decree; and another " Petition, which the faid Grandier had prefented " us the 3d of this prefent Month; A Petition " prefented to us by James Caille, Porter to the Sieur de la Motte of Champdeaier, the 4th of the "faid Month, our Decree being at the bottom " thereof. Our Verbal Process of the 7th of the " faid Month, containing the Interrogatories put "by us to the faid Caille, and the Anfwers made "by him; Our Judgment of the faid Fourth Day of this Month; The Monitory deliver'd by us ct to

The Devils of Loudun.

" to our Promoter, with the Certificate of the "Publication which was made in the Town of "London; Another Petition prefented to us by "the faid Grandier the Seventeenth of the faid " Month, and our Decree thereupon, with the De-" terminations of ourPromoter, to whom the whole " has been communicated ; All being view'd and " confider'd, and the Advice of the Counfel taken " thereupon after the Invocation of the Holy Ghoff. We by our Sentence and Judgment definitive, "have difanull'd, and do difanul the faid Sentence ; " from which there is made an Appeal, and for " want of other Proof made by our Promoter, " have difmist; and do difmiss the faid Appellant, "abfolv'd from the Crimes and Offences laid to " his Charge, and have taken off definitively the " Interdiction a Divinis, mention'd i the faid De-" cree, Injoyning him, that he behave himfelf or-" derly and modestly in his Charge, according to the Holy Decrees, and Canonical Conflictutions, Without Prejudice to his Recovery of Satisfaction " for Damages, and Interests, and Restitution of the "Profits of his Benefices, in fuch manner as he fhall "think good. Made by us at our Palace belonging " to the Abbey of Saint Jouin les Marnes, the Twen-"tieth of November. 1631. Signed Henry de Sourdis Archbishop of Bourdeaux, and pronounc'd by " us the Register, to the faid Grandier, who was " then in the fame Abbey the Day and Year above " mention'd.

Sett. 21. The Archbishop confidering the animosity, and contrivances of the Enemies of Grandier, and having an effcem forhim, for the fake of his good qualities, advis'd him to change his Benefices, and to withdraw himfelf from a place, where fo powerful a confpiracy was C made made against him. But he was not capable of following fuch wholesome advice, both Love and Hatred had too much blinded him, he hated his Enemies with too great a passion to fatisfie them in that Point; But he was yet more violently posses by Love; and although this was divided towards different Objects, there was one nevertheles, which was the true Subject of his tender Affections, to which his Heart was ty'd by fuch firong bands, that far from being able to break them, he had not the power to remove himself any distance from her. He return'd then to Londan, with a Branch of Laurel in his Hand, as an Ensign of his Victory.

Sect. 22. Perfons that were indifferently concern'd, were fcandaliz'd at his Conduct, wherein he fhew'd fo little Modefty; his Enemies were enrag'd, and his own Friends difapprov'd it. He took polleffion of his Benefices, and fcarcely gave himfelf Leifure to breath; fo that being wholly fill'd with the Refentment of the Injury that had been done him by Duthibaut, he begun his Suit against him, and drove it fo far, that he obtain'd a Decree from the Chamber of Tournelle, whither Duthibaut was fent for, and reprov'd, and was condemn'd to divers Fines and Reparations, and to pay the Charge of the Procefs.

Sect. 23. Grandiers not being fatisfied with the right he had done himfelf in this Affair, refolv'd to carry on his Revenge, as far as he could legally do it, and he began to fue his Secret Enemies for his Reparations, Damages and Interefts, and for the Reflitution of the Profits of his Benefices, according to the Sentence of the Archbifhop of Bourdeaux. It was in vain that his principal friends would

the Devils of Loudun.

would have diffwaded him upon the Confideration of what had already happen'd to him, which ought to make him know what his Enemies were like to do, if he attempted every way to drive them to Extremities, and to interest their Purse, at which they would not be lefs fensible, than they had fhew'd themfelves in what concern'd their Reputation: But his Stars drew him to a Precipice; Divine Providence, whose Ways are impenetrable, would punish him for his Pride and Debauchery, and fuffer, at the fame time to appear upon the Theater of the World, one of the Tragical Acts, which false Zeal, or Impiety cause to be represented there from time to time; and which never fail to find in the Credulity of the People an Approbation and Applause, which the Experience of what is past, ought to hinder them from giving fo lightly, and which are the evident Signs of the Weakness of Man's Understanding.

Sect. 24. When there was to be chosen a new Confellor for the Urfuline Nuns, Grandier had been pro-Pos'd; His Enemies nois'd it abroad, that he was very defirous to be pitch'd upon; but that he was rejected because of his evil Manners, and that the Priorefs had a greatDifpute with one of his intimate Friends upon that Subject. But there are many Perfons who writ to the contrary, and that the Nuns had caus'd him to be treated with, upon the defign they had to defire him to be their Confeffor, which he abfolutely refus'd, although he had been very much follicited. It is at least certain that these Maidens had dwelt Seven or Eight Years at Loudun, without his having given them any Vifit; and in the Year 1634, when he and they were brought Face to Face, it appear'd that they had never feen him. Father Tranquille has also own'd C 2 ir it in one of his Books, that Grandier had never intermeddled in their Concerns. There is then no Likelihood that after he had fo exceedingly flighted them, he fhould have a Defign to become their Confession, or that he ever propos'd it to them.

19

Sett. 25. The Report of the Possession was a great while whisper'd about the Town, before it. broke out. The Secret could not be fo well kept, but that fome Knowledge of what past within the Convent spread abroad ; There was made the Experiment of all the Sleights of managing the Body, which they intended to make use of; There Mignon fet in order the Springs of his Intreagues to have them play, when they fhould be in a Condition; He caus'd his Schollars to be exercis'd in feigning to fall into Convulsions, to make Contorfions and Postures of their Bodies, to the End they might gain a Habit, and he forget nothing for their Instruction, to make them able to appear true Demoniacks. 'Twas believ'd that he kept fome of the fimple and overcredulous Nuns in their Error, and in the Fear which they had at first, and that by Degrees he infinuated into them that which he was defirous they fhould at laft ftrongly believe, and which 'twas thought they really did fo; How little Refemblance foever of Truth there might be in this Imposture, He drew others into the Party, who had no Knowledge of it in the Beginning; He fecur'd himfelf of the Fidelity of all those who were engag'd as well by Oaths, as by the Confideration of the Interest of the Glory of GOD, and the Catholick Church, perfuading them, that it would draw great Advantages by this Enterprize, which would ferve to confound the Hereticks, of whom the Town was very full; and be rid of a Pernicous Curate, who by his Debaucheries had Jib er fcon hand dishonour'd bis Character, who was also a Secret Heretick, and who drew a Numerous Com-Pany of Souls into Hell; Adding, that their Con. vent would not fail, to obtain by this Means 22 extraordinary Reputation, and that Gifts and Alms that would be beftow'd, would bring a great Plenty, which was then wanting ; In a Word, he forgot nothing that he believ'd would contribute to his Defigns, and when he faw that the Bufinefs was very near to the Point of Perfection which he wish'd, he began to exercise the Superior, and Two other Nuns; He call'd at first to his Exorcifins only Peter Barre, Curate of Saint James of Chinon, and Canon of Saint Meme. He was a Bigot and an Hypocrite, almost of the fame Character with Mignon, but much more Melancholick and more Enthufiastick, and who practis'd a Thousand Extravagancies, that he might pass for a Saint. He came to Loudun at the Head of his Parishioners, whom he led in Procession, coming all the Way on Foot, that he might the better put a Gloss upon his Hypocrify. After that thefe Two pretend-Exorcifts had bufied themfelves together very privately for Ten or Twelve Days, they believ'd this Act was in a Condition to be expos'd upon the Stage to the Eyes of the Publick and for this Effect, they refolv'd to inform the Magistrate of the Lamentable Condition of these Nuns, to whom they employ'd Granger Curate of Venier, a Man malicious and impudent, fear'd and hated of all the Priests in the Country, because being in Fayour with the Bishop of Poitiers, he many times did them ill Offices with him; He had never any Difference with Grandier; But had even receiv'd fome Services of him, which did not hinder him from fuffering himfelf to be tamper'd with by Mig-C 3 2028

non and Trinquant, and entring openly into the League with them. He went then on Monday the Eleventh of October, 1532, 10 find William de Cerizai de la Gueriniere Bailiff of the Loudunois, and Lewis Chanvet Lieutenant Civil, and he intreated them, on the Behalf of the Exorcifts, to come to the Convent of the Urfulines to fee the Two Nuns polleffed by evil Spirits, reprefenting to them that it concern'd them to be prefent at the Exorcifins, and to fee the ftrange and almost incredible Effects of this Poffession. He told them, that there was one who answer'd in Latin to all Queftions that could be put to Her, although fhe had no Knowledge of the Language before this Accident. The Two Magistrates went to the Convent, either to assist at the Exorcisms, and to Authorize them, if they found themfelves oblig'd, or to ftop the Courfe of this Illufion, if they judg'd the Possession to be feign'd and counterfeited. Mignon met them attir'd with his Surplice and Tippit, He told them that the Nuns had been difturb'd for Fifteen Days with Apparitions and frightful Vifions, and that after that, the Mother Superior, and Two other Nuns had been visibly possel for Eight or Ten Days by evil Spirits, but that they had been driven out of their Bodies, as well by the Ministry of him. as of Barre, and some other Religious Carmelites; But that on Saturday Night the Sixteenth of the Month, the Mother Superior nam'd Jane Belsiel, the Daughter of the late Baron of Cose, of the Country of Xaintonge, and a lay Sifter, the Daughter of Maignoux, had been tormented afresh, and that they were possible again by the same Spirits; That they had discover d in their exor-cling; that this was done by a new Pact or Covenant, the Symbol or Mark whereof were Rofes, as the Token of the First had been Three black Thornes. That the evil Spirits had not been willing to name themfelves during the First Possession, but that he who then poffeft the Mother Priorefs call'd himfelf the Enemy of GOD, and faid, his Name was Aftaroth, and that he who posseft the Lay Sifter, nam'd himfelf Sabulun. At last he told them that the poffers'd were now taking their Reft, and he defir'd them to deferr the Vifit to another Hour of the Day. These Two Magistrates were ready to go out, when a Nun came to give them Notice, that the Perfons poffels'd were again tormented; They went up with Mignon 'and Granger into an upper Chamber, furnish'd with Seven little Beds, in one of which lay the Lay Sifter, and the Priorefs in another. This laft was encompafs'd with fome Carmelites, with fome of the Nuns of the Convent, with Mathurin Roffeau Priest and Canon of Saint Crofs, and Manouri the Chirurgion. The Superior had no fooner difcover'd the Two Magistrates, but she had violent Commotions, and perform'd strange Actions; She made a Noise which was like to that of a Pig ; She funk down into the Bed, and contracted her felf into the Postures and Grimaces of a Person who is out of his Wits; A Carmelite Friar was at her right Hand, and Mignon at her left, the last of these Put his Two Fingers into her Mouth and prefuppofing that the was poffefs'd, us'd many Conjurations, and fpake to the Devil, who answer'd him after this Manner, in their First Dialogue. Mignon demanded, Propter quam Causam ingressus es in Corpus bujus Virginis ? For what Reason hast thou enter'd into the Body of this Virgin ? Answ. Caufa Animositatis ; Upon the Account of Animofity. Q. Per quod Pattum? By what Pact? A. Per Flores, By Flowers, Q. Qua-Tes 3 C4

24

es? What Flowers? A. Rofas. Rofes. Q. Quis mifit? Who fent them ? A. Urbanus. Urban. She pronounc'd not this Word before the had ftammer'd many times, as if the had done it by constraint. Q. Dic Cognomen. Tell his Surname. A. Grandier. This was again a Word which the pronounc'd not, till the had been very much urg'd to Anfwer. Q. Die qualitatem; Mention his Quality. A. Sacerdos, A Prieft. Q. Cujus Ecclefice ? of what Church ? A. Santli Petri, Of Saint Peters. She utter'd thefe last Words very boldly. Q. Que Persona attulit Flores? What Perfon brought the Flowers? A. Diabolica, a Diabolical Perfon. She came to her Senfes after this laft Anfwer, She pray'd to GOD, and the cryed to eat a little Bread which was brought her; fhe put it from her however a little after, faying the was not able to fwallow it becaufe it was too dry. Therewas brought to her Liquid Sweatmeats of which the eat but very little, becaufe the was frequently perplex'd by the Return of her Convultions. The Bailiff and Lieutenant who flood near her, and obferv'd with good Attention that which paft, feeing that they gave no more any Sign of a Poffeffion, withdrew towards the Window; Mignon came near them and faid, that in the Action which was prefented, there was fomething like the Hiftory of Peter Gaufredi, who was put to Death by Virtue of a Decree of the Parliament of Aix in Province; to whom there was no Anfwer made, but the Lieutenant Civil told him, that it would have been proper to urge the Priorefs upon this Caufe of Animofity, whereof the had fpoke in her Anfwers, upon this he excus'd himfelf, that he was not allow'd to make any Queftions of Curiofity. The Lay Sifter had also feveral Convulsions, and the motions of her Body feem'd very extraordinary. They were def-defirous to propole fome Queftions to her, but the cry'd out Twice, To the other, to the other; which was interpreted, as if the had been willing to fay, that 'twas only the Superior, who was fufficiently infracted to answer. The Judges retir'd, and underftood the fame Queftions had been already put divers times to the Nuns, effectively in the Prefence of PaulGronard Judge of the Provoft thip at Loudun, and of Trinquant the King's Attorney, of which, and all other things they had feen and heard, they drew up a Verbal Procefs, and fign'd it.

Seff. 26. The Noife which this Possession began to make, produc'd different Opinions; the Devout Souls who regarded with refpect and veneration, the Ministers of the Church, and who were inclin'd to receive blind-fold, and without inquiry all that was prefented to them on their part, could not perfwade themfelves that Barre, Mignon, the Carmelites, Urfulines, Priefts, Friars and Nuns, could Poffibly be the Authors of fo wicked a Contrivance, or invent fo devilish an Imposture. But the Worldlings not judging fo charitably, were more inclin'd to fuspect the whole; they could not apprehend how these Devils, who happen'd to go out at one Door, did as quickly re-enter at another, to the confusion of the Ministers of him, by whole Authority they had been difposseft They were aftonish'd, that the Devils of the Superior spake Latin, rather than that of the Lay Sifter; and that the Ipake not better than a Scholar of the fecond Form. They made reflections upon this, that Mignon had not been willing to interrogate her upon the caufo of the Animolity, of which he himfelf had fpoken, and they concluded that it was because the Devil was at the end of his Leslon; that he had not as yet learnt any further, and that he was oblig'd blig'd to play the fame part before all forts of Spectators, feeing he had fpoke nothing before the Bayliff, but what he had already faid before the Judge of the Provoftship; they were not ignorant, that fome time before, there had been a meeting of all the most violent Enemies of Grandier, at the Village of Fuidardane, in one of the Trinquant's. Houfes, and there found a great deal of probability, that what was acted there, had a Relation to the Poffeffion. They could not also relish that Mignon had fo readily explain'd himfelf upon the conformity which he faw in his Affair with that of Gaufredy the Priest executed at Aix. And in fine, they had rather that other Friers than Carmelites had been call'd to their Exorcifms, becaufe the Quarrels of these good Fathers with Grandier, had been known to all the World, by the Sermons which he had made against a priviledged Altar, of which they fo much boafted, and by the contempt which he publickly fhew'd of their Preachers.

26

Sett. 27. The next Day after, being the Twelfth of October, the Bayliff, and the Lieutenant Civil accompanied with the Canon Rouffan, and follow'd by their Regifter, return'd to the Convent of the Orfulines, upon the Knowledge that they had, that they did continue the Exorcifms. They call'd Mignon afide, and remonstrated to him, that this Affair would be henceforward of fuch importance, that it was neceffary that they, the Magistrates, should be acquainted when they would proceed in it; they added, that it was convenient that he should forbear to Exorcife, and that other Exorcifts, should be call'd by those of the Magistracy, to avoid the sufficients of Suggestion, which his quality, of being Confessior, might justly give, by reason of the Mortal hatred tred which had been between him, or his near Kindred, and Grandier, who had been nam'd by the Su-Perior as the Author of the Pact and Magick which was now in Queftion. Mignon answer'd them, that neither he, nor the Nuns, would be against their being prefent at the Exorcifings, and declar'd to them that Barre had exorcis'd that Day, but he did not promife not to Exocrife any more for the future, although fince that time he had always abstain'd from exorcifing in Publick. Barre drawing near, told the Magistrates, that in this exor-cifing, there past very surprising things; That he. had learnt from the Superior, That there were in her Body Seven Devils, whole Names he had taken in writing; That Aftaroth was the first in order; That Grandier had given the Pact, between him and the Devils, under the Symbol of Rofes, to one named Jane Pivart, who had put them into the Hands of a Maiden, who had brought them to the Convent, over the Walls of the Garden; That the Priorefs had faid, that this happen'd to her on Saturday Night, Hora Secunda NoEturna, at two of the Clock in the Morning, which were the very Words fhe us'd. That fhe would not Name the Maiden, but had nam'dPivart; That he demanded of her who that Pivart was ? And that fhe answer'd him, eft pauper Magus, 'tis a poor Magician ; That he had urg'd her upon this Word, Magus, Magician ; and that the repli'd Magicianus & Civis, Magician and Citizen. After this Discourse, the Magistrates went up into the Chamber of the possessed, which they found fill'd with a great Number of inquilitive Perfons; fhe made not any Wry-Face, nor did any Action of a Perfon posseft, neither during the Mais which Mignon celebrated, nor before nor after the Elevation of the Sacrament; They Sung alfo alfo with the other Nuns; the Lay-fifter only being fat down by the help of those who were nearest to her, had a great trembling in her Arms and Hands. This is all that was observ'd, and thought worthy to be inferted into the Verbal Process of the Morning Work of that Day.

Sect. 28. The Defign of the Judges being to take an exact Account of this Affair, return'd to the Convent about Three or Four of the Clock in the Afternoon, with Irenews of Saint Marte, the Sieur Deshumeaux ; They found the Chamber again fill'd with People of all conditions; the Superior had at first great Convulsions in their prefence; she thrust out her Tongue, she Foam'd and Froth'd at the Mouth, well nigh as if fhe had been really in a Fit of Madnefs, or was tormented by an Evil Spirit. Barre demanded of the Devil, when he would go out? Those that were near, heard this answer, Cras mane, to Morrow Morning. The Exorcift infifted, and ask'd him why he would not go out of her then? The Anfwer was Pactum, a Contract, or it is a Contract. The word Sacerdos, Prieft, was afterwards pronounc'd, then that of Finis, or Finit, an end, or does end; for this good Nun, or the Devil fpoke between their Teeth, and 'twas not easie to underftand her; Prayers were made, and Exorcifms, and Adjurations, but fhe answer'd nothing. The Pix was put upon her Head, and this Action was accompanied with Prayers and Litanies, which had no effect; only fome People obferv'd, fhe was tormented with more Violence, when the Names of certain Saints were pronounc'd, as Saint Augustine, Saint Jerom, Saint Anthony, and Saint Mary Magdalene. Barre commanded her at that time, (as he did very often fince) to fay that fhe gave her Heart and Soul to GOD; fhe did it freely, freely, and without conftraint : But when he bid her fay, that fhe gave her Body, fhe made refiftance, and feem'd not to Obey, but by force; as if fhe were willing to fay, the Devil polleft her Body, but not her Soul. After she had made this last Anfwer, the recover'd her natural condition; her countenance was also Pleafant and Calm, as if the had not undergone any extraordinary Agitation; and looking upon Barre, with a fmiling Countenance, she told him, That there was now no more of Satan in her. She was ask'd whether fhe remem-b'red the Questions which had been put to her, and her Anfwers? the replied no. Afterwards fhe took fome Food, and told the Company, that the first Pact had been given her about Ten a Clock at Night; That fhe was then in Bed, and that there were feveral Nuns in her Chamber; fhe felt that fomething took one of her Hands, and after having put into it Three Black Thorns, they clos'd it; That this being done, without her having feen any perfon, fhe was troubled, and feiz'd with a great Terror, which made her call the Nuns who were in her Chamber; That they came near her, and found the Three Thorns in her Hand. As fhe continued to speak, the Lay-Sister had some Convulsions, the particulars whereof the Judges could not take notice, because this happen'd whilst they went nigh the Superior, and were attentive to her Difcourfe. This Day's work concluded with an Adventure pleafant enough; whilft Barre made his Prayers and Exorcisms, there happen'd a great Noife amongst the Company; and some faid that they faw a Cat come down the Chimney; This Cat was carefully fearch'd for, throughout the Chamber; it threw it felf upon the Tefter of the Bed; it was catch'd upon the Superiors Bed, where Barre had made many Signs of the Crofs; upon upon it, and added feveral adjurations, but at laft it was known to be one of the Cats of the Convent, and no Magician, or Demon.

30

Sect. 29. The Company being ready to withdraw, the Exorcift faid that it was requisite to burn the Rofes, where the Second Pact had been put; and in effect he took a great Nofegay of White Musk Rofes, already wither'd, and caft them into the Fire; there happen'd no Sign upon this occasion, and the Rofes caus'd no ill finell in burning. Neverthelefs, they promifed the Company that next Day they fhould fee wonderful Events, That the Devil should go out; That he should speak more plainly than he had hitherto; and That they would urge him to give fuch convincing and manifeft Signs of his going out; that no Body should be able to doubt of the Truth of this Possession. Rene Herve the Lieutenant Criminal, faid that he ought to ask her concerning the Name Pivart; Barre answer'd in Latine, & boc dicet, & puellam nominabit, she shall tell it, and Name the Maid, meaning to fpeak of her, who had brought the Rofes.

Self. 30. Grandier, who at first made a Mock at these Exorcisms, and the Testimony of these pretended Devils, feeing that this Affair was push'd on fo far, prefented a Petition to the Bayliff the fame Day, being the Twelfth of Octocter, by which he remonstrated to him, That Mignon had exorcis'd these Nuns in his prefence; That they had nam'd him as the Author of their Possession; That it was an Imposture and a perfect Calumny fuggested against his Honour, by a Man who rais'd another falle Acculation against him, of which he had clear'd himfelf; That he requested him to sequester these Nuns, who pretended to be poffeft, and caufe them to be examined feparately; That if he found any appearance of Poffellion, he would be pleas'd to nominate fome Ecclefiaftical Perfons, of a requifite Ability and Honefty, not fufpected by him the Petitioner, as Mignon and his Adherents were, to exorcife them if there were occafion, and to make his Verbal Procefs of that which fhould pafs at the Exorcifins, to the end, that he the Petitioner might be able afterwards to provide as he fhould fee caufe. The Bayliff gave Grandier an Act of his Iffues and Conclusions, according to his defire, and told him; that 'twas Barre who did exorcife theDay before, by the Orders of the Bilhop of Poictiers, as he had boafted in his prefence; adding, that he declar'd this to him, to the end that he might provide fo as he thought fit; by which Grandier underfhood that he fhould be referr'd to his Bilhop.

to

Sect. 31. The next Day, October the Thirteenth, the Bayliff, Lieutenant Civil, the Lieutenant Crimi-nal, the King's Attorney, the Lieutenant of the Provoftship, and Deshumeaux, follow'd by the Clerks of the Two Jurildictions, went to the Convent at Eight of the Clock in the Morning; they past the first Gate which they found open, Mignon open'd the fecond, and introduc'd them into the Parlour; he told them that the Nuns were preparing themfelves for the Communion, and entreated them to retire to a Houfe, which was on the other fide of the Street, whence he would caufe them to be call'd within lefs than an Hour. They went out after they had given him notice of the Petition prefented by Grandier to the Bayliff the Day before. The Hour being come, they entred all into the Chappel of the Convent, and Barre coming to the Gate with Mignon, told them, that he came from exorcifing the two poffeffed Perfons, who had been delivered

livered from the unclean Spirits by their Ministry; that they had toil'd at the Exorcifms fince Seven a Clock in the Morning; That there had pais'd great wonders, of which they would draw up an Act; but that they had not judg'd fit to admit other Perfons there than the Exorcifts. The Bayliff remonstrated to them, that this Proce lure was not reasonable; That it render'd them suspected of Impolture and Suggestion in the things which were faid and done the foregoing Days, by the variation that was found in them, and that the Superior hav-ing publickly accus'd Grandier of Magick; they ought not to do any thing clandestinly, fince that Accufation, but in the Face of Justice and the Publick. That they had taken upon them a great deal of boldness to pray fo many People, and of fuch Quality, to wait the space of an Hour, and in the mean while to proceed in the Exorcifms in private. That they would make the Verbal Process, as they had already done in other things, which paft in their prefence. Barre answer'd, that the end they aim'd at, was the expulsion of the Devils; That their Defign had fucceeded ; And that they fhou'd fee a great good turn to happen upon it, becaufe he had exprelly commanded the evilSpirits to produce within Eight Days fome great effect, capable of hind'ring for the future any one's doubting the Truth of the Possession, and deliverance of the Nuns. The Magistrates drew up a Verbal Process of this Difcourie, and of all that had proceeded in it; but the Lieutenant Criminal only would not Sign it.

Sett. 32. Although the Impostures of the Enemies of Grandier were not very ingeniously contriv'd, he could not but dread their Malice, their Impudence, and their Credit. He faw combin'd bind against him the Lieutenant Criminal, the Advocate, and the King's Attorney, Mignon, and his Brother the Sieur de la Coulee, President of the General Affestors, Granger, Curate of Venier, Duthibaut and Barot. But that which did terrifie him most, was this; That he had understood, that they had engag'd on their fide Rene Memin Sieur de Silly, Major of the Town, a Man who had very much Credit, as well for his Riches, as the many Offices he poffeft, and above all for his Friends, amongst whom might be reckon'd Cardinal Richelieu, who had not forgot many fingular kindneffes which heretofore he had receiv'd of him in the Country, when he was but a Curate or Prior, and which had continued even fince his Elevation, and principally at the time of his first Difgrace. All these confiderations oblig'd Grandier not to neglect this Affair ; and to this effect, believing that he was tacitly referr'd by the Bailiff of Londun, to the Bishop of Poittiers, he went to find him at Diffai, whither he was accompanied by a Prieft of Londun, nam'd John Buron. The Steward of the Bilhop who was call'd du Pui, having told him that the Bishop was indifposid, he addrest himfelf to his Almoner, and Pray'd him to let him understand, that he was come to prefent him the Verbal Processes, which the Officers of Londun had made of all things which had past in the Convent of the Urfulines ; and to complain of the impostures and calumnies which were disperst against him. The Almoner returning told, on the behalf of the Bishop, in the presence of du Pui, Buron, and the Sieur de la Broffe, that he was to Address hintfelf before the Judges Royal, and that he flouid be very glad that he had Justice done him in this Affair. Grand er having been able to do nothing more with D the the Bilhop, return'd to Loudun, and applied himfelf again to the Bailiff. He acquainted him with that which befel him in his Journey to Diffai, reiterated his Complaints of the calumnies which were industriously promoted against him, and befought him to acquaint the Kings Justices with the Truth of this business, protesting that he would make application at Court to obtain a Commission, to bring an Information against Mignon and his Complices, and demanding to be put under the protection of the King, and fafeguard of Justice, feeing that his Honour and Life were attempted. The Bailiff gave him an Act of his Protestations, with prohibitions to all forts of Perfons to speak ill of him or to hurt him, this Order was of the Twenty Eighth of October, 1632.

Seet. 33. Mignon feeing himfelf accus'd in his turn for having Plotted a Contrivance to deftroy Grandier, came to make his Declaration to the Bailiff, without allowing his Jurifdiction; That Grandier and he being Priefts of the Diocefs of Po Riers, he ought not to address himfelf to other Judges than their Bilhop to accufe him of the most horrible of all the Calumnies that Hell hath ever produc'd, and that he was ready to render himfelf to the Prison of the Officiality, to make known to all the World, that he did not fhun the Light of Justice: He added, that he had protested his innocence the Day before, by Swearing on the Holy Sacrament of the Altar, in the prefence of the Juffices themfelves, that he had never thought of the Calumny for which he was complain'd of, that he had given Grandier notice to put himfelf on his part, in a condition of defence; and to forbear in the mean time to accufe him of being a Calumniator ; of which Words and Protestations testations, the Bailiff decreed him an Act, which he caus'd to be fignified to his Adverfary.

Seef. 34. Since the Thirteenth of October, that Barre had boasted of having expell'd the Devil; out of the Two Nuns; they paft fome time without any talk of the Poffession; Grandier however inclin'd not to believe that the bufinefs would stop there, nor that there had a Defign to let him be quiet; he-imagin'd that thele Maids took time to fludy their part, and to exercise themselves in the prefence of the Ditactor of the Work, in order to act their parts the better, when it flould be time to reprefent the other Acts of this Comedy. He fail'd not in his conjecture ; for Rene Mannouri the Chirurgeon was fent the Twenty Second of November, to Gaspard Joubert a Phylician, to pray him to come to the Convent of the Urfulines, and to get himfelf accompanied with the other Phylicians of Loudun, in order to visit two Nuns who were again tormented by evil Spirits? Joubert being a Frank Man, and an Enemy of Imposture, and unwilling to go upon this occasion, but under the ftandard of Justice, went speedily to find the Bailiss, to know, if it was by his order, that Monnouri had call'd him? The Bailiff anfwered that he had not, and fent for Mannouri to know of him himfelf, by whole order he had fpoke to Joubert; *Man*mouri declard, that the Maid belonging to the Convent, came to his Houfe, and told him that the possession of the the Nuns treated as they were then; and that the Nuns Pray'd him to get all the Phylicians of Loudun, and fome Chirurgeons, to come to the Convent. Upon which, the Bailiff fent for Grandier to tell him, that as he was nam'd the Author D 2

36

thor of the bewitching of the Nuns, he thought himfelf oblig'd to give him notice, that Barre was retun'd from Chinon the Day before, to renew the Exorcifins, and that the Report went about, that the Superior, and the Sifter Clair, were a new tormented with Evil-Spirits, as they had been before. Grandier reply'd, that it was a continuation of the Confpiracies which had been made against him, which he had complain'd of at Court, and would again complain; That in the mean while, he befought him to refort always to the Convent with the other Officers to affift at the Exorcifms, and to call thither the Phyficians ; and that if they faw any Appearance of Possellion, he would be pleas'd to fequefter the Nuns, and to have them interrogated by other Exorcifts, than Mignon and Barre, against whom he had very just Causes of Suspition. The Bailiff fent for the Kings Attorney, who gave his conclusions; Whereupon the Clerk was fent to the Convent, to know of Mignon and Barre if the Superior was again posseft; and in cafe they answer'd affirmatively, he was order'd to tell them they were forbidden to proceed clandeftinely in the Exorcifms, and that they were enjoyn'd to advertife the Bailiff, to the end that he might be there with the Phylicians whom he would call, and the Officers whom he flould think proper to accompany him, and all upon the Penalties thereunto belonging, without prejudice to the right of Grandser, upon the request made by him, for the fequeftration of the poffelled, and nomination of unfufpected Exorcifts. Mignon and Barre having heard the reading of this Order, declar'd, without allowing the Ju-rifdiction of the Bailiff, that they were again call'd by the Nuns, to affift them in the continuation of a strange Difease, which they suppos'd to be a Poffeffion of the Evil Spirits; that they had exorcis'd, even to the prefent Day, by Virtue of a Commiffion from the Bishop of Poistiers, the Date whereof was not yet expir'd, which Bishop they had neverthelefs judg'd requifite to inform with the State of the Bufinefs, to the intent that he might come himfelf, or fend fuch Exorcifts as he fhould think good to act by his Orders, and to judge judicially of the prefent Possefion, which had been treated as an imposture and illusion, to the great comtempt of the Glory of GOD, and the Catholick Religion ; although the Maids who had been tormented, during the fecond Poffellion, had been vilited by many Doctors of Phylic, and by Chirurgeons and Apothecaries, who had all alike given their atteftations ; and alfo a great many Perfons of Honour and Piety had feen the Wonders of GOD. In fum, that they fhould not hinder the Bailiff and other Officers, accompanied with Phylicians, from coming to the Nuns, whilft they waited for the Bifhop's answer, which they hop'd to receive the next Day, and that they confented that the Gates should be open'd, if it would pleafe the Ladies to open them. They repeated once again, that they did not acknowledge the Bailiff for their Judge, and that they did not suppose that he could hinder them from executing the Commands of the Bifhop of Poittiers, as well in the matter of exorcifing, as all other acts which depended on his Ecclesiaftical Jurifdictions. In fine, they protested, that if these Maids fhould be violently Tormented, they fhould proceed to exorcifing for their relief; and that the Bailiff and the Officers, and Phyficians might affift there, if it feem'd good to them, to fee if the Poffef-D 3

Poffellion were an imposture, or a truth. The Bailiff having receiv'd this Anfwer, deferr'd till the Day following in the Morning, to make his Vilit, hoping that the Bilhop would come, or at leaft that he would fend other Ecclefiafticks who were not fulpected. As foon as the Morning was come, he repair'd to the Convent, where he waited in vain, till Noon : after which, to do right upon another Petition prefented to him, by Grandier, He order'd that Prohibitions should be made to Barre and all others, to put Questions to the Superior and other Nunstending to blacken the Petitioner or any other perfon, n bofaever it mas, upon the Penalties that should fall thereon. This Order being fignified to Barre, and to one of the Nuns, for all the reft, Barre continu'd to Anfwer, that the Bailiff could not hinder him from executing the Orders of the Bilhop; and that he declar'd, that he would exorcife henceforwards by the advice of the Ecclefiafficks, without calling Lay-perfons thither, but only as far as he should think it necessary, for the greater Glory of GOD; That he would complain of the great violences, which he had feen in the Morning, and of the obstacle that was put to the Continuance of the Exorcifms, the Bailiff having not been willing to fuffer, that he should reiterate to the Evil Spirit, the command to fpeak the Truth, upon a Queftion that had been propos'd to one of the poffeffed, when the was brought into the Choir of the Church ; That he declar'd neverthelefs, that he would exe. cute that which he had faid, till the coming of the Bishop or his Orders ; Adding, that the Nuns defir'd that he would continue to execute his Commillion for their Relief, and that 'twas fufficient that that the Order of the Bailiff had been notified unto them.

39

Sect. 34. The Day was almost gone, and the Bishop not arriv'd, nor was there any Probability that he would give himfelf the Cognizance of an Affair, with which he feem'd to look on as a triffing Matter. This gave Grandier Occafion to prefent at Night another Petition to the Bailiff, who fent for all the Officers of the Bailiwick, and those belonging to the Law to communicate it to them. The laft of which declin'd the taking Cognizance of it; The Advocate, becaufe he was fenfibly provok'd and offended with the Scandalous Difcourfe which the Petitioner made in his Prefence against Mignon, whose near Kinsman he was; And the Attorney, becaufe he was Coufin-German to the fame Mignon by his Wife, who was theDaughter of Trinquant, whofeOffice he had lately taken Poffeffion of; and becaufe he had feveral Quarrels with Grandier for the last Six Months, and that he had obtain'd of the Bishop of Poittiers aDifpentation not to acknowledge him for his Parfon, Each of them declaring that they humanely believ'd that the Nuns were really pollefs'd by the Devils, being convinc'd by the Teftimony of the Physicians from other Towns who had feen them, and by that of divers Ecclefiafticks, Seculars and Regulars, and yet without having a Thought that Grandier was the Author of this Fatal Accident. Their Declarations being writ and fign'd, the Judges order'd that the Superior and Lay Sifter should be Sequestred and put into a Citizens House, That each of them should have a Nun to keep her Company; That they should be affisted as well by their Exorcifts as by Women of Honefty and Qua-D4 lity lity, and by Phyficians and other Perfons whom they them felves would appoint to have the Charge of them; Forbidding all others, without Permission, to come near them. The Register was fent to the Convent with an Order to declare this Sentence to the Nuns. The Superior having heard it read, anfwer'd as well for her felf as for all theSociety. That fhe did not acknowledge the Jurisdiction of the Bailiff; That there was a Commission of the Bishop of Poictiers, dated the Eighteenth of November, importing fuch Orders as he defir'd fhould be held in the Prefent Affair, and that fhe was ready to put a Copy of it into his Hand, to the End that he might not plead Ignorance; As for the Sequeftration, that the did oppofe it, becaufe 'twas contrary to the Vow of perpetual Confinement, for which the could not be difpend'd with but by the Bishop. This Opposition having been made in the Prefence of the Lady de Charnazai, Aunt by the Mothers Side to Two Nuns, and in that of the Chirurgion Mannouri, Brother-in-Law to another, each of them Joyn'd together and protefted against the Proceeding, if the Bailiff would go on further; and also to take it upon themselves in their proper and private Names. The Act was fign'd, and carried by the Register to the Bailiff, who order'd that the Partys fhould provide themfelves for a Sequeitration, and that he would come to the Convent next morning being the Twenty fourth of November, to affift at the Exorcifms. He went thither at the Hour appointed, and having fent for Daniel Roger Vincent de Faux, Gaspand Jouburt, and Matthew Fanton Phylicians, he told them that he would take their Oaths when they made their Report, and commanded them in the mean while that they would attentively confider the Two

Two Nuns who should be shew'd to them, and to examine if the causes of their Disease were Natural or Supernatural; They were plac'd near the Altar, which was feparated by aGrate from the Choir, where the Nuns did ufually Sing, and over against which the Superior was a little after laid upon a Couch; She had great Convultions whilft Barre faid Mafs, her Arms and Hands were difforted, her Fingers were half Shut, her Cheeks feem'd to be much fwoll'n, and only the white of her Eyes was to be feen ; The Friars and Nuns flood about her, and affifted her, and there was a great Number of Spectators in the Choir and near the Altar. Mass being ended, Barre came nigh her to give her the Communion, and to exorcife her, and holding the Sacrament in his Hand, he fpake to her in these Words, Adora Deum tuum, Creatorem tuum. Adore thy God, thy Creator ; the being urg'd anfwer'd, Adoro te, I adore thee. Quem adoras ? Whom dost thou adore ? faid the Exorcift feveral times, Jefus Chriftus, reply'd fhe ; making Motions as if fhe had fuffer'd Violence. Daniel Drouin, Affellor of the Provoftship, could not forbear faying aloud, Here's a Devil who is a bad Latinift. Barre changing the Phrafe, demanded of the posses'd, Quis est iste quem adoras? Who is he whom thou adorest? he hop'd that she would fay again Jelus Christus, but the answer'd Jelu Christe; Then there was heard a great Noife of the Affiftants who cry'd out this is ill Latine. Barre maintain'd boldly that the faid Adoro te Jefu Christe, I adore thee, O Jefus Chrift. There was afterwards put to her fome Queftions concerning our Saviour, to which the made this answer, Jefus Christus eft fub-Stantia Patris, Jesus Christ is the Substance of the Father; Look you here is a Devil who is a great Divine, faid the Exorcift. Next after, he demanded the

the Name of the Devil, to whom it was answer'd, after great Urgency and violent Convultions, that e was call'd Afmodee ; He enquir'd alfo what were the Number of the Devils who were in the Body of the Poffeffed, fhe anfwer'd Sex, Six. The Bailiff requir'd of Barre, that he should ask Almodee how many Companio ns he had, which was done, and the Nun answer'd Quinque, Five; But when he was adjur'd, upon the Request of the faid Bailiff to tell in Greek, that which fhe had faid in Latin, fhe made no Answer, though the Adjurations were often repeated, and the alfo prefently return'd to her natural State. The Exorcift ask'd her again, by the Order of the Bailiff, if the remembred what had past during her Convulsions, No, faid the, I do not Kemember any thing ; At least reply'd the Bailiff, you must needs remember the things which past at the Beginning of your Agitations, feeing that the Ritual enjoyns the Exorcifts to demand of the poffeffed what are the Inclinations of your Bodies and Minds in the beginning of them; fhe answer'd, that fhe had a Defire to Blafpheme; The fame Day there was produc'd another young Nun, who twice pronounc'd the Name of Grandier, burfting out into a Laughter, then turning towards the Company, the faid, All you do is nothing to the Purpofe. Barre drew near her to give her theCommunion, but he believ'd that he ought not, becaufe fhe ceafed not to laugh. Afterwards the retir'd to make Room for the Lay Sifter who was called Sifter Clair. As foon as the came into the Choir fhe made a kind of fighing, and when they had laid her upon a Couch, fhe faid laughing, Grandier, Grandier you must buy it in the Market. Barre being come near to exorcise her, fhe made a Show as if the would fpit in his Face, and the often held up her Nofe in token of Derifion ;

on; She made wanton Motions, before all the Spectators, and feveral times pronounc'd an ob-feene beaftly Word. The Exorcifts having adjur'd her to tell the Name of the Devil who pollefs'd her, the nam'd at first Grandier; and when he urg'd her further, she nam'd at last the Devil Elomi, but fhe would not tell the Number that fhe had in her Body ; He demanded of her alfo in Latine, Quo patto ingreffus est Damon? By what Patt is the De-vil entred? She reply'd Dupplex, Double, which made it known that this Devil was no better a Latinift than the other; During the Convultions which the had, the was prick'd in the Arm by a Pin which pinn'd her Sleeve; It did not at all ap-Pear that the Devil had made her infentible of bodily Pains, for fhe cry'd out, take away this Pin, it pricks me. When fhe was recover'd out of her Convultions, fhe faid to the Affellor of the Provoftmip, that fhe remembred all that was paft, and that Barre had done her much Harm. So this was the Scene of the Morning's Work of this Day; but there were feveral things that happen'd at the Actions of the Evening, which pleas'd neither the Exorcifts nor the Nuns.

Sect. 35. The Bailiff follow'd by his Clerk, and accompanied with divers Judges, and a confiderable Number of other Perfons being entred at Three or Four of the Clock in the Afternoon, into the Chamber of the Superior, faid to Barre that 'twas requisite to feparate her from the Sifter Claire, to the Intent that all their Motions might be more diffinctly obferv'd, their Eyes not being drawn afide by Objects differing and diffant one from the other, which was done. They began alfo prefently the Exorcifms, and the Superior likewife to be tormented again with greatConvultions, almoft like those in the Morning, faving that her Feet feem'd to be more bow'd, which had not been feen before. The Exorcift, after many Adjurations, made her fay her Prayers, and demanded of her again the Number and Names of the Devils which possefs'd her, she answer'd, after many Instances oftentimes repeated, that one of them was nam'd Achaos. The Bailiff requir'd that this Question fhould be propos'd to her, if the were poffefs'd Ex patto Magi aut ex pura Voluptate Dei? By the Patt of the Magician, or by the pure Will of GOD? Her answer was, Non est Voluntas Dei? It is not the Will of GOD. Barre to break off this way of Qeftioning, demanded of her by his own Authority, Who was the Magician, and when the had anfwer'd Urbanus, he urg'd her, faying, What Urban? Effne Urbanus Papa? Is it Urban the Pope? She reply'd, Grandier. The Bailiff propos'd that they would demand of her, Cujus effet ille Magus? Of what Country the Magician was ? A. Cenomanenfis, Of Mans. Q. Cujus Diocefis? Of what Diocefs? A. Pictaviensis, Of Poittiers. She was again urg'd, and adjur'd by the Order of the Bailiff, to fay in Latine these laft things which she had express'd in French, when the had nam'd one of the Devils, concerning whom the endeavour'd to speak Twice or Thrice, but could only fay Si, Si, or elfe Ti Ti, and then her Convultions ceas'd, and the continued without being tormented or disquieted a confiderable space of time; during which Barre had this horrid Difcourfe with her, I will that you be tormented for the Glory of GOD, and that you give your Body to the Devil to be tormented, as our Lord gave his to the Jews. He had fcarcely finish'd these Words, but the Nun fell into her ufual Convultions. The Bailiff open'd his mouth to propound Queftions, but the Exorcift made made hafte to prevent him; and demanded, by his own Authority, of the Devil, Quare ingreffus es in Corpus hujus Puelle? Wherefore haft thou enter'd into the Body of this Maiden? A. Propter Prafentiam tuam, Becaufe of thy Prefence. The Bailiff interrupted him, and defir'd that he would interrogate her upon that which was propos'd by him and the other Officers, promifing, that if the would anfwer juftly to the Three or Four Queffions which thould be put to her, they would believe the Poffeffion and Sign it. They offer'd to obey him, but the Convultions ceas'd at that very time, and for as much as it was late, every one retir'd.

like

44

45

Sect. 36. The next Morning being the Twenty Fifth of November, the Bailiff with the greater Part of Officers of the Two Courts, and the Regifter, being return'd to the Convent, the Superior was brought to the Choir of the Church, and the Curtains of the Grate having been drawn, Barre began according to his Cuftom with the Celebration of the Mafs. The poffeffed had, during the Service, great Convultions like those of the Day before, in one of which the cried out, being neither exorcis'd, nor interrogated, Grandier, Grandier, a naughty Priest. Mass being ended, the Exorcist entred into the Choir with the Pix in hisHand, and protefting that his Action was pure, and full of Integrity, without Passion, or evil Design, he plac'd it upon his Head, and pray'd to GOD with a great Appearance of Zeal and Fervency, That he would confound him, if he had made use of any evil Means, Suggestion, or Persmassion to the Nuns in all this Action. After which, the Prior of the Carmelites put himfelf forwards, and made the fame Protestations and Imprecations, having also the Pix upon his Head, and added, as well in his own Name,

46

Name, as in the Name of all the Carmelites prefent and absent, that the Curses of Dathan and Abiram might fall upon them, if they had finn'd or com. mitted any Fault in this Affair. 'Tis by thefe Ways that the Exorcifts endeavour'd to extinguish the ill Opinion, which the Behaviour of the Nuns had caus'd to be conceiv'd of them. Immediately after, Barre drew near to the Superior to give her the Communion, but the fell into Convultions, the Motions whereof were extraordinary violent, even to that Degree, that the endeavour'd to pluck the Pix out of his Hands; However he overcame this Difficulty, and gave her the Communion She had fcarcely receiv'd the Sacrament into her Mouth, but fhe put out her Tongue, and made a Shew as if the would throw it out ; the Exorcift thruft it back with his Fingers, and forbid the Devil to caufe her to Vomit it; and becaufe the poffeffed declar'd, that this Wafer did one while flick to the Roof of her Mouth, another while to her Throat, he made her drink fome Water thrice, after which, he interrogated the Devil as he had done in the foregoing Exorcifms. Q. Per quod Pactum ingref-Jus es in Corpus hujus Puella? By what Pact haft thous enter'd into the Body of this Maiden? A. Aqua, by Water. The Bailiff had then near him a Scotchman named Stracan, who was Principal of the College of Loudun, He requir'd that the Devil fould fay Aqua, in the Scots Language, for the convincing of all the Affiftants, that there was not any Suggeftion by any one whatfoever. Barre reply'd, that he would caufe him to fay it, if G O D would permit it, and at the fame time he commanded him, and repeated it feveral times, but the Nun answer'd, Nimia Curiofitas, 'Tis too great a Curiofity ; and after fhe had repeated it Twice or Thrice, fhe faid Deus

Deus non volo; fome cry'd out that this was ill Syntax; the Devil was adjur'd on the part of GOD to fpeak congruoufly, but thefe Words Deus non valo, were again repeated, by which the would have faid GOD will not; The Exorcift finding himfelt confounded, faid, that in Effect there feem'd that there was in this too great a Curiolity; The Queftion is pertinent and reafonable reply'd the Lieutenant Civil, and you may find by the Ritual which you have in your Hand, that the Faculty of speaking in strange and unknown Languages is an undoubted Mark of a Poffeffion, and that that of telling the things that are done a great Way off is another. The Exorcift reply'd, that the Devil knew this Language very well, but he would not speak it; But, if you will, added he, that I command him to tell pre-Sently your Sins, he shall do it; Defiring to let them know by this Difcourfe, that the Devil he was dealing with, knew well enough hidden things. This will not trouble me, faid the Lieutenant. Upon which Barre turn'd towards the Superior, as if he would have interrogated her; but the Bailiff having told him, that this was not fit to be done, he forbore, and faid, that he never meant to do it.

Sell. 37. In the mean time, the Affiftants being very eager to know if the Devil underftood ftrange Languages, the Bayliff upon their importunities propos'd the Hebrew Tongue as a dead Language, and the most ancient of all Languages, which the Devil ought to know better than any other, which being follow'd by a General Applause, the Exorcist commanded the possess of the feature of the thebrew Tongue the word Aqua, Water, the answer'd not; but some understood that the pronounc'd very low these Words, Ab! je renie, Curse on't : It was affirm'd by a Carmelite, who was a little way way from her, that she did fay Zaquaq, and that it was an Hebrew Word, which fignifies, Effudi aquam, I have pour'd out Water; although they who were neareft to her unanimoully attefted that fhe faid, Ah! je renie, which caus'd the Sub-prior of the Carmelites to reprove publickly the Friar. The possessed had again feveral convulfions, in one of which the rais'd her felf above the Couch, her Head was also prefently f pported by a Nun, and her Body by those that flood neareft to her, by whom it was affirm'd, that the rais'd her felf fo high, as even to carry her Hand near the Beam of the Cieling, without touching the Bed, but with one Foot, which was feen but by a very few Perfons. After these Convulsions, which had been long and violent, fhe feem'd no more concern'd than fhe was before, nor even her Colour was not more lively. Afterwards, and at the very time that the Spectators were ready to be gone, fhe pronounc'd twice, of her own ac-cord, two Latine Words, which fignified, unjuffudgments.

48

Sect. 38. Grandier having difcover'd that befides the Exorcifins that were made in the prefence of the Bayliff and Lieutenant Civil, there were others yet made in the prefence of the Lieutenant Criminal, who made Verbal Proceffes thereof, he prefented him with a Petition, remonstrating that he had been a Witness, and that he had depos'd in an Accusation, which was fally contriv'd against him the Petitioner, who had receiv'd upon this occasion (and many others) Marks of his ill will; that there were yet differences to be clear'd between them; that one of the Perfons pretended to be possible's'd, was his Cousin German, and had been his Domestick; that all these confiderations fiderations and others to be produc'd in time and place, ought to withhold him from medling in those things which concern'd him the Petitioner; and nevertheles, that he befought him he would not do, fay, or write any thing in this Affair. This Petition having been fignified to the Lieutenant Criminal, in the Convent of the Urfulines, where he then was, he gave an Act to the Petitioner of his words and declarations; and declared, that when he was accus'd in a Court of Justice, he would do what should be fit; ordering in the mean time, that the present Petition should be fent to the Register to be ingrofs'd.

Sect. 37. The Bayliff and Lieutenant Civil return'd to the Convent the fame Day, between Three and Four of the Clock in the Afternoon, Barre having walk'd Two or Three turns with them in the Court, faid to the Lieutenant Civil, that he very much wonder'd at this, that he fupported Grandier, after having inform'd against him, by the Orders of the Bifhop of Poittiers; the Lieutenant reply'd, that he fhould be yet al-together ready to do it, if there was occasion; but that for the prefent matter, he had no other aim but to know the truth. This answer being not well relish'd by him who began this Discourse, he took the Bayliff alide, and to engage him to a Party, to which he feem'd not more favourable than the Lieutenant, he represented to him, that being defcended of many Perfons of Quality, fome whereof were pollefled of very confiderable Ecclefiaftical Dignities, and he appearing at the Head of all the Officers of a Town, ought to thew lefs repugnance in believing the Poffeffion of the Nuns, which tended to caufe GOD to be glorified, and to raife the Advantages of the E Church

50.

Church and Religion. The Bayliff' anfwer'd him coldly, and in a few words, that he would do always that which he was bound to do in justice. When they were come up into the Cham-ber, where was a great Affembly, the Superiour feeing Barre, and the Pix in his Hand, fhe had very great Convultions, as if the Devil had fallen in a rage at the Sight of this Object. The Exorcift demanded yet once more of the Devil, Per quod Pactum ingressus esset in Corpus hujus puelle? By what Pact he was entred into the Body of this Damsel? The Nun, who ought to understand this Lesson well, answer'd as before, Aqua, by Water. Q. Quis Finis Pacti? What was the intent of the Pact? A. Impuritas, Impurity. The Bayliff requir'd that they would make her fay in Greek, Finis Patti Impuritas, which was propos'd to her by the Exorcift; but the freed her felf from the Matter as the us'd to do, with a Nimia Curiofit as, it is too great a Curiofity. He begun again, and demanded of her of his own Motion, who had brought the Pact, Q. Quis attulit pactum? And after her Answer, Quale nomen Magi? What is the Name of the Magician? A. Urbanus, Urban. Q. Quis Urbanus? effne Urbanus Papa? What Urban isit, Pope Urban? A. Grandier. Q. Cujus Qualitaris? Of what quality is he? A. Curatus, meaning the Curate. The Bayliff defir'd that they would ask her, Sub quo Episcopo ille Grandier, tonsuram accepifiet ? Under what Bishop had Grandier receiv'd his confure ? A. Nefcio, 1 know not, reply'd fhe ; Barre faid in effect, this was a thing which the Devil might be ignorant of. He put to her, yet another Question, which the Bayliff had alfo propos'd, Sub qua Episcopo, Cenomanensi natus effet ille Grandier i Under what Bishop of Man's was that Gran-

當

Grandier born? She repeated Cenomanen [1, of Man's. But whatfoever inftances could be made to her, She answer'd not to the Question, nor could tell the Name of the Bishop. It was not so in those Queftions which the Exorcift had put to her of his own Head, viz. Q. Quis attulit aquam patti? Who is it that brought the Water of the Patt? A. Magua, the Magician, Q. Qua hora? at what Hour? A. Septima, at Seven a Clork. Q. An matuina? At Seven in the Morning? A. Sero, in the Evening. Q. Quomodo intravit? How came he in? A. Janua, at the Door. Q. Quis Vidit ? Who faw it ? A. Tres, Three. Barre confirming this testimony of the Devil, assured them, that being at Supper with the Superior in her Chamber the Sunday after the had been delivered from the fecond poffeffion, Mignon her Confellor, and one other Nun who was in-difpos'd, fupping there also, she had shew'd them at Seven in the Evening, her Arms, wet with fome Drops of Water, without feeing any Person who put them on; that he forthwith wash'd her Arm with Holy Water, and faid fome Prayers, during which, the Prayer-Book of the Superior was twice pull'd out of her Hands, and caft at her Feet, and that there was given her a Box on the Ear Mignon alfo made a long Speech to confirm that which was faid, and concluded with great Oaths, and horrible Imprecations, in the prefence of the Sacrament, which he adjur'd to confound and deftroy him, if he did not fpeak the truth. When he had given over speaking, the Exorcift ask'd the Pollefied, whether fhe understood well these Latine Words, Sub ano Episcopo natus effet? She fwore that the understood neither the words, nor the Latine. He faid then, to the Assembly that was ready to depart, that next Day he would expel the E 2 Devil, Devil; and that he exhorted them all to Confession, and the Communion, to be rendred worthy of the contemplation of this Miracle.

Sect. 39. That which past at this last Exorcism being publish'd through all the Town, Grandier went to prefent, the next Morning, November the Twentieth, a large Petition to the Bailiff, wherein he declar'd, that the Nuns malicioufly, and by fuggestion, continued to name him in their Convulfions, as the Author of their pretended poffellion; That he had never feen thefe pretended poffeffed, and That he never had any Communication with them, no more than with their pretended Devils; That to justify the fuggestion, whereof he complain'd, it was abfolutely necessary to fequester them; that it was not just, that Mignon and Barre, his Mortal Enemies should govern them, and pass whole Days and Nights with them; That this procedure render'd the fuggestion visible and palpable; That the Honour of GOD was concern'd, and that of him the Petitioner, who held, whatever they thought of him, the first rank amongst the Ecclesiasticks of Loudun. For which considerations he befought him to command, that the pretended polieffed thould be fequeftred and feparated one from the other; That they fhould be govern'd by Perfons of the Church not fuspected by the Petitioner, and affifted by Phyficians; and that all fhould be perform'd, whatfoever Oppolitions or Appeals notwithstanding, and without prejudice to them, becaufe of the Importance of the Affair; And that in Cafe he would not be pleas'd to order a Sequef-tration, he, the Petitioner, protefted that he would complain, as being denied Justice. The Bayliff writ at the bottom of his Petition, that Right should be done him that very Day. Sect. 39. ay he would expel the

53

Sect. 39. Grandier was scarce gone from the Bayliff's House, when the Physicians of the Town, who assisted at one of the Exorcisms, came in to make their Report, which was inferted in the Verbal Procefs. It contain'd, That they had feen the Convultive Motions in the Perfon of the Mo-ther Superior, but that one fingle Vilit was not fufficient to discover the Causes of these Motions, which might be Natural, as well as Supernatural; That they defir'd to fee them, and examine them more particularly, that they might be able to judge with Certainty and a good Confcience; That for this Effect, they required that it might be permitted them to abide yet near the Nuns fome Days and Nights, without feparating themfelves, and to treat them in the Prefence of other Nuns and fome of the Magistrates. That they should not receive Food nor Physick, if 'twas necessary, but from their Hands; That no Body should either touch them, or speak to them but aloud; And that then they promis'd to report faithfully, and truly, that which they observ'd relating to the Caufe of their Convultions.

Sect. 40. After this Report was written and fign'd, time prefling, the Bayliff repair'd forthwith to the Convent, where he found in the Second Court the Lieutenant Civil, and the Affeffor, Cefvet and Gautier Counfellors, with the Lieutenant and Affeffor of the Provofthip: They caus'd Barre to have Notice of their being come, by whom they were introduc'd into the Chappel, a great Croud of People going before and following them. This Exorcift now chang'd his Note, and commanded the Devil to acknowledge and confefs the Reality of the Body of our Saviour in the Sacrament. The Superior had great Con-E a vulfions

vultions before the came to this Con fession; the rais'd her felf upon her Couch, as the had alrea-dy done another time, being held by the Head and Body. In fine, fhe receiv'd the Communion after fome Struggles, like those of the former Days, and after that, she had fome Rest. We must not omit here, that which pass'd during the Celebration of the Mals : The Roman Catholicks were all upon their Knees out of Respect to the Sacrament, the Bayliff perceiv'd that a young Man nam'd Deffentiers had his Hat upon his Head, he commanded him to uncover, or be gone. The Superior cried out at that Inftant that there were Hug nenots there ; The Exorcift ask'd her how many there were; She answer'd Two, whence some concluded that this Devil did not know how to reckon, or that he knew not the Huguenots ; for befides Deffentiers, there was Abraham Gautier a Counfellor, with his Brother, and Four of his Sifters, Rene Fourneau an Allessor, and Peter Ange-vin an Attorney. It was observ'd that Barre the Day before had demanded of the Possesfield if the understood Latine; and that the fwore the did not. He ask'd her the fame again, and the reply'd as before ; he urg'd her yet to Swear upon the Pix ; at First she was at a Stand, faying, My Father, you make me take great Oaths, I fear that GOD will punish me; Daughter, faid he, you ought to fivear for the Glory of GUD: And after fhe hid fivorn, he told her, that 'twas nois'd abroad however, that fhe expounded the Cate-chifm to her Schollars, which fhe deny'd, acknowledging, neverthelefs, that fhe did explain the Pater nofter and Creed. When the fell again into Convullions, he ask'd the Devil in French, Who had introduc'd him into the Body of the Superior ? The Field beside the best to be being a state of Anfwer A deal

Answer was, that 'twas Urban Grandier ; And that this Grandier was the Parfon of Saint Peters in the Market Place. The Bailiff order'd the Exorcift to ask her, where this pretended Magician was at that time? The Question was in the Wordsof the Ritual, and he was oblig'd to obey and do it; The possefield reply'd, that he was in the Castle-Hall. This will be found falle, faid the Bayliff aloud, because before my coming hither I order'd him to go to a certain House, where he will be assuredly found, being willing to take the Advantage of this Proof to come to the Knowledge of the Truth without a Sequestration, which was a difficult Course to take with Nuns; He affirm'd still, that if Grandier went that Day to the Castle, as he might do, at least he was fure, that 'twas a long time fince he was there, for the Proof whereof, and to make it known to all the Affiftants, that the Devil was badly ferv'd by his Spies, he order'd Barre to nominate fome of the Friars who were there prefent to repair to the Caffle, and to accompany thither one of the Magistrates and the Clerk; TheExorcift nam'd the Prior of the Carmelites, and the Bayliff nam'd Charles Chauvet Affellor of the Bayliwick, Ifrael Bouleau Priest, and Peter Thibaut the Register Deputy, who thereupon went to execute their Commission.

Sett. 41. The Superior was ftruck with fo great an Aftonishment by this Procedure of the Bayliff, that the continued mute, and fell no more into her Convultions, although they continued yet fome time to exorcife her; They had Recourfe to the finging of Hymns, at the end of which herSilence ended not, for it lasted more than half an Hour ; after which Barre being a little recover'd out of his Surprize, propos'd the bringing of the E .

Sifter

Sister Clair into the Choir, faying, that one Devil would excite the other; But the Bayliff reprefented that that might cause Trouble and Confusion, and that fome might in the mean while fuggeft fomething to the Superior concerning the Matter in Question, and that 'twere fit, at least, to wait the Return of those that were gone; but how pertinent foever this Reafon was, his Defire was not comply'd with. It was neceffary to be rid of the Bayliff at any rate, and of the other Magistrates who were of his Opinion, or to find fome Occasion to put an Illusion upon them. Sifter Clair came in notwithstanding the Opolition of the Bayliff, and the other Officers, who not being able to endure this foul Play, retir'd, expreffing the Refeatment which they had. The Perfons which had been fent to the Caffle, found them yet in the Court of the Convent, and they related to them, that they had feen the Lady d'Amagnac, who weat to follow her Husband the Governour of the Town, whom they carried into the Country in a Litter, by reafon of fome Indifposition; That the told them that 'twas near Three Hours fince Grandier came to the Castle to bid Adieu to the Governour; but that he went away at that Inflant, and that fhe had not feen him fince; That afterwards having obtain'd Leave to feek for him in the Caffle, they went in the great Hall, in all the Chambers, and every where elfe without finding him; That from thence they came down into the place of Saint Creffe and to Charles Mawar's House, where the Bayliff in-form'd the Affellor that he might find him, as having order'd him to go and ftay there the reft of the Day, when he came to prefent his Petition; That they found him in that House, in in the Company of Father Veret Confessor of the Nuns of Gaine, of Mathurin Rouffeau, and of Nicolas Benoit Canons, and one Coutis a Phylician, from whole Mouth they understood that 'twas above then Two Hours that they had been together. The Magiltrates went away after they heard this Report, and the Prior of the Carmelites went into the Choir where the Superior remain'd; She had again fome Convultions, during which one of the Carmelite Friars ask'd her again, where Grandier was at that time, the anfwer'd, that he was walking with the Bayliff in the Church of Saint Croffe, but they, who had fuggested to her this Anfwer, were deceiv'd in their Conjecture, for de Canaye, Sieur de Granfonds, and John Cesvet Counfellor, being gone to know whether the Devil had guefs'd better than at the First time, they went into the Church of Saint Croffe, where finding not the Bayliff, they went up to the Palace and there found him, holding a Court; he assured them that he came directly thither, when he went out of the Convent, and that he had not at all feen Grandier. The Exorcift not know-ing how to prevent fuch troublefome Experiments as had been put upon them that Day, refolv'd at last to make the Nuns fay, that they would no longer have the Exorcifins perform'd, either in the Prefence of the Bayliff, or of the other Officers who ufually accompanied him. Grandier having had Notice of this Refolution, prefented again another Petition to the Bayliff the Day following, the Twenty Seventh of November, remonstrating, that the pretended Possession had been contriv'd and fuggested with Design, only to blaft his Reputation, and to render him odious and unprofitable to the Church of GOD; That his

5.8

his Enemies had employ'd all their Credit, and all Sorts of Artifices to make it believ'd real, but that having not been able to fucceed, they had call'd together from all Parts, Perfons engag'd and at their Devotion, to make use of their Testimonies; That these Practices were very prejudicial to the Public, to Religion, and to him the Petitioner, whole Name was confiderable for his Character and Dignity, and that he was neverthelefs horribly blacken'd, unjuftly reproach'd and defam'd; That it being impossible to clear this Affair, and attain to the Knowledge of the Truth by fuch Practices, he continued to request the Sequestration of the pretended Posselfed, and that they might be taken out of the Hands of Mignon, Barre, and Granger, and their Adherents, and put into the Hands of the Ecclefiafticks approv'd by the most Reverend Bishop of Poistiers, and of Phyficians, and other Perfons, whom it fhould pleafe the Bayliff to nominate, to the Intent that the Innocence of him, the Petitioner, might be known and manifested ; Desiring that it might be order'd, that the Sequestration should be perform'd, what-foever Opposition or Appeals notwithstanding, and without Prejudice thereof. There was again writ at the Bottom of the Petition, that Right fhould be done him in due time, The Request appear'd to be equitable and juft, but it feem'd very difficult to attempt the Sequestration of the Nuns, to the Prejudice of their Oppolition, which was grounded upon their being dependent on the Ecclefiaftical Jurisdiction ; and they fear'd that the Bishop of Poittiers and the Clergy would be offended, and caufe the Procedure to be difanull'd: Therefore they were contented to Affemble the Inhabitants of the Town, to confider of what might be done done for the publick good : The refult of this Affembly was, That they fhould write to the Attorney General, and the Bifhop of Poittiers, and that they fhould fend the Verbal Process which had been made; and that they fhould befeech them to ftop by their Authority and Prudence, the course of these dangerous Intrigues. The Attorney General answer'd, that the Matter in question being purely Ecclesiastical, the Parliament ought not to take cognizance of it; and the Bifhop made no answer at all.

Sett. 42. But that Prelate continued not fo filent upon the Requefts which were made to him, by the Enemies of Grandier, the Authors and Favourers of the Peffelfion. The ill fuccefs the Exorcifins had the Twenty Sixth of November, having oblig'd them to use more precaution, they judg'd it requisite to obtain of the Bishop a new Commisfion, by which he should nominate fome Churchmen to affift on his part at the Exorcifins. Barre took a Journey forthwith to Poissiers, and the Bishop nam'd Bass, Dean of the Canons of Cham-Pigni, and Demorans, Dean of the Canons of Thouars, each of them being the Kinsmen of the Secret Enemies of Grandier, whom they had chosen and nam'd. This is the Copy of the Commission:

Sett. 43. Henry Lewis le Chateigner, of Roche-Pozai, by Divine Mercy, Bishop of Poictiers, to the Deans of the Jurisdiction of Saint Peter of Thouars, and Champigni upon Vede, greeting; We Command you by these presents, to repair to the Town of Loudun, to the Convent of the Nuns of Saint Urfula, to affist at the Exorcisms which shall be made by the Sieur Barre, of the Nuns of the faid Monastery, tormented by exil Spirits, to which Barre we have given that Commission, And

And to the end also a Verbal Process may be made of all that shall pass, and for this purpose to take such a Clerk as shall seem good to you. Given and made at Poictiers, the Twenty Eighth of November. 1632. signt d, Henry Lewis, Bishop of Poictiers and lower, by the Command of the said Lord. Michelet.

Sect. 46. Thefe two new Commissioners, without more ado, went immediately to Loudun, and being instructed and prepar'd, as they were before their nomination, they begun from the first of December to affift at the Exorcifms, and to make their Verbal Process of what past there ; Marefcot, one of theQueen's Almoners, affifted there alfo. This Princefs had heard of the Postellion of the Urfuline Nuns; but no body being able to inform her, but confufedly, fhe defir'd it might be made clear, and order'd her Almoner to make a journey to Loudun, and to take an exact account of all the Circumstances of this Matter, to give her a faithful Relation. He arriv'd at Loudun the last Day of November, and went to the Convent the next Day in the Morning, to fee what paft in the prefence of the two Deans delegated by the Bishop. The Bailiff, and the Lieutenant Civil, whofe Verbal Process had been publish'd, and fent into many Places, fear'd left he should be preposses'd, or abusd, and that he might make a Report to the Court, which might caufe a doubt of the Truth of those things contain'd in the Verbal Process; Wherefore they repair'd thither alfo, notwithstanding the Protestations which had been made not to receive them; They were accompanied by their Alleffor, the Lieutenant of the Provoftthip, and one of the Registers Deputy; they knock'd a long time, before they would open to them :

61

them : At last, there came a Nun to the Gate, to tell them that they muft not come in, and that they were fufpected, having publish'd abroad, that the Possession was but a Fiction and Imposture. The Bailiff without flaying to contend with this young Nun, order'd her to cause Barre to come, who appear'd sometime after, arrayed in his Prieftly Habits. The Bailiff complain'd in the prefence of Marefcot, that the Gate was not open'd to him and the other Officers with him, which was contrary even to the Orders of the Bishop of Poittiers. Barre declar'd, that for his part he hindered not their coming in. We are come, repli'd the Bailiff, to that intent, and alfo to entreat you to put Two or Three Queftions to the pretended Devil, which shall be propos'd, and shall be conformable to what is prefcrib'd in the Ritual; you will not doubtless refuse, (added he) to make this proof, in the prefence of the Queen's Almoner, who is fent from Her, feeing that it will be a most effectual means to diffipate all fuspition of Suggestion and Imposture. I will do it, if I pleafe, reply'd the Exorcift, in an impudent Manner; 'tis your Duty to do it, faid the Bailiff, at least, if you proceed with fincerity, feeing that this would be rather to abufe GOD, than to glorifie him by a falfe Miracle; and rather injure Religion, than to authorife its Truth by Cheats and Illusions. Barre answer'd, that he was a Man of Probity, that they knew to what his Office oblig'd him, and that he should do his Duty; but as for them, they ought to remember, that the last time they affifted at the Exorcifms, they went away in a Paffion. The Magistrates, after many repeated instances having obtain'd nothing, expresly forbid him to put any Queftion which might tend to defame fame any one, of whatfoever quality he was, upon pain of being treated as a Seditious Perfon, and a Difturber of the publick Peace. He reply'd to him again, That he did not acknowledge their Jurifdiction. Whereupon they retir'd.

Sect. 47. The Polfeffion, doubtlefs, would have gain'd a new Reputation, by the Direction of the two Deans, who were entirely at the Devotion of the Enemies of Grandier, if the report of the coming of the Archbishop of Bourdeaux, more efficacious than all the Exorcifins, had not broke the Measures which had been taken. He had Power to make the Devils difappear, to raife the courage of the Perfon accus'd, and to reftore to the Nuns Peace and Tranquillity, which they had the Gift to acquire, and to loofe, as often as it was judg'd expedient for the end which had been propos'd to them. In effect, the Archbishop was no fooner arriv'd at Saint Jouin, but he fent his Phyfician to Loudun, with an Order to fee the Perfons pretended to be posselled, and to confider well, and examine all their Grimaces, Diffortions, and Convultions ; and recommended him to Mignon, by a Letter, to the end that this Canon fhould not fail to let him have an exact knowledge of the condition they were in. Mignon brought him to the Convent, and let him fee the Superior, and Sifter Claire; but he told him, that they had been miraculoufly deliver'd from the evil Spirits. He had no trouble to perfwade him that they were not then poffeffed ; for the Phyfician found them peaceable, quiet, and compos'd, as if they never had any difturbance; and after his return to Saint Jonin, it was not known that any new Accidents happen'd to them. Grandier attended fometime to

63

to judge by the Steps that were made, if there were reason to hope that the Possession were at an end; or whether it was not to be fear'd, that the Devils would return to Loudun, when the Arch-bishop should be gone. But at last this fear having prevail'd upon him and his Friends, he presented his Petition to that Prelate, the Twenty Seventh of December, and remonstrated, That his Enemies having endeavour'd to opprefs him by a false and calumnions Accufation, and having not been able to fucceed, becaufe he had been fent back abfolv'd, as well by his Lordship's equitable Judgment, as by the Sen-tence of the Presidial of Poittiers, in the Quality of Judges delegated by the Court, they had for Three Months last past supposed, and publish'd every where, that he had fent evil Spirits into the Bodies of the Nuns of Saint Urfula of Londun, to whom he had never fpoke. That belides, John Mignon, their Confessor was his Mortal Enemy, and one of the Authors of the first Accusation which had been rais'd against him, had not forborn to exorcife them fecretly; That having affo-ciated to him Peter Barre, Prieft of the Diocefe of Thomars, and fome other Ecclefiastick Seculars and Regulars, they boafted of having Three or Four times, driven away the pretended Devils, who were as often return'd by new Pacts, which they fuggefted to be made between the Devils and him the Petitioner; That he had made known to Mignon and Barre, that they were fulpected by him; the one by reafon of the Differences that were between them, and the other, becaufe of his ftrange Proceedings, and his Friendship with the former: But that they had not forborn to affift the Nuns, and to be near them Day and Night with their Adherents; That he addreft himself to the Judges of the Place, to be fecur'd from the

the Fury of the People, whom they excited a-gainst him; and also his Lord the Bishop of Poittiers, who had caus'd his Almoner to tell him, that he defir'd not to be concern'd in this bufinefs ; That to the prejudice of the Declaration, which he had made to Barre, he had got by furprize, from the Bishop, a new Power, to exorcife in the Prefence of the Deans of the Canons of Thouars and Champigni, who are near Kinfmen of his pro-fest Enemies. That during Three feveral pretended Posseffions, Mignon and Barre had made it their bufinefs to put Queftions manifeftly tending · to defame him, and to raife a fedition against him; that he had reafon to fear, that these Devils whom his coming had put to flight, would return as foon as he was gone; and that the innocence of him the Petitioner might be over-whelm'd, by the strange Artifices of fo many Enemies, cruelly bent against him, if this Matter were left in the fameconfusion, as it had been till then, for want of a lawful Anthority to decide it. He requefted him to confider all these Reasons, and that he would be pleas'd to forbid Barre, Mignon, and their Adherents, as well Seculars as Regulars, in cafe of a new Poffellion, to exorcife for the time to come, and to govern the Perfons pretended to be poffefs'd; appointing fuch other Perfons, Ecclefiafticks and Laicks, whom he should think fit, to fee them dicted, phyfick'd, and exorcis'd, if it were needful, and that all fhould be done in the prefence of the Magistrate; And finally, that he would be pleas'd to Order the Persons pretending to be possefs'd, to be sequestred, to prevent all evil fufpitions, and to make the Truth evident. Here follows the Ordinance, which the Archbishop writ at the bottom of the Petition. Sett.

64

Sect. 48. Having feet the prefent Petition, and beard our Promoter upon the fame, we have referr'd the Petitioner to our Promoter at Poictiers, to do him Right. And in the mean while we have commanded the Sieur Barre, Father l'Efcaye Jesuit, residing at Poictiers, and Father Gau of the Oratory, residing at Thouars, to take upon them the Exorcisms, if there should be need, according to the Order we have given them to this end; forbidding all others to intermeddle in the said Exorcisms, upon the Penalties of the Law.

This is also the Order mention'd in that Ordianance.

The Order fent by the Archbilhop of Bourdeaux; to the Bailiff of Loudun, to be observed at the Exorcisms of the Ursulin Nuns, in case of a new Possefilon.

Fift, affoon as the Sieur Barre hall have notice hereof, he fhall take with him Father l'Efcaye, Jesuit of Poictiers, and Father Gau of the Oratory of Thouars; and all Three shall in their turns; and in the prefence of Two others, perform the Office of the Exorcism, in case that it be needful; they shall separate the possed from the Company of the Society, putting ber into such a borrow'd Honse, as they shall judge proper for this purpose, without leaving any of her Acquaintance with her except one of the Nuns, who had never before that time been possed at they shall cause her to be visited by two or three of the ablest Catholic Physicians of the Province; Who, after their having consider'd fome days, or purg'd her, if they think it fit, shall make their Report. After the report of the Physicians, they shall endeavour by Menaces and Disciplines, if they judge

Indge it requisite, or other natural means to discover the truth, and whether the Possession be not grounded either on humours, or on her Willfulnis; after these things, if they sce some supernatural Signs, as her answering the thoughts of the Three Exorcists, which they shall tell their Companions Secretly, and that she declares many things that were done in a far diftant place, or where there is no suspition, that she could know it at the time fibe is requir'd to tell it : Or, that in many and different Languages, she makes a Discourse of Eight or Ten words congruous and coherent; and that being bound Hand and Foot, and laid upon a Quilt on the ground, where they shall suffer her to lie without any one coming near her, the shall raise her self up from the ground, fome confiderable time. In this cafe, they fhall proceed to the Exorcifms, Fastings and Prayers, being previoully observed; And in case that they come to the Exorcifms, they shall do all their endeavour to make the Devil give some visible, and not suspicious Sign of his going out; and in executing this present Order, any other Priests, if they are not call'd by the common confent of the Three Commissaries, and not Suspected, Shall not intermeddle, upon Pain of Excommunication, speak to, nor touch in any manner of Fashion the posselfed. And in case there are more at the fame time, the same order shall be observed. And to the intent that some Libertines may not speakill of the care the Church takes in such an occurrence to know the Truth of the Possessions, and of the charitable Succours that its Ministers bring, the Judges, the Bailiff and Lieutenant Criminal only, and no others, are defir'd to affift at the execution of the prefent Order ; and to fign the Verbal Process, which shall be made by the Persons nominated, who shall take for their Register, the Prior of the Abby of Saint Jouin. And forasmuch as those will be occasion for great Expenses, as well for she

the removal of the Nuns, as for calling in Phylicians, for the charge of Diet, for Excrcitts, and for Womento be appointed to attend the Sick; We have order'd (confidering the Poverty of the Convent) that the expence shall be defray'd by us; and for this Pus-pole, we have forthwith Commanded the Sieur Barre; to order the Farmer of our Abby of Saint Johin, to furnish them with such Sums of Money as they shall have need of. And if the above nam'd Father l'Escaye, and Father Gau, are not at Poictiers and at Thouars, or for some reason they cannot be met with, the Superiors of the Convents shall supply their default, by furnishing others of an equal merit, if pos Mible.

Sect. 47. As foon as this Order was publick, the Poffeffion intirely ceas'd, all the Rumours vanish'd, Barre retir'd to Chinon, the Two Deans return'd to their Chapter, and the Nuns continued in quict within their Convent; the Devils shewing more regard to the Grofs alone, which the Arch-bishop had made at the top of his Writing, than the infinite number of the Signs of the Crofs which the Exorcifts had made over those Perfons. in the time of their agitations. The difference of the Procedure of this Prelate, and of that of the Bishop of Poictiers, produc'd alfo very differing fentiments in the minds of honeft, well-meaning People; the juffice, impartiality and charity of the first, gain'd their esteem ; But the infensiblenefs,or Connivance of the latter (to fay nothing more) left him blemish'd with a Stain, which nothing was able to obliterate. In the mean time, Grandier being taught by two dreadful Experiments; fear'd that there were new Snares laid for him; and confidering that the Bailiff had but one Copy of this Order, which was fent him in a Lettera ter by the Archbishop; and that the Original was in the Hands of Barre; he remonstrated to the Judge, that these Papers might be lost, or at least supprest in time, it care were not taken to prevent it; and besought him, to put the Copy and Letter (which he had receiv'd) into the Registry, with the Petition by which the Order was obtain'd, to the end, that recours might be had to them if there should be occasion. The Bailiff granted his request, and the faid Writings were put into the Registry the Twenty First of March, 1633.

Sol. 47. As from as this Order was public i, the Polletion intirely ceased, all the Rumours vanifield, readed as the Greis about, which the Aven-

Counder being ranght by two dreads i Friend

Bilhon of Pailiers, producid allo very differing B H T in the much of bonels, weithmenned in the pailes, importancy and charty. of the first, gain'd their attemps that the billion

HISTORY OFTHE DevilsofLoudun:

cern'd ir. or favour'd fo detellable a fuppoficion

69

Or, an Account of the Possession of the Ursuline Nuns. AND THE Condemnation and Punifhment of URBAN GRANDIER, a Parfon of the fame Town.

BOOK II.

Sect. 1. HE prudent Orders which the Archbishop of Bourdeaux had left, were very powerful in keeping the Nuns, the Exorcists, and even the Devils themselves in filence; but they hindred not the People from speaking and declaiming against all those who had been con-F 3 cern'd cern'd in, or favour'd fo detestable a fuppolition. There were only fome Bigots, who entirely and blindly fubmitted to the Monks and Churchmen, that withftood the proofs of the fallhood of the pretended Pollefion. They took away the Boarders that were in the Convent of the Urfulines; they forbore to fend thither to School the young Maids of the Town; and fhew'd them all forts of Marks of Contempt and Averfion; their very kindred were alham'd to have any commerce with them again, and the greatest part forfook them: This difpolition of minds towards them, caft them into defpair. They blam'd Mignon, and reproach'd him, that instead of all the advantages spiritual and temporal that he had made them hope for, they faw themselves overwhelm'd with Milery and Infamy. The Canon fretted, by his own difpleasure needed no Provocations to excite his Malice and Rage : He fpent Days and Nights in devifing which way he might re-eftablish his own Reputation, and that of the Nuns, and re-venge the Affronts he had received. The Enterprize was great, and fufficient to quell a Spirit lefs obstinate and less passionate. He had already experimented the difficulties, and there was a probability that he should never bring it to pass, if fomething, which he could not forefee, had not happen'd, and offer'd a new occasion, favourable for the execution of his Defign.

70

Seft. 2. A refolution had been taken, in the King's Council, to demolifh all the Caffles and Fortreffes which were in the Heart of France, and to preferve only those of the Frontiers. Cardinal Richelieu, who was the Author of this Defign, was not willing to let the Caffle of the Town of Loudan ftand; for the demolifning whereof he had particular Reafons,

Reafons, and which he had very well purfued, by can-fing one part of the Right and Jurifdiction of Loudan to be transferr'd, and given to his Town of Richelien although he fucceeded not in the Project he had form'd, to oblige the better fort of the Inhabitants to go and People his own Town, those who had a Mind to retire, to change their Habitations, having chofe rather to go feek for places of protection and fafeguard any where clfe. The Commission to raze this Fortress, was given to Lauberdemont. He was one of those Men who were abfolutely devoted to the Cardinal, and whom he employ'd, when he had a Mind to exterminate, ruin, and fhe Blood unjuftly, by observing, nevertheless, the Forms of Justice. He had been already made many times a Commiffary on these Bloody Occasions, and had the Honour to be often fo afterwards : He came to Loudun to acquit himself of the Employment which had been given him. His principal conversation was prefently with Memin de Silly, a Creature alfo of the Cardinal; Mignon and all his Friends apply'd themfelves to Memin; he prefented them to Laubardemont, by whom they were very kindly receiv'd, and who averr'd, that he would be concern'd for the affront which had been done to all the party, and to the Nuns, whofe Superior was his Kinfwoman. They confulted to find out fome means, by which they might engage the Cardinal to concur with their Deligns, by fome interest which might touch him in particular, and they fail'd not; For what pretences will not treachery, hatred and revenge make use of? And what are they not capable to invent or difcover ? april 2

F4

feer

Sect. 3.

78

Sett. 3. There was at that time, about the Queen-Mother, a Woman nam'd Hammon, who pleas'd that Princefs upon an Occafion, in which fhe had the Honour to talk to her ; fhe was Born at Londun, amongst the ordinary People, and there she had spent the greater part of her Life; Grandier who had been her Parfon, and who knew all the ingenious Women in his Parifh, was par-ticularly acquainted with her. There had been publifh'd under her Name, a Bloody Satyr againft the Ministers, but above all, against the Cardinal, wherein many Particularities of his Life and Ministry were laid open, for which he shew'd much difpleasure, and a very deep resentment. The Confpirators judg'd it convenient to attri-bute this Piece to Grandier, and to give out, that he kept a conftant Correspondence, by Letters, with the faid Hammon, of whom he must needs learn what was contain'd in that Satyr. There was fo much the more probability in this accusation, that the Satyr had been publish'd during the difgrace of the Cardinal, who formerly, when he was but Prior of Conffai, had little piques against Grandier, who pretending himself the first of the Ecclefiafticks of Loudun, would no ways yield in any thing to the Prior of Couffai. This contri-vance was approv'd by Laubardemont as very ex-cellent, and likely to produce in the Mind of the Cardinal an eager defire for revenge, to which he was naturally inclin'd. They brought after this, the Commillary, to fee the Grimaces, Postures and Convultions of the Nuns, who had, by this time, acquir'd new Degrees of perfection in their management; by the practice of which they were found very dextrous and expert in the Art of Counterfeiting Devils. Is ibardemont at leaft feem'd feem'd exceedingly fatisfied, and promis'd to Second their endeavours as foon as he was at Paris; whither he return'd as foon as the Caftle was entirely demolifh'd.

72

Seet. 4. At his departure, he left at Loudum the Devils, which his prefence had recall'd thither, though they had been disperst by the prefence of the Archbishop of Bourdeaux. They return'd then, as into a House swept and garnish'd, fit to receive many others, who fail'd not to accompany them thither. The Superior and Sifter Clair, had not the Honour only to receive these guests; They took possession of Five other Nuns, befides Six which were befet, and two bewitch'd. They took also a turn to the Town of Chinon, where they lodg'd themfelves as it were in the Houfe of a Friend and Acquaintance, with Two very Devout fecular Maids, whofe Confessor Barre was, as Mignon was of those at Loudun, possefied, beset, or bewitch'd. There was written afterwards by these Priests, or by their Friends, a Book, intituled, The Demono-mania of Loudan, wherein are contain'd, all the Names of the Devils, and of all the Maids who were Tormented, whofe Pains and Sufferings being therein describ'd, without doubt, excited an extraordinary compassion in the Hearts of all good Perfons who read it, and gave credit to all that was there related.

Sect. 5. Whilst the Devils were thus employ'd, to the great Aftonishment of all People who believ'd that they would never prefume to return, and who could not comprehend or divine upon what Ground they had that Confidence, Laubardemont, who was at Paris, made fuch good use of his Credit, and Application in their Favour, that he

he receiv'd an Order to go back to Loudan, to be the Arbitrator of their Practifes, and prefide at all their Commerce. He arriv'd there the Sixth of December 1633. at eight of the Clock in the Evening, and came to the Houfe of Paul Aubin Sienr de Bourneuf, and Son in Law to Memin. His coming was fo fecret, becaufe of the Hour and Situation of the Place, which was in the Suburb, that Grandier and his Friends had no Knowledge of it; Memin, Herve and Menuau being quickly come to him, he boafted of his Cunning in the Prepoffeffing the Cardinal, who was highly provok'd, and had put into his Hands the Care of his Revenge; and afterwards gave them Proofs of the Diligence he had us'd, by faewing them his Commiflion dated but the laft Day of November, and the Contents whereof were as follows:

Seet. & That the Sieur Laubardemont, Counfellor of the King in his Council of State and Privy Council, shall go to Loudun and other Places as there shall be Occasion, to inform, with Diligence, against Grandier upon all the Facts of which he has been heretofore accus d, and others which shall be a new laid to his Charge Concerning the Possessing of the Orfuline Nuns of Loudun, and other Persons who are faid to be posses of Loudun, and other Persons who are faid to be posses of the faid Grandier, and of all that which has pass fince the Beginning, as well of their Exorcisms, as otherwise, upons the Fact of the faid Possessing, as otherwise, upons the Verbal Process and other Acts of the Commiss that shall be made; And of all, to make a Verbal Process, and otherwise to proceed as shall be fitting for the Proof and absolute verying the faid Facts; And upon the whole, to decreee, instruct, make, and cause to be made Process against the faid Grandier, dier, and all others whom they shall find complices in the faid Cafe, even to a definite Sentence exclusiveby, notwithstanding any Opposition, Appeal or Recufation whatfoever; for which, and without Prejudice to the fame, it shall not be delay'd, even confidering the Quality of the Crimes, without having Regard to the Appeal which may be demanded by the faid Grandier; His Majesty commanding all the Governours, Lieutenant Generals of the Province, and all the Bailiffs, Seneshals, &c. And other Officers of the Town, and Perfons whom it may Concern for the Execution hereof, to give all Affistance, and Aid, and Imprisonment, if there be cause, and that they shall be requir'd.

Seit. 7. He fhew'd alfo Two Ordinances of the King Signed Louis, and lower, Philippeaux, dated the fame laft Day of November, 1633. Ordaining the faid Laubardemont to caufe the faid Grandier and his Complices to be imprison'd, with the like Command to all the Marsshalls, Provosts, &c. and other Officers and Persons, to affist the Execution of the said Ordinance, and to obey, for the Doing thereof, all the Orders that should be given by the said Lauberdemont; And to the Governours and Lieutenant Generals, to give all Affistance which shuld be requir'd of them.

Sect. 8. This large and extraordinary Power which was given to Laubardemont, very pleafingly furpriz'd the Company which came to hear it read; but when it was publish'd, 'twas not less furprizing, although after a very different Manner, to all the honeft People who beheld this Affair with a just and difinterested Eye. They could not fufficiently wonder that he had again been allow'd to inform upon all the Facts of which Grandser had been heretofore accus'd, and upon those those which should be laid to him again, as the Commission imported. The Astonishment however increas'd yet, when they faw with what Violence they us'd the Authority they had in their Hands; for they began, contrary to all the Rules of Juffice, with the Impriforment of Grandier, before they had made any Information against him, to the End, that this Blow might be confider'd as coming from the Hand of the King; or rather as Anathema darted by the Cardinal, and which was fufficient to dishearten all the Friends of Grandier, encourage the Wit-neffes whom they would produce against him, and give the Nuns more Liberty and Confidence to act the Parts which were appointed them. For this Purpose, William Aubin Sieur de la Grange, Brother of Bourneuf, and Lieutenant of the Provost, was sent for by Laubardemont, who imparted to him his Commission and the Ordi-nances of his Majesty, by Virtue of which, he order'd him that next Morning betimes he should feize the Person of Grandier. As this Officer did not believe himfelf oblig'd to be altogether of the Opinion of Memin, the Father-in-Law of his Brother, he caus'd Grandier to be fecretly inform'd with the Orders he had receiv'd. Grandier, who did not think himfelf guilty, return'd Thanks to Grange for his Generofity, and fent him Word, that confiding in his Innocence, and the Mercy of GOD, he refolv'd not to go alide: So he role next Morning before Day, according to his Cuftom, and went with his Breviary in his Hand to the Church of Saint Croffe, to affift at Matins. As foon as he was out of the House, la Grange feiz'd on him, and arrefted him Prifoner in the Prefence of Memin and

77

and a great Number of his other Enemies, who were defirous to feed their Eyes with this Spectacle, and to watch the Proceedings of Grange, of whole Intention they were not affur'd. At the lame instant, the Seal Royal was fet upon his Chambers and Prefies, and all other Places of his Houfe, and upon his Moveables; and John Pouquet Archer of the Guards to his Majesty, and the Archers of the Provost of Loudun and Chinon, were commanded to conduct him to the Caftle of Angers. There he remain'd above Four Months in Prifon, where Michelon Command-ant of the Place, order'd him to be put. He fhew'd, during that time, much Refignation and Constancy, writing often Prayers and Meditations, the Manufcript whereof, which was Twelve Sheets in Quarto was produc'd at his Tryal, but very unferviceably; as alfo the Advantageous Teftimony which was given of him by Pe-ter Bacher Canon, who was his Confession, and who gave him the Communion during his Confinement at Angers.

Sett. 9 Laubardemont deferr'd not long to fearch the Houfe of the Prifoner, and to make an Inventory of his Books, Papers and Moveables; He found nothing fufficient to hurt him, but a Treatife againft Celibacy, writ with his own Hand, and Two Sheets of French Verfes, which were never publifh'd, but which his Judges treated as lafcivous and immodeft, without declaring that they were writ, and much lefs compos'd by him. They were not contented to feize thefe Pieces, they carried away all the Papers, Evidences, Sentences of Abfolution, which the Perfon accus'd might have made ufe of in his Defence, notwithftanding the Com-

Complaints and Oppositions of Jane Estievre his Mother, then Seventy Years of Age. As they did not proceed continually and without Intermission in making this Inventory, it was not finish'd till the last Day of January, 1634. and in the Mean time they fail'd not to begin an Information on the Second of the precedent Month. Peter Fournier, an Advocate, perform'd the Office of the King's Attorney; The Mother of Grandier feem'd much afflicted, because he was the Sonin-Law of Richard a Proctor, against whom she had complain'd, for that he went at Midnight into a Houfe to perswade Two Women to depofe falfely against ther Son; But Fournier requir'd very quickly after to be difcharg'd of his Commiffion, in the Execution whereof One may very probably conclude, that he found his Confcience touch'd, because through all the Course of his Life, before and fince that time, he was always accounted a Man of Honour and Integrity.

Sect. 10. This Firft Information was not fo foon finish'd, but that there was another made the Nineteenth of the fame Month; and the Thirtieth they began to draw up in writing the Depositions of the Nuns. The Friends and Counfell of Grandier's Mother did their utmost to oppose the Torrent of fo ftrange and violent a Procedure: She prefented, by their Advice, the Seventeenth of December, a Petition to the Commission, wherein the appeal'd from him, because he was the Kinsman of the Superior of the Nuns, That he lodg'd at the House of one of her Son's Enemies; That he had made him a Prisoner before any Information or Decree was made against him; That he had made the Lieutenant of the the Provost one of the Affistants, who was one of Grandier's Mortal Enemies, when they feiz'd upon his Perfon; That he had depriv'd him of all Means to defend himfelf, by feizing on all his Papers, and by caufing him to be carried out of Londun. But far from allowing of fo just Reafons for an Appeal, This is the Order which Laubardemont writ at the Bottom of the Petition. That confidering his Commission, and not being in-form'd from any other Part of any just and true Cause to Supercede, he should proceed to the Execution of the faid Commission, notwithstanding and without Regard to the faid Petition, and without Prejudice to the Petitioner to address her felf, to his Majesty, if it shall seem good to ber so to do. They urg'd him to declare concerning the Truth or Falfhhood, the allowing or difallowing of the Facts contain'd in the Petition; but he would do nothing, and never answer'd but in General Terms.

Sed. 11. Without the Claufe which impower'd this Commiffary to proceed notwithflanding any Oppofition, Appeal, or Recufation, it is certain, all his Proceedings would have been difannull'd. For belides the Caufes of Appeal before produc'd, there were every Day new Ones prefented which were very lawful. Mignon, Memin, and Menuau, Mouffaut, and Herve were always at his Elbow, and he made no Difficulty to hear the Witneffes in their Prefence. There were however fome who fluck not to depofe for the Difcharge of the Perfon accus'd, but their Depofitions were not taken in Writing, and they were fent away with many Threats, to the End that those who were examin'd next, flould not follow their Examples. They publifh'd alfo a Monitory.

nitory, glofs'd with many Additions, done by by feveral Hands, and ftuff'd with infamous Facts, the Reading whereof one could not hear without Horrour. The Name of Grandier was mention'd therein, and the Crimes, the Knowledge whereof they fought for, were fo foul and abominable, that the Ears of all good Men were fcandaliz'd. Mounier, the Prieft who had had a Suit againft him, and who had been a Witnefs in the FirftAffair, of which Mention has been made before, was chofe to make this Publication, as if they had a Mind to make use of Perfons fulpected, and that they gloried in trefpaffing upon all the Forms of Juffice, and Bounds of Equity.

Sett. 12. Tho' thefe Ways of Proceeding were fo extraordinary that there was fome Hope that they should not continue, Grandier's Mother would not stand idle, or neglect any thing which might contribute to the Defence of her Son. Therefore sche caus'd an Act to be given to Laubardemont the Third of January, 1634. wherein she declar'd, that the Appeal'd from hisOrder of the Twelth of December, 1633. and would take upon her to question it; Whereupon he order'd the same Day,

Sett. 13. That without any Regard to her Appeals, Proceedings should be made as well by him, as by the King's Attorney, nam'd in the said Commission; and that the Publication of the Monitory obtain'd by the Attorney of the King should be continued, with Prohibitions to all Persons to terrifie the Witness, and in Lafe of Contravention, the Attorney was permitted to make Information. The Bishop of Poittiers fail'd not on his Part to concurr with this Proceeding, and without regarding the Order left by the Arch-bishop, his Superior, he fent another far lefs proper to attain the Knowledge of the Truth

Truth. Grandier's Mother Appeal'd from this new Order, to the King, by a Writ of Error, and gave a Copy of that Order of the Archbishop to the Bishop of Laubardemont; to the end; that they should not plead Ignorance. Grandier's Brother prefented likewife Two Petitions, the Ninth and Tenth and January, the one to have a Copy of the Monitory which had been publish'd, the other to the Intent that it might be carried to the Registry, and that there should be made by the Petitioner a Verbal Process cum Figura; It Was answer'd, That there was no Room at Present to allow of these Petitions. They Appeal'd from this Order, the Act of Appeal was fignified the fame Tenth Day of January, The Twelfth of the faid Month they gave Notice that they took upon them the Defence, which having produc'd no Effect with the Commiffary, Grandier's Mother prefented another Petition the Seventcenth of the fame Month, containing new Caufes of Appeal, which were no more allow'd of than the First ; for 'twas order'd, That having confider'd that the Caufes of Appeal were not pertinent or fit to be allow'd, he would proceed further, faving to her the Petitioner to address her self to the King; as she should think good.

Sett. 14. When the had receiv'd Notice of this Order, the alfo the next Day after fignified an Act of Appeal by Lambert and Bertrand; Uthers, and at the fame time a Relief of Appeal was fued out by Committion, in the Chancery of the Parliament of Paris, the Fourteenth of the foregoing Month; But the Committary tore the Acts, the King's Attorney requiring it, as Null, and done by an Attempt to the prejudice of the Power given him by his Majefty, ordaining as heretofore that that they floud go on without any Intermiffion, and proceed to the Instruction of the faid Process, and for these -Ends, the Publication of the Monitory shall be continued by me. ---- Rene le Mounier, and others shall be requir'd by the King's Attorney, who together with the faid le Mounier, the Register, and others are by him discharged of the Assignations given them to appear in the faid Court, with Prohibitions to the laid Bertrand and all other Ofhers and Sergeants, to ferve any Writs, whither by Virtue of the faid Relief or Appeal, or otherwife upon Pain of Exempla-ry Punishment; This strange Order, dated the Twenty first of January, having been fignified to the Party, the Appeal'd from it, as from the other, and the Act of Appeal was fignified the Twenty Seventh of the fame Month to Giles Ponquer, to be put into the Hands of Laubarde--mont.

.... The History of

Seit. 15. The course of all these proceedings, in which they were bufily imploy'd, delay'd for a while, that of the Poffeffion. They did not however omit to Exorcife from time to time, according to the new Order of the Bishop, but Lakbardemont having not leifure to affift at the Exorcifms, they did not purfue them with the fame Vigour, nor had they the fame reputation they gain'd fince. Besides, there remain'd yet in the Mind of the Confpirators some fear, that the Parliament would take fome Cognizance of this Affair; and for this reafon they judg'd it convenient to fuspend it for a time, to the end, they may know better what Measures they ought to take in it. In the mean while, they fought all fort of ways to authorife themfelves on the Execution of the Defigns they had projected. They befought the Bishop of Poictiers to come himfelf, or to fend fome some confiderable Ecclesiaftick, to act in his Name. That Prelate forthwith fent a new Commillion to the fame Demorans, Dean of the Canons of Thouars, and Bachellor in Divinity, of the Faculty of Paris, to affift in the Quality of his Vicegerent, at the instruction of the Process of Grandier, notwithstanding he was the Kinsman and Friend of his chief Enemies, and that they had not fail'd to inform the Bishop of it. The Second of Feburary, Laubardemont brought the Vicegerent to Angers, with the King's Attorney, and James Nizai, Clerk of the Commiffion ; and he began the Fourth of the fame Month, and continued every Day, till the Eleventh, to examin, Grandier. It is not to be found in the Extract of the Proofs which were in the Process, that he had ever contradicted himfelf, nor that he had own'd any thing, whence they could draw an advantage against him, except that he confest ingenuously, that he was the Author of the Manufcript, againft the Celibacy of Priefts, which had been found in his Clofet.

Sett. 16. The Confessions and Denials of the Perfon accus'd upon the Fact which were propos'd, being fign'd by him, Laubardemont return'd to Paris, where he refided all the reft of the Month of Feburary, and part of that of March, without acquainting his Friends at Loudan, when he would return; which having caft them into an extraordinary trouble, oblig'd them to fend to him Granger, Curate of Venier, to intreat him infantly to return to their affiftance, and to propose to him on their parts, the conditions on which they recall'd him. That Corate had no great trouble to conclude the Bargain, because his Commission did admirably agree with the Humour and violent G 2 Inelia

83

Inclinations of Laubardemont. But for prevention of all the inconveniencies which happen'd in the former Journey, and which might yet arife upon Account of the Parliament; he obtain'd the last Day of May, a Decree of the Council of State, which was not lefs ftrange than the Commission which he had already obtain'd. This Decree imported, That without having regard to the Appeal intended to be brought into Parliament, and to the Proceedings made in pursuance, which His Majefty has annull d. It is order'd that the Sieur Laubardemont, shall continue the Process begun by him againft Grandier, notwithstanding, all the Oppositions, Appeals, or Recufations made, or to be made, and without Prejudice to the fame. The King, as far as it Ihall be requisite, having committed to him anew, the Cognizance thereof, and interdicted the same to the Parl'ament of Paiis, and all other Judges, with Prohibitions to the Parties to meddle therein, upon the Penalty of Five Hundred Livres Forfeiture.

Seif. 17. Being Arm'd with fuch a Decree, which render'd him the supreme Arbitrator in this Matter, Laubardemont went to Loudun with Grandier, the Ninth of April, to the great fatisfaction of all the Cabal. He difpatch'd away forthwith the Archers to Angers, to take Grandier, and bring him back to Londun; and in the mean time he caus'd an extraordinary Prifon to be prepar'd for him, in a Houfe which belong'd to Mignon, and which was inhabited by a Sergeant, nam'd Bontems, who had been Tringuants Clerk, and Witnefs against Grandier in the first Accusation that had been rais'd against him ; fo that the Perfon pretended to be polleft, had notice of almost. all he did and faid. Mignon caus'd fome Windows OÍ of the Chamber appointed to be his Prison, to be wall'd up, which was in the upper Story; he caus'd the Windows which remain'd open, to be fecur'd with ftrong and thick Grates, and the Chimney to be crofs'd with thick Bars of Iron, to the end that the Devils might not come to pluck the pretended Magician out of his Chains, who being come from Angers, was conducted into his Chamber ; where finding himfelf almost depriv'd of the Light of Day, and lodg'd upon Straw, he writ this Letter to his Mother.

Dear Mother, ber state bet

Sect. 18. Have received Yours, and all that you have fent me, except the Serge Stockings. I bear my Affliction with patience, and bewail yours more than my own; I am much incommoded, having no Bed; endeavour to get my own brought me, for if the body does not repose, the Spirit will fail; send me alfo a Breviary, a Bible, and a Saint Thomas for my confolation; and for the rest do not afflict your felf, I hope GOD will manifest my innocence; Commend me, to my Brother and Sifter, and to all our good Friends. This is from your very dutiful Son,

to needs tubnice

To ferve you, they mould be covern'd by perious unit-

Grandier,

85-

Sect. 19. When they had thus advanc'd the judicial Proceedings, and the pretended Magician Was fhut up again, they apply'd themfelves to the work of the Possession, and to give it an Air of truth, which it had not had, to that time ; for this purpose they judg'd it fit to fequester the Posleffed, because that Refusal, which had been made dugrace, thet Die Exarcile had Inifeed in the former Posseshins, had seem'd unjust and suspected, and entirely disposid the Publick to doubt that they were real and true. Next, they separated the Posseshin the Companies: Sister Claire, and Catherine de la Presentation, were put into the House of Maurat a Canon; The Superior Louisa de Jesus, and Anne deSaint Agnes in the House of Sieur de la Ville Advocate, and Counsel to Nuns, and Elizabeth de la Croix, Monique of Saint Marthe, Jeanne du Saint Esprir, and Serasique Archer, were put into another House: They were govern'd by Memin's Sister, the Wife of Nicolus Moussant, who always continued near the Superior, when they exorcis'd her, and whisper'd into her Ear, what she had learn'd of Bontems Wise concerning Grandier; and who went and came continually, and fo publickly, that almost every Body perceiv'd it.

Selt. 20. Grandier befought the Judges, that it would pleafe them to order a real and effectual Sequeftration, instead of one feign'd and in appearance, fuch as was that which they pretended to have made, and washut a pure illufion, feeing that 'twas neceffary that the Nuns fhould be lodg'd apart, to ftop their talking together, taking Measures, and en-couraging them to perform an Exercise, which poffibly was more painful than they did imagine; That they should be govern'd by perfons unsu-spected, whether Churchmen, Physicians, or Women; That the flould continue fome Months, without having any Communication, either with his Enemies, or the favourers of the Polleffion; And that then, he doubted not, but that fome one would be found, who being prefs'd by the remorfe of her Confcience, and deliver'd from the prefence of her Tyrants, would confess the Truth, and make it publickly known. But it was to than a like difgrace, that the Exorcift had fhifted off the

the Demands of a fequestration, and that they a. greed not to it then, but because they had a full liberty to it after what manner they pleas'd, as they did effectually, by lodging the Nuns at their choice, and by Companies, and by giving more confident and obflinate Perfons, for companions to those, who, they believ'd, had a more tender Confcience, or had lefs Refolution; which was not properly a Sequestration, but a way, by which they feem'd to call a Mift before the Eyes of the Publick. Having had no regard to the demand of Grandier, they continued to leave the Nuns to be order'd by the Sifter and Wife of his Enemies, by whofe intermedling, Mignon and the Exorciits fuggested all they had a Mind to. They let them remain in the Houfe where they had fequefired them, to the Number they had heen put there; And as a compleat irregularity and injuffice, inftead of calling in the more Famous Phylicians of the great neighbouring Towns, fuch as Poittiers, Angers, Thouars, or Saumur, they chose out of the Petty Towns, all kind of People, without merit or reputation, excepting Daniel Roger, a Phylician of London, who was in Truth, in fome effeem, but whole Sentiment alone could not prevail over that of a fet of Pretenders, who had neither Learning nor Practice; one of which was Du-Bourg of Fontevraut, who never had either a Degree or Diploma, and who had been oblig'd, for this Reafon, to retire from Saumur. Another was of the Town of Chinon, where he had no Employment, being a Melancholick-man, and over run with Black Choller, who had alfo favour'd the pretended Possessin tended Possessin tended Possessin tended Possessin tended Possessin tended tended that the Automatic tended tended that the the tended ten the fequel of this Hiftory; Another who was of Thomars, had paft his younger Days at London, in the Shop of a Tradefman, whole Journey-Man he was, and afterwards turn'd Phyfician, and was not a little Proud to be employ'd in a bufinefs of fo high an importance; Another of the fame Town, and one of the Town of Miribaut, were of no greater Reputation, but the only merit they had, was that they were Kinfmen to the Enemies of Grandier.

Sect. 21. The Choice which was made of an Apothecary and a Chirurgeon, was neither more equitable, nor more plaufible. The Apothecary named Peter Adam, was Mignen's Coulin German, and had been a Witnefs in the First Accusation a-gainst Grandier. And because his Testimony touch'd the Honour of a Gentlewoman of Londun, he had been condemn'd by a Decree of the Parliament of the Tenth of March, 1633. to undergo an honourable Amand; Neverthelefs, they relied on him for the preparation of Medicines; no body either faw, or knew, whether he us'd thole which were prefcrib'd by the Phylicians, or whe-ther he doubled not the Dofe; if infread of gentle and easie Purgatives, he did not administer violent Remedies, and proper to make the Nans fall into Convultions and Traunces. The Chirurgion who was Mannouri, Memin's Nephew, and Brother-in-Law of one of the Nuns, had already in that quality, made an opposition to the Sequestration above mention'd, and the choice they made was generally difapprov'd TheMother and Brother of Grandier, made in vain, feveral Remonstrances to the Commisfary upon the Subject, but they could not fo much as obtain Copies of the Petitions which had been prefented to him ; he promis'd however, that he would caufe them to be enter'd in his Registry, but never perform'd it. Grand er also male his complainte to the the unjuft choice of thefe Phyficians, to the Judges who were delegated to judge his Procefs; he befought them to place about the Perfons pretended to be Poffels'd, People of Capacity and Experience, and Apothecaties who fhould not give Crocus Metallorum, inftead of Crocus Martis, as 'twas known that Adam had done; but the Judges being fent to confirm the Proceedings of Lambardemont, and not to correct them, they had no regard to thofe Petitions.

88

Sect. 22. The Ninth of April, and the following Days, they made feveral Acts for the calling and employing Phyficians, and Apothecary and Chirurgeon; And the Twelfth, the Commiffary made an interlocutory Sentence, by which he order'd, That all, and every of the Witneffes heard in the faid Charges and Informations, and others, as it shall seem good to the Kings Attorney to produce, [hould come in, and those that were not heard, and to hear their Deposition read; and if it be needful, to be confronted with the faid accused Person, who to this purpose shall be continued a close Prisoner. The next Day they be-gan the Confrontations, which were continued divers times the Days following. There was propos'd upon this Subject in the Cafe of Grandier, the Example of that which happen'd to Saint Athana-Jus, as an excellent means to attain the Knowledge of truth by Confrontation. This Saint having been accus'd in the Council of Tyre, by an impudent Woman, who had never feen him ; when this Woman, enter'd into the Affembly, to make her Accufation in publick, a Priest named Timothy, 'role up, thew'd himfelf to her, and fpake to her, as if he had been Athanafius; fhe believ'd him 10, and manifested thereby to all the Assembly, both her own Crime and his Innocence, which she had attacqued.

attaqued. If Laubardemont had been willing to make the fame Trial, and prefented to the Nuns at the fame time Three or Four Priefts with Grandier, a like cloth'd, and near of the fame Stature, and Hair, whom they had never feen before, 'Tis certain, that if by chance, Grandier had been mark'd out by fome one of them, there would have been others who would not have been able to diffinguish him, and who by their miftake, would have made the Truth appear.But theDefign of that Commissary, was to conceal the Truth, and not to difcover it, and for this effect, after he had finish'd these Proceedings, having a little more leifure than he had, when he was thus employ'd, he order'd the Exorcifms to begin again. The Bishop of Poictiers having rejected Father PE/cayz, and Father Gan, nam'd by the Archbishop his Superior, had sent Two others in their place, who were his Chaplain, and Father Lactance a Franciscan. This choice of the former was highly condemn'd, becaufe he had been of the Number of the Judges who had given the first fentence against Grandier, which the Archbishop of Bourdeaux had invalidated. They were lodg'd in the Houfe of Nicolas Monffaut, and fome time after, fome of the Nuns were lodg'd there alfo, to the great aftonishment of all unconcern'd Persons. Memin, Menuau, and Herve, went every Day into this Houfe, to visit the Exorcists, and Discourse with them in private. These last began to perform their Charge, the Fifteenth of April. Lastance feeing that the Superior understood Latine very little, order'd her to speak in French, although he often put to her Questions in Latine. There were fome Perfons who objected to him, that the ought to answer her in the fame Language, and that the Devil

Devil ought not to be ignorant of any; To which this Father answer'd, fometimes, That the Patt had been so made, and at other times, That there were some Devils more ignorant than the very Pea-Jants. A little while after, there was observ'd to come a Recruit of Exorcifts, who were Four Capucin Friars, named Father Luke, Father Tranquille, Father Potais, and Father Elizee, befides two Carmelites, who had intruded themfelves there from the beginning of the Polleffion, and had been tolerated by the Bilhop of Poittiers, to wit, Father Peter, of Saint Thomas, and Father Peter ofSaint Mathurin. They joyn'd themfelves with the Capucins, who had been fent with great expectation, and for particular Ends, concerted amongst the principal Monks of France, of whom the famous Father Jofeph was the Head. The chief defign was to establish that Proposition, which is found in the Book of Father Tranquille, That the Devil duly exorcis'd, is constrain'd to speak the Truth; and there. by they pretended to prove undeniably the bodily Prefence of Jefus Chrift in the Sacrament, and all other Tenets of the Roman Church ; but they hoped above all, that this would give them an opportunity to bring in a kind of Inquilition; and that it would be a certain means to make all the Churchmen, the Wealth, the Honour, and the Lives of private Perfons, and chiefly the Hereticks, to depend upon the Ecclefiafticks. Father Joseph went also to Londun Incognito, to examin himfelf this pretended Poffeffion, to the end, that if he found that it had a fufficient Air and Appearance of Truth he might put himfelf at the Head of the Exorcifts, to allume the greater part of the glory of having difpollest the Devils, and acquire a high reputation of Piety and Sanctity. But

92

But this fubtil Monk, had no Mind to engage in this Matter : he knew well, that it would not become a Man of his Importance, and that he ought to leave it in the Hands of his Inferiors, who would content themfelves with the efteem of Bigots, and mean People, and not be concern'd though they were expos'd to the derifion of the better fort, and Men of Wit.

Sect. 23. The Perfons posselled, were allotted by Classes to each of the Exorcists, and they exor-cis'd them in four feveral Places, which were in the Churches of Saint Croffe, of the Convent of the Ursulines, of SaintPeter du Martrai, of the Priory, and of Notre Dame du Chateau. There past little in the Exorcifins of the Fifteenth and Sixteenth of April. Laubardemont omitted to put Interrogatories to Grandier, from the Seventeenth of the fame Month, upon the Cafes arifing from the Verbal Process which he had made. The Phylicians, Apothecary and the Chirurgeon began alfo to make their Reports of what they had feen, and the Obfervations that were made upon the Condition of the Posselled, and upon their Feats of Activity. They drew up Twenty Six Articles during the time of their Commission; the Sum whereof was, That the things which they had Seen, were Supernatural, and Surpaffing as well the knowledge, as the Rules of Phyfick, In the mean time, that which happen'd the Twenty Third of the fame Month of April, feem'd not very Miraculous, Lastanre exorcifing the Superior, demanded of her in Latine, bad enough, In what shape the Devil had enter'd in her? Of a Cat, reply'd she, a Dog, a Stag, and a Goat; Quoties? that is to fay, How often ? continued the Exorcift. I have not well observ'd the Day faid she, because she believ'd that Quoties was the same thing as Quando, When? The next Day being the Twenty Fourth, the fame Nun, returning from the Exorcifm, flaid near the Houfe of the Widow Barot, and faid, fhe could not go on further, becaufe fhe had icen the Hand of Grandier through the Window of his Chamber; but this Window Was fo fimall, that fcarce any Light could come in there, and this Action did only excite the Laughter of fome of those that were there Prefent.

Self. 24. The Twenty Sixth it was order'd that Grandier should be visited, upon Occasion, that the Superior had declar'd, that his Body was marked with Marks of the Devil, and that he was infenfible in all Places where the Marks were. This unhappy Man was treated fo inhumanely upon that Occasion, that the very Thought of the Anguish which they made him fuffer, is e-nough to make one tremble; They fent for Mannouri the Chirurgion, one of his Enemies, and the most unmerciful of them all: When he was come into the Chamber, they stripped Grandier ftark naked, blinded his Eyes, thav'd him every where, and Mannouri began to fearch him. When he would perfwade them that the Parts of his Body which had been mark'd by the Devil were infenfible, he turn'd that End of the Probe which was round, and he guided it in fuch Manner, that not being able to enter into the the Flefh, nor to make much Impreffion, it was pufi'd back into the Palm of his Hand; The Patient did not then cry out because he felt no pair : but when the Barbarous Chirurgeon would make them fee that the other Parts of his Body were very fenfible, he turn'd the Probe at the other End, which was very tharp pointed, and thruft Î.L

94

it to the very Bone; and then abundance of People, who were at the Bottom of the Prifon without, heard Complaints fo bitter, and Crys fo piercing, that they mov'd them to the Heart; But Laubardemont, who was prefent at this Action, did not feem to be touch'd with any Senfe of Pity; The Superior, who was content the first time to fay that the Magician had Five Marks of the Devil upon his Body, without specifying them, nor the Places where they were, did not fail the nextDay, the Twenty Seventh of the Month, to nominate the Places, where those, who had feen him all naked, had observ'd Two of thefe Spots. As for the Three others, the Phylicians could not fee them, becaufe, fays the Extract of of the Proofs, Oc. they were too hard to be diftinguish'd. But if the Devil, who had posses'd her, had no great knowledge of the things which were fomewhat fecret, or conceal'd fo near him, at leaft that he had not been inform'd of by the Reports of Men, he knew not much more of what paft further off; For the Thirtieth of the fame Month, the Exorcift having demanded of him . Why he had not been willing to answer the Saturday before, It was, faid he by the Mouth of the Nun. because I was imploy'd, that day in conducting to Hell the Soul of le Proust Attorney of the Parliament of Paris. The Curious did not fail to make an Exact Inquiry, if there had been an Attorney of this Name in the Parliament; They caus'd the Regifters of the Dead to be examin'd, to know whether at that time, fome Perfon of the fame Name, of what quality foever, was dead at Paris, But neither the one, nor the other of these things were found true, nor has it been feen in any of the Books which have been writ in Fa-VOUR

Vour of the Poffeffion; that they have dar'd to alledge this Particular, amongst the Miraculous Knowledge which has been attributed to the Superior.

Sect. 25. They Exorciz'd again in the Church of the Carmelites, where the Exorcift demanded of one of the Perfons possels'd, Where were the Magick Books of Grandier : She answer'd that they would find them in the Lodgings of a certain Gentlewoman whom the nam'd, and who was the Perfon that caus'd Adam the Apothecary to undergo an honourable Amand. At that Inftant, Laubardemont, Herve, Menuau, Mouffaut, and many others, went into the Houfe of this Gentlewoman; They view'd the Chambers and Clofets; They open'd the Coffers, fearch'd in all the most fecret Places, and having not found any Magical Book, the Exorcift, at their Return, re-Proach'd the Devil, that he had deceiv'd the Count, and he adjur'd him again to fpeak the Truth; He answer'd, that a Neece of this Gentlewoman had taken away those Books; They ran prefently to this Neece's House, but they found that the was in a Church at her Devotions, and that it was impossible that the should be gone to her Kinfwoman's Houfe in the time mention'd by the Devil; fo that they could not carry the Revenge of Adam fo far as he had with'd, and had been promis'd him in Requital of his Services; and he was fain to content himfelf with this Affront which he had put upon his Enemy.

Sect. 26. Grandier had a Brother, an Advocate in the Parliament, and who had alfo an Office of Counfellour in the Bailiwick of Loudun; They judg'd it requifite to hinder his folliciting the Parliament to take Cognizance of the Affair fair of his Brother, as being already concern'd by the Appeals, and by the Petition which had been prefented to them; Therefore the Superior accus'd this Man alfo of Magick. He had no fooner Advice of this Accufation, but he gave a Petition to the Court, to have a Satisfaction for this Calumny, declaring that they had accus'd him, only to deprive his Brother of all the Means he had of Affiftance. But Duthibaut, who was at Paris, caus'd him to be Arrefted Prifoner, by Virtue of an Order of Laubardemont; and to be brought into the Houfe of one of the Favourers of the Poffeffion, from whence he did not get out till after the Death of Grandier, at the urgent Sollicitation of his Friends.

Sect. 27 In the Beginning of May, one of the Devils of the Superior had promis'd to raife her up Two Foot high; Lastance call'd upon him often to perform his Promise, which he did not however, becaufe the Nun having been willing to dazzle the Eyes of the People, by trying one time to do fomething near it, There was one of the Spectators who lifted up the Bottom of her Garment, and made all the others fee that fhe touch'd the Ground with the End of one of her Feet. The Devil Eazas had alfo promis'd to raife up la Nogeret I hree Foot from the Ground ; and another Devil nam'd Cerberus, to lift up his Nun Two Foot; But neirher the one nor the other were Devils of their Word. The Devil Beherit pretended to have done his Part fo well, as to retrieve the Honour of his Companions by eftablishing his own Reputation ; He vaunted, for this purpose, to take off Laubardemont's Cap from off his Head, and to keep it hanging in the Air, during the Space of a Milerere. The time which he

he had appointed being come, Lastance adjur'd him in all the requisite Forms to shew this Marvel before the Eyes of the Spectators; This Exorcift us'd Flatterics, Complaints, and Threatnings, but when he perceived that he obtain'd nothing, he knew well that fome Accident was fallen out, which had given Vent to his Mine, or had put fome of the Springs of the Machine that was to Play, out of Order. And, in Truth, he was not deceiv'd, for fome Sufpicious People confidering that it was late, that they were about to light their Flambeaux, that that time was very proper to perform fome Illusion, and that Laubardemont was plac'd in a Chair distant enough from the Company, and just under one of the Arches of the Church, they ran out to go up and place themfelves upon the Arch, where they found the Man who was appointed to act his Part, and who was conftrain'd to give over his Work of Darkness, and to carry away his lit-tle Hook, and the Hair or Thread to which it was fasten'd. He was to let flip his Hook through a little Hole made on Purpofe, above and over-against the Place delign'd for Laubardemont, who was to take the Hair, and fasten it to a little Loop fewed to his Cap, making a Shew to make It right, and fome time after this Hair was to be drawn up into the Air, and fhould have carried up the Cap with it; Then the Exorcift fhould have caus'd the Miferere to be fung, during which the Cap fhould have been continued hanging in the Air, and not have fallen down till the Mufick had been ended. But this Honour was not referv'd for Beherit, who remain'd under the fame Confusion with his Companions. d with the inquilies

Sect. 28.

Sett. 28. They well perceiv'd that fo many At-tempts failing, would bring the Possefion into Contempt. A great Number of Gentlemen and other Perfons yet of a better Quality, who came to Londun with an Expectation that they should fee there daily fome new Miracle, began to be difgusted with what they had seen, and to return into their feveral Countries, whither they brought no News able to Augment the Belief of that diabolical Intrigue. Father Tranquille complains in his Book in these Terms, Many, fays he, being come to fee the Miracles at Londun, if prefently the Devils give them not fuch Signs as they require, they go away difcontented, and have in-creas'd the Number of Unbelievers; Wherefore 'twas refolv'd to produce fome great Exploit to revive their languishing Curiofity, and renew their Belief, that was upon the point of expiring. Lastance promis'd that of Seven Devils which poffefs'd the Superior, three of them fhould go out of her the Twentieth of May without Fail. These Three were Asmodee, Grefil of the Thrones, and Aman of the Powers. They were to give her, at their going out, Three Wounds on the left fide, and make as many holes in her Shift, Bodice, and Gown. The greatest of the Three Wounds, were to be a Pin's Length, which was thew'd to those who affisted at the Exorcism, where he made this kind of Proclamation; The Place where the Wound should be made was likewife mark'd. They affur'd alfo the Commandeur de la Porte, who was then at Londun, that the poffeffed should have her Hands tyed behind her Back, when the Wounds should be made. The Day appointed being come, and the Church of Saint Croffe being fill'd with the inquisitive Perfons, fons, who had a Mind to obferve whether the Devils would keep their Word once in their Lives, they caus'd prefently fome Phylicians of the neighbouring Towns, who were there prefent, to view the Sides, the Bodice, the Shift, and the Gown of the Nun. Their Report was, that they found not any Wound upon her Side, any Cut in her Garments, nor any sharp Instrument in the Plaits of her Cloaths. After this diligent Search, Father Lastance put Queftions to her for the Space of two Hours almost always in French, and the Anfwers were made in the fame Language ; and when he proceeded to Commands and Adjurations, there was a Phylician of Saumur named Duncan, a Scotch-man, who was Principal of the University of the Protestants, and Professor in Philosophy, who faid, that they were promis'd that the Nun fould have her Hands tyed. The Exorcift acknowledg'd, that it was fit to bind her to remove all Suspicion of Deceit and Fraud. In the mean time he declar'd, that there were many Perfons in the Company, who had never feen the Convulsions whereinto the possesied us'd to fall, and that 'twas requisite for the Satisfa-Ction of fuch, that they fhould Exorcife this Nun before flie was bound. Then he began the Exorcifins and Adjurations, and at the fame time the made a Contortion of her Body which feem'd very frightfuul, her Hands and her Feet were alike turn'd outward, and after that the Palms of her Hands, and the Soles of her Feet, were Joyn'd very close one to the other; all her Limbs return'd to their former Condition, and then the rofe up. The Exorcift gave her no Intermillion, for the was fcarce recover'd out of that first Convulsion, but he repeated to her his Ad-. H 2 jurations.

jurations, and this was done at that time, that fhe lay upon her Face on the Ground, and that they faw her right Thigh drawn outwards, then being bow'd down upon her Arm and right Side, the continued in this Condition fome little time, and at last they heard her groan; and when the drew her hand out of her Bofom, they perceiv'd the tops of her Fingers stain'd with Blood. The Physicians who had heard her Groans, fearch'd quickly after the Caufe, both with their Eyes and Hands, in her Cloaths and upon her Body; They found her Gown pierced in two places, and her Bodice and Shift in three places, the Holes being in Length a Fingers Breadth; They found alfo the Skin, pierc'd in three places beneath her left Breaft. The wounds were fo flight, that they fcarce paft through the Skin; that in the Middle was of the Length of a Barly Corn, the Two others were not fo large, nor fo deep; In the mean while there isfued out Blood at all Three, with which her Shift was stain'd. Laubardemont was in some Confusion at the Performance of this Trick, by Reafon of the Number and Quality of the Spectators, and efepecially of the Commandeur de la Port, who had Affurance given him that the Nun should be bound, and he could not forbear, to fay, That this mas not fair. However he would not fuffer the Physicians who attested the Fact, to joyn to their Attestations the judgment which he made of the fufficient and Inftrumental Caufes of those Three Wounds. But Duncan was no foonor at Saumur, bat he publish'd a Writing, containing Observations which were made upon this pretended Miracle, which are in Brief, 'That the Devils of Louden being cunning and fraudulent, had not

not attempted to make any other Sign, but that which was the cafiest of all those they had promis'd, and where they could more readily, with a little Slight, deceive the Eyes of the People; That the Clouths of the Superior had not been fearch'd, becaufe they pre-6 fuppos'd that her Hands should be tyed, when ¢ the Wounds were to be made in her Flefh : That ¢ instead thereof, she had her Hands at Liberc ty, and hid from the Affiftants when the was C wounded; That the Wounds were not found ¢ to be exactly made in the Place where the her felf had defign'd ; That they were not fo large as they were promis'd ; That they feem'd to c have been made by the Incision of a little Penknife, or by the pricking of a Launcet; ' That the Incifions were much greater in the Gar-C ments than in the Skin, which made it appear ¢ that they were made from without ; inwards, ¢ and not from within outwards. That the 5 Cloaths were not examin'd after the ¢ Wounds had been made, becaufe it 'twould 5 have been expedient to ftrip the Nun to her C Smock to do it exactly, which Decency would 6 not fuffer; Moreover that the might have c thrown amongst the Croud of People, withc out being perceiv'd, the Inftrument fhe us'd, c which must be very finall. That if the Devils c were then gone out, they had not been com-C pell'd by the Force of the Exorcism, feeing that c the Exorcift had not given them any Comè mand; That there were not made in her Gown three Cuts as well as in the Shift and Stays, though they were promis'd all alike, becaufe one of the Incifions was made where none of her Garment lay, it being open before. H3 Lauro

ICI

Laubardemont was extreamly provok'd by the boldnefs of the Author of this Writing, who overthrew the Miracle by fuch pertinent Reafons, and folid Proofs: He vow'd to be reveng'd of Duncan, and to profecute him to the ntmoft, and the Printer who had fold his Books; but the Marshal de Breze, who promis'd them his Protection, laid the Storm which threatned them, and which otherwife could not but have been very violent and dangerous.

Sect. 28. Grandier, on his part, made almost the fame Obfervations upon this Action ; to which 'he added further, That if the Superior had not Groan'd, the Phyficians would not have open'd " her Cloaths, and that they would have fuffer d her to be bound, not imagining that the Wounds " had been already made; and that then the Exorcift would have commanded Three other "Devils to go out, and to give the Signs they had promis'd; That the Superior would have " made the ftrangest contorsions she had been a-⁶ ble, and would have had a long Convultion, at ' the end whereof the would have been deliver'd, and the Wounds found upon her Body. But that this groaning had betray'd her, and had broke, by GOD's Permiffion, all the Meafures * concerted by Men and Devils; For what Caufe f think you (faid he) in his Exceptions and Abfolvatory Conclusions, that they chose for a Sign, Wounds refembling those which are made with a fharp Inftrument, fince the Devils are accultom'd to make Wounds like to those by burn-'ing ? Is it not becaufe 'twas more eafle for the Superior to hide an Inftrument, and to wound ⁸ her felf flightly, than to hide Fire, and to make a Wound by burning ? Why think you they choice chofe the leftfide, rather than the Forehead or Nofe? unless that the could not hurt her Forehead or Nofe, without exposing the Action to the Eyes of all the Company. Wherefore fhould they chufe the left fide rather than the right? "Were it not that it was more easie for the Right-^c hand, which the Superior us'd, to extend it on ^d the left fide, than to bend it on the right? "Wherefore did she turn her felf upon her Arm and left fide? Were it not to the end, that this 'Pofture, in which the continued a very long time, might make easie to her the means of concealing from the Eyes of the Spectators, the In. ftrument wherewith she wounded her felf ? " whence think you, proceeded the Groans which " fhe gave, in fpite of all her conftancy ? If it was not from the Sence of the Hurt fhe did to herfelf, the most couragious being not able to refrain from trembling, when the " Chirurgeon lets them Blood ? Why did the ends of her Fingers appear bloody ? unlefs becaufe they held the Inftrument which made the Wounds. Who perceives not, that this Inftru-ment, having been very finall, 'twas impossible to prevent, that the Fingers which were em-' ploy'd, fhould not become Red with the Blood "which was caus'd to iffue out ? In brief, whence was it, that thefe Wounds were fo flight, ' that they fcarce were Skin deep, feeing that the "Devils are us'd to break and tear in pieces the Poffeffed, when they go out of them ? unlefs for this, that the Superior did not hate her felf enough, to make Deep and Dangerous ' Wounds.

Sect. 29. Though this pretended Miracle, ftudied with much Care, and manag'd with much H 4 Skill,

104

Skill, had not however, fucceeded very well, the Commiffary, who fupprest universally, whatfoever made against the Possession, and who gave Authority to all that might confirm it, forbore not to make his Verbal Process of the Expulsion of three Devils, Afmodee, Grefil, and Aman, by three Wounds, made beneath the Region of the Heart of the Sifter Jeanne des Anges, and they were not afraid to produce the Verbal Procefs, amongst the Papers which they made use of against Grandier. Lactance feeking to diffipate the fufpicions which he knew to be rais'd in the Minds of the Beholders of this illusion, demanded the next Day of Balaam, one of the Four Devils who continued in the Body of the Superior, why Almodee and his two Companions were gone, whilft the Face and Hands of the Superior were hid from the Eyes of the People ? 'Tis, faid he, to retain a great many in unbelief. After this manner this Devil, who was in good intelligence and agreement with FatherTranquille, endeavour'd to make good the Father's reafons. They have caufe (faid this Father, complaining of those that were disfatisfied) to be offended at "the fmall civility and courtefy of these Devils, " who have not had a refpect for their Merits, and the Quality of their Perfons; but if the greateft * part of these had examin'd their own Confciences, * possibly they would find that the cause of their " diffatisfaction proceeded from thence; and that " they ought rather to be reveng'd of themfelves ^e by a good Penance, and not to bring prying Eyes and a vicious Confcience, to return incredulous, Thus these crafty Exorcists do always find reasons to confound the Gainfayers, or rather evalions to dazle the simple and the bigots; for if the Parts they acted happen'd to fucceed, they were Miracles, wherein fhone

Shone the Power which the Church gives to its Minifters; and if the Succefs was not favourable, 'twas the incredulity of the Spectators, which was the Caufe; If the Devil obey'd, he was conftrain'd by the Power of Exorcifms; and if he were not obedient, 'twas permitted him to use them fo, for a just Punishment from G O D, against the Unbelievers, to continue them in unbelief.

Sect. 31. 'Twas reported, that Six lufty and ftrong Men, could not reftrain the Poffelled from making their Contorfions. Duncan perhaps, with a little to much confidence, depending upon the Protection of the Marshal de Breze, attempted to try an Experiment, to the great Difpleafure of the Father Recoller ; for having laid hold on the Right-Hand of the Superior, with one of his, the endeavour'd to make him loofe his hold, as foon as Lactance had order'd theDevil to make her Contorfions; but fhe could not perform them, but with her Legs, and her Left-Arm; fhe was in vain conjur'd to do them with her Right-Arm, as with her Left; I cannot, faid the at last, for be holds me; let go her Arm, faid the Exorcift, to Duncan, for how can Contorfions be made, if you hold her? If it is a Devil, reply'd Duncan, with a loud Voice, he ought to be stronger than I; As good a Philosopher as you are, this is ill Logick, reply'd Lastance, with eagernefs, for a Devil out of a Body, is stronger than you; but being in a feeble Body, such as the is, tis not necessary that he should be as strong as you, for his natural Actions are proportion'd to the force of the Body that he Poffeffeth. ' This good Father (fays Duncan, in the Book where he has left this Hiftory, remembers not that he has Read in the Gospel, that the Demoniacks broke the Cords and Chains wherewith they were bound, and that the Ritual puts amongst ⁴ the

106

the Marks of Possession, Vires Supra atatis & con-ditionis naturam ostendere, To exert strength beyond the nature of the Age or Quality of the Party posses. " Duncan added, that next Day he did the fame " thing to the Sifter Agnes, and that he was pray'd " not to hold her Hand too faft, becaufe the Superi-'or had complain'd that he had hurt her, by 'holding her too ftrongly; and that thefe things were done in the prefence of the " Commandeur de la Porte, Lauberdemont, and a great "many Persons of Quality. He reported further, that the first time that he faw the Nun, his arrival caus'd a little difgrace to the Devil Grefil, becaufe the Exorcift having adjur'd him to tell his Name he was twice deceiv'd, calling him the first time Benoit, and half an Hour after Texier, which were the Names of the two other Phylicians of Saumur, after which he would not conjectrue more, although at the Third time he might have been able to find out the true Name, becaufe the Nun had at other times heard thefe Phylicians spoken of, especially during the Sicknefs of her Mother, of which fhe died, or at least there was one of them fent for, to visit her, but their Countenances were alike unknown to her.

Sett. 32. There paft nothing remarkable, from the Twentieth of May, till the Thirteenth of June, which was Famous for the vomiting a Quill of a Feather, of a Fingers length, which the Superior caft up, for only the Devils that poffeft her, were fertil in Miracles, and obey'd from time to time, the Voice of the Exorcifts; the others were Malicious, Rebellious, and Difobedient, who took care to do nothing extraordinary, for the Glory of GOD, and for that of the Church and its Minifters. The Commiffary made a very exact Verbal Process

Process of this last Miracle, and of another Vomiting of a Silk Button, which the fame Nun did Vomit the Eighth of July following. But what Verbal Process might he not have made of that which Saint Augustine reports? That there were feveral People, who after their having fwallow'd feveral Things, and kept them fome time in their Bowels, fetch'd up those they had a mind to, and drew them as out of a Pouch. This Marvel was yet greater than that of the Superior, and for all that, those that wrought them, were not posses'd with Devils. Sect. 33. The Bishop of Poictiers, came to Londun, the Sixteenth of the fame Month of June ; twas told him directly, by Father Tranquille, "That the Devils, who had fojourn'd there for fome time, could not be driven out but by aBlow of the Scepter ; and that the Crofier was not fufficient to break the Head of this Dragon, who had ' caft his Poifon against innocent Souls. For the Bishop never had a Mind to be concern'd in Perfon in this Affair, if it had not been supported by the Royal Authority, and that of the Cardinal; but with fuch Warrantees he made no difficulty to enter into the Lift. He told those who came to falute him at his arrival. That he was not come to take Cognizance of the Truth of the Possession, but to make it believ'd by those n ho were yet doubtful, and to discover the Schools of Magick, as well for Men as Women. It was well underflood what that meant, Thathe came to begin an effablishment of a kind of Inquisition which had been before projected. He himfelf did not exorcife, 'twas the Father Recollect that exorcis'd in his prefence; and he permitted that the Exorcift should presuppose, as evident, that Gran-dier was a Magician, although this was the thing in in question. Infringo, faid he to the Devil, Omne Pactum, five a Domino tuo Lucifero, five a Magistro tuo Grandiero, I diffolve every Past, whether from thy Lord Lucifer, or from thy Master Grandier. Then they began to publish among the People, that they ought to believe the Polleflion, feeing that the King, the Cardinal, and the Bilhop, did credit it, and that one could not fuspect it, without rendering himfelf guilty of High-Treason against GOD and Man, and without exposing himfelf in the Quality of a Complice of Grandier, to the strokes of the terrible Juffice of Laubardemont. And indeed, if there were any one yet who durst hesitate and suspend his Judgment, he was prefently treated as one damn'd, and worfe than a Heretick; and most of the other Catholicks, would no more communicate with him, than with one excommunicated. Memin and all the Cabal publish'd boldly every where that he muft be a Devil, who could make any doubt of the Poffeffion. * To words, fome added Writings; "Tis this which mades us fay, with affurance, " (fays Father Tranquille, in one of his Books) that this Enterprize is the Work of GOD, feeing that 'tis the work of the King. And writing ae gainft the Cafe of Grandier, and fome other Pieces " made by the Incredulous, he fays, That their Libels did offend the Two Powers, the Regal, and Episcopal. He fays further, That if there be a " Perfon in the World, who has feen clearly into ^s this bufinefs, and whofe Judgment ought to be ' follow'd; it is the King, who believes the Poffef-" fion, and who makes not this Affair his own, to render himfelf a Complice of a Cheat. 'Tis " the most Eminent, my Lord the Cardinal, the " first Perfon of State, who believes the Poffession ; and not only believes it, but next to his Majefty, the

109

£. the Enterprize of this Affair is owing to his Piety ¢ and to hisZeal, as the Letters which he has writ to C Monsieur Laubar demont sufficiently testifie; at the ¢ reading whereof, one cannot but admire his good-¢ nefs, as well as the greatness of his Soul, to fee ¢ that he who moves the World, and shakes ¢ Monarchies by his Wife Counfels, undertakes, ¢ with the Care of a Father, the comforting thefe ٤. Nuns; and with the Zeal of a Prelate, the com-¢ plaint of the Church, offended by this Sorcery. The Author of the Demonomany of Loudun, " proves also the Possession, by this Argument, the King and Monfieur the Cardinal do Autho-' rife it; it cannot than be doubted. So that no one durft open his Mouth to tell his Sentiment, and fome already began to feel the Yoke of this kind of Inquisition, which the Exorcists had delign'd to eftablish.

Sect. 34. Amongft many particular things which were done before the Bifhop, this deferves to be related in the fame Words wherein they are fet down in a Manufcript Relation, which has been accounted faithful, and very exact by all Perfons that liv'd at that time; it feems to have been writ by a good Roman Catholick, throughly convinc'd of the Truth of the Poffellion, and of the Power of the Exorcifts over the Devils, as well as of the Integrity of thefe laft; and is as follows:

Friday the Twenty Second of June, 1634. being the Vigil of Saint John, at Three of the Clock in the Afternoon, Monsteur dePoilters, and Monsteur de Laubardemont, being in the Church of Saint Croffe at Loudun, to continue the Exorcifins of the Orfuline Nuns, by the Order of the faid Sieur Laubardemont Commission Grandier, dier, Prieft and Parfon, accus'd, and nam'd Magician, by the faid poffelled Nuns, to whom were produc'd by the faid Commilfary, Four Pacts, reported at feveral times, in the foregoing Exorcifms, by the faid Poffeffed, which the Devils ' who poffefs'd them, faid were made with the " faid Grandier, for many ends; but one in particu-' lar, made by Leviathan, on Saturday, the Seven-' tcenth of the prefent Month ; compos'd of the Flefh and Heart of an Infant, taken at one of ^k their Sabats (or Witches nocturnal Affemblies) held at Orleans, in 1631. and of the Ashes of a ⁶ Confecrated Wafer, and of the Blood and ⁶ the — of the faid Grandier, by which Levia-" than faid, he had entred the Body of the Sifter " Jeanne des Anges, Superior of the faid Nuns; " and had possels'd her with his Affociates, Behe-" mot, Ilaacarum, and Balaam, and this the Eighth ' of December, 1632. The other compos'd of the ⁴ Seeds of Oranges and Pomegranades, given by t. Almodee, then pollefling the Sifter Agnes, Thurfday the Twenty Second of the prefent Month, " made between the faid Grandier, Almodee, and a " Number of other Devils, to hinder the per-' formance of the Promises of Beherit, who had " promis'd for a Sign of his going out, to lift the · Cap of the Commiffary two Pikes high, the ' Space of a Miferere. All which Pacts fhew'd to " the faid Grandier, he faid, without being any ' way aftonish'd, but with a constant and generous " refolution, that he knew not in any fort, what " belong'd to those Pacts; nor had ever made " them; and knew not an Art capable of fuch things, " nor ever had communication with the Devils : " and was abfolutely ignorant of that which they al-Iedged. Whereof there was made aVerbalProcefs " which

III

¢

¢

which he fign'd. This done, there were brought all the faid poffelled Nuns, to the Number of Eleven or Twelve, comprizing the three Secular Maids alfo poffefs'd, into the Choir of the Church, ac-C companied by a great many Friars, Carmelites, Capucins, and Recollects, Three Phylicians, and c a Chirurgeon ; which Nuns, at their entrance, c us'd fome wanton Expressions, calling the faid c Grandier their Master, teftifying to him their ¢ Joy to fee him. Then Father Lastance, Gabriel a Recollect, and one of the Exorcifts, exhorted all the Affiftants to lift up their Hearts to GOD 6 with an extraordinary fervour, to make acts of Contrition, for the Offences committed against that adorable Majefty; and to befeech him, that fo many Sins might not put a ftop to the defigns which his Providence had for his Glory, on that occasion; and for an outward Mark of their inc ward contrition, to fay the Confiteor, in order to ¢ to receive the Benediction of Monsieur the Bi-¢ shop of Poictiers; which being perform'd, he ¢ continued to fay, the Matter in queftion was of ¢ fo great weight, and fo important to the Truths 6 of the Roman Catholick Church, that this only ċ confideration, ought to ferve for a Motive to 6 excite their Devotion; and that otherwife, the Affliction of these poor Nuns were fo strange, ¢ after their having been folong, that Charity o-¢ blig'd all those who have right to labour their ŝ Deliverance, and the expulsion of the Devils, to ¢ employ the power of their Character for fo worċ thy a Subject, by the Exorcifms which the 5 Church prefcribes her Paffors; and directing his 6 Speech to Grandier, he told him, that being of this Number, by the Holy Unction of Prieft-٤ hood, he ought to contribute his power and Zeal, · if

112

if it pleas'd Monsieur the Bishop, to permit him, ' and to commute his fufpenfion, by his Authori-ty; which Monfieur the Bifhop having granted, the Father Recollect prefented a Stole to the faid Grandier ; who turning himfelf towards the faid Bifhop, ask'd him, if heallow'd him to take it, to " whom having answer'd Yes, he put the faid Stole on his Neck, and then the Father Recollect gave ' him a Ritual, which he defir'd leave of the faid ^c Bifhop to take as before, and receiv'd his Benediction; proftrating himfelf at his Feet to Kifs them. Whereupon the Veni Creator Spiritus ha-' ving been Sung, he arofe and directed his Speech to the Bishop of Poictiers, and faid to him, my Lord, whom must I exorcise? To which it being ' answer'd him, by the faid Bishop, These Maids. "He went on and faid, What Maids? To which ' he was answer'd, These possessed Maids; So that " (faid he) my Lord, I am then oblig'd to believe the · Poffefion ; the Church believes it, I believe it then " alfo, although I think that a Magician cannot caufe a · Christian to be posses'd, without his consent. Then ' fome cry'd out, that he was a Heretick to ad-" vance this Belief, that that was an unqueftionable " Truth, receiv'd unanimoufly by all the Church, " and approv'd by the Sorbon. Whereupon he anfwer'd, that he had never grounded his Faith " upon it, that 'twas only his Opinion ; that in e-· very cafe he fubmitted to the Judgment of the " Body, of which he was but a Member; and that ' no Perfon was ever accounted a Heretick, for " having had Doubts, but for obftinately perfe-' vering in them; and that what he had propos'd ' to the faid Lord Bifhop, was to be affur'd by his ' Mouth, that he should not abuse the Authority of the Church. And being brought by the Father * ther Recollect to the Sifter Catharine, as the most ignorant of all, and least fuspected to understand Latine, he began the Exorcism in the form ¢ prefcrib'd by the Ritual, but could not conti-6 nue long, becaufe all the other Poffelfed began to ε be tormented by the Devils, and made ftrange ς and horrible Cries ; and amongst the other, the ŝ, Sifter Claire advanc'd towards him, reproaching 6 him for his blindness and obstinacy, fo fully, ¢ that in that contention, he left the other poffef-C fed which he had undertook, and directed his ¢, Discourse to the Sister Claire. But'tis to be obferv'd, that before the Exorcism began, he c told her, fpeaking in Latine, as he had almost als ways done, explaining himfelf a little after in French, That as for her, the understood Latine, and c that he would ask her Questions in Greek, it be-¢ ing one of the Marks requir'd, to justify an undoubted Possession, and that the Devils under-¢ ftood all forts of Languages; To whom theDevil ٤ reply'd, by the Mouth of the Poffeffed, Ab! how cunning art thou? Thou knowest well that this is one of ٤ the Conditions of the Past, made between thee first and ς us, not to answer at all in Greek. To which he anŝ fwer'd, O fine Illusion, O'excellent Evasion! And then 'twas told him, that he was permitted to exorcife in Greek, provided that he writ down first, what he would fay. The faid Possefied offer'd however, to answer him in what Language he would, but there was no room for that : for all the Poffeifed began again their Cries and outrages, with Imprecations not to be equal'd. and mighty ftrange Convultions, perfifting to accufe the faid Grandier of Magick, and of the Sorcerv which infefted them; offering to break hisNeck, if 'twas permitted them, and ftriving all manner of Wavs

¢

¢

ċ

¢

114

" ways to abufe him, which was hind'red by the Protection of the Church, and by the Priefts 4 6 and Friars there prefent, taking extraordinary 6 pains to reftrain the Fury wherewith they were c. all agitated. He in the mean time, continued 6 without any trouble or emotion, beholding ftedfastly the faid Posses of Postes of 6 6 ¢ and addreffing himfelf to Monfieur the Bifhop, ċ and to Monfieur de Laubardemont, he told them, 6 that he implor'd the Authority Ecclefiaftical and Royal, whereof they were Ministers, to ¢ c command these Devils to break his Neck, or at 6 leaft to make a visible Mark in his Forehead, in cafe that he was the Author of the Crimes of 6 6 which he was accusid, to the end, that thereby 6 the Glory of GOD might be manifested, the 6 Authority of the Church exalted, and he him-6 felf confounded; Provided neverthelefs, that thefe Maids might not touch him with their 6 6 Hands, which they would not at all permit, as 5 well not to be the caufe of the Mifchief which 6 might befall him, as not to expose the Authori-$ ty of the Church to the Wiles of the Devils, who might have contracted fome Pact upon this 6 Subject with the faid Grandier. Then the Exor-' cifts, to the Number of Eight, having en-' joyn'd the Devils filence, and to ceafe the Diforders they made, they order'd Fire to ⁶ be brought in a Chafindish, into which were • thrown all the Pacts, one after another, • and then the former Affaults redoubled with Convultions fo horrible, Cries fo hideous, and Postures fo frightful, that that · Affembly might pafs for a Sabat of Witches, " were it not for the Holyness of the Place, and the · Ouality

Quality of the Perfons prefent, of whom the leaft concern'd, at leaft to outward Appearance, was the faid Grandier, although he had more Caufe than any other, the Devils continuing their Accufations, naming to him the Places; ¢ 6 the Hours and Days of their Communications ¢ with him ; his first Sorceries, his Scandals, his ' Infenfibility, his Renunciations made of his Faith and of GOD; To which he reply'd, ٤ ' with a bold Affurance, that he gave the Lye ' to those Calumnies, so much the more unjust; 6 as they were far remote from his Profession ; " That he renounc'd Satan and all the Devils; 6 that he knew them not, and fear'd them yet lefs ; ' that in fpite of them he was a Christian, and ¢. a perfon confectated with Holy Orders; That " he trufted in GOD, and in Jefus Chrift, although a great Sinner as to the Reft; but however, that he had never given Way to these Abominations, and that they could not ċ give a pertinent and Authentic Teftimony ć against him. And here 'tis impossible by any Difcourfe to express that which ten impress. Senfes; The Eyes and Ears receiv'd the impress. Senfes that there was never any thing feen like them, and at leaft, without being è accuftom'd to fuch horrid Spectacles as those are who facrifice to Devils. There was no courage which could defend it felf from the Aftonifhć ment and Horrour, that this Action produced. ¢ Grandier amidft all this, continued always the ¢ fame ; that is to fay, infenfible of many Prodic gies, finging the Hymns of the Church, with the 6 reft of the People, being fearlefs, as if he had a C. Legion of Angels for his Guard. And truly one ć of these Devils cry'd out, that Beelzebub was Pz then then between him and Father Tranquille a Capucin ; and upon what he had faid, addreffing his Speech to the Devil, Obmutescas, Be filent, the faid Devil began to fwear, that that was the Watch-Word between them; but they were forc'd to tell all, becaufe GOD was incompac rably flronger than all Hell. So that all were ready to fall upon him, offering to Tear him in Pieces, to fhew his Marks, ć C 6 and to ftrangle him, though he were their " Mafter. Whereupon he took occasion to tell c them, that he was neither their Master, nor " their Servant; and that 'twas an incredible ' thing, that even in the fame confession, they 6 fhould declare him their Master, and offer to 6 strangle him. And then the Maids having " thrown their Slippers at his Head, he faid, fee " how the Devils accufe themfelves. At last this Vio-· lence and Outrages increaft to fuch a Degree, ' that without the fuccour and hind'rance of Per-' fons who were in the Choir, the Author of this * Spectacle would have infallibly ended his Life; " and all they could do for him, was to get him out of the Church, and to fave him from the fury which threatned him. So that he was brought back to his Prifon, at Six of the Clock in the " Evening, and thereft of the Day was employ'd to recover the Spirits of these poor Maids out of " the Possession of the Devils.

Sect. 35. Those who writ for Grandier, after this Storm faid, that these Maids who appear'd fo infolent, that they neither had a respect for the Place, nor the Perfons who were there assembled, and so enrag'd against this Poor Man, that they feem'd feem'd to have a mind to tear him in Pieces, without the aid of the Guardian of the Capucins and other Exorcifts, whofe intention was not to leave him then for a Prey to their rage, but to referve him for more terrible Punishments, the horror and quality whereof, would not fuffer the Truth of the Possession to be doubted of, and whereby they pretended to gain to themfelves the reputation of an extraordinary Sanctity, and miraculous Power. 'Twas observ'd further, that the more prudent Perfons were much aftonish'd to fee, that whilft they were exorcis'd by Grandier, they anfwer'd only by a torrent of Injuries and of Spitings which they vomited against him, and especially that the Superior made use of fo bad an evalion for not answering in Greck; faying, That there was a Patt between him and her which debarr'd her from answering in that Language. As for the Four Pasts, of which there has been mention made, 'twas promis'd folemnly, that one of the Four fhould fall from the Top of the Roof of the Church to the Bottom, although the Relation has mention'd nothing of it, no more than of the precedent Fact; but they were much furpriz'd to fee it fall from under the Hood of the Superior, 'Twasalfo observ'd that Grandier had expressy requirid, That this pretended Pact of Silence fhould be broke. That may be done (faid he) for GOD has given Power to his Church over the Devils, and in Truth you bouft of having broken several others which were not of any confequence. But they took care not to deprive themfelves of the only means they had to except these Devils from a proof which they were not able to undergo. The Author of the Demonomania of Loudun has been bold enough to write, that Grandier 13 durft

1:7

durft not venture to interrogate the Nuns in Greek; but although the foregoing Relation was writ by a Man fo perfuaded of the Pollellion, that for want of other Proofs in his favour, he makes ule of the accufed Perfon, which one cannot too much admire, and which could not come from the Tefti-mony of a good Confcience. This Relation is however, fufficient to confute this Lye, for it exprelly maintains, That when Grandier endeavour'd to interrogate in Greek, the Poffeffed interrupted him by confused and dreadful Noises, which were all the Marks of Poffellion that they gave in that Circumstance, which had not been fo great, nor would have frighted fo much the Author of the Relation, if they had not produc'd at one time the Poffeffed in fo great a Number ; and if they had not intermingled and confounded fomany Cries and Voices together, and made fo many Poftures and different Contorfions, that they gave doubt-lefs to this action, the air of a Diabolical and Infernal confusion, which furpriz'd those that were ftruck by these outward appearances, who could not imagine that the perverfnefs of humane Nature alone, was able to produce effects fo horrible, and fo extravagant, that they confounded Religion, Piety and Reafon.

Sett. 36. The laft Day of the fame Month of June, one of the Poffeffed, who was exorcised in the Church of Notre Dame du Chateau, was impudent enough to fay, that Grandier had fent to a great many Damfels, to make them conceive with Moniters; a Thing which modefly fuffers not to be named, and which fhe then boldly called by the right Name; the Exorcift prefuppoing that the Devils

Devil had fpoke the Truth, and without objecting to her that the pretended Magician was too well guarded to be able to attempt any thing like it; nor that one could apprehend what advantage he could receive by it, efpecially in his prefent condition, he was contented to ask her, why the effect did not fucceed? To whom the Maid reply'd, with abundance of immodeft, filthy, and unbefeeming Words, which made not any coherent Difcourfe; and by unheard of Blafphemies, which founded fhameful to Chaft Ears, and made People tremble who had the leaft Piety. Neither could they contain the indignation which all thefe Horrors had excited; and they began to fpeak of it openly, when they faw affix'd to all the Corners of the Town, and heard publifh'd through all Publick Places, the following Order.

Sett. 37. "IS expressly forbid, to all Persons of whatsoever Quality or Condition they be, to defame, or otherwise to undertake to speak against the Nuns and other Persons of Loudun, afflicted with evil Spirits; their Exorcists, or those that afflist them, whether in Places where they are exorcised, or elsewhere, in any fashion or manner whatsoever, upon the Penalty of Ten Thoufand Livres fine, and other greater Sums, and Corporal Punishment, if the Case deserves it. And to the end that none pretend ignorance, this present Order so this City, and affix'd as well to the Gates of the so the case of the Places where it stall be requiste. Given at Loudun the Second of July, 1634.

Sect. 38.

Sect. 38. That Order abfolutely ftopt the Mouths of all those that had a Mind to defend the Innocence of Grandier. For to maintain that the Nuns where not posselled, was a Black and unpardonable reproach, against which, the justice of Laubardemont was arm'd with all feverity, and which he pretended to punish rigorously, whilst there was no way to attain to the justification of Grandier, but by making out that Truth, and by convicting the Poffeffion of Imposture. The Cabal believing themfelves out of Danger, by the precautions they had taken, acted with more liberty, and with what carrier they pleas'd, in affurance, that now no one durft be fo bold as to take upon him to dare only to Murmur in Private. Wherefore Aftaroth, and two other of his Companions, or if you will, Elizabeth Blanchard, and two other Secular Maids, who had lifted her felf in the Regiment of the Posselled, did not fear to take a turn in the Country, with the Exorcift Father Peter a reformed Carmelite, and his Brother Ecoute ; in fpite of the fcandal they must needs know it would cause in those who wond'red that the Devils who poffels'd these Maids, had not hind'red these good Fathers, from having fo great a familiarity with them ; but they knew not that as the Jefuits gave a Play-day to their Schollars every Thursday, the Exorcifts had a fufficient power to give one every Tusfday to the Devils, of whom without doubt they were the Mafters.

Sect. 39. 'Tis to be prefum'd, that next Day, the Third of July, the Devil of Sifter Claire was also gone into the Country, and that he had left this Miferable Creature to her felf; feeing that with Tears in her Eyes, fhe declar'd publick-ly in the Church of Chateau, whither they had brought brought her to Exorcife her, that all that fhe had faid for Fifteen Days, were but meer Calumnies and Impostures; That she had done nothing but by the Order of the Recollect, Mignon and the Carmelites; and if they fequester'd her, 'twould be found that all thefe things were but feign'd and malicious. She made again the fame Declarations two days after, which was the Seventh of the Month; and the proceeded to far this last time, that the went out of the Church where they exorcis'd her, and would have run away, but Demorans ran after her and flopt her. The Sifter Agnes embolden'd by this Example, faid many times the fame Things, with Tears in her Eyes, intreating those who affisted at the Exorcifins, that they would take her out of that horrible captivity, under the weight whereof fhe groan'd. She re-fus'd one Day to Communicate, affuring her Exorcift, with a ferious Air, that fhe did not find her felf in a condition to do it. He did not omit to make her believe that 'twas her Devil that caus'd that repugnance, and gave her the Communion in fpite of her, notwithstanding the impiety that appear'd in this Action, and whatfoever confequences the Enemies of the Church might draw from it. Thefe two Miferable Maids feeing no hope of Succour, faid at last, that they prepar'd themselves to be extraordinarily ill treated at Home, for having reveal'd fo important a Secret, but that they were tormented by their Confciences, and forc'd to fpeak for their Difcharge; and to give Glory to GOD and the Truth, what foever might happen to them. La Nogeret protested alfo one Day, that she had accus'd an innocent Person, and that fhe begg'd Pardon of GOD; and turning herfelf one while towards the Bishop, another while while towards Laubardemont, fhe declar'd, that fhe thought her felf bound to make this Confession, for the discharge of her Confcience. This last did nothing but laugh, and the Bishop and the Exorcifts maintain'd, that the Devils made use of this Artifice to keep the People in unbelief. 'Twas necessary to render Grandier a Magician, whatfoever it coft, and whatfoever Authentick and convincing Proofs which daily appear'd in favour of his Innocence ; for they had the Secret to know, that the Devil lied, when he fpake to his Difcharge; and that he faid the Truth when he accus'd him; the Church imparting to her worthy Minifters, her infallible lights, to difcern the Truth from a Lie, in the contradictory propositions of the Devils: and these communicating them to the People, by means of the Authority of Laubardemont, whom no body had the Power or goodness to contradict. Sect. 40. A young Man who was at the Exorcisms the Eighth of July, having faid in Latine, that there was in the Body of Agnes, three Devils ferving Grandier, Tres Damones Servientes Grandiero; fay Mago, Magician, replies a Magistrate, and not Grandiero, Grandier ; this was a Name they refolv'd to extinguish, and to be fwallow'd up by that . Magician, or at least, which should be referv'd for one of the Devils. Wherefore the Demonomania of Loudun, relating the Names of the Eight which possessed Silter Claire, faid, that the Third was call'd Sans Fin, or elfe Grandier de Dominationibus: But People were perfuaded, that this Name, as it had Relation to Grandier, was likely in a fhort time to be extinguish'd with his Blood, when they understood that they had nam'd Commissions to try him. The World was already fo well acquainted with the Method of Cardinal Richelieu, by

by very many fad Examples, fuch as had been the Execution of the Marshal de Marillac, and many others, that fince they faw Commissions and do to take notice of an accusation of a Crime, although it was not Capital, they were affur'd that the Cardinal was refolv'd that the accused Person should periss by the Hands of a Hang man, and that the Commissions who were always his Creatures, would not fail to execute the Bloody Orders for which they were fent.

Sect.41. These Commissaries, to make and perfect the Process of Grandier, were, in confequence of a former Commiffion, already come to Loudun, where they had affifted at the Exorcifms, by the Subdelegation of Laubardemont, the one in one Church, and the other in another ; but they would produce at the Procefs, only the Verbal Proceffes of the Eighth and Ninth of July, as made fince their last Commission, which was made the same Fighth Day of July, whereby it is fignified, That the King appoints the Sieur de Laubardemont, the Sieurs Roatin, Richard and Chevalier, Counsellors of the Presidial Court of Poictiers ; Humain, Lieutenant Criminal to the Presidial of Orleans; Cottereau Prefident ; Pequineau Special Lieutenant ; and Burges, Counfellor to the Presidial of Tours ; Texier, Lieutenant General to the Royal Tribunal of St. Maixant; Dreux, Lieutenant General; de la Barre, Special Lieutenant to the Tribunal Royal of Chinon; la Picherie, Lieutenant Particular to the Royal Tribunal of Chatelleraud; and Rivrain, Lieutenant General to the Royal Tribunal of Beaufort. For altogether, or Ten of them in the Absence, Sickness, or lawful hindrance of the others, to make and perfect the Process of Grandier and his Complices, even to a definitive Sentence, and Execution of the same inclusively inclusively, what loever Oppositions or Appeals notwithstanding, All according to the Form prescribed by Edicts and Orders; And further appoints and ordains to the Offices of Advocate, and Attorney of the King the Sieurs Constant Counfeller and Advocate of the King of the Presidial Court of Poictiers. and James Deniau, Counfellor at la Fleche, in that Quality, to use conjointly, or one of the two in the place of the other, all diligence and needful expedition. By Virtue of which Commission, all those who were there named, except Conftant, the King's Advocate at Poictiers, who forbore medling in it, made the Procefs against Grandier, and condemn'd him to be burnt alive. But it was not put into the Hands of the Commissiries, as foon as it had been deliver'd; in the mean time there had happen'd, and did happen still, furprizing things at Chinon, as well as Loudun.

Sect. 4.2. Barre, to whom the Function of Exorcift was exceedingly acceptable, feeing himfelf, for convenience, excluded from exorcifing at Loudun, instructed and fitted fo well in fecret, two of his Votaries of Chinon, that he ventur'd at length, to produce them in Publick, as being poffeffed; One was call'd Catharine, and the other Jeanne, he began, the Thirtieth of May, 1634, to exorcife them in the Church of Saint James, of which he was the Curate. The Lieutenant General of the place made Verbal Proceffes of that which paft at thefe Exorcifins, and for as much as by the Example of those of Loudun, they accus'd Grandier of their being bewitch'd, they fail'd not to produce alfo, their Verbal Procefles against him, to which there was much regard shewn, as also to other Pieces of this nature, whereas they gave none to those of the Bailiff of Loudun, the Leiutenant Civil, and the other

other Judges, where the Truth was fo clearly reprefented, and where might have been found more than convincing proofs of the Falshood of the Acculation, and of that of the Possefilion, which they perceiv'd fo well, that to deftroy them, they had recourse to new Artificers, by rend'ring. these Magistrates fuspected. For they caus'd the Bailiff to be accus'd of Magick, by the Perfons Poffefs'd at Chinon ; whofe Probity fo well known to all the World, could not fhelter him from this attempt; and there were fome People credulous enough to believe fo ridiculous a Calumny, which was not contriv'd till after the Cabal of the Confederates of the Possession had faild in another attempt; which they would have put upon him in this manner. A Beggar-Woman having knock'd at his Gate, put a Letter into the Hands of one of his Servants, which fhe faid fhe receiv'd of a Man who rode through the Street on Horfe-back, ordering her to carry it to him : The Bailiff having receiv'd that Letter, and open'd it, he faw that there was a Proposition made him, to affift in a Defign for Grandier's efcape, which they promis'd to execute infallibly, if he would well inftruct them where the place of his Prifon was, giving him notice that they waited for his answer, at the White-Horfe-Inn in Chinon. As the Name, the Seal, and Writing were unknown to him, he mistrusted the Snare that was laid for him; and in Order to escape it, he fent the Letter to Laubardemont; caufing him to understand, that he thought himfelf bound in Duty to take that courfe, to the end, that whether feignedly, or otherwife, it hap-pen'd, that fome violence fhould be offer'd to the Houfe where Grandier was Prifoner, he might not be accus'd or fuspected of being the Author of fuch an an Enterprize: Sometime after, judging that he had nothing more to fear in that intrigue, he earneftly defir'd to have the Letter again, and offer'd to give his Receipt for it; and upon the refufal that was made him, he entreated at leaft a Copy of it, compar'd with the Original, to make a ftrict enquiry after those who were the Authors, and to profecute them at Law. Laubardemont was deaf to his requests, and thereby fecur'd his Friends from a diligent fearch, which would not have been for their reputation, although he thould even have made use of his Authority, which feem'd without bounds to shelter them from the rigout of Justice.

Sect. 43. They gave not thus over their Defigns upon him, they endeavour'd to affront him to the utmost; for one of his near Kinfwomen was accus'd of Magick, by Elizabeth Blanchard, a fecular. Maid, Poffeffed, who was lodg'd in the Houfe of the Widdow Barot, Sifter of Mignon's Brother-inlaw, and allied almost to all the Cabal. This poffeffed Perfon faid one Day, in the prefence of the Judges Commiffaries, Roatin, Richard, and Chevalier, that that Gentlewoman was a Witch ; and that one of her intimate Friends had brought from her a Pact, compos'd almost as the others, whereof mention has been made before ; but they found that that Accufation had caus'd fo much fcandal and murmuring in Loudun, where the Bailiff was much belov'd, that they thought best to oblige the Devil to unfay it again next Day, and to order him alfo to be filent; concerning other Officers of the Town, whom he had refolv'd to accufe of keeping a School of Magick, as he had already dar'd to fpeak the precedent Day to the Bishop of Poittiers in his Ear, and the Bilhop had reveal'd it, before they had determin'd to stiffe this Project, or at least to to fuspend it till after the Death of Grans dier.

Sect.44. In the mean time the Bailiff was fo odious to the Authors of the Polleffion, that they could not refrain from discovering their hatred and mischie-Vous intentions against him, in the Person of his Wife; who going into a Church where they exorcis'd, and where the Bishop was present, one of the Poffeffed Whifper'd to him, that that Lady was a Magician. Afterwards fhe repeated it aloud, speaking it to her felf, you have brought a Patt into this Church, faid she to her impudently. The Bailiffs Wife, who wanted not Presence of Mind nor Courage, addreft inftantly her Prayers to GOD with a loud Voice, and made divers Imprecations against the Devils, and against the Magicians; and in conclusion, she call'd upon the Exorcift to confound immediately, either her, or the pretended Possesied; and to make appear the Truth or the Falshood of that Accusation, by caufing the Devil to produce the Pact, according as they had the Power of the Church, and had boafted to have caus'd many others to be produc'd. Whereupon the Exorcifts Conjur'd the Devils, and order'd them to Obey, and repeated to them their Commands and Conjurations fo long, and at fo many feveral times, that they fpent two whole Hours in it; till the Night came upon them, which put them out of Perplexity, compelling the Company to depart.

Sett. 45. The laft Commiffion before mention'd, appear'd by the Publication which was made, and by the registring of it; after which the Judges Commission being affembled the Twenty Sixth of July, at the Convent of the Carmelites, they appointed there the Sessions, and the next Day, the the Twenty Seventh, they nam'd for Reporters Houmain, Lieutenant Criminal of Orleans, and Texier Lieutenant General Saint Maixant. The first was lodg'd at Duthibant's House, and every one of the others lodg'd with the Enemies of Grandier. The Twenty Eighth they order'd that a Copy of their Commission should be fignified to him, and the Order was executed the fame Day. He writ to his Mother at the fame time, the following Letter.

Mother,

128

Sect. 46. THE Kings deputed Attorney has given me your Letter, by which you inform me, that they have found my Papers in my Chamber, and have retain'd Juch as might ferve for my Justification, to put them into my hands, but they have not given me them; I I should have them, I am not in a condition to draw up Writings. As for the Memorials I cannot fay any thing, but what I have faid at the Procels, which confifts in two Articles. To the first, they examin'd me upon the Facts of my first accusation, to which I have given fatisfaction, and alledged that I am fully justified, which must be made appear by producing my Four Sentences of Absolution, viz. Two of the Presidial of Poictiers, and two others of my Lord Archbifliop of Bourdeaux. That if my Lords the Commissaries doubt of the Equity of the Same, they may, by their Authority, procure the Process which is in the Registry of the Court of Parliament, with my Cale, which ferves to discovor the Evil Practices that were then us'd against me. The Second Article is touching Magick and the Affliction of the Nuns, upon which I have nothing to fay but a very evident Truth, which is, that I am wholy innocent, and wrongfully accus'd; for which

which I have made my complaint to Justice; Which must be made appear by producing the Verbal Process of Monsteur theBailiff, wherein are inserted all the Petitions that I have presented, as well to the Judges Reyal, as to my Lord the Archbishop; whereof I gave once a fair Copy to my Lord de Laubardemont; that the King's Attorney has told me that he had also produc'd them. Be pleased to cause a Petition to be drawn up by our Attorney, who shall take such counsel as he shall think good. My Answers contain my Defences and Reasons : I have exhibited nothing that I do not justifie by my Writings and Witnesses, if my faid Lords give me leave. For the rest, Irely upon the Povidence of GOD; the Testimony of my Conscience, and the equity of my Judges; for the inlightning of whom I make continual Prayers to GOD, and for the conservation of my good Mother; to whom I pray GOD to restore me shortly, to render her better than I have ever done, the Services of ber Son;

and Servant,

Grandier!

And by a Postfoript.

Forafinuch as I know nothing here of that which is paft abroad in the World, if there has happen'd any thing in those Public Acts which may be useful, you may employ them as the Counfel shall thikn fit. They have read to me the Comfilmion of the King, with the Names of my Lords the Judges deputed to judge the Process definitively; and they have given me the List of their Names, which I send you.

Sect. 47.

Sett. 47. Whatfoever was the Opinion that he had of his Judges, those amongst the difinterested Perfons, who had fome Commerce with them, knew well that his deftruction was refolv'd on, with which they were not then fo fenfibly touch'd, as they had been, if they had not had a Mind employ'd in attending all the confequences of that Affair, which feem'd to threaten every particular Perfon with a like usage in his turn, by the Eftablishment of that Proposition, That the Devil duly exorcis'd, is compell'd to speak the Truth. The Judges Commiffaries flewing by all their proceedings, that they had Order to Authorize this Maxim. This Reflection concern'd the most infensible Perfons, and oblig'd them to put themfelves into a condition to prevent the effects of fodangerous a Doctrine; At laft all the Inhabitants being affembled upon the ringing of the Bell of the Town-House, refolv'd to address themselves directly to the King, to whom they writ the following Letter :

SIR,

Sect. 4.8. THE Officers and Inhabitants of your Town of Loudun, do find themfelves at last oblig'd to have recourse to your Majesty, most Humbly remonstrating, that the Exoreisms, that are made in the faid Town of Loudun, on the Nuns of Saint Urfula, and some secular Maids, who are said to be possed with evil Spirits, a Thing is committed very prejudicial to the Public, and to the quiet of your faithful Subjects, in as much as the Exoreists abusing their Ministry, and the Authority of the Church, propose Questions in the Exorcisins, which tend to the defamation of the best Families of the faid Town, and Monsser Laubardemont, Counsellor, deputed by your Majesty, has heretofore given so much credit credit to the Sayings and Answers of these Devils, That upon a false indication by them made, he had been in the House of a Gentlewoman with a great noise and number of People, to make a fearch for imaginary Books of Magick. As alfo other Gentlewomen had been Stopt in the Church, and the Doors (but to make an enquiry for certain pretended Magical Pasts, likewife imaginary. Since then, this milchief has gone fo far that at this time, they make Juch confideration of the Denunciations, Testimomies and Indications of the faid Devils, that there has been Printed a Pamphlet, and publish'd in the faidTown, by which they would establish this Belief in the Minds of the Judges, 'That the Devils duly 'exorcis'd speak the Truth; that one may upon " their Depolition pals a reasonable Judgment; and that next to the Truths of the Faith, and Dee monstrations of Sciences, there is not a greater certainty than that which comes from them ; and that when they believe the words of the Devil duly exorcis'd, they take his words not as the Father of Lies, but of the Church, which has Power to make the Devils to fpeak Truth. And to establish yet more powerfully this dangerous Doctrine, that there has been made in the faid Town, and in the presence of Monsieur de Laubardemont, two Sermons in conformity to the above faid Propositions. In confequence whereof, and upon fuch denunciations, the said Sieur de Laubardemont has again very lately taus'd to be arrested and taken Frisoner by an Exempt of the Grand Provost, a Maid of the best Families in the City, the same having been kept two Days in the House of a Gentleman, a Widower, then releas'd into the Hands, and under the Security of her kindred. In Jush fort, Sir, that the Petitioners fee and know, that they strive to establish amongst them; and in the Heart of your most Christian Kingdom, a refemblance of the K 2 Ancient

Ancient Oracles against the express Probibition of the Divine Law, and the Example of our Saviour, who has not suffer'd Devils to speak and publish things true and ncceffary to be believ'd, against the Authority of the Apofiles, and ancient Fathers of the Church, who have always made them hold their peace, and forbid to enquire of them, or become familiar with them; And alfo against the Doctrine of Saint Thomas, and other Doctor's and Luminaries of the Church. But befides that, the mischievous Maxims inserted in this Pamphlet, and which they wou'd now bring into credit, have been beretofore, and fince the Year 1620, rejected by the advice of the most Famous and renowned Doctors of the Sorbonn, and fince then condemn'd by the Decree, Cenfure and general Decision of the Faculty of Paris, made in the Tear 1623, upon a Book publifli'd concerning Three l'e sons possess d in Flanders, which contain the like Propasitions with those now in question. Therefore the Petitionersinduc'd by their proper interest, considering, that if they Autherife these Devils in their Answers and Oracles, the best Men, and the most virtuous and innocent, to whom confequently these Devils bear a mortal barred, would remain exposed to their Malice; bumbly request and befeech your Majesty to interpose your Royal Authority for the putting a stop to these abuses and profanations of Exercisms, which are daily made at Loudun, in the presence of the Holy Sacrament, wherein you will imitate the Zeal of the Emperor Charlemagne, one of your most august Predecessors, who hinder'd and did forbid the abuse which was commited in his time, by the application of some Sacraments, the usage whereof they alter'd and perverted, contrary to the design and end of their instituti-on. For these Reasons, Sir, may it please your Majefty, to ordain the faid Faculty of Paris to examine the faid Pamphlet and Cenfure hereto annex'd_to interpoje their 141626155 their Decree upon the Propositions, Doctrines, and Refolutions abovemention'd, whereunto your Majesty may give them such Power as is requisite; And that it may be permitted to the said Petitioners, and those amongst them who skall be concern'd to lodge an Appeal, by Writ of Error from the Interrogatories tending to defamation, made by the said Exorcists, and from all this which ensued thereupon, and to get relief of them either in the Court of Parliament of Paris, which is the natural Judge thereof, or in such other Court as it shall please your Majesty to ordain. And your Petitioners shall continue to pray to GOD for the Prosperity, Grandure and Inlargement of your just and glorious Empire.

Sett. 49. This Letter or Petition will not fuffer the Reader to doubt of what has been related concerning the Opinions which the honeft People had of the Proceedings of the Exorcifts, and those of Laubardemont, who was highly provok'd by this Action, and this Refolution, as well as the other Commission. But because they address'd themfelves to the King directly, they did not think fit to attempt any thing against those who had refolv'd it, and were contented only to make the following Order.

Restant and hait qualified of the faid

By

By the KING.

An EXTRACT of the Registers of the Commissioners appointed by the King, for the Judgment of the Process Criminal, made against Monssieur Urbain Grandier, and his Complices.

THereas it has been remonstrated by the C King's Attorney General, that on Tue day 6 laft the Eighth of this Month, the Bailiff of this ٤ Town call'd together an Affembly, compos'd for the most part of the Inhabitants professing the 6 C pretended reform'd Religion, and of Handicrafts 6 Men, in which there was held many injurious 1 Difcourfes, and tending to Sedition and popular 6 Commotions, upon Facts fally and calumnioully ¢ averred, concerning the Exorcifins which are c made publickly in this Town by the King's Au-f thority, and other things depending on our Com-6 miffion; And upon the notice which has fince 6 then been given us by him, We have heard as welltheLieutenantCriminal as theKing'sAdvocate 6 and Attorney of the Bailiwick of this Town, toge-0 ther with theGeneral Affellors, and Sheriffs of the 4 fame, and Champion Clerk of the faid Affembly ; 4 and examin'd a Memorial containing the Names of 6 those who affisted at it, by which Act appears the F Enterprize and Attempt made by the faid Bailiff 4 in the faid Affembly, and the injurious Difcourfes 2 which have been held there, which are difown'd 6 by the difcreeteft and beft qualified of the faid Inhabitants, who judg'd that the Confequence thereof, might be very pernicious to the Service 12 of the King, and to the Authority of the Court, if it were not speedily prevented. And therek upon

E upon requir'd that the faid Act of the Affembly c might be Cancell'd and Annull'd, and the injuri . ¢ ous Difcourfes held by them may be razed and ٤ blotted out, with prohibitions, as at other times, z, to the faid Bailiff and all others to make the ¢ like Affembly, and in the fame to propofe any ¢ thing concerning the Exorcifms, and other Facts L depending on our Commission; and that he was ¢ more amply inform'd of the injurious difcourfes 6 tending to Sedition, held as well in the faid ¢ Affembly, as elfewhere ; for the information, held, ¢ made and communicated to him, Right should be 6 done as is fitting; and having feen the faid A& of the Ē Affembly of the faidoth Day of the prefent Month, ¢ a Lift of the Names and Sirnames of fome of the 6 faid Inhabitants who affifted in the faid Affembly; C Our Verbal Process of the Eighth and Ninth of c the faid Month, containing the hearing of the faid ٤ Lieutenant Criminal, Advocate and Attorney c of the King in the Bailiwick, and of the faid c Champion; I he Decree of the faid Niath Day of the prefent Month, And all being confider'd, the ¢ c faid Commiffaries deputed by the King, Sovereign ¢ Judges in this Caufe, without having any regard to C the faid Act of the prefent Month, which we have ¢ Cancell'd and do Cancel as Null, made by attempt 6 against the Respect and Authority given us by 4 the King, and upon Facts calumnious and in-٤. jurious, and tending to a popular Sedition, and ¢ contrary to ufual Forms, by practices, and £ private combinations; Have order'd, and do 6 Order, that the Minutes of the faid Act shall 6 be exhibited, and put in our Registry by Champi-6 on Clerk of the faid Affembly this Day, that the fame having been feen and communicated to 6 the Kings Attorney General, We prohibit and 6 forbid as formerly, as well the faid Bailiff, General K4

136

ral Affesfors, and others, either to call together hereafter fuch Assemblies, or in any others, about things concerning the faid Power given us ⁶ by his Majefties Commission, or in any manner to " meddle with the Fact hereof, upon the Penalty of ⁶ 200000 Livres fine, and other greater Sum, if ⁶ the Cafe requires it; faving to the faid Inhabi-" tants and other Perfons, liberty to address themfelves to us upon the complaints they would " make concerning that which paft at the Exor-6 cifms, and other circumstances and dependen-^e cies of our Commission; and doing right more-· over to the Conclusions of the King's Attorney, " have Enacted, and do Enact, That there shall be a fuller Information made before us of the injurious 6 and feditious Propositions which have been made, as well in the faid Affembly, as elfewhere, for 6 the faid information related and communicated 6 to the King's Attorney, to be provided fuch a Decree, as shall appertain thereunto. And to the end, that our perfent Crder may be known to every one, we command that it be fignified as " well to the Perfon of the faid Bailiff, as to the General Affestors of the Town, and more. over read and publish'd by Sound of Trumpet, and fix'd to the places and Corners of the faid Town, as accuftom'd to be done. Given at " Loudun, the-Day of August, 1634. Sign'd Nozai E Clerk.

Seef. 50. If the Petition was an undeniable Proof of the Sentiments of the Publick, this Decree is one no lefs evident of the unjuft and Arbitrary Power, which Laubar demont ufurp'd. This little Tyrant would that they fhould addrefs to him upon the Complaints they had to make against himfelf, and of the manner whereby he abus'd bus'd the Power which he had in his Hand. He order'd that the Petitions they had drawn up to prefent to the King, fhould be fupprefs'd and torn in Pieces; and that there fhould be an Information made against the Authors of fuch an attempt, or rather of fo lawful a Proceeding. Certainly it had been very difficult, that the Voice of a private Person, and a miserable Captive, as this Grandier was, fhould have been able to arrive at the Ears of the Monarch; if this of all the Inhabitants of a Town, asserted in a Body with their Officers, according to Custom, and in the preferib'd Rules, was stifled and stopt, by artificial and violent Means.

Sect. 51. Two Days after this Order had been publish'd and posted up, Grandier caus'd a Petition to be prefented to his Judges, tending to a Second Visit; And these are some of the Reasons upon which it was grounded. ' Do not my Lords, re-' ly upon the Visit that was pretended to have been ' made, you may confider the nullities by the Cafe " which has been prefented to you; But 'twas o-" mitted that Adam the Apothecary impudent-' ly thrusting himself amongst these pretended Phyficians, and Mannouri the Chirurgeon, ' into the Chamber where the Vifit was " made, he dar'd to fign the Report which was given, whereof Monsieur de Laubardemont having been advertiz'd, feverely reprov'd this ' Man, in fuch manner that 'twas needful to difallow this Report; and to make another, which as'tis faid, has been done upon other like occafions. He befought the Judges not to defer the ordering this Second Vilit, which if well and duly made by Phylicians of Probity and Ability, would be as a Touch-stone to discover the Truth. He remonstrated remonstrated to them, That the Physicians of Villages and youngMen, ought not to be call'd upon an occafion fo extraordinary; That they ought not to be lodg'd in the Houses of his declar'd Enemies, nor to have daily communications with them, and with the Nuns; That the Head of Mannouri the Chirurgeon, which shook much, without doubt through fome fault of the Brain, was not proper to difcern the principals of the Actions in controverfy, nor make a folid Judgment of them; That the furest way to penetrate into this Bufinefs, would be to do, as the Lords in Parliament fetting at Thonars did, according to the Recital which Pigrai, Chirurgeon to Henry the Third, made in the Tenth Chapter of his Epitome of Phylic and Chirurgery; wherein he fays, that Fourteen Perfons who were accus'd of Sorcery, having been condemn'd to Death by the Judges of the Places, after having been visited before them, were notwithstanding fent away abfolv'd by the Parliament, upon the new Vifit which was made by the Author, in the prefence of two Counfellors of the Court, appointed for that purpose, and of Three of the King's Phyficians, by whom there was found neither Mark nor Appearance of those things wherewith the accused Perfons had been charg'd. This Chirurgeon added, that he did not know that 'twas the capacity or fidelity of those who had given their Report; but Grandier maintain'd that he knew but two much, that 'twas the incapacity and malice of those who had visited him. This Requeft was not more favourably answer'd than the precedent. They have however acknowledg'd in the Extract of the Proofs which are in the Process, Src. ' That this may be faid against the Instruction, That the Chirurgeon, who affifted at the ' Vifits, Wifts, was a Kinfman of the Sieur de Silly, who was faid to be one of the Inffruments of the Deftruction of Grandier, but that he was there but as a Witnefs, and that they were the Six Phyficians not fulpected, who affifted there and gave their Report: But who will believe it? And how can it be maintain'd, That he who manag'd the Probe, and apply'd it, was but a Witnefs in this Action? Can one refrain from concluding that thefe are the Phyficians who were indeed but Witneffes? and yet Witneffes fulpected, blameable and difallow'd, although by a continuation of Injuftice, they have not been willing to allow of lawful caufes of recufation which were alledg'd againft them.

128

Sect. 52. So many irregular and violent pro. ceedings, fo many denials of Justice, fo many refufals to hear only the defences of the Perfon accus'd, to receive the Petitions and Papers which he gave, and to impart to him those which were produc'd against him; All this began to make him open his Eyes upon his approaching deftruction, and to make him to understand that there was no mean between these two extreams ; either that he must be punish'd as a Sorcerer and a Magician, or that a Convent of Nuns, many Monks and Ecclefiafticks, and a Number of confiderable Lay-Perfons should be expos'd to the Penalties which they deferv'd for the most horrid of all Calumnies, and the blackeft of all Confpiracies that could be made against the Life and Honour of an innocent Perfon; and which Calumnies had been fo vifibly fupported by a Bishop, and by a Commissary of the King, that they could not avoid having a part of the infamy with which the culpable were ftain'd. But although he well perceiv'd that he must die an an Innocent, to fave a great Number of Guilty Perfons, and that he had refign'd him-felf to the Will of GOD, he would not however abandon his own Defence; and he Wrote for this purpose the Discourse, of which mention has been many times already made; Intituled, Fins et Conclusions absolutoires, &c. Which begins in thefe Words: ' I befeech you in all Humility, to confider advisedly and with attention, that which the Prophet fays in the Eighty Second Plalm, which contains a very Holy Admonition, and bids you exe-cute your Offices with all Righteoulness and Impartiality, confidering, that being but Mortal Men you shall appear before GOD the Sovereign Judge of the World, to render him an Account of your Administration. This anointed of GOD fpeaks this Day to you who are fent to Judge, and fays to you, GOD frands in the Congregation of the mighty,

He is a Judge in the middle of Judges. How " long will you have a Regard to the Appearance • of the Perfons of the Wicked. You are Gods • Children of the most high; neverthelefs you " Iball die like other Men, and you, who are Princes, ' Ihall fall as other Men.

Seet. 53. The beginning of this Difcourfe was grave and moving; it was prefented to the Bifhop, and to the other Perfons of Authority, as well as to the Commiffaries: The first Effect it produc'd was, that this Prelate, after having affisted at the Exorcifins, fent to Loudan a Sentence, in Form of a Decree, Dated at his House at Diffai, of the 10th of August, containing, that the Urfuline Nuns of Loudan, and the Secular Maie's, were truly tormented by Devils, and possible by Evil Spirits. This Was

was fignified to the Perfon accus'd, with a Copy of the Advice and Refolution of Andrew Daval, Nicholas Imbert, Anthony Martin, and James Forton, Doctors of the Sorbonn at Paris, who had deliver'd their Opinions upon the Facts which had been propos'd to them, which were abfolutely feign'd and falfe, viz. That the Nuns had been lifted up from the Ground to the heighth of Two Foot, and that being laid all at Length, without the help either of Feet or Hands, and without bending their Bodies, they had been rais'd up. They proc eded alfo to his Hearing, and at length they prepar'd themfelves for the Judgment of the Process. Fa-ther Tranquille fays, That the Judges feeing them-' felves charg'd with an Affair, which drew upon them the Eyes of all France, and even of all Chriftendom, and which feen'd to be intangl'd with a Thoufand Difficulties, and the Succefs ¢, whereof drew very great Confequences, they re-' folv'd all with one accord, to address themselves first to GOD, who is the Fountain of Light ٤. and Truth, and that each of them should pre. pare himfelf by Confession and the Communion ' often reiterated, to receive the Grace and Al-" fiftance of Heaven. - They began, added he, this Action by a general Proceffion, to fhew that they were first to excite the People to Devotion by their Examples; they continued all the Feffi-" vals and Sundays, during the Judgment of the Process to visitallo the Churches of the Town, and the Holy Sacrament exposed there, to caufe a Mais of the Boly Ghoft to be fung with Solemnity, with a Sermon, making publick and frequent Prayers, that it would pleafe GOD to. conduct them in their Affair, and to illuminate them with his Spirit, to render Juffice to whom ' it

142

it belong'd, according to the Intention of his Majefty and the Duty of their Confciences.

Sect. 54. These Commissaries being fo devoutly prepar'd, they met together the 18th of August. early in the Morning, at the Convent of the Carmelites, where they made an Order, by which, after having openly read the King's Commission, and the Papers which had been produc'd by each Side, they pronounc'd the Condemnation of Grandier in these Words; We have declar'd, and do declare, the faid Urban Grandier duly attainted and convicted of the Crime of Magick, Sorcery, and the Possessions happen'd by his Act, to the Persons of some Urfuline Nuns of this Town of Loudun and other Seculars, together with other Causes and Crimes resulting thereupon. For Reparation whereof, we have condemn'd, and do condemn the said Grandier to undergo an honourable Amand, Bare-headed, a Rope about his Neck, holding in his Hand a burning Torch of Two Pounds Weight, before the principal Door of the Church of St. Peter's in the Market, and before that of St. Urfula in this Said Town, and there, upon his Knees to ask Pardon of GOD, the King and the Court, and this done, to be conducted to the Publick Place of St. Croffe, and there to be ty'd to a Post upon a Wood-Pile, which shall be made in the faid place for this purpose, and there his Body to be burnt alive, with the Patts and Magical Characters remaining in the Registry, together with the Manufcript by him made against the Celibacy of Priests and his Alhes to be calt into the Wind. We have declar'd, and do declare, All and every of his Goods to accrue and be confiscated to the King, after there has been rais'd by the fale of them 150 Livres, to be employ'd for the buying a Copper-Plate, on which shall be engrav'd the Extract of the present Sentence, and the Tame to be fet in an eminent Place of the faid Church of the the Urfulines, to continue there to Perpetuity. And before the Execution of the present Sentence, we Command that the said Grandier shall be put to the Rack, ordinary and extraordinary, upon the Articles of his Complices. Pronounc'd at Loudun to the said Grandier, and drawn up the 18th of August, 1634.

143

Sect. 55. Father Tranquille, and the Author of the Demonomany of Loudun, have writ concerning the Death of Grandier, abundance of falle, childifh and ridiculous Things They have Reproach'd him, that he had defir'd a Mitigation of his Punishment. He was much to blame, without doubt, to be mov'd with the Profpect of an infamous and cruel Death, the only Thought whereof would make one tremble with Horrour! It mas, fay these Writers, because he had more care of his Body than of his Soul. With like Reafons, one might eafily make Criminal the most innocent Actions; but to difcharge this unhappy Victim of the Hypocrify of the Monks, Charity obligeth us to fay with the Scripture, That no one hateth his own Hefth; and to believe that he had a regard for his Soul, and that he fear'd that his Constancy, his Faith and his Hope, fuch as they might be, should fink under the Weight of fo terrible a Punishment. They have further reproach'd him, That he had not vouchsaf'd to look upon the Crucifix, nor on an Image of the Virgin; that he shook his Head when they threw Holy Water upon him; that when they offer'd it to him, he wou'd not drink, or that he drank but very little; that he invoked not the Virgin; and that he knew not the Prayer of the Guardian Angel. These are the Arguments which these Authors dar'd to alledge as demonstrative, and fufficient to prove by the Circumstances of the Death of Grandier, that he was a Magician. 'Tis true, that they add, That.

144

That he neither call'd upon God the Father, nor Jefus Christ; nor that he defir'd the Affistance of any one; unless of a Huguenot Apostate and Relapse, who stood near him. This Matter has been acknowledg'd to be falle by all the Spectators, who were near enough to understand what he faid, and this apostariz'd relapfed Huguenot being prefent and Praying alone for the fuffering Perfon, is a Contrivance to agreeable to the Genius of Monks, that if one did not feel ones Heart fill'd with Pity, Horrour, and Indignation, one could not contain from Laughter at the Reading of it, as well as of that which they have written belides; That after his Legs had been mash'd, which had been torn by the Rack, and that they had brought him to the Fire, to recover fomewhat of Spirits and Pigour, he forbore not to en-tertain himfelf with his Guards, by Difcourfes little fe-rious and full of Raillery; That he did eat with an Appetite, and drink with Pleasure, Three or Four Draughts, and that he shed not any Tears whilst he fuffer'd the Rack, nor after he had undergone it, nor even when they exorcis'd him with the Exorcism appointed for Magicians; and that the Exorcift faid to him more than Fifty times, Præcipio, ut fi fis innocens, effundas lachrymas, I command thee if thou art innocent, to fled Tears : As if Compression and Pain were not able to be natural Caufes of this laft Accident, fupposing that it was true; and as if the Horrour and Indignation which he could not withhold himfelf from conceiving, were not capable to keep his Eyes dry and inflam'd; and in fine, as if nothing extraordinary could happen in a Body fo horribly mifus'd, and in a Mind fo extreamly provok'd. But all thefe things were devis'd and related, on purpose to infinuate, that the Power of the Devils made him infensible of all all the Cruelties which were exorcis'd upon his Perfon. They have further imputed to him, that he refus'd to be confefs'd, by anfwering, That 'twas but Four Days agoe fince he was confefs'd, neverthelefs, that he wou'd do what they would have him: To which, Sincerity ought to have oblig'd thefe Writers to have added, that having not Confidence enough in Father Laitance, nor in the Capucins, he defir'd for his Confessor the Father Guardian of the Cordeliers, named Father Grillau; which was barbaroufly refus'd him, notwithstanding the repeated Supplications he made to obtain this last Confolation.

Sect. 56. He demanded alfo in the Extremity of his Torture, of Lastance, who cry'd to him without Intermiffion, dicas, dicas, and who, for that Reaion, was call'd by the People, Father Dicas, if he believ'd that a Man of Sincerity, ought with a good Conficience to accufe himfelf of a Sin which he had never committed, fo much as in Thought? The Exorcift durst not go fo far as to tell him that he might ; whereupon the Patient conjur'd him to let him die in Peace; and this is that which they call'd Impenitence and bardness of Heart; for fay they, he has confess'd greater Crimes than Marick. But when one continues to read on, and fearch with Curiofity what were thefe Crimes greater than Magick, of which they pretend he accus'd himfelf of, it will be found they were Crimes of Frailty and Humane Infirmity, supposing neverthelefs, that thefe Sins were as enormous as that of Magick; By what Confequence must it be, that he was guilty of this last, because he was of the others? In the mean time, though it pleas'd thefe able Cafuifts to make thefe forts of Sins to be equal, they hindred not the Sentiments of the Pretended Magician from being accounted more 1. rea-reasonable, and be more Universally follow'd than theirs; for see how he explains himself in his Conclusions Absolvatory, &c. upon this Subject: The Crime of Magick, is the mass horrible, most abominaale, and most detestable that one can imagin, being the Crime of High Treason against God, in the bighest Degree; the Fruit whereof, is Punishment without Remillion.

- 145

Set. 57. We shall not relate here, the Testimonics that the Author of the Demonomania has drawn from the Mouth of the Devils, and which he made use of against Grandier, although they are fo ridiculous and impertinent, that they would not fail to increase the Indignation of the Reader; its not to be doubted, that the very Title, namely, The Testimonies of the Devil might not be taken for a Reproach, and a fufficient Consultation of all the rest which that Book contains. 'Twill then be more to the Purpose, to make a Recital of the Death of this unfortunate Man, taken from feveral Relations of Sincere and Unconcern'd Perfons.

Sect. 58. Friday the 18th. of August, 1634. Francis Fourneau Surgeon, was fent for by Laubardemont, and although he was ready to obey willingly and at that inftant, neverthelefs they hurried him from his Houfe, and carried him as a Prifoner to the Place where Grandier was detain'd. Having been introduc'd there into the Chamber, Grandier was heard to fpeak to Mannouri in thefe Words; Cruel Hangman, art thou come to dispatch me ? Thou knoweft, inhumane Wretch, the Cruelty thou hast executed upon my Body; here continue, and make an end of killing me. Then one of the Exempts of the great Provoft of the Hoftel, whom Laubardemont caus'd to be call'd Exempt of the King's Guards, commanded Fourneau to Shave Gran

147

Grandier, and to take from him all the Hair upon his Head and Face and all the Parts of his Body ; Fourneau going to execute this Order, one of the ludges told him, that he ought also to take off his Eye-brows and his Nails. The Patient exprest that he would obey and let him do it; but the Surgeon protefted that he would not do any thing in it, whatfoever Command he might receive, and pray'd him to Pardon him, if he laid his Hands upon him. I believe, faid Grandier, you are the en-by Person that has Pity on me; Whereupon Fournean reply'd to him, Sir, you fee not all the World. There were feen upon his Body but Two natural Spots or little Moles, the one plac'd near the Groin, and the other higher upon the Back, which the Surgeon found very fensible. When this was done, they gave him not his own Cloaths, but others very bad; afterwards, although his Sentence of Condemnation had been pronounc'd in the Convent of the Carmelites, he was conducted by the Exempt of the Grand Provoft, with Two of his Guards; and by the Provoft of Londun and his Lieutenant; and by the Provost of . Chinon in a close Coach to the Palace of Londun, where many Ladies of Quality were fitting on the Judges Seats in the Chamber of Audience, Lanbardemont's Lady taking the chiefest Place, although the was inferior to a Number of others who were there prefent; Laubardemont was in the ufual Place of the Clerk, and the Clerk of the Commission was standing before him. There were Guards round the Palace, and all Avenues fet by the Major Memin, who was also in the Palace standing near the King's Attorney of the Commission, and below the Ladies. When Grandier was entred into the Palace, they caus'd him to flay fome time at the Bottom of the Hall, near 12 the

the Chamber of Audience, and after he had been introduc'd, and that he had past the Bar, he fell upon his Knees, without putting off either his Hat or his Cap, because he had his hands bound. The Clerk having rais'd him up to make him come near to Laubardemont, he put himfelf again into the fame posture, and the Clerk and the Exempt taking off briskly, the one his Hat, and the other his Cap, they cast them on one fide of Laubardemont. Lastauce and another Recollect, who had accompanied him from his Prison to the Palace, were attir'd in their Albs and Stoles, and before they made him enter into the Chamber, they had exorcis'd the Air, the Earth and the other Elements, as also the Patient himself, to the end, that the Devil might quit his Perfon. Be-ing thus upon his Knees, and his Hands joyn'd, the Clerk faid to him, Turn thee, thou wretched Man, adore the Crucifix which is upon the Judges Seat, which he did with great Humility, and lifting up his Eyes towards Heaven, he continued fome time in mental Prayer. When he had put himfelf into his former Pofture, the Clerk read to him his Sentence trembling; but he heard the reading of it with a great Conftancy and a wonderful Tranquillity. Then he spake, and faid, My Lords, I call to witness God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghoft, and the Virgin Mary my only Advocate, that I have never been a Magician; that I have never committed Sacriledge; that I knew no other Magick than that of the Holy Scripture, which I have always preach'd; and that I have had no other Belief than that of our Mother the Holy Catholick, Apostolick and Roman Church. I renounce the Devil and his Pomps; I own my Saviour, and befeech him, that the Blood of his Cross may be meritorious to me: And you, my Lords, I befeech you, mitigate the Rigour of my PH n.

Punishment, and put not my Soul in despair. When these Words, accompanied with Tears, had been pronounc'd, Laubardemont caus'd the Ladies to withdraw, and all Perfons who, out of Curiofity, were in the Palace, and had a very long Converfation with Grandier, speaking to him softly in his Ear, whereupon the Patient defir'd Paper; he did not cause it to be given him, but told him aloud, and in a very fevere Tone, that there was no other Courfe to induce the Judges to remit fomething of the Rigour of the Sentence, but by ingenioufly declaring his Complices; whereunto he answer'd, that he had no Complices, and protested his Innocence, as he had always done before. Houmain Lieutenant Criminal of Orleans, and one of the Reporters, spake to him also in private for that fame end, and having receiv'd a like anfwer, they order'd him to be put to the Torture Ordinary and Extraordinary, which is done at Loudun, by putting the Legs of the Patient be-tween two Planks of Wood, which they bind with Cords, between which they putWedges, and make them enter by the Blows of a Hammer to fqueeze the Legs, which are more or lefs, according to the Number or Bignefs of the Wedges that are us'd, which fometimes go fo far, that the Bones of the Legs do Crack and fall in Pieces when they are unloos'd; and that those, who have undergone this Torture, die in a little time after. They gave Grandier TwoWedges more than they usually did to the most Criminal; but they were not big enough to the liking of the Monks and Laubardemont, who threatned the Man that had the Care of the Planks and other Inftruments of the Torture, to deal with him feverely, if he did not bring bigger Wedges; from which he could not excuse him-felf, but by Swearing that he had no bigger. The Recollet 1 3

Recollect and Capucins who were prefent to exor-cize the Wedges, the Planks, and the Hammers for the Torture, fearing that the Exorcifin had not effect enough, and left the Devils fhould have the Power to relift the Blows of a prophane Man, fuch as the Hangman was, they themfelves took the Hammer and tortur'd this unhappy Man; pronouncing against him terrible Imprecations. Tantane Animis calestibus Ira? Can fo much Gall enter the Soul of devout Perfons? Yes; and with juft Reafon, for a Milcreant, a Sorcerer, a Magician deferves not to be fpar'd, when the Glory of God is concern'd, by which one may difcern the Degree of his Zeal and Fervour, by the Degree of the Transport he has against the Grime and the Criminals. The Patient Swoon'd many times during the Torture, but they recover'd him out of his Swoon by redoubled Blows; When his Legs were fhattered, and that they faw the Marrow come forth, they gave over the Torture, took him out, and laid him on the Pavement. He fhew'd in this Condition, an Example of Firmnels and Constancy which one cannot fufficiently admire; he let not escape one Word of Repining, nor Complaint, against his Enemies; on the contrary, he utter'd, during his Torture, a proper and fervent Prayer to God; and being thus extended upon the Pavement, he pronounc'd again another, which the Lieutenant of the Provoft writ down, whom Lasbardemont forbid to let it be feen by any Body. This unfortunate Creature, maintain'd always in the midft of the Anguish and Blows which mangled him, that he was neither a Magician, nor Sacrilegious Perfon, acknowledging, that as a Man, he had abus'd the Pleafures of the Flefh, for which he was Confeff, and had done Penance; but he pray'd his judges, who urg'd him to explain him-何の目の20月 felf

felf further, that they would not oblige him to name any Body, nor to fpecifie the Sins, for which he believ'd he had obtain'd forgiveness by his Repentance and his Prayers; which he affirm'd to be fuch as a true Christian oright to make. He renounc'd again Three or Four times, the Devil and his Pomps, and protefted, that he never faw Elizabeth Blanchard, but when the was confronted to him, very far from having known her, after that manner which fhe had declar'd. He Swoon'd once again after he had been taken from the Torture, and he came not out of that Fainting Fit, but by the help of a little Wine, which the Lieutenant of the Provoft caus'd fpeedily to be put into his Mouth; afterwards he was carried into the Council Chamber, and put upon Straw near the Fire, where he demanded an Augustin Fiyar for his Confessor, whom he faw then before his Eyes; who was alfo denied him, as well as Father Grillau, and he was committed, against his Will, into the hands of Father Tranquille, and Father Claude, Capucins. When they were withdrawn, they feverely forbid those who Guarded him, not to let him fpeak with any Body, and fo he was not feen during the fpace of almost Four Hours, but Thrice by the Clerk of the Commission, by his Confessors, and by Laubardemont, who was with him more than Two Hours, to force him to fign a Writing which he offer'd him; and which he constantly refus'd to Sign.

Sect. 59. About Four or Five in the Evening he was taken from the Chamber by his Torturers, who carried him upon a Hand-Barrow; in going, he told the Lieutenant Criminal of Orleans, that he had faid all, and that there remain'd nothing more upon his Conficience; Will you not, fays this Judge to him then, that I pray to GOD for you? L 4 Tok

You will oblige me by doing it, reply'd the Patient to him, And I befeech you to do it. He carried a Torch in his Hand, which he kifs'd as he went from the Palace; he look'd upon all the People modefly, and with a fettled Countenance, and defiring those whom he knew, that they would pray to GOD for him. As foon as he was come out of the Palace, they read to him his Sentence, and put him in a kind of little Chariot, to bring him before the Church of St. Peter in the Market, where Laubardemont caus'd him to come down from the Chariot, to the end, that he might put himfelf upon his Knees, whilft his Sentence was read to him once again; but having quite loft the use of his Legs, he fell flat to the Ground upon his Belly, where he tarried without murmu-ring or any Word of Difpleafure, till they came to lift him up; after which, he defir'd the Affiftance of the Prayers of those that were about him; Father Grillan came to him at this very time, and embrac'd him, weeping; Sir, Said he to him. Remember that our Lord Jesus Christ ascended to GOD his Father, by Torments and the Cross; you are an able Man, do not ruine your felf, I bring you your Mother's Bleffing; She and I do pray to GOD that he would be merciful to you, and that he would receive you into his Paradice : Grandier express'd great Satisfaction at the hearing of these Words, and his Countenance feem'd very chearful; he thank'd the Cordelier with much Mildness and Se-renity, and conjur'd him to be as a Son to his Mother; to pray to GOD for him, and to recommend him to the Prayers of all his Fryers, affuring him that he nent with Comfort to die Innocent, and that he hop'd that GOD would be merciful to him, and receive him into his Paradice, That edifying Conversation, was interrupted by the Blows that the Archers gave gave to Father Grillan, whom they thrust with violence into the Church of St. Peters by the Order of their Superiors, and Father Confessions who would not fuffer the Standers by to be Witneffes of the Condition, in which the Confcience of the Patient was. He was Conducted then before the Church of the Orfulines, and from thence to the Place of St. Croffe, upon the Way from which he espied le Frene Monsfaut and his Wife, to whom he faid, That he died their Servant, and that he pray'd them to Pardon him. When he was arriv'd, he turn'd himfelf towards the Fryers who accompanied him, and requefted them to give him the Kifs of Peace. The Lieutenant of the Provoft. would ask him Pardon ; You have not offended, faid he, you have done but what your Office oblig'd you to do. Rene Bernier, Curate of the Town of Troifmoutiers, pray'd him alfo to Pardon him, and ask'd him if he would not forgive all his Enemies, even all those who had depos'd against him, and if he would that he should Pray to GOD for him, and to fay next Day, a Mais for his Soul? He anfwer'd him, He forgave all his Enemies what focuer, even as he defir'd GOD to Pardon him; that by all means he would oblige him by praying to GOD for him, and by remembring him often at the Altar. Then the Executionor put upon him a Hoop of Iron, which was fasten'd to a Post, making him to turn his Back towards the Church of St. Croffe. The place was fill'd with People, who flock'd in Shoals from all parts to this difinal Spectacle, and came thither, not only from all the Provinces of the Kingdom, but also from foreign Countries. The place appointed for the Execution, was at last fo crouded, that those who where to affift there could not put themfelves in order; what foever endeavours the Archers us'd to make the People retire with Blows

154

Blows of their Halbert-staves, they could not effect it; and lefs yet to drive away a Flock of Pigeons, which came flying round the Pile of Wood, with-out being Frighted by the Halberts, with which they were commanded to ftrike in the Air, to drive them away, or by the noise that the Spectators made in feeing them return many times. The Friends of the Poffession cried out, that it was a Troop of Devils, who came to attempt the Refcuing of the Magician, and were much troubled to abandon him. Others faid, that thefe innocent, Doves came, for want of Men, to give Tellimony to the Innocence of the Sufferer. All that one can affirm here, is, that all the Facts, or at leaft the principal of them, are generally found in all the Relations that have been kept of them, That most of the People of Loudun (who are this Day alive) have been inform'd of it by their Parents, who had been prefent, and that there remain yet fome living in that and Foreign Country's, particularly here in England, who can atteft it, by having been Witneffes thereof.

Sect. 60. The Fathers exorcis'd the Air and the Wood, and ask'd the Patient afterwards, if he would not confess? to whom he reply'd, That he had nothing more to Say, and that he bop'd to be this Day with his GOD. The Clerk then read to him his Sentence for the Fourth time, and ask'd him if he perfifted in what he had faid upon the Rack? He answer'd, That he persisted therein, That he had nothing more to Say, and that all that he had faid was true. Whereupon one of the Monks told the Clerk, that he made him fpeak too much. The Lieutenant of the Provost had promis'd two things in their prefence; the first, That he should have fome time to fpeak to the People; the Second, That he should be strangled before the kindling of the

the Fire. But to hinder the performance of either of these Promises, these are the Courses which the Exorcifts took : When they perceiv'd that he was difpos'd to fpeak to the People, they caft fo great a quantity of Holy-Water in his Face, that he was thereby utterly confounded, and feeing that he open'd his Mouth a Second time, there was one who went to Kifs him, to ftop his Words ; he understood the Design, and faid to him, There is a Kils of Judas. Upon which, their Spite role to fo high a point, that they hit him many times in the Face with an Iron Crucifix, which they offer'd to him, as if they had been willing to make him Kifs it; which oblig'd him to content himfelf, in defiring only a Salve Regina, and one Ava Maria, &c. and to commend himself to GOD, and to the Holy Virgin, pronouncing thefe laft Words with joyn'd Hands and Eyes lifted up to Heaven. The Exorcifts return'd to their Office, and ask'd him once again, if he would not confes? My Fathers (answer'd he) I have Jaid all, I have faid all; I hope in GOD, and in his Mercy.

Sect. 61. Thefe good Fathers, to hinder his being firangled, according to the fecond Promife the Lieutenant of the Provoft had made him, had themfelves knotted the Rope, when it had been put into the Hands of the Executioner, who providing to put Fire to the Wood-Pile; the Patient cry'd out Two or Three times, Is this what I was Promis'd? And faying thefe Words, he himfelf lifted up the Rope and fitted it. But Father Lactance took prefently a Wifp of Straw, and having lighted it with a Torch, he put it to his Face, faying, Wilt thou not confes wretched Man, and renounce the Devil? Tis time, thou haft but a Moment to live. I know not the Devil, reply'd Grandier, I renounce him and all his Pomps; and I pray pray GOD to have Mercy on me. Then, without waiting for the Order of the Lieutenant of the Provolt, this Monk taking upon him publickly the Office of the Hang-man, put Fire to the Pile, juft before the Eyes of the Sufferer; who feeing that Cruelty and Unfaithfulnefs, cry'd out again, Ah ! Where is Charity Father Lactance? this is not what was promis'd me. There is a GOD in Heaven who will Judge thee and me; I Summon thee to appear before Him, within a Month. Then addreffing himfelf to GOD, he utter'd thefe Words, Deus meus, ad te Vigilo, miferere mei Deus. Then the Capucine began again, to throw all the Holy-Water in his Face which they had in their Holy Water-Pots, to prevent thefe laft Words being heard by the People, and their being edified by them. At laft, theyfaid, aloud to the Executioner, that he fhould ftrangle him, which 'twas impoffible for him to do, becaufe the Rope was knotted ; and that he was ftop'd by the increafing of the Flame, into which the Sufferer fell, and was burnt alive.

Sect. 62. Although the Commiffary and the Judges of Grandier have kept fecret, as much as it has been possible, all that they have done against him, and that the greatess part of their Proceedings, and the Papers, on which they have grounded his Condemnation, have been conceal'd from the Publick, whose Examination and Decision they dreaded; Nevertheless fome inquisitive Persons, and who were concern'd for this unhappy Priess, obtain'd of one of the Judges the Copy of the Extract of the Proofs which were in his Process. As it is the Foundation of the terrible Sentence which was given againss him, and cruelly executed upon his Person, we have thought it our duty to infert it here with some Reflections, to lay open the weakness and injustice thereof. The

The Extract of the Proofs which are in the Process against Grandier.

Sett. 63. A S the Posseficien of the Urfuline Nuns is the Foundation of all the Proceeding of Monsfieur de Laubardemont, and the Subjett of the Process which has been made against the Parson of Loudun, it has been necessary to establish the truth by such Testimonies thereof, as could be desur'd in that Matter.

Certainly the Posselin is a very ruinous Foundation, and suppose that it might have been true, it does not follow yet that Grandier was the Author thereof; and though he had been the Author at first, there was no likelihood, that after he had been nam'd in the two first Posselinos, to the great danger of his Honour, and his Life, he would have procur'd a Third Posselino, without being mov'd thereto by any Hope of pleasure, or by any Passion of Covetousness, or of Love, Hatred, or Envy, against Persons whom he knew not, and whom he had never seen.

Sect. 64. To that end, the Bifhop of Poictiers, after having affifted at most of the Exorcisms, and sign'd the Verbal Proceffes which had been made, declar'd by his Sentence or Decree of the Fourteenth of the Month of August, that he judg'd the faid Nuns to be posses'd, and as Inch, and Subjects to bis Jurisdiction, he had given them Persons able to exorcise them. This Opinion has been follow'd by four Doctors of the Sorbonn, but with this difference, that the Motive of the Bilhop of Poictiers, in the Judgment which he has made of the Perfons poffeffed, has been no other than the knowledge be himfelf has had of all that which past; whereas the Doctors of the Sorbonn, having not been present there, were not able to decide that Question, but upon the credit of those who made them the Report, viz. That the said NHIS

Nuns had been rais'd from the ground two Foot high, and that being laid at length, without the help of Feet or Hands, and without bending the Body they had been lifted up. The Four Exorcifts, who are Father Lactance Recollect, the Fathers Elizce and Tranquille Capucins, with a Carmelite, have also given their attestation. Father Ronceau Rector of the Jesuits, the Prior of the Jacobites of Thouars, and Revol, Doctor of the Sorbonn, have entertain'd the People in the Pulpit concerning the Truth thereof. The Physicians of Poistiers, Niort, Fontenai, Loudun, Thouars, Chinon, Mirebeau, and Fontevraut, after having observ'd the Motions and Agitations of these Maids, accounted them supernatural, and to proceed from a cause in which the fubtility of their Art has not been able to know any Thing but the effects.

You have feen in this Hiftory what has been the Sincerity and Difpolition of the Bilhop of Poictiers, and what Exorcifts and Deputies he had fent. One cannot also fuffer to pass for a proof the Boldnels that fome Ecclefiafticks, and fome Monks have had to entertain the People in the Pulpits concerning the Truth of the Poffeffion. As for the Opinions of the Doctors of the Sorbonn, they have been given upon Facts abfolutely falle and fuppos'd; that the Exorcifts have not fo much as dar'd to produce in any of their writings, nor Laubarde-mont to infert them in any of his Verbal Processes, as it appear'd in the Declaration of the Sentence of Death, wherein the Verbal Proceffes of the Vomitings and other Facts are mention'd, but there's no mention made of the Verbal Process of the Facts propos'd to the Doctors of the Sorbonn. The Teftimonies of the Phyficians were fo exceptionable as well as their Perfons, and they were drawn up in a manner fo little conclusive, that twas impossible not to believe that the Poffellion was already eftablim'd blifh'd and verified in the Minds of the Judges, before they had examin'd thefe kinds of Proofs. And though it be found in that Article of the Extract, Gc. That there were alfo Phylicians of Poittiers, Niort, and Fontenai, who had given their Atteftation, that was in a manner different from the others, and not that they had been nam'd and appointed to this purpofe; But it was becaufe a. mongft the great number of People which came to fee the Effects of the Posseffion, there were many whom the Exorcifts knew themfelves, either by the Relation they had with other Convents, from whom they receiv'd intelligence; they chofe Phylicians and other Perfons diftinguish'd by their Characters, to found them, and to penerate their Opinion, and when they found them favourable to the Poffession, whether by credulity, or for want of information, or by complaifance with them who supported the Party, they fail'd not to require their Attestations, and they mention'd only those of the Towns of Niort, Fontenai, and Poiltiers, who gave their Opinion, though there were but fome of the Phylicians of those Towns, and efpecially of that of Poitiers, who were no ways perfuaded of the Poffession. But befides that, 'tis certain that there came to Loudun more than a Hundred Phyficians of different Towns, adjoyning and remote, who would not give the like Atteftations, though the most part were much follicited; on the contrary, there have been fome who have left Memorials against the Posseffion.

Sett. 65. 'So that after Teffimonies fo Authentick, without examining whether the Posseffions of evil Spirits, are the Effects of the absolute Power of GOD alone, or whether the Magicicians, by the Covenants they made with the Devils, and by the Permiffion which GOD gives 'them,

160

them, may be accounted Authors; feeing that " the most knowing Persons doubt not of the First of these Things; and that the Second is not without Example. It remains to fee, if by the ^c Proofs which are in the Process, there be room to believe, that he, who has been condemn'd, was realy guilty of the Crimes, of which he has been convicted. Now these Proofs are of Two Sorts; the First, which confist in the Depositions of theWitnefles, are ordinary, and fubject to the · Reproaches and Exceptions of Fact and Right; " the others, which are drawn from the Verbal Pro-· cefs of the Exorcifts, and from the Vifits made ^c in Confequence thereof, upon the Perfon of the " Accufed, are extraordinary, as well as the Matter ' in Queftion, to which they are all Particular, and much more certain than the former; becaufe of the Notoriety of the Fact, which evidenceth to us the Truth that we feek in fenfible Things. " As for the Proof by Witneffes, it refults from ' Two Informations; the First is compos'd of Sixty Witneffes not fufficiently excepted againft, " who depos'd concerning the Adulteries, Incefts, ^c Sacriledges, and other Impieties committed by " the Person accusid, even in the most fecret · Places of his Church, as in the Veftry, near the " Holy Sacrament ; upon all Days, at all Hours, and all Times; in a Manner, that the Church, of which he was Parfon, and where, by his Example, he ought to raife in the hearts of his Parishoners a Love for Virtue, he made thereof a Place of Pleasure, and an open Baudy-" Houfe to all his Concubines. It is true, that by the Sentence of the Prefidial of Poitiers, he had been remitted till new Orders should have been given upon fome Matters; but befides that that " Sentence was not definitive, it appear'd that he · had ⁶ had relaps'd into a Number of the fame Crimes, " which render'd him yet far more culpable. A-" mongft the Witneffes of this Accufation, there " were Five very confiderable, viz. Three Women; the First whereof faid, that one Day, after 6 fhe had receiv'd the Communion from the Perfon accus'd, who earneftly look'd upon her during 6 that Action, fhe was inftantly feiz'd with a vio-C lent Love-Paffion for him, which began with a little Shivering through all the Parts of her Bo-¢ dy: The other faid, that having been ftop'd by c him in the Street, he prefs'd her Hand, and that 6 immediately she was feiz'd with a vehement Paf-' fion for him : The Third faid, that after fhe had 6 feen him at the Door of the Church of the Carc melites, where he enter'd with the Procession, $ fhe felt very great Commotions, and had fuch ¢ Inclinations, that the willingly defir'd to lie with ¢ him, although before that Moment, in which, they were look'd upon by him, and were feiz'd C with his Love, they never had a particular In-6 clination for him; being otherwife very Virtuous ٤ and of a very good Reputation.

'Tis a ftrange Thing to report, and revive again the fame Acculations of which Grandier had been fent away abfolv'd, and the fame Teftimonies, which had been found infufficient by the Sentences of the Judges Ecclefiaftical and Secular, and to make them one Part of the ground of a Sentence of Death. The fame thing may be faid, to fee him boldly accus'd of relapfing into the fame Crimes of Adultery, Inceft, Sacriledge, and other Impieties, and the Facts alledg'd in the Depositions of these Three Women, who notwithstanding their good Reputation, and their pretended former Virtue, which then abandon'd them, might be wounded by the only Charms of Grandier's good Meen, with-M out out the Intervention of any other Enchantment, than that of Nature or rather Concupifcence : Otherwife, honeftWomen were much to be pitied, if Magicians could make them in Love, and infpire into them a Defire to lie with them, as often as it pleas'd those wicked Villains to look on them; or that they should touch them only with their Hand. But what Relation is there between these Accusations of Sacrileges and Incefts, and the Sentence for the Death of Grandier, which was not given upon the Conviction of these Crimes? It contains not one fingle Word, 'tis only for the Crime of Magick, that this unhappy Man was condemn'd. Why then are all these pretended Crimes heap'd together? The greatest whereof, one has feen that he has not been guilty of; if this were not to confound the Judgment of theReader, and to furprizehim by thefe Appearances. Ought this to be the Defign of a Judge, who Reports the Proofs upon which an accus'd Perfon has been condemn'd ? And are they not rather the last Endeavours of a cruel, unjust, and bloodily perfecuting Party.

162

Sect. 66. 'The Two others are an Advocate and a Mason, the first whereof depos'd that he faw the Person accus'd read the Books of Agrippa. The other being at work to repair his Study, he faw a Book upon the Table open'd at the Place of a Chapter, which treated of the Means to make Women in Love. It is true, that the first explain'd himfelf in some manner at the Confrontation, and faid, that he believ'd that the Book of Agrippa which he had mention'd in his Depositie on, was that, de Vanitate Scientiarum. But the Explication is very much suffected, because the Advocate had withdrawn himfelf from Loudum, and could not undergo the Controntation, till after he had been compell'd.

'Twould

Twould be great pity if all the Perfons who have read Books of Magick, only to know them, without an Intention to make use of them, should become Magicians; 'Tis alfo a very forc'd Way of Arguing, to fay, that the Explication of the Advocate was to be suspected, because he went aside for fear of undergoing a Confrontation. It is much more natural to conclude [as it was the Truth] that having fome Remorfe for having given a Teffimony to little fincere, and fo malicioufly intangl'd, and fearing neverthelefs, the Authority of Laubardemont, if he dar'd to explain himfelf, he fled away, and could not refolve to be of their Party; but that in the End, his Remorfes, and a return of Virtue, had determin'd him to give Glory to the Truth. The Mafon was a poor Rafcal, who had been hir'd not to fay any thing; for his Teftimony fignified nothing. One might add, That at making the Inven-tory of the Clofet of Grandier, the Commillary found there no Book of Magick, and that the Devils, being interrogated upon that Point, answer'd nothing but Lies, which were verified to be fuch: However, these are the Five most considerable De-Politions, which have caus'd a Parfon to be condemn'd to be burnt; What can one think of the other Teftimonies which they have not dar'd to produce ?

Sect. 67. 'The Second Information, contains the Deposition of Fourteen Nuns, whereof there has been Eight posselited, and Six Seculars, who have been faid also to be posselited. It would be imposfible to report, in brief, that which is contain'd in all these Depositions, because there is not a Word which deferves not Confideration. 'Tis only to be observ'd, that all these Nuns, as well those that were free, as those that were molessed, have had a very diforder'd ove for the Person ac-M 2 cus'd z cus'd; they have feen him in the Convent Day e and Night, to Sollicite them in Matters of Love, 6 during the fpace of Four Months. They have 6 been difturb'd by a Number of Visions, of which ¢ they faid they had perfect Knowledge, because 6 the greateft Part of these Accidents happen'd 4 to them when they were up, and at their Prayers. 6 They faid moreover, they had been ftruck by 4 fomething which was not known by them, and 6 which left Marks fo visible upon their Bodies, that 4 the Phyficians and Surgeons have been able to fee 6 them eafily, and to make the Report thereof; 6 that all these diforders which have happen'd to 6 them, have had their Beginning with the Appa-4 rition of one, nam'd the Prior Mouffaut, who had 6 been heretofore their Confellor; then by a Nofe-6 gay of Rofes which the Mother Priorels found on 6 the middle of the Stairs, and Three Black Thorns, 6 which were thrust into the Hand of the faid Pri-C orefs one Evening after Prayers. They faid alfo, 6 that the Mother Priorefs imagin'd one Day, that 0 there were Apples in her Chamber, the Kernel " whereof fhe had a Mind to eat; whereupon, at ' that loftant, as well as after, having finelt the " Refes, and receiv'd the Three Black Thorns into her Hand, she was troubled after such a Man-6() ner, that the fpoke of nothing but of Grandier, $ whom the declar'd to be the Object of all her Affections, and whom, as well as all the other Nuns, " fte has feen to approach her Bed, as fhe has told ' him, when the has been confronted to him, ha-" ving maintain'd to his Face, as well as Seven or " Eight others, that 'twas he himfelf who was often prefent to them. Where it must not be forgot, that all these Nuns, in making their Depositions, at the pronouncing of the Word Grandier, " were feiz'd with Troubles and Convultions, at the · Con-

Confrontations where the Phyficians have been prefent, to obferve all that paft which was remarkable, they were violently diffurb'd, as well as all the other Seculars, who faid alfo, they were paffionately in Love with the Perfon accus'd.

Thefe Nuns could no longer forbear to give this Teftimony against Grandier, and the matter was come to that Point, that it was necessary, that either he must be declar'd a Magician, or that they must be declar'd guilty of the most infamous and blackeft of all Cheats : So they were Witneffes in their own Caufe. But these Declarations which they made, these pretended Troubles and Commotions which attended them, these Marks which they shew'd to their Physicians. Are these things fo difficult to counterfeit ? And is it very extraordinary and nearly approaching to an immediate O-Peration of the Devil, to fee Women promote and defend thefe Extravagances and ridiculous Visions? How have they been able to know in their Convent, a Man whom they had never feen, when he was transported thither by pretended Magical O-Perations, and when they nam'd him for the certain Author of that Sorcery? And how should he be in Love with them, without having ever feen them? Befides, was it likely that his Magical Power had not fo much Efficacy upon the Nuns, as upon the Seculars? Such were the Three Women who have depos'd as above, that they had had fo great a Defire to lye with him; for if this Defire had alfo poffers'd the Nuns, they might eafily have fatisfied themfelves, feeing that this Lover was fo often near them and in their Chambers.

Sect. 68. 'Now amongft all the Accidents wherewith these good Nuns have been afflicted, I find none more strange, than that which is befallen to the Mother Priores, and to the Sister M 3 Claire.

165

The History of

165-

Claire de Sazilli. The first, next Day after the had made her Depositions, and whilst the Sieur de Laubardemont took that of another Nun, ftripp'd c her felf to her Shift, Bare-headed, and a Halter 2 about her Neck, and a Wax-Candle in her Hand, ş and continued in that Posture the space of Two 6 Hours, in the middle of the Court, where it 6 rain'd very faft; and when the Parlour Door G was open, the threw her felf in, and fell upon L her Knees before the Sieur de Laubardemont, de-₫, claring to him, that fhe came to make Satisfacti-¢ on for the Offence fhe had committed, in accufing 5 the innocent Grandier; then being retir'd, fhe ¢ tied the Halter to a Tree in the Garden, where ٤ the had hang'd her felf, if the other Nuns had f not ran to her.

That Action of the Superiour had far more Conformity to the Action of a Person constrain'd by the Refentment of her Crimes, and the Remorfes of her Confcience, than to a diabolical Operation ; and when the Devil had in Effect acted therein, in the Senfe they would have it underflood; Wherefore hould he rather have fpoken the Truth, when he accus'd Grandier of being a Magician, than when he confefs'd that he was innocent? What way is there to know the Truth in these two Contradictory Propolitions? What was the Character of Truth, which was found in one rather than in the other ? All that one can reafonably inferr is this, that the Suggestion of the Devil did alfuredly caufe the Nun to fpeak, when the accus'd her Parlon; and that the fear of the Judgments of GOD drew her to confess what she did against her felf.

Sett. 69. And the Second was fo tempted to lie with her great Friend, whom fhe declar'd to be the faid Grandier, that one Day coming to receive ceive the Holy Sacrament, the arole on a fuddain and went up into her Chamber, whether having been follow'd by fome of her Sifters, the was feen with a Crucifix in her Hand, wherewith the prepar'd her felf to — Modefly permits not to mention the Oblicenity of this Palfage.

"Tis not to be doubted, that this infamous Action of the Sifter Claire had been well concerted; and that 'twas refolv'd they should follow her, to find her in this horrible Occupation, which confider'd in it felf, had nothing in it, but what might very naturally and eafily be perform'd, and had no need of the Power and immediate Efforts of the Devil; fo that 'twas not on that Account that it could pais for a Mark of Poffeffion, but 'twas on that of Shame and natural Modelty, that they pretended that a Maid and a Nun could not have fufficiently loft it to arrive to fuch an Excefs, if there had not been a Devil which had excited and tranfported her. This Argument is wonderfully concluding, and the Confequence thereof is very edi-fying; That when the Crime is fo great that it paffes all imaginable bounds, one must believe, that the Person, that has committed it, cannot be guilty; and that it must needs be by the Sorcery, Suggestion, or the Operation of another, that she had been induc'd to commit it ; and that upon the Declaration fhe shall make, he ought to be burnt uppon whom the caufeth the Sufpicion to fall, and thereby clear her felf. It must be further observ'd, that they pretended by thefe extraordinary Acti-ons, on the behalf of Morality, to make amends for the deficiency of proving the Poffelion by fupernatural Actions, which were not in the Power of

Man to produce, as they had produced others. Self. 70. And to that End, It is also confideraable, that Grandier had endeavour'd after the de-M 4 ceafe cease, of the faid Prior Mouffaut to be Confessor of the Nuns, and that one of his most intimate Friends had a great Quarrel with the Superior about it.

The History of

All those who were not engag'd in the Cabal of the Posses of the Posses of the Posses of the Posses of the Second but suppose that it was true, doth it deferve to be put amongst those Reasons which have caus'd a Man to be condemn'd to be burnt?

Self. 71. ⁶ As for the Seculars, the Deposition of Elizabeth Blanchard follow'd, and being confirm'd by that of Safanna Hammon, is not one of the leaft confiderable: For fhe depos'd to have been carnally known by the Perfon accus'd, who, one Day after he had lain with her, told her that if the wou'd go to the Sabat (i.e. Conventicle of the Witches) he would make her Princels of the Magicians.

Could one yet have a Regard for that extravagant and fhameful Deposition of the Perfons pretended to be possed, who were in the fame Cafe as the Nuns, steing that the Justification of Grandier would also have imported their Condemnation? But this Promife, to make Blanchard Princes of Magicians, and the impudence of her Accusation, do not they make one assard? Surely the Devils have had very little Respect for so Powerful a Lord of the Sabat, who could make Princess; they have never been wanting upon every Occasion, to accuse him, and to have brought him themselves to a shameful End.

Sett. 72. 'This is that which concerns the Proof by Witneffes, which confifts in thefe Two Informations only, to which, by a fingle Paper, was added, the Deposition of the Sieur Barre, Curat of Chinon, who depos'd, amongst other Things, that one Day, having been fent for, to exorcize the faid Nuns, and knowing that the Devil, who tormented the Mother Priorefs, was call'd Aftarot, the ⁶ he commanded him to go out; and for a Sign of ' his going out, to ftrike him, whom he faid, was declar'd to be the Author of the Sorcery, who was the faid Grandier, which Affarot promis'd him; and for certain, in the Time that he was to perform this Promife, Grandier absented from the Company, and having caus'd himfelf to be ex-' cus'd upon the Paper for pricking down the ab-" fent Canons of St. Croffe, by reason of his Sicke nefs, That Word Sicknefs had been blotted out ' by his Hand, fo that it appear'd by the Report of the faid Paper; and when upon the Rack, they queftion'd him upon the Occasion of his Absence. he feem'd much confounded, and knew not what to anfwer; and many times chang'd Colour, although in all the other Proceedings he had fhew'd ' himfelf very refolute.

So the Testimony of Astarot, and that of Barre, whofe Way of Acting we have feen in this Affair, and who was at last condemn'd, and punish'd, as Author of the pretended Possession at Chinon, were made use of as Motives in the Condemnation of Grandier. But belides, the Animolity of this Hypocrite and his Partiality, which had been visible, ought to have hindred his being receiv'd for a Witnefs; wherefore, this Act was produc'd out of Seafon, not having been within the Time wherein the Thing should have pass'd, feeing that the Verbal Proceffes of that Time do not give Credit to it. That if Grandier was found to be absent at the Time obferv'd by Barre, it was becaufe he had well examin'd the Paper for pricking down the Names, to fix the Contrivance just in the Time it should have been. Is it not also an extraordinary Piece of Artifice in this Deposition, to fay, that razing out of the Word Sicknefs, was by the Hand of Grandier ? Since what time was it, that the Hand of a Man was known by a very

169

The History of .

a very fmall Razure? Grandier had no more to do, than to maintain, that 'twas done by the Hand of Barre, or Mignon, and he would have apparently affirm'd the Truth, for 'twas very unlikely that he could gain any Advantage by the striking out of the Word Sickness; it was more for his Purpole, that the Word should stand to evidence the Caufe of his Abfence, which could not have any other likely Pretence fo probable as that. But whence did it happen, that the Devil did not strike him on the Back in Obedience to the Orders of Barre? And that the Bp. who ought not lefs to be obey'd, did not command him to wound this Magician in the Forehead, when he defir'd it, for this Action had been altogether convincing, and exempted from all Sufpition, as may be feen in the Relation of the 23d. of June, contain'd in this Hiftory. Or how comes it, that if Barre could, by his Exorcifms, fo cafily drive out the Devils, he did not make use of that Power to deliver the Nuns fo cruelly tormented? That if the Perfon accus'd has appear'd confounded at the Circumstance of the pricking down; 'tis without doubt, that hearing this Deposition, he endeavour'd to recall the Ideas of what pass'd at the Time when they mention'd to him, which was now long fince, and that they qualified this Recollection, by the Name of Confusion.

Seet. 73. As for the extraordinary Proofs, they conconfift in Two particular Points; The First is the Experiment of the Marks, which having been declard by Afmodee, who then posselfed the Superior, together with the Places where they were, they cans'd the Person acens'd to be search'd by Eight Physicians, who have given their Report, by which they declare, that among st all the Marks found upon his Person, those of his Shoulder and Frivy Parts are suspected by them, because that a Needle having been thrust into the First, the thickness of an Inch, the the Senfe of Feeling there was dull, and not like to that which the accused Person shew'd to have, when they prob'd into the other Parts; and that from the one and the other there issued no Blood when the Needle was drawn out. It is true, that Afmodee declar'd, that the Person accus'd was mark'd in Five Places; but because of the Disficulty in discovering them, there were found but Two, which were suspected by the said Physicians.

This is a Touch-ftone to difcover the Sincerity of this Body of Philycians and Judges who make fuch a Report, one of the principal Subjects of a Sentence of Condemnation to the utmost Punishment. They found but thefe Two natural Spots apon Grandier's Body, the others were not feen, becaule, fay they, of the Difficulty there was to difcover them ; 'tis rather, becaufe there were none, for these so quick-fighted Eyes, which had well perceiv'd the Two First Spots, might also as readily have difcover'd the Three Others. Ought one to bring fuch Proofs and fuch Conclusions amongst those which have ferv'd to cause a Man to be condemn'd to the Fire? This is to pretend, that Au. thority ought to impose upon humane Reason. But there remains yet fome Shaddow of Modefty in this Company of Phyficians; they dar'd not to call thefe Marks, Diabolical and Supernatural, they only declare'd that they are fufpicious; they durft not fay that they were altogether infenfible, they only reported that the Senfe of Feeling there was dull ; but they did not express this, which Men of Experience cannot but know, that tis not a Thing rare or extraordinary, that there may be fome Part in the Body, where the Senfe of Feeling is not fo quick as in others, and efpecially those which are not of ordinaryConformation; fuch as are the Parts which are mark'd with Moles, or those which have been affected by fome Diftempers. Fournean, who Shav'd the the Patient on the Day of his Suffering, teftified that these Moles were natural and very sensible; and if there came out no Blood, that Singularity ought to be ascribid to Mannouri the Surgeon, the Brother-in-law of one of the Possefield, and Nephew of Silli, who us'd a Probe round at one End, and tharp at the other, which he could not but make the Patient feel very grievously every time he pleas'd.

Sett. 74. The Second Proof is the Scar on the Thumb of his Right Hand. For the 25th. of the Month of April, the fame Afmodee baving mention'd a Pact of a little Bit of Paper flain'd with some drops of Blood, he declar'd, after much Reliftance, that the Blood which appear'd upon this Paper , iffued from the Thumb of his Master's Right Hand; which the Sieur Laubardemont having heard, he went forthwith to the Prilon with Phylicians, whom after having caus'd to take Notice of a little Cut, which was found in the ze y Place that the Devil had declar'd, be interrogated Grandier upon the Caufe of the faid Hurt, who answered him, that he had not been aware of it, and had not taken Notice of it, and that it was likely to be done by flicking in lome Pin, not remembring how it should have happen'd etherwife. Neverthelefs, the Phyficians, after the faid Vifit, the 27th. of the lame Month, made their Report, wherein they judg'd that the burt was made by a Knife or fome other sharp Instrument; and that there came out Blood, of which the Person accus'd having Notice by the reading to him the Deposition, whereas the first time he testified be had no knowledge of that Cut, he recall'd what he had exprest before, and faid, that fince their last Visit, he had recollected his Memory, and that be did remember that one of his Guards had given him a Knife, by which he made the faid Hurt, by cutting a piece of Bread, Two Hours before the faid Laubardemont enter'd the Prifon; and another time he faid, that the Cut was made the Day before, wherein there is a Contradiation ; and besides, us'd all his Endeavours to make the faid Laubardemont believe, that there came forth no Blood, becaule he had well taken Notice of it; and that the Report of the faid Phyficians was falle in that Respect. After which, the 30th of the faid Month, the faid Sieur de Laubardemont, having again reiterated bis Interrogatories upon the fame Subject, he answer'd, that be believ'd that the faid Cut was made the Day before the faid Sieur de Laubardemont went into the Prilon, and that there had come out no Blood at it.

The Declaration of a Devil, who came to bring a Pact of Paper ftain'd with Blood, and the Teftimony of the Phyliciaus, who had altogether confulted in Form, to know, If a litsite Scar which was upon the Thumb of Grandier, was a Cut or a fmall Scratch; if it had been made with a Knife, Pin, or otherwise; and the Verbal Proceffes of Laubardemont, which thus far had any Shadow of Proof against Grandier, endeavour'd to involve him him in fome little Contradictions, upon a Fact which in it felf was the greateft trifle in the World ; all this not amounting to valuable Proofs, they relie much in this particular, upon the Aftonifhment of the Perfon accus'd, and upon the varying of his Anfwers. The Surprize, or rather the Reflection, which they call'd a Surprize, is upon this Occalion very natural to a Perfon accus'd of a Capital Crime, to whom they came upon a fuddain to put Objections and Queffions; he could not do lefs than recollect himfelf and reflect. The Depth of the Bufinels was important enough, and might concern him enough to produce that Effect: But as the Circumfrance, upon which they interrogated him, was in it felf but a Trifle, and a little Accident which might really happen, and efpecially in that Condition his Mind was in at that Time, and the Wound having not drawn any Blood, as he always ftrongly affirm'd, 'tis no wonder that he declar'd on a fuddain, that he knew not how it came; and that afterwards having recollected his Memory, he might believe he had fome Representation of the Manner how the Thing happen'd; and that after he had again corrected what he had declar'd, by fome more diffinet Idea which was come into his Mind, feeing that fuch an Accident could not have made any ftrong Imprefion upon his Imagination, if he had been in a quiet Condition. On the other fide, his Guards, and la Bontems his Hoffels, who were continually observing him, and who had undertaken to inform them of the least Circumstances that happen'd concerning his Perfon, had not fail'd to acquaint Afmodee with this little Accident, which they had better perceiv'd than the Patient himfelf, who had his Mind fill'd with other Matters.

Seff. 75. 'This is the beft Part of the Proofs, upon which there interven'd the Sentence of the 18th. of August laft, in Execution whereof, the Perfon condemn'd, having been put to the Torture, has own'd the Book made by him against the Celibacy of Priefts, out of a Defign to quiet the Mind of a Maid, whom he had convers'd with for Seven Years; and of which Book, if he had not acknowledg'd it, there had been Proofs at the Trial.

That Book contain'd nothing which had Relation to Magick, it was very well written, according to the Teffimony of a Phyfician who had feen it, and whofe Opinion is fet down in the French Mercury of that Time; If then that Writing had been pertinent to the Condemnation of Grandier, it ought not to have caus'd him to be fentenc'd to the Fire. His Declaration concerning that Book, which he had made an Occafion of a Marriage of Conficience between him and a Maid, has alfo been confirm'd by the fame Phylician, who faid he had feen at the End of it, this Diffich.

The History of

If that his Doffrine you aright conceive, Great quict foon your Conficience will receive.

Sell. 76. 'Tis allo very certain, whatever has been faid to the contrary, that the Manner wherewith the Perfon accus'd receiv'd the News of his Death, is a Confirmation of his wicked Life. For in the Firft Place, he never took Notice of the Crucifix when it was prefented to him; after the pronouncing of his Sentence, he fpake of nothing but the mitigating of the Rigour of his Punifhment.

Are not these Two fine Proofs of Magick ?

Sect. 77. ' He refus'd the Prayers which were offer'd him.

This Matter is falle, and is reported only by Authors who have writ in Favour of the Polleflion; whereas a great Number of Relations of very worthy Perfons do mention, that he accepted of the Prayers of all those who offer'd them; as may be seen in the Account we have given of his Death.

Sea. 78. 'And he did many other Actions which teffified fufficiently his Impenitence.

What were these Actions? And how could a Judge, who was not partial, bring in all those last Actions, as if they had been Proofs at his Trial? Have these subsequent Actions been Proofs to ground the foregoing Sentence upon? This is an Accumulation of all that, which for want of sufficient Proofs, they have been able to colle&, to blacken and render odious the Victim which they have unjustly facrific'd.

Sell. 79. 'All that which could be excepted againft, in the 'Infruction of the Procefs, is, that the Surgeon, who affifted 'at the Vifits, was a Kinfman of one, nam'd de Silli, who, 'they fay, has been one of the Infruments of the Defructi-'on of Grandier; but he was only as a Witnefs, and there are 'Eight Phyficians unfulpected, who affifted there, who have 'given their Report.

He who manag'd the Probe was but a Witnefs, and those who affifted, and were prefented at the Aftion, were Agents. So that to affift, is to be an Agent; and to aft, is only to affift. By fuch an Invertion of Reafon, one may eafily burn all Mankind. It may be feen by this, of what People all that Body of Physicians was compos'd, and what Regard one ought to have for their Teflimonies, as well as for the Proceedings of Laubardemont and the other Commiffaries, to whom there was Complaint made of the Incapacity and Partiality of Manneturi, in demanding a new Vifit, to which thele Judges having not confented, they are notwithftanding forc'd to own, that there is fomething to be faid againft if.

Sell, 80. ' It may be faid further, that the Apothecary, who ' prepar'd the Drugs to Purge and Phyfick the faid Nuns, during

⁴ ring the time they were fequefier'd, was much fulpedied by ⁶ Grandier, because he had had a Suit with one of his Confi-⁶ dents. But to that may be reply'd, that the Drugs were ⁶ view'd by the Physicians who appointed them; and that the ⁶ Composition was made in their prefence.

Why would they acknowledge that the Apothecary was infpected without appointing another ? It is becaule another could not be found capable of fo great Wickednets. But if the Drugs had been always mingled in the Prefence of the Phyficians [which is not true] and that the Phyficians themfelves had not been fuffected, they were not always prefent from the Moment of the Composition, to the Moment that the Drugs were administred, to know and attell that there was no change made in them.

Seff. 81. 'It may be further faid, that the Sequefiration of the Nuns had not been executed according to Form; becaufe they were not all feparated one from the other. But this Fault was fupply'd and amended, in that they were put fome of them into the Houle of one, who is faid to be one of the beft Friends of Grandier, call'd Mawat.

* beft Friends of Grandier, call'd Maurat. This is the Reafoning of a pathonate and blinded Party, rather than of a difinterefted Judge. Some of the leaft confiderable of the Perfons poffels'd, and who made no Figure in the Bufinefs of the Poffeffion, are put into the Houle of one of Grandier's Friends, and all the Chiefeft are deliver'd to his Mortal and declar'd Enemies; and the Defect of that Sequeftration, in its moft effential Parts, and almoft in all its Parts, is faid to be fupply'd and repair'd, becaufe it was a little lefs abufively perform'd in a fmall Number of the poffeffed; but to fpeak Truth, it was not done at all, fince they acknowledge here, that it was intirely ill Executed in this Point, that they were not all put feparately. It muft then be confeft, that they have been to blame for having fo obfinately ftopp'd their Ears, when the Perfon accus'd has fo many times demanded a real Sequeftration, and by Confequence, that he has been unjuftly condemn'd.

Seil. 82. • I forbear to fpeak of the Declarations made by the Devils, and which they continually repeated, viz. that Grandier was the Subject of their Miffion, the Author of their Witchcrafts, and the chief Caule of all these Torments; from which these poor Maids could not be deliver'd, leaving to the Divines to know, if one may believe the Father of Lies, and if the Devils duly exorcis'd are oblig'd to fpeak the Truth, and if the Conditions requisite to make a perfect Exorcism, are as possible, as necessary. As concerning the Hoft, whereon they fay, there were fome drops of Blood; befides, That this Miracle doth in no wile ferve for the Conviction of Grandier, and that it happen'd after his Death; having having not been an Eye-witness thereof, I refer the curious to the Information which the Lieutenant Criminal of Orleans

The History of

' has made thereof.

176

Seft. 83. To overthrow all at once the Teftimonies of the Devils and Perfons poffels'd, we fhall relate here an Aft of the Sorbonne, more Authoris'd and more decilive, than all theArguments we can ufe.

" We, fub'cribed Doctors of the Faculty of Paris, concerning a certain Queftion which has been propos'd to us, are of Opinion, that one ought never to allow the Devil to accuse others, and less also to make use of the Exorcisms to dif-· cover the Faults of any one, and to know if he be a Magician; and when the faid Exorcifins fhall be made in the pre-' fence of the Holy Sacrament, with an Oath drawn from the ' Devil, by making him Swear, which is a Ceremony we do " not approve of, however, one ought not for that to believe " him, being always a Liar, and the Father of Lies; the Exor-" cifins alfo being not in all Kinds infallible, to produce fuch " Effect as is pretended, and fo it is held by most of the " Doctors. Confidering alfo, that the Devil is greatly delight-" ed in Calumny and Imposture, and is the Sworn Enemy of " Mankind, fo that notwithstanding the terrible Torments " which he endures by the Exorcifms, being adjur'd by the " Name of God in the Prefence of the moft Holy Sacrament , ' he had rather fuffer all that Evil in lying impudently, pro-" vided he may difcharge and execute his Rage upon him, againft whom he has a Defign : Whereunto may be added, ' that if this Door be once open, the honefteft Perfons would not ⁶ be in fafety, confidering that 'tis at those that the Devil chief-⁶ ly aims; for this Reason St. Thomas, Book 22. Queft. 9. Ar-* ticul. 2. maintains with the Authority of St. Chryfoltom, that " Dæmoni etiam vera dicenti, non eft credendum, the Devil muft not " he believ'd, tho' he fpeak the Truth. And in Effect, our Sa-" viour, in St. Mark, Ch. 1. and St. Luke, Chap. the 4th. ' fuffers not the Devils to speak, but enjoyns them Silence, although they fpeak the Truth in calling him the Son of GOD. "Whereby 'tis manifeft, that one ought in no wife to proceed " againft thole that the Devil fhall accule, when there are no o-" ther Proofs. And alfo we fee this well observ'd in France, " where the Judges do not take Cognizance of fuch Depofitions. And on the other fide, all the Difcourfe held by the Devil, fo as it had been related to us, is particularly fuf-* pected, for being too long, of one Tenour, and without Intermiffion. Made at Paris the 16th of February, 1620. Signed Andrew du Val. P. Gamaches, and N. Imbert. Seft. 84. ' The reading of this A&, all the Decifions where-

* of fo well agree with the Bufine's of Grandier, do clearly flew * the Injuffice of the Sentence given againft him. The

THE

177

THIRD BOOK.

Sect. 1. T was with much aftonifhment and difpleafure, that the Monks beheld the courage and refolution that Grandier shew'd, even to the laft breath of his Life. They did not believe that a Man who had liv'd in eafe and pleafure, was capable of fo much conftancy. They did hope that he would have been thaken by the profpect of the Torments which were provided for him, and by the promife they would have made him for the mitigation of them; Or that at least the Torments themselves would have forc'd from him the Confession of a Crime, whereof they would have made him guilty, and were perfwa-ded that if they could not bring him even to charge those whom they had defign'd to make his Complices, they should not fail to draw Confequences very dangerous for them by that Confel-tion, which being ready drawn in fuch terms as they thought fit, should be prefented to him to fign ; whereby it might be concluded, that if he did own no more, it was to fpare them, and not to expose them to the rigour of the Punishments to which he was condemn'd. 'Twas upon this confideration that Laubardemont spake to him very low, and difcours'd him a very long time in the Chamber M

178

Chamber of Audience, when he denied him the Paper which he afk'd for, wherein doubtlefs he intended to write quite other things than the Confeffion they exacted of him, which was once again tender'd to him in vain by the fame Lauberde-mont, all written and ready to fign, after he had undergone the Torture, and that he was in the Council Chamber upon the Straw near the fire. This Obstacle, which they did not expect, or which at leaft they did affuredly think to furmount, had fo highly rais'd the Spirits of the good Fathers, that they proceeded to execute upon his Perfon the Exceffes which have been mention'd : But it ferv'd to fecure the Bailiffe, the Lieutenant Civil, Magdalane de Brou, who was Grandier's most intimate Friend, and many other Officers and good Catholicks, as well as most of the Protestants, upon whom they pretended to make dangerous attempts in confequence of the Declarations which they endeavour'd to extort from the Sufferer in his Torments.

Sect. 2. Things being in this Condition, and the Exorcifts not being yet fatisfied, becaufe they had not hitherto found out ways to establish their Inquifition, by caufing to be drawn before the Tribunal of the Judges, all those against whom they had a Mind to act in purfuance of Grandier's attestation ; they were constrain'd to have. recourfe to other means, and to endeavour to do by the testimony and power of the Devils, what fo many diabolical Actions had not been able to effect.

Sect. 3. Altho' the number of the Perfons poffels'd were very great, it was feen neverthelefs that there were but a very few that were become famous in thefe Exorcifins and proper to perform the pofure flures, and to fall into Convultions. As the Superior excell'd amongit the Nuns, Elizabeth Blanchard carried the Prize amongit the Seculars. She had the confidence to maintain to Grandier's Face; that he had carnal commerce with her. And that he had promis'd to make her Princefs of Magicians, if the would follow him to the Sabat, although he had protefted that he never faw her before the day the was confronted to him. She faid the was poffefs'd by fix Devils, by Attarot and the Coal of Impurity, who were of the Order of Angels, by Belzebub, and the Lion of Hell, of the Order of Arch-angels, and by Peron and Maron of the Order of Cherubins. Aftarot had promis'd to raife her up fix foot from the Gound when he went out, and the Lion of Hell to pierce her Foot, the others boafted of nothing : Thefe Miracles promis'd by the two Devils were expected with impatience, when there was another fubfituted in their place.

179

Sell. 4. The third day after the death of Grandier in the Evening, the Father Peter Thomas de St. Charles, a Carmelite, Exorcift of Elizabeth Blanchard, having given her the Communion, fhe was much agitated by one of her Devils, who would not tell his Name. During this Struggle the confecrated Wafer was held by one of its edges and raifed its whole length upon the lower lip of the Perfon poffefs'd, and was feen by all the Afliftants to be red and mark'd with Blood in many places, particularly on the most elevated part. The Exorcift interrogated the Devil in Latin, and commanded him to tell him what the Prodigy meant? The Poffefs'd answered in French, That it was the Blood of Jefus Chrift, thus fhed upor the Confecrated Wafer, to convince the wicked and inthe Confecrated Wafer, to convince the wicked and incredulous, who faid it was but Bread; which was con-firm'd by great Oaths, and a new Miracle, which the Devil did in this manner. Two Recollects who ftood far enough from the Poffels'd, agreed to-gether, whilpering upon a Motion that the fhould perform, in an act of Adoration which should be commanded her, to know thereby if the were real-ly poffers'd, and if the Devils knew what paft in fecret. She fail'd not to perform that Motion in faying, I adore the precious Blood of Jefus Chrift there prefent, or at least the two Recollects protested that fhe had done it; fo there is no room to doubt it, and it ought to be believ'd, notwithftanding the fufpicions there were that fhe had been advertis'd before by these two fellow Friars of Father Lastance, and notwithftanding the complaints that were inade, that this fign had been declar'd to no Body but to thele two Monks. It happen'd further to the first of these Prodigies, that there were a great many Perfons in the Affembly who would fearch that Maids Mouth, and who confider'd her Tongue, her Lips, and all their Parts, without finding either Wound or Scratch, or Fiftula, or any appearance that there had iffued out thence Blood that day. In fine, the Exorcift took the Bloody Hoft, and being devoutly follow'd by all those People who were perfivaded and believ'd, he carried it in Procession to the Convent of the Carmelites.

The Hiftory of Book III.

180

ScH. 5. The next day in the Morning, August 22th. Elizabeth Blanchard was Exorciz'd again in the Church of the Carmelites. The Exorcift demanded of the Devil, Of what Church doest thou believe the Authority? Who answer'd nothing to that Question: But the Maid faid by her own Motion, I have enough to do to speak of that Blood. Of

Of what Blood, faid the Carmelite to her ? 'Tis not thy Blood, reply'd the, 'tis the Blood of a Mafter who is Almighty. Whereupon the Exorcift having com-manded her by the Virtue of that Blood, to tell him, Who was that great and Almighty Mafter? She utter'd an Oath fo horrible, that instead of daring to write it here, it makes one tremble to think of it only; and afterwards the antwer'd, If I had it thou (hould never have it. The Exprcift proceeded. Q. I command thee by the Virtue of that Blood, to tell me who is that Almighty Mafter ? A. I will not answer thee concerning that Blocd. Q. Whofe is that Blood? A. I am inrag'd, thou know f it well; keep it fafe that it be not spill d, thou shalt answer for it, God must be serv'd ; She pronounced these Words swearing again horribly by the Holy Name of God. O. For what is this Blood ? A. God. has made this to the end that more Reverence may be given to the Holy Sacrament : I am obliged to fay it by the Almighty Power of God. Q. Whofe is that Blood which torments thee ? Say, if thou obey / not-A. Thou know's it, I told it yesterday, I cannot tell it without fuffering pain. She utter'd not these words before fhe had gnash'd her Teeth, turn'd her Eyes, and feemed to fuffer fome convulsions. O. Tell it, to the end that the Affiftants may now hear it. A. We cannot think of God but it increaseth our Torments, I am imrag'd. She renounc'd God in concluding that laft an fiver. Q. Whofe is that Blood ? A. Trs the Blood _____ There the ftopt that, and fell into another Convultion. Q. Whole is that Blood which was fled yesterday ? A. Tis the Blood of the Son of Man. Q. And who is the Son of Man? answer. A. 'Tis the Blood of the Son of the Virgin, I am inrag'd, I will not tell it, this makes me mad. Upon which the made frightful Grinn-Minune and M:3. ... and the second

181

182 The Hiftory of Book III.

ces with her Teeth, and dreadful cries. Q. Who is the Son of the Virgin? A. 'Tis a little Baby. Q. Who is that? A. 'Tis the little Jefus; After fhe had faid that fhe had many convultions. O. Whofe Blood is that which was shed yesterday? A. Tis the Blood of Jefus Christ : She ftopt thort again, and the Exorcift having commanded her to adore it, as a fign that fhe had fpoke the truth, fhe rais'd her felf up, and went to put her felf on her Knees upon the loweft Steps of the Altar, where the firetched out her Arms in the form of a Crofs, the palms of her Hands turn'd outwards, her head bow'd downwards, and her face towards the ground, the Exorcift commanded her to adore with words plainly pronounc'd. I adore, faid the, the Blood of fefus Christ which was shed yesterday for the incredulous. Proceed, faid the Exorcift. That word imprudently let fall, was taken hold of by one of the Standers by, who faid that that fignified that fhe had not recited all that was contain'd in her Part ; but he who had been fo rash for making that remark, was very fortunate that he could flip amongst the croud, and fo get away. The Poffeffed in the mean time proceeded thus, He (bed his Blood yesterday for the Incredulous, to the end they might believe it was not an Imposture; God at the end of Judgment will condemn them, and then bis Anger Iball appear, and they Iball be more dammed than the Devils. This strange Dialogue being ended, two Carmelites went to find Lauberdemont, and they related to him the great Miracle that was done the day before, and what happen'd again at the laft Exorcifin, as if he had known nothing of it. Whereupon Lauber demont and the Procurator General Deniau went to the Convent of the Carmelites, with the Clerk of the Commission. When they

they were near the great Altar of the Church, the Hoft was prefented to them; they found it mark'd with Blood in feveral places, being a little more full of Spots on one fide of the edge than elfewhere, the Marks being more red, and bigger, and all the Blood of a Vermilion colour, although it was quite dry. Laubardement himfelf would draw up an Act, but 'twas now paft noon, and each of the Spectators, for whatfoever reafon it was, exprest fo great a defire to be gone, that at the request of the King's Procurator, the Commiffary caus'd an Act, which had been already drawn up by a Carmelite, to be read immediately, and he oblig'd all the Standers by, of whom fome would have been willing to be further off, to fwear upon the Holy Gofpels, and to atteft that that Act contain'd the Truth, afterwards it having been fign'd by the Order of the fame Commiffary, by all those who could write, and in Particular by the Priefts, and Friars, who had affifted the precedent Evening at the Exorcifm at St. Peter du Martrai, it was fent to the Registry, and the Hoft was carried in a little Tabernacle, near the great Altar, on the Gofpel-fide, whereof Laubardemont took the Key. The Relation of that Miracle was no fooner printed, but 'twas contradicted by the Incredulous, who maintain'd, that the Exorcift might eafily put an Hoft ftain'd with Blood upon Blanchard's Mouth; That the Devil himfelf was honeft enough not to fpeak of Blood going out of the Hoft, but of Blood fhed : That the Carmelite in imitation of him had fulficiently difcover'd, that that Part had been devis'd and fuggefted, when he faid to the Perfon pretended to be poffeffed, Proceed, as 'twas well obferv'd by him, who was fain to go out of the N 4 Church

183

The History of Book III.

184

Church; And that thence it followed, that the Blood of Jefus Chrift had been twice fhed, the first time upon the Crofs for the expiation of the Sins of Men; and the fecond upon the Hoft for the Conviction of the Incredulous, who look'd upon the Poffession at Londum as a gross and ill contriv'd Imposture, and which was supported but by the violence of Authority; the Doctrine whereof contain'd fo many absurdities and blasshemies, that one cannot too much wonder that there had been Christians in the World who durft introduce and fupport it.

Sett. 5. That double Miracle was too famous not to deferve to entertain the Reflections of devout Souls for a long time, and 'twas to give them leifure to feed their Holy Avidity, that the Perfons poffer-fed ftopt, and offer'd them nothing extraordinary. But the Devils, who are active, could not fo continue in Idlenefs. Here follows what they did, as it is contain'd in a Book printed at Poitiers by Authority by Anthony Meufinier, in the Year 1635. intituled, A Relation of what pass'd in the Exorcifins at Loudun, in the prefence of Monfieur the King's Brother, Pag. 22, and 25. wherein the Author having maintain'd, That the Exorcifts do almost all, more or lefs, partake of the Effects of the Devils, by the Inconveniencies and Diffurbances they receive, and that few Perfons have attempted to expel them, but they have been exercis'd by them. " He adds for " a Witnefs, the late Father Lactance Gabriel of hap-" py Memory; who whilft he was in that Em-ployment, wherein he glorioufly died, after he 23 had expell'd three Devils out of the Mother Prio-" refs, felt great Molestations by those Evil Spi-" rits, loofing fometimes his Sight, fometimes his " Memory, and now and then his Underftanding, " fuffering

" fuffering Pains at his Heart, Infeftations in Spi-" rit, and divers other Moleftations. That is, to fpeak plainly, and without any difguife, that Father Lastance died the 18th of September, just a Month after the Death of Grandier, and that he was almost continually mad, and inrag'd during his difeafe. If he had fome interval during his Frenzy he employed it in Uttering merry Jefts, fuch as when he faid to his Phyfician, That he pray'd him to prepare in his prefence the Medicines he had or-der'd him, becaufe that all that came from Adam, Javour'd of Original Sin, quibbling fo upon the Name of Adam his Apothecary. Tou are very happy, faid he, another time to the Wife of du Freine Mouffaut, who tended him, and at whole Houfe he lodg'd; Tou are very happy for this, that the Providence of God has made me thus fall into your Hands, and you have obtain'd an opportunity to render me the good fervices which you do : And looking with contempt upon the young Monks who were put about to watch with him, Is it not a lamentable thing, cry'd he, That a Man of Weight, Defert, and Importance, as I am, should be ferved and affifted by Inch Monkeys and little Hobgoblins ? Certainly if one will not believe with the moft Catholick Author of the Relation abovemention'd, that he has been poffefs'd by real Devils, at leaft one must agree, that his Confcience did ferve him inftead of an Executioner and a Devil, fince it is certain that he died in fuch a fit of Madnefs and Defpair as are not to be express'd. It must not be omitted here, that a few days after the death of Grandier, that good Father beginning to find himfelf feiz'd with the Diftemper whereof he died, whatever it was, he purpos'd to make a Journey to our Lady of Ardilliers at Saumur, he had a place in the Coach

The History of Book III.

187

Coach of the Sieur de Canaye, who went to di-vert himfelf at his Eftate of Grandfons, with a company of Perfons who were not greatly fcru-pulous, ashe himfelf was not. They knew already that 'twas nois'd about, that the Father was really poffefs'd, and they flirted out against him some jest-ing passages upon that Subject, when all upon a fudden going on gently in an even way, the Coach overturn'd, the top of it falling undermost without any Body's being hurt, or receiving any inconvenience. Whatfoever courage the Company had, they were furpriz'd at that Accident; and when they were come to Grandfons, being at the Table, they difcours'd very ferioufly con-cerning the Devils of Loudum, and the death of Grandier, with Father Lastance. He feem'd fad. and diforder'd, and fpake little in that Converfation; he only acknowledg'd that he repented of his advifing that they fhould deny Father Grillau to be Confession to Grandier, who had de-fir'd it with so much earnestness. The next day they proceeded on their Journey for Saumur, where the Coach was again over-turn'd after the fame manner, in the middle of the great Street of the Suburb of Fenet, which leads to the Chapel of Ardilliers, and which is alfo very plain and even, which gave a great Reputation to the Noife that was fpread abroad of the Poffeffion of Father Lastance by evil Spirits, and that rumor yet made a far greater Impression upon the People, when they had seen that Father die mad and in despair. But that which did fully confirm that Belief, was the applaule which the Monks gave it; for it concern'd them fo exceed-ingly to make the Poffeffion find Credit, that to remove all doubts, and to have an effential Proof, Proof, they would readily agree that Father Latance did die poffess'd, faving that they might the better turn that Poffession to the Glory of the Church, and of the late Matyr, and to the advantage of the other Exorcifts, even as it ap-pear'd in the Relation printed at Poitiers above cited.

Set. 6. The Lieutenant Civil of Loudan, Lewis Chauvet had teffified by his Proceedings and oppolitions to the Procedures of the first Exorcifts, that he gave no credit to those Devils, and did not fear them. However he could not overcome the fear which feiz'd him, and fo far poffess'd him, that it never forfook him during the remainder of his Life. That Magistrate had Wit, Politeness and Honefty: But as he had not been willing to applaud the Possession, the Cabal, to caufe him to be suspected, had had recourse to the ordinary and general means, which was to accuse him of Magick by one of the Poffefs'd. At first he laugh'd at the Accufation, and accounted it as ridiculous, as indeed it was. But when he had feen the tragical End of Grandier, his courage was shaken, and he began to be afraid. In that difposition he took a Journey to Poitiers, where the Affizes were held; he met with a Man there of confideration and quality, by whom he was particularly known; he had a long conference with him upon the Subject of the Poffession at Loudan, and of the condemnation of Grandier: Whereupon that Friend affur'd him, that after he had well confider'd all the circumftances of that Affair, it was his perfuasion, that all those who had been accus'd of that Magick, and fhould be for the future, would be in great danger to lofe both their Honours and Life; And that if he faw himfelf 188 The Hiftory of Book III. hunfelf accus'd of that Crime, as Grandier had been, he fhould think himfelf loft without hope, whatfoever Credit, Friends, or good Reputation he had. This Declaration furpri-zed the Lieutenant Civil, he was confounded and the Agitations of the fright feiz'd fo violent-ly upon his Spirit, that they overturn'd it, and reduc'd him to fuch a condition, that fince he was never reftor'd to his right Underftanding.

Self. 7. The Carmelites of Londum heretofore had been poffefs'd of the Power of working Miracles; they had an Image of our Lady, call'd our Lady of Recovery, who fail'd not any one of those in what they requir'd of her devoutly, and in the requisite form. But fince that Image of Ardilliers came to be fet up at Saumur, in the Neighbourhood of the former, as if fhe had been her Rival, fhe ufurp'd all her Power and Credit ; and 'tis no great wonder ; for doubtlefs there's no body in the World, who does not agree, that the Priefts of the Oratory are more able and cunning People than the Carmelites. At that time all one Quarter and a Suburb of Loudan, which was fill'd with Inns for Pilgrims, remain'd unpeopled and defolate, and the Carmelites without Prefents, Votaries, and Gofpelmoney. What was there to be done in fuch a Defertion ? They employ'd Humane Means to re-eftablifh the Work, which the Image had not been able to fupport, and which fhe had fuffer'd to de-cay : They pierc'd the Wall of the Altar upon which the was placed interwalt of the Anal upon which the was placed; they drew a Branch of a Vine, which was planted behind it, and brought it through this Wall juft to her Eyes; and at the time when the Vine us'd to weep, the Image in the pre-fence of a number of People affembled to hear Mafs

Mais and the Sermon, wept at feveral times for their want of Devotion, and for the Contempt they made of her Altar and her Power. But that Contrivance having not fucceeded happily, becaufe of the great multitude of Protestants which were then at Loudin, who had malicioufly examin'd the Miracle, and difcover'd the Artifice, those good Fathers were very glad to find in the Poffellion, and in the Authority of its Confederates, a way open to fave their Credit, in fpite of the piercing and malicious Eyes, and indifcreet Tongues of Hereticks, who were confirain'd to keep filent, by the Terror of Loubarde-mont, which, to use the Scripture Language, was fallen upon them, and gave them deadly Alarms. Thefe Fathers knew readily to lay hold of the opportunity in the Exorcifm of Elizabeth Blan-chard on the 21ft of June, wherein was pro-duc'd the Hoft ftain'd with Blood; and believing that after that Proof, there were no more Miracles which they were not able to perform, they attempted to caufe a Devil, or a Magician, to bring a Copy of the Inftrument in Writing, which Grandier had given to the Devil, when they made their Agreement. To attempt and to fucceed was the fame thing for thefe good Fathers, who pretended to be invefted with the Authority of the Church. Having got that Copy, they caus'd it to be Printed, and fix'd in feve-veral places, to the end that if there were yet any Incredulous Perfon in the World, he fhould be fully convinc'd of the Poffession by a Proof fo folid and fo evident : Whereof these were the Contents; My Lord and Master, Lucifer, I acknowledge you for my God, and I promife to ferve you as long as I shall live ; I renounce any other God, and Felus Chriff, and other Saints, and the Apostolical and Ro-222.712

The History of Book III.

190

man Church, and all the Sacraments of the fame, and all the Prayers and Orifons which may be made for me; and I promife you to do all the Mifchief I shall be able, and to entice as many Perfons, as I can, to do burt : And I renounce the Chryfoin and Baptifin, and all the Merits of Jefus Chrift and his Saints : And in cafe I fail to ferve, adore, and do homage to you thrice a day, Igive you my Life, as belonging to you. The Original is in Hell, in a Corner of that Country, in the Cabinet of Lucifer. Sign'd with the Blood of the Magician. 'Tis not to be doubted but that this is the Stile of the Court of Hell; for either the Devils themfelves drew up this Act, or elfe it must be forged in the Convent of the Carmelites; and if fo, one may be bold to fay, that there are Monks, who are skilful enough to imitate the Stile of Devils, and are so learn'd in their Languages and Cuftoms, that one may eafily take the Acts which they make in the obfcure Retreat of their Cloifters, to have been fram'd in the very Darknefs of Hell. It is a Truth whereof one may be entirely convinc'd by the infpection of this, that it cannot be denied but that Diabolical Spirits were the Authors of it.

Sett. 8. The Place of the Reverend Father Las Hance having continued void by his Death, 'twas very fit that they fhould caft their Eyes upon a Tefuite to fupply it: For why fhould not that Order, fo famous, fo pious, and fo proper to make every thing fucceed that they undertake, have been call'd in to combat against the Devils? Seeing that every one of them who enters therein, is born, as they themselves boast, with a Helmet on bis Head, and arm'd with all forts of offenfive and de-fenfive Weapons? "Tis true, that Father Joseph would not fuffer it, whilft he thought himfelf able to perform the Office of Exorcift, and he caus'd almoft

most all that Mission to fall into the Hands of the Friars of St. Francis; but after that he was difgufted, and that he had refus'd to be concern'd himfelf in that Bufinefs, the way remain'd open to the Jefuits, who enter'd it with Joy. It was not lefs worthily fupplied by Father Surin, of whom they made choice amongst themselves for that purpole, than it had been by his Predeceffor. That Fa-ther came to Loudum the 25th of December ; and to be well inform'd with what he did there, it may be learnt from his own Writings, wherein he fays, " That he endeavour'd to difcover with Evidence, ' the Poffellion of the Devil in the Mother Priorefs ; ' That this was the first Obligation, he believ'd, was ' incumbent upon him in the first entrance upon his " Office; That he had found unquestionable Proofs, " and could fivear before God and his Church, That " more than two hundred times the Devils had difco-" ver'd to him things very fecret, concealed in his, " Thought or his Perfon. One must believe this Teftimony of a Jefuit in favour of the Devil, and to the prejudice of God, who thereby is found to have no longer, and to the exclusion of all others, the fole Power of Searching the Hearts, the Reins, and the Thoughts. How important and terrible foever this Opinion might be, it is hereby become probable, or rather Father Surin deferves well to be believ'd on his Word. But if one were yet too obftinate and incredulous not to be perfivaded of the Truth of the Possession, upon the Faith of fuch a Voucher, one need but confider, without Preposses fion, the new and unquestionable Proofs which hereafter follow.

Sett. 9. The Relation of what pass in the Exorcifins at Loudun, in the presence of Monsheur, printed at Poitiers, which has been already quoted, relates.

The History of Book III.

192

lates, ' That the Devils threatned at first the Father Jesuit, by the Mouth of the Mother Prio-refs, who had been given him in charge, to use him very ill, and to be fully reveng'd of him; and as he purfued daily his Defign, they attemp-' ted, being follicited, as they faid, by fome Magicians, to difturb him extraordinarily, to caufe C ¢ him to quit his Employment : So that he began, fince the 19th of January, 1635, to be fenfible of divers Signs of the Prefence and malicious Operati-¢ ¢ ons of Devils; and that it was observ'd at that time, that performing his Exorcifm, he loft his Speech ¢ ¢ upon a fudden; fo that they were oblig'd to call in fome other Exorcifts, who applying the Holy ¢ Sacrament to his Mouth, freed him entirely; That that accident continu'd a long time, and even in the prefence of the Bishop of Nimes; ' who, whilft the Devil nam'd Ifaacarum took pof-¢ feffion of the Countenance of the Mother Superior, and fpake by her Mouth, he faw how the ć Devil audacioufly threatning the Father to im-¢ ¢ pofe Silence upon him, difappear'd on a fud-¢ den from the Countenance of the poffefs'd, and at the fame time attack'd the Father; that he made him change Colour, that he fqueez'd his ¢ é Breaft, and ftopp'd his Speech ; and that quick-G ς ly after, obeying that command which was gić ven to quit him, he return'd to the Body of the Priorefs, fpake by her Mouth, and fhew'd him-¢ felf extreamly hideous and horrible upon her Countenance; That the Father renewing the Combat, continued his Function with the ' fame Liberty, as if he had not felt any Af-' fault of the Devil; and fo one Afternoon ' he was affaulted and acquitted feven or eight times one after another. That thefe Affaults have

C have been follow'd by others much ftronger, ¢ which began before the Paffion Week, when the Devil faidoften to the Exorcift by the Mouth of the * Poffels'd, I will make thee fuffer the Passion this Passion c Weeek, my Friends are taking pains about it, intending to fpeak of fome Magicians. And that real-ly on good Friday about the Evening, the Father 6 6 6 being in his Chamber, in the company of eigh c or ten Perfons, he felt great pains at his Heart, ¢ and certain impetuofities which mov'd him ins wardly, and conftrain'd him to twift himfelf, 6 as it happens in the extremities of the Cholick ; c That these Affaults which began at home, con-' tinued afterwards in publick, according to the ' Threats which the Devil often made to the Fa-" ther; protefting that he would make him quit ' his Trade, and compel him to return from 'whence he came. That 'twas feen during the " Exorcifins, that the Devil exorciz'd by the Father, leaving the Priorefs, ftruck the Exorcift inwardly, as with a Dart, and threw him on ' the Ground, fo that he cried and was shaken ' by his Adverfary and Atagonift; That after ' he had continued in that condition about half an hour, or an hour, by the Succours of other ' Exorcifts, and the application of the Holy Sacrament to the Places where he was fenfible of the prefence of the Devil, one while in the ç 6 Breaft, and another while in the Head, which he fnew'd with his Hand, (as being always himfelf, and in liberty of Spirit,) and the reft of his Body, he was deliver'd, and that that Devil went to appear in the Countenance of the Priorefs; where the Father being relieved, with a holy Vengeance he went to purfue him, as if

193

The Hiftory of Book III.

194

if nothing had happen'd, and forc'd him to adore
the Holy Sacrament in the manner that is practifed in those Exorcifms.

Sett. 10. But poffibly one may believe a Letter which the Father Surin himfelf writ to Father D'atichi, who was then at Ronnes; 'tis of the 3d. of May. 1635. and has been Printed under this Title.

thread afterwards in pathick, accurding to his

the Ground, to that he cried and was thele as he thew'd with his Hand, (as being always himfelf, and in liberty of Spirit,) and the felt Af his Body, he was delivered, and that that Devil went to appear in the Countenaure of the

a holy Vengeance he went to purfue him, as

Active attack

the Approaches fo frequent, that Field of Arttle was the Exoletin, miss declare thanfelves in ferrer by

Of the Reverend Father Surin Jesuit Exorcift of the Ursulin Nuns of Loudun, to one of his Friends, a Jesuit.

ETTEI

PAX CHRISTI

To my Reverend Father.

There has been fcarcely any Body, to whom I take the Pleafure to relate my Adventures but to your Reverence, who hears them willingly, and forms thereupon thoughts which happen not fo eafily to others, who know me not as you do. Since the laft Letter which I writ you, I am fallen into a condition very remote from my forefight, but very conformable to the Providence of God in relation to my Soul; I am no more at Marennes but at Loudum, where I have receiv'd yours lately. I am in a prepetual converfation with the Devils, where I have had the Adventures which would be too long to mention to you, and which have given me a greater caufe than ever I had to acknowledge and admire the Goodnefs of God. I will tell you fomething, and I would tell you further, if you were more fecret; I am combating with four Devils, the most powerful and malicious

The History of Book III.

196

man 1

of Hell, I my felf, fay, whole infirmities you know. God has permited that the Combat has been fo rude, and the Approaches fo frequent, that the finalleft Field of Battle was the Exorcifm; 2 for the Enemies declare themfelves in fecret by Night and by Day, and in a thousand different ways. You may conceive what pleafure it is to find ones felf at the Mercy of God alone. I will tell you no more, it fufficeth me that knowing my condition, you will take an occa-fion to pray for me: So it is, that for three Months and a half, I never am without a Devil exercifing of me. Things are come to that pass, that God has permitted, I think for my Sins, what one could never be able to have feen in the Church, but in the exercife of my Miniftry, the Devil paffes from the Body of a Perfon posses field, and coming into mine, affaults me, overthrows me, tosses me, and visibly troubles me, by possessing me many hours as a De-moniac. I cannot explain to you what passes in me during that time, and how that Spirit was united with mine, without depriving me either of the knowledge or liberty of my Soul, " making himfelf neverthelefs as another my felf, and as if I had two Souls, one of which was difpoffeft of its Body and the use of its Or-' gans, and keeps it felf apart, beholding the other act, who has introduced himfelf there. Thefe two Spirits combat together in the fame Field which is the Body, and the Soul is as it were ' divided ; according to one part of its felf, it is the Subject of diabolical Impreffions, and ac-cording to the other, of the Motions which ' are proper to it, or what God gives it. At the fame time I feel great quiet under the good pleafure · of

of God, and without knowing how there come an extream rage and averfion to him, which produceth as it were fome impetuofities to be feperated from him, which aftonisheth those who fee them, and at the fame time a great joy and delight, and on the other part a Sadnets which thews it felf by lamentations and howlings, like to those of Devils. I feel the State of Damna-' tion, and apprehend it, I feel my felf as pierced with the points of Defpair in the ftranger Soul, " which feems to me to be mine; and the other Soul " which is in full confidence mocks at those Senti-"ments, and curfeth with all freedom him who caus'd them, truly I find that the fame cries, which go out of my Mouth, come equally from thefe two Souls, and I can hardly diflinguish, whether it is pleasure that produceth them, or the extream madness that filled me. The tremblings which feize me, when the Holy Sa-' crament is apply'd to me, come equally, as it ' feems to me, from the horrour of its prefence, ' which is fupportable, and from a Cordial and ' pleafing Reverence, without being able to attri-' bute them to the one rather than to the other, ' and that 'tis not in my power to retain them. ' When I would, by the motion of one of thefe "two Souls, make the fign of the Crofs on my ⁴ Mouth, the other turns away my Hand with great quicknefs, and feizeth my Fingers with his Teeth, for to bite them with fury. I fcarce-' ly ever find Prayer more eafie, and quist, than in thefe agitations, whilft the Body rolls through the Place, and the Minifters of the Church ' fpeak to me as to a Devil, and load me with Curfes ; I cannot tell you the Joy that I am fen-fible of, being become a Devil, not by rebellion 03 f to

The History of Book III.

198

to God, but by the calamity which gives me a live-' ly Reprefentation of the effate wherein Sin has ree duc'd me, and how appropriating to meall the curfes " which are given me, my Soul has caufe to fink it felf into its nothingnefs. When the other Poffeffed. behold me in that condition, 'tis a Pleasure to "fee how they triumph, and as Devils mock me, " faying, Phylician heal thy felf, be gone, get thee "up into the Pulpit, 'twill be a pretty fight to ' fee him preach, after he shall have roll'd through "the place; Tentaverunt, Subsannaverunt me Subsannati-" tione frenderunt fuper me dentibus fuis. What a caufe of Bleffing is this, to fee ones felf made the " Mock-game of Devils ? And that the Juffice of God calls me to an account in this World for. "my Sins. But what favours ! to experience from " what an effate Jefus Chrift has delivered me, and " to feel how great that Redemption is, not by hear-' fay, but by the impression of the fame estate, and " how good it is to have at the fame time the 'ability to understand perfectly this calamity, and to give thanks to the divine Goodnefs who ' has deliver'd us with fo great trouble and pains! "This is the condition I am in at this time, al-" most every day. This gives occcasion to great " difputes, & factus fum magna questio, whether it be a poffeffion or no, whether it be poffible for the Ministers of the Gospel to fall into fo ' great inconveniences? Some fay, that 'tis a chaftife-" ment of God on me for the punishment of fome "Illusions; others fay, fome other thing; and for my part I would not change my Con-dition with another, having a firm perfwafion " that there is nothing better than to be reduc'd to great extremities. That wherein I am is fuch, that I have few operations free. When I would fpeak they

they ftop my Mouth; At the Mafs I am hindred from going any further; At Confession I forget my Sins all at once, and I feel the Devil go and come in me as into his House; When I awake 'he is there at my Prayer ; He bereaves me of ' my thought when he pleafeth; when my Heart begins to dilate it felf towards God, he fills it ' with rage; He cafts me into a Sleep when I would wake; And publickly by the Mouth of the poffefs'd, he boafts that he is my Mafter; against which I have nothing to fay, having the reproach of my Confcience, and upon my 'Head the Sentence pronounc'd against Sinners; I ought to fubmit to it, and to reverence the order of the Divine Providence, to which every ' Creature must be fubject. 'Tis not one Devil ' that torments me, there are ufually two; The ' one is Leviathan oppos'd to the Holy Ghoff, for ' as much as they fay that in Hell there is a Trini-'ty. That the Magicians worthip Lucifer, Belze-" bub and Leviathan, who is the third Perfon of "Hell; And fome Authors have obferv'd and ' writ of it heretofore. Now the Operations of ' this falfe Paraclete are all contrary to the true one, and imprint a defolation, which one can-'not well reprefent. He is the chief of all the Band of our Devils, and he has the Govern-⁶ ment of all that Affair, which is one of the ftrang-⁶ eft that possibly was ever feen. We fee in this very place Paradice and Hell; I mean the Nuns who are as fo many Urfula's, taken in one Senfe, and ' in the other, worfe than the most Profligate in ' all forts of Diforders, Beaftlynefs, Blafphemies and Madnefs. I do not defire that your Reve-^e rence would make my Letter publick, if it ^e pleafe you. You are the only Perfon, to whom A ex.

The History of Book III.

except my Confessor and my Superiors, I have been willing to fay fo much. It is but to en-tertain fome Communications, which may affift us to glorifie God; In which I am your most humble Servant, John Joseph Surin.

And by a Postfcript.

^c I pray you to procure for me Prayers, having ^e need of them. I am for whole Weeks fo ftu-⁶ pid towards Divine Things, that I fhould be ⁶ glad that fome body would make me pray to ⁶ God like a Child, and would expound to me ⁶ the Pater Nofter. The Devil faid to me, I will deprive thee of all, and thou will have need that ' thy faith continue, I will make thee become ftu-' pid; he has made a Pact with a Witch to hinder me to fpeak of God, and to have power to re-" firain my Spirit, which he performs very faith-⁶ fully as he promis'd, and I am conftrain'd to ⁶ have fome Underftanding, to hold often the ⁶ Holy Sacrament upon my Head, using the ⁵ Key of David to unlock my Memory.

Sect. 11. But in a Manufcript Copy, which fome have in keeping, there is a fecond Poft-fcript, which has not been Printed, and 'tis this.

'I am content to die, feeing our Lord has done me the favour to have withdrawn three confectated Wafers, which three Witches had put into the Hands of the Devil, who brought ' me them publickly from Paris, where they were ' under the Mat of a Bed, and left the Church ' in Poffeilion of that Glory, and to have in fome

⁶ fome measure render'd to her Redeemer, what ⁶ the had receiv'd of him, having redeem'd it out ⁶ of the Hands of the Devil. I know not whe-⁶ ther our Lord will foon take away my Life, ⁶ for when I was in pain about that affair, I gave ⁶ it him freely, and promife to quit it for the Price ⁶ of these three Waters. It feems that the Devil ⁶ by these bodily evils that he caus'd me, would ⁶ make use of his right, and confume me by little ⁶ and little.

Sell. 12. They who publish'd the Letter, have queftionless judg'd it fit to fuppress that last Poftscript; and they had done well also to suppress the whole Letter, and the horrible Things it contains, which will not fail to induce the Reader to think ferioufly of the condition wherein the Exorcift has been, as well as his Predeceffor the Father Lastance. In effect, if it be true, that that there are Sorcerers, Magicians and Perfons poffefs'd, or that there may be, as none can doubt, is there not evidence enough, that God for the just Punishment of these Wicked Persons, who upon this occafion fo impudently mock his divine Majefty, has permitted, that their abominable and diabolical diffimulation, should become a truth, and that they should be really posses'd by the Devils, whom they would counterfeit, teftifying by fo many horrid Actions, that they believ'd not their Existence, nor that of God himfelf; feeing that if they had believ'd it, they would have trembled, and never dare to attempt to make it their Pastime in fo wicked and infolent a manner. Certainly if they have not been actually poffeffed, and by real and bodily Poffeffion which is pretended here, it is how-ever certain that the Devil had fill'd their Heart, that 202

that he prefides over their abominable Acts, that he was the Author, and that one may fay in that fenfe with much juffice and reafon, that they were abfolutely poffefs'd. But to omit nothing of what concerns the Truth of the Facts, leaving otherwife to the Reader the liberty to judge according to his Sentiments, one cannot refrain from declaring here that all the Relations do mention that the Fathers Lastance, Tranquille and Surin, after the death of Grandier, were troubled by Devils, and that all the Protestants or Papifts who have been difcourft with upon that Subject, who had affifted at the Exorcifins, and had knowledge of the death of the Recollect and that of the Capucin, have agreed of all the Facts, which are related here concerning their condition, as of the greatest part of the other Acts which are contain'd in the Relation of what paft in the Exorcifms at Loudun in the prefence of Monfieur, the Duke of Orleans, and in the Letter of Father Surin, and they have all protested that they did not believe that all the abominable things which they had feen and heard, could have been produced by the only power of Nature, nor only by the perverfity thereof, but that it must needs be that Devils intermeddle, and that they had really poffefs'd thofe pretended Exorcifts. Whereupon 'tis to be found in the Relations that were then writ, that they reproach'd the Jefuit that he refembled not the Apoftles, nor the Exorcifts of the Primitive Church, which fail'd not to expel readily the Devils in the Name, and by the Authority of Jefus Chrift, without being either abus'd, or infulted, or much lefs poffefs'd, but that his Exorcifms were like thole of the Jews, of whom it is faid in the Acts of the Apoftles, who attempted to invoke the Name of

of the Lord Jefus over those who had evil Spirits, faying, We adjure you by Jefus Christ, whom Paul preach'd, to whom the evil Spirit answer'd, Jefus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye? and the Man in whom the evil Spirit was, leaping upon them, and mastering them, us'd violence against them; So that they fled away naked and wounded out of the House.

Self. 12. Much after this manner was the Condition of Father Surin; for befides his Sufferings either real or feigned, he perform'd more than a Year the Function of Exorcift, without expelling any Devil : In the mean time fome days after that he writ the terrible Letter, the Copy whereof you have read, Monfieur the King's Brother came to Loudun, to fee the Wonders of that famous Poffeffion, which made fo great a noife both within the Kingdom and without. The Author of the Relation printed at Poitiers, reports that Monfieur arriv'd at Loudun the 9th of May. 1525. ' That his Highness went prefently to the Con-' vent of the Urfulines, where being at the Grate, and being informed by them of their condition, Sifter Agnes feem'd a little troubled, and made fome tremblings, which thew'd the prefence of the ' first of the four Devils which poffess'd her, nam'd " Almodee, when 'twas refolv'd to exorcife her pre-' fently, and that Afmodee delay'd not long to " difcover his greateft rage, fhaking divers times ' the Maid backward and forward, and making her batter as an Hammer with fo great great guicknefs, that her Teeth crafh'd, and her Throat made a forc'd noife; That during thefe Agi-' tations, her countenance became fo altogether ' chang'd as not to be known, her looks furious, her Tongue prodigioufly great, long, and hanging

ing down out of her Mouth, livid and dry to ' that degree, that the want of Moisture caus'd it to feem all rough and fhaggy, without being ' in the mean time any ways prefs'd with her " Teeth, and her breathing being always equal; . That Beherit, who is also another Devil, made · appear a fecond Countenance fmiling and agreeable, which was again diverfly chang'd by two other Devils, Achas and Achaos, who shew'd themseves one after the other; That Afmodee ' being commanded to continue ftill, and the o-' thers to retire, her first countenance return'd : . That the Devil being adjur'd to adore the Sacrament, faid prefently, That be would bimfelf be ador'd, but at last he obey'd, prostrating his Body on the Ground ; That after divers other " Countenances the Sifter Agnes brought one of her ' Feet by the hinder part of her Head, even to ' her Fore-head, in fuch a manner that her great * Toe almost touched her Nofe ; That the Exorcift having commanded him to kifs the Pix, ' and to tell who it was that he had ador'd, the " Devil, after he had made many difficulties, obey'd ' the former of these commands, but that he refus'd to obey the fecond ; That laying his Hand on the Pix, he fwore, By the God who is there, I " will not tell; That as the Father infifted, com-' manding him abfolutely to tell it, the Devil reply'd as it were mocking him, perceiv'ft thou " not that I have just now nam'd bim. That then he withdrew, and the Maid came to her felf, and faid to Monfieur, that fhe remembred fome ' of the things that were done, but not all, and ' that fhe heard the Anfwers that came from her ⁶ Mouth, as if another had fpake them; That ⁶ her arm having been felt by a Phyfician and

⁶ a Surgeon of Monfieur, her Pulfe was found to ⁶ be equal after fo many thakings and violent agi-⁶ tations.

Sell. 14. ' The day following Monfieur went to St. Cross, whither they brought Elizabeth 6 Blanchard, to make her take the Communion in his prefence: The Relation of that day menti-¢ ons, That one of the fix Devils which poffefs'd ¢ her, nam'd Aftarot, appear'd prefently and troubled 6 her; That her Exorcift having commanded this ' Devil to approach the Maid, fhe fell into a gen-6 eral Convulsion of all her Body; That her 6 Face chang'd both the form and colour, appearing livid, and much fwollen, and her Tongue going all out of her Mouth, very much charged, and of a length, thicknefs, and bignefs altogether extraordinary; That in this Condition the came rolling and wriggling even to the Feet of the Prieft, who laid the Holy Sacrament upon her ¢ Lips, commanding the Devil to hinder that the Elements should not be moistn'd in any manner, and forbidding him to commit or fuffer that any of his Companions practife any Irreverence against that adorable Mystery ; That the Maid e ¢ was immediately thrown upon the Floor, where 6 the Devil exercis'd great violences upon her ' Body, and gave horrid marks of his rage; That * he turned her thrice backwards in the form of 'a "Bow, in fuch a manner that fhe touch'd not the " Pavement but with the tip of her Toes, and the end of her Nofe, and that fhe feem'd as if fhe would have made the Holy Hoft to touch the Ground, bringing it near almost as within the thickness of a leaf of Paper; but the Exorcift reiterating his former prohibitions always hinder'd

206

der'd it ; That the Devil raifing himfelf up, blew againft the Holy Holt, which was feen upon the Lips of the Poficis'd, fhaken like a leaf of a Tree, when a violent Wind firikes upon it, and paffing it divers times from one Lip to the other; That Beelzebub having been ^c commanded to come up to her Face, there was to be feen a beating of her Throat, which fwell'd it exceedingly, and made it hard as a piece of Wood ; That Monfieur having defir'd to fee all • the Devils appear which poffefs'd that Maid, • the Exorcift made them come into her Coun-' tenance one after another, rendering it very hideous, but every one making a different Deformi-ty; That when Aftarot had been commanded to appear, there was obferv'd under the left Arm-pit a great Tumour, with a quick beating which was admir'd by all the Affiftants, and even by his Highneffes Phyfician ; That the De-vil being retir'd from that place by the command of the Exorcift, he went to feize her Vi-' fage, and let the Hoft fall upon the Paten, wherein it was feen to be very dry, without leaving any mark whereby it had fluck to her * Lips, which the Devil had fo dried, that the Skin appear'd white and ftanding up; That • the Exorcift touch'd with his Fingers all the edges • of the Wafer without flicking to it, to fhew * that it had not been retain'd upon her Lips by ^e any moifture; That that fame Exorcift wip'd ^e the Teeth of the Maid with his Surplice, and laid " the Holy Hoft on one of the Fore-teeth of the upper-row, and that it hung in that manner a long time, laid crofs the edge of the tooth, and not holding there but by a bare touch of the point of its circumference, notwithftanding the violent

' violent agitations of all the Body, the ftrange contorfions of the Mouth, and a very vehement blaft which Astarot made to throw it out; That ' after all the Species were fivallow'd down by ' the command of the Exorcift, who pray'd Mon-' fieur's Phyfician to fearch the Mouth of the Maid, to fee if the Wafer were there; which he did, putting his Fingers within the Gums, and thrufting them to her Throat, and found that there " was nothing; that after that they made the ' Maid to drink a draught of Water, and caus'd ' her Mouth to be fearch'd once again; that at laft the Exorcift having order'd Aftarot to bring ¢, ¢ back the Wafer, it was feen prefently after upon the tip of the Tongue, and that this Experi-' ment was try'd two other times again. So this Wafer ferv'd for a Paftime to the Devils : Thus was 6 'it exposed to their blasts and violences, to be ' feen, and not to be feen, to be fwallow'd and ' to be caft up again; to be held on one Lip, ' then repell'd upon the other, and in the end to fuffer all the Indignities that could be pretended to be neceffary to ferve for Proofs of the ' Poffession, and to confirm it, for want of mi-' raculous Effects, which they might have pro-^c duc'd, if it had been real and true, as to raife the Bodies of the poffelled many foot high from ' the Ground, and to hold them fo fometime ' hanging in the Air, and many others, whereof ' there has been already fpoken, and of which ' we fhall fpeak hereafter, which is the rea-' fon that we pass them by at this prefent in fi-· lence.

Sect. 15. After that the Author of the Relation has thus mentioned the Feats of Activity of the Devils of Elizabeth Blanchard, he alio speaks

208

fpeaks of those of the Sister Claire de Sazilli, and fays. 'That Monsseur being come to the 'Urfulines in the afternoon of that very day, that " Nun was exorcis'd in his Prefence; That the · Devil, the Enemy of the Virgin, appear'd according to the command which the Father Elizee " Capacin, her usual Exorcift, had given him ; " That he made her fupple and pliant as a Plate of ' Lead ; That the Exorcift afterwards bow'd her Body in feveral fathions, backward and for-ward, and on each fide, fo that fhe almost " touch'd the Ground with her Head, the Devil e keeping her in the Pofture wherein fhe had been put, till 'twas altered by them, having not during that time, which was very long, any breathing through her Mouth, but only a little blowing through her Nofe; that fhe " was almost infensible, feeing that the Father " took the Skin of her Arm and pierc'd it through with a Pin, without any Blood coming thence, or that the Maid feem'd to have any fenfe of ' it ; That Sabulon appear'd after, who roll'd her ' along the Chappel, and caus'd her to make feveral ' contorfions and tremblings; That five or fix ' times he brought her left Foot over her Should-' er to the Cheek, embracing in the mean while her Leg on the fame fide ; that during all thefe · Agitations, her Countenance was very deform'd ' and ghaftly, her Tongue thick, livid and hang-' ing down even to her Chin, and no ways prefs'd by her Teeth; That her breathing was equal, ' her Eyes fixed, and always open without winking : That there happened to her after that an extension of her Legs fo wide, that fhe touch'd the Ground with her Perimaum; That whilft fhe " was in that Pofture, the Exorcift made her hold her

⁵ her Body upright, and to joyn her Hands to-⁶ gether 3. That Sabulon being conjur'd to adore ⁶ the Holy Sacrament, made fome refiftance, but ⁶ that being prefs'd to it, he dragg'd the Body quite ⁶ bowed, the Hands a little diftant one from the ⁶ other without journing of the second other without joyning, her Face half turn'd, and painted like a representation of Hell, and went to kifs the Foot of the Holy Pix which the Exorcift held in his Hand, teffifying by his Geftures, Tremblings, Crys, and Tears, both Horrour, Reverence, and Defpair; That the Exorcift having afk'd him, What he had ador'd? he faid, after fome denial, 'Tis he who was put upon the Crofs; That Monfieur having feen and admir'd all thefe things, agreed fecretly with Fa-ther Tranquille upon a thing which he defir'd that the Devil would find out; That the Ex-¢ C. orcift conjur'd him to obey, faying, Obedias ad ¢ mentem Principis, and that the Devil having caft a frightful look upon Monfieur, he fell upon his Knees, his Hands being joyn'd towards the Fa-¢ C ther Elizee, and kils'd his Right-Hand. Whereupon Monfieur exprest himself to be mightily fatisfied, faying aloud, There is no more to be faid. I defir'd that he would kifs his Right-Hand, he c. 5 ć bas exactly obey'd; That the Mother Priorefs being come into the Lifts, the Devil Balaam ap-pear'd at first, but that quickly after he gave ς c place to Isaacarum by the order of Father Surin her Exorcift; That this last ador'd the Sacrament as the others, by giving marks of a hor-rible defpair : The rage, faid he, which I have 0 for having lost it, takes from me the liberty of ado! ring it; But that the Father repeating the com-mand he had given him, he put the Body of the Priorefs into a frightful Convultion, and drawing P That'I

210

' out a Tongue horribly deform'd, blackifh, and ' grain'd like Spanish Leather, without being prefs'd by the Teeth, and fo dry, as if it had never had any Moisture, and being not out of breath; ' That there was observ'd in other Postures fuch an extension of her Legs, that there were feven Foot diftance from one Foot to the other, the Maid being but four foot high; That after that the · Devil threw her with her Belly on the Ground at the Feet of the Father, who held the Sacra-ment in his Hand, and that having her Body and ' Arms in the form of the Crofs, he turn'd first ' the Palms of her Hands upwards, he brought them afterwards quite round, fo that the Palm of each Hand touch'd the Pavement, and that he brought the Hands fo turn'd, by joyning them at the end of her Back-bone, and that ' prefently after he brought the two Feet fo joyn-¢ ed, fo that the two Palms of her Hands touch'd ' the two out-fides of the Soles of her Feet; That • fhe continued in that pofture a great while with • ftrange Tremblings, not touching the Ground • but with her Belly; That being rais'd up, the · Devil was once again commanded to come near ' to the Holy Sacrament, and to fhew by his Coun-' tenance the opposition there is between Jefus, " Chrift and him; That thereupon, he fnew'd ' fuch a rage which cannot be conceiv'd, if one ' had not feen it : Ab ! faid he, crying out, It is ' impossible to shew it, there is too great a distance from ' the one to the other ; That being ask'd what was that diftance? It is, faid he, an Epitome of all Goodnefs, and I of all Calamity : That having utter'd thefe Words, he became again more furious, and difcovered a great rage for what he had faid, biting his " Arms, and horribly difforting his Limbs round. ' That

That the agitation ceas'd a little after, and that the Maid came perfectly to her felf, having her Pulfe no more mov'd, than if nothing ex-traordinary had paft; But that almost at the same ¢ time that Father Surin Spake to Monsieur, and 6 that he went to finish the Exorcisim, he felt the Affaults of Ifaacarum, who threw him down twice, and thook his Arms and Legs with quak-ings and tremblings; That the Devil, conftrain'd C to retire by the Holy Sacrament which was c apply'd to him, enter'd again upon a fudden into the Body of the Priorefs, who was two ¢ e paces from him, speaking to one of Monsieur's People, and in a moment he made her Vifage · horrible and furious, and that at the fame time the Exorcift being again rais'd up, he went to C ¢. combat with Ifaacarum, of whom Father Trane quille demanded, whence he had the boldnefs to torment the Father ? He answer'd in a rage, ad-dreffing himself to Father Surin, It is to revenge C " me of thee. That then having receiv'd a com-' mand to retire, and to leave the Priorefs free, " he obey'd, and that fo there was an end put to the Exorcifin. The fame Relation imports ^c further, that Monfieur having feen what paft at the Exorcifins on Wednefday in the Evening, and all Thurfday, his Highnefs, to demonstrate the fatisfaction which he had receiv'd, gave the next day the following Attestation.

We, Gafton, Son of France, Duke of Orleans, do certifie, that during two days having affifted at the Exorcifins which were made in the Churches of the Urfulines and St. Crofs in the Town of Loudun, upon the Perfons of the Sifters Jane des Agnes, Ann de St. Agnes, Claire de Sazilli, Urfuline Nuns, and of Elizabeth Blanchard a fecular Maid. We Pa have feen and obferv'd many Actions and strange Motions, surpassing the natural Powers, namely at the Communion of the faid Elizabeth Blanchard, have feen the Holy Hoff abiding upon her Lips altogether dry, notwithstanding a vehement blass from her Month, which Hoft having been swallowed down by the faid Blanchard, at the command of the Father Exorcift, the faid Host has been brought up out of the bottom of her Stomach, and laid upon the Tongue of the faid Blanchard, after the was made to drink Water, and fearched if any thing were in her Mouth, which was done three feveral times, by command given to the Devil nam'd Aftarot. All which we have judg'd to be fuper-natural; And having moreover defir'd to have an exact fign of the real Possifion of those Maids, we did agree fecretly, and in a low voice with the Father Tranquille Capucin, to command the Devil Sabulon, who actually poffefs'd the faid Sifter Claire, that he should go and kifs the Right-hand of Father Elizee her Exorcift; the faid Devil as punctually obey'd according to our defire, which has made us affuredly believe, that what the Fryers performing in the Exorcifms of the faid Maids, have told us of the Poffeffion, is true, there being no appearance that fuch Mo-tions and Knowledge of Secret Things, could be afcribed to buman Powers. Whereof being willing to give a Testimony to the Publick, We have granted this pre-font Attestation, which we have sign'd with our Hand, and caus'd to be fubfign'd by the Secretary of our Commands, Houfe, and Finances of France, the 11th day of May 1635. Sign'd Gaston, and lower Goulas. Urlininges and St. Crofs in the Low of Londun.

212

Monfieur, fays allo the Author of the Re-Lation, having given this Atteffation, and left to the Urfulines illustrious Marks of his Liberality

ty, as well as of the Judgment he made of them, wherein he was imitated by the chief of his Court, went : to hear Mais in the Church of the Fathers Carmelites, and having been told that for feven or eight Months there was kept an Hoft, upon which there was feen Blood, when Elizabeth Blanchard had it upon her Lips, " he defir'd to fee it and adore it ; For that pur-" pofe Father Peter Thomas Carmelite took it in ' his Hand, and a little while after commanded. 5 one of the Devils of Elizabeth, who was there * prefent to tell whofe was that Blood with which the Hoft feem'd flain'd, to whom the Devil, after feveral difficulties, contorfions, and agitations, anfwer'd in these Terms; I adore a Man full of Charity, who is not contented to shed his Blood " once for the Redemption of Sinners, but a fecond time has caus'd it miraculously to appear here for bis Glory, and for the confusion of the Incredulous, and confirmation of Believers. Upon which the Exorcift, feeing Monfieur very attentive to what pafs'd, afk'd his Highnefs, if he would be pleas'd " that fome fecret Sign thould be prefcrib'd to the De-" vil, for a proof of the Truth of what he had faid, touching the miraculous Blood fhed upon the Hoft ; With which his Highnels teftifying ' that he should be well fatisfied, he faid to ' him in a low voice and in his Ear, that he would command the Devil to kifs his Crofs, and his Stole on the right fide, which the Father did, not faying any thing to the Devil, but that he was to obey the intention of the " Prince; and quickly after the Devil obey'd, difcovering that he fuffer'd great violence by that action, as by all others, whereby he is ob-lig'd to bow under the Authority of the P 3 Church

The History of

Book III.

214 Church. This [adds our Author] with what we have faid before, made Monfieur fay, that one muft be a Fool not to believe the Poffeifion of these Maids. But least one should wonder that the Devil heard a word which has been faid in a low voice and in the Ear, he faid, 6 that the Devils which poffefs'd thefe Maids, anfwer'd often the Queftions which were put to them v v v v v v by the Exorcifts, without having exprest them otherwife than by the inward, direction of their thought, of which he alledg'd fome Examples, and because that is hard to believe, as being directly contrary to the Text of the Holy Scrip-ture, he maintains, That one ought not to wonder, fince the Devils and Angels fpeak only by S the means of the inward Acts, which they ~ ~ form in themfelves. At laft, having related many other things upon this Subject, he fays, That the very day of the arrival of Monfieur, G c a Huguenot Apothecary of Loudun named James 2 Boiffe, took upon him to fpeak to his High-2 nefs's Apothecary, and to pray him to come and lodge at his Houfe, whither having conc Var V. ducted him, he entertain'd him with a difcourfe of the Urfulines, and affur'd him, that all which pafs'd ç was but feign'd and an Impofture; that they had ٤. no other defign, but that of putting Grandier C. to death, as they had done, and that there was in that Town a Proteflant Maid, who, by the 4 flexibleness of her Body, made contorfions and 6 motions, as much if not more flrange than those c which were feen amongft the Urfulines. Where-upon Monfieur's Apothecary, who had feen the fame Evening the prodigious Agitations and Poftures of Sifter Agnes, told him, that he could hardly believe it, and that he would advife · him him not to hold fuch difcourfe; for fhould Mon-" fieur know that he fpoke at this rate, it would be fufficient to ruin him, as a Calumniator;

To whom Boiffe reply'd, that he was ready to maintain in his Highnels's prefence what he had faid, and that he defir'd no better; which Monfieur's Apothecary having made known the next day to his Highnels, Boiffe was prefently fent for, and confirm'd before his Highnels what " he had faid the Evening before; but being urg'd to name and fhew the Maid, whereof he fpake, he faid, in Truth, he had not feen her, but that he had, what the had faid, from a Chirargeon nam'd Fourneau, profetting alfo the Protestant Religion. Fourneau being call'd, and alk'd whether he had feen the Maid, he faid no; Boiffe reply'd to him, that he had then known of her, what he had heard him fay; · Fourneau denied that again, and protested he knew nothing of it, that he had never fpoken of it, and that it was a thing devifed by him.
Whereupon, they who were prefent, cry'd out against Boiffe, that he deferv'd to be whipt for having had the boldnefs to advance fo noto-rious a fallhood in Monfieur's prefence; Who, to fhew that he defir'd to partake as well of the Title of full, as he was a-kin by Blood to him who acquir'd it fo lawfully, inflead of caufing him to be punish'd prefently, would observe the forms of Juffice, and ftraightway after that Action, being gone to hear Mals in the Church of St. Crofs, his Highnefs told the King's Ad-vocate of Loudun, who was there prefent, that " he would have this audacions Fellow chaftis'd, fending alfo the next day for the Lieutenant Criminal and the King's Attorney, to tell them P4 s the

• the fame thing; whereof Boiffe having had notice, • he thought it the best course for him to run f away.

Sett. 16. When that Writing was publish'd, the Incredulous fail'd not to make their Reflections upon what it contain'd, as they had already done upon the others which preceded it. They maintain'd that Monfieur had been prepoffers'd, and that his Devotion had been impos'd upon; That they had put upon him fuch Feats of Activity and Leggerdemain, as Juglers and Tumblers ufually do upon the Stage or Rope, for fuch true Marks of Poffeffion, as those are which are fet down in the Ritual; That to blow and play with the Hoft upon the Lips, as Elizabeth Blanchard had done, which Action feeni'd most astonishing to his Highness, was the most easie of all the other Illusions; and that upon the whole Matter it expos'd the Chriftian Religion to the Derifion of Jews and Mahometans; That if his Highness had told his Secrets to any others than those Monks and Exorcifts, or rather if he had kept them himfelf conceal'd in a Paper without imparting them to any Body, the Devils had not gueffed them, but that there was fuch a Jug-gling amongst the Exorcists, that it cannot be doubted but they had agreed upon certain Signs to fpeak by, and to understand one another ; That this Invention was not extraordinary, feeing that the very Children perform the like in their Paftimes. and know very well to fpeak, and to entertain themfelves that way, But that his Highnefs having thought fit to rely upon the Honefty of the Fathers, he could not fail to be cheated by Mafters fo experienc'd, who had taken care to inftruct and fathion fuch apt Scholars, for a long time together. Secto

Self. 17. The truth of the Matter, which concern'd Boiffe the Apothecary, was, that a Maid bred up a Proteftant, who out of Levity had em-brac'd the Roman Religion, and had thrown her felf into the Convent of the Urfulines, was there found fit to perform the part of a Perfon poffefs'd : And in effect fhe profited well by the care that was taken to inftruct and prepare her : But just at the time of being produc'd in publick, fhe got away out of the Convent; and whether it were by a fincere return, or by a continuation of her Whimfies, fhe return'd to the Communion of the Protestant Church. As the managing of the Poffeffed was a continual matter of Entertainment and Converfation for People of all forts and conditions, that Maid who was the friend of Fournean's Wife, perform'd often in her prefence, and of divers other Women, what postures, grimaces, and contorfi-ons fhe had learnt, which were not at all inferior to those of the Nuns. Fourneau having been made acquainted with it by his Wife, had in confidence told it to Boiffe, who made that ill ufe of it as has been related, and exposed himfelf to a danger, in which he was abandon'd by Fourneau, because the confequence of his imprudence did not feem to be fo dangerous for him, as it would have been for that Maid, by the Spite and Refentment which all the Cabal of the Monks, and Confederates of the Poffeffion, would have had againft her, if it had been discover'd, and publish'd what fhe had done, and what fhe was able to do.

Sect. 18. But as those Actions and Motions, which were shew'd in the prefence of the Duke of Orleans, were not ordinary, and might deceive the Eyes of some of those who have little experience experience, or knowledge of what pafs'd in the World; it will not perhaps be unferviceable to make here a finall Abridgment of what was then printed upon that Subject.

The unfortunate Grandier had already faid in his Cafe. That the Art of Man could do things more approaching to fupernatural, than all that which had been feen done by the Nuns; He cited for a Witnefs Philip Camerarius in his Hiftorical Meditations, Chap. 75. and another Historian, who relates many surprizing things which a Polander did at the time of the Circumcision of the Son of Amurath. How many Rope-Dancers, added he, and other fuch like People, Men and Women, do perform things extraordinary ? Which however are done by Art, and are far worthier of admiration, than any of those that have been perform'd by those Maids. Duncan expresses himself in his Book in these Words ; ' What has there been fu-" pernatural in all this? There needs no more than the Teftimony of St. Augustine to condemn ^c rafh Judgments, and those who are so bold as to ^c fet bounds to the power of Nature; possibly ^c it will have more Efficacy upon the Exorcift s and other Friars, than if it had been taken out of the Writings of Aristotle, Hyppocrates and Galen. That Father in the 24th Chap. of the s 14th Book of the City of God, declares, that he Knew People, who made their Bodies to per-form things, which other Men would hardly s believe. That there were fome who mov'd their · Ears, and others who made their Hair to fall down upon their Fore-head, and rais'd them up s again without moving their Heads; Others who 5 fo exactly imitated the Voices of living Creatures, that one could not have been able to know know the Deceit, without having feen them: Others who made a ftrange noife fo long a time as they pleas'd, and feem'd to fing from behind them : Others who fhed Tears in an extraordinary abundance. That there was a Man who could fweat whenfoever he would; That a pretended Prophet, nam'd Reflitutus, fell into an Extafy as often as he pleas'd, and that he remain'd without breathing like a dead e Perfon, in fuch manner that he was prick'd and pinch'd, and fometimes had Fire apply'd to divers parts of his Body, without any figns that he was fenfible of it. That Author adds, That no Body would have admir'd the motions of the Nuns, if they had been done by Jugglers and Tumblers upon the Stage; and that thefe Nuns had been inftructed and practis'd to do them a far longer time, than most of these People employ'd to learn what they present to the Eyes of the Publick; But that however these Motions were not common to all thefe Maids; each of them perform'd only fome particular ones, viz. those for which the was found most apt, whether it were by the Conformation and natural Difposition of her Body, or by Exercise and Custom, That if the Exorcist had commanded the Superior to do what Elizabeth Blanchard and the Sifter Agnes ufually did, he had not been obey'd; That not any of thefe Maids had rais'd her-felf up into the Air, the height of two or three felf up into the Air, the height of two or three Pikes, and had not remain'd fufpended there fome notable while; That none of them had flown or vaulted into the Air, or climb'd an upright Wall without a Ladder, or fuch other help, or walk'd upon the Water without finking; · In

220

' In which cafes there would have been fomething more than humane; But that a Man must have a Mind wonderfully prepoffers'd to ⁶ believe, that to roll, vault, or crawl on the Ground is a thing fupernatural; That they had not done any thing more furprizing, than it was to fee a Man walking upon his Hands ⁶ holding his Feet on high, which is how⁶ ever very common, and us'd for a Paftime by ⁶ Children; That 'twas a thing ftrange enough to fee that the Devils fo obedient to the Ex-⁶ orcifts when they commanded them to make ⁶ contorfions, were not more readily driven out ⁶ and expell'd by that wonderful Power which " the Church had to make them obey, and that 'twas not made use of but to make a show to the · People, to amuse them with trifles, to command ' one Devil to appear, and to make him retire ha-' ving plaid his Part ; and to call another, and · cause him to do the fame thing, instead of using " that Power to drive away the Infernal Troop, and " fpeedily to deliver the Nuns, whom they pree tended to be tormented with fo much vio-· lence.

Sett. 19. Duncan adds many other Reflections, drawn from the Conformation of a humane Body, and from the difpolition of the Members, by which he makes it clearly appear, that the pretended Poffefs'd did not any fupernatural Motions, as it would have been to flut the Hand outwards fo as one clofeth it inward; To bend the Thighs backward, in fuch a manner that the Ham-ftrings might touch the Shoulders, &c. That all their Motions were only ordinary in themfelves and owing either to the faculry of Nimblenefs and Swiftnefs, or extraordinary Exten-

Extensions, fuch as a long Exercise, or a Disease, or violent Remedies might cause, whereof he cited fome Examples, too long to be here related. It is more proper to mention fome Questions which were then propos'd to the University of Montpellier by Santerre Priest, and Promoter of the Bischoprick and Diocess of Nimes, who had recourse to that Remedy, when he faw that the contagious Air of Londan began to spread it felf to Languedoc.

Sell. 20. The defign of the Cabal of Monks, and fome over-zealous Catholicks, being to authorize, as much as it was polibile, the Propolitions where-of there has been mention made before, tending to eftablish a kind of Inquisition upon the Teftimony of Devils, they thought to find a good Advance-ment in it, by the Success of the Possession at Lowdun, and judg'd it fit to make poffeffed Perfons ap-pear in a great many places of the Realm at a time, and to caufe them to fpeak the fame Language. Jane de Ruede of the Village of Blaft near Tournon, gave out that the was poffefs'd by four Devils, Beelzebub, Barrabas, Guilmon, and Carmin, which were fent to her by a Wizzard and a Witch of the fame Country : She was brought to be exorcis'd in the Chappel of our Lady of Roquefort, famous for the Miracles which were wrought there : But Mazarin, then Vice-legat of the Pope in Avignon, whereon the Chappel depended, not being of the fame Opinion, as the greatest part of the Ecclesiasticks of France, he enjoin'd Silence to the Exorcifts and Perfon pof-fefs'd; and the Devils obey'd far better the Orders of that fort, which were given with the Threats of the Civil Power, than those which had been made them by the Authority of the Church. Santerre being not of humour to be engaged in the Diabolical

222 The Hiftory of Book III. bolical Commerce of the Poffession, which they would have established in the Diocess of Nimes, he examin'd the Poffefs'd, their Poftures and Contorfions, which were the fame that were made at Loudun, as one may infer by the reading of the Queffions following : And he confulted afterwards the Univerfity with intent to fupport and authorize his Sen-timent, to evidence to the Publick what they ought to think of the Poffeffions that were in vogue, and to repel the Complaints and Reproaches which he must have undergone from the Monks and Bigots, whom he went directly to encounter, by opposing their Intrigues in his Diocefs, to nip the Bud of that infernal Seed, before it had time to fprout and fpread deep Roots.

that the way pollets'd by tom Devils Bastaenes Mar-zahoe Greinnen and Carnin tritteh were lent to her by a Wizzard and a Witch of the fame Country :

She was brought to be exorcis'd in the Chappel of our Lady of Remejor filmous for the Manufes which were wrought thete. But Manufes then Vice-legat of the Pope in starsay, whereon the

Chappel depended, nor being of the fame Ormion, as the greatelf part of the Ecclediafficks of France he enjoined Silance to the Ecclediafficks and Perfor yor

-ITAJUQUE Deals about in letter the Orders of that fort, which were given with the Theats of the Civil Power, then thole which had been made them by the Authority of the Churche Set

torre being not of humour to be encaged in the Dis-

222

QUESTIONS

Propos'd to the University of Montpelier.

QUESTIONI.

Sell. 21. W Hether the bending, bowing, and removing of the Body, the Head touching fometimes the Soles of the Feet, with other Contorfions, and ftrange Poftures, are a good Sign of Poffeffion?

ANSWER I.

⁴ Vaulters and Tumblers make fuch firange Motions, and bend and bow themfelves in Go many Falhions, that one may believe that there is no kind of Pofture, of which Men and Women may not render themfelves capable by diligent Study and long Practice, being even able to make extraordinary Extensions, and fpreading out of the Legs, Thighs, and other parts of the Body, becaufe of the Extension of Nerves, Muscles, and Tendons, by long Custom, therefore fuch Operations may be done by the Power of Nature.

QUESTION II.

Sell. 22. 'Whether the quickness of the Motion of the Head forward and backward, bringing it

' to the Back and Breaft, be an infallible Mark of * Poffeffion ?

ANSWER II.

. That Motion is fo natural, that one needs not add Reafons to those which have been faid upon the Motions of the Parts of the Body.

QUESTION III.

Sell. 23. Whether a fudden fivelling of the ' Tongue, the Throat, and the Face, and the fude den alteration of the Colour, are certain Marks

ANSWER III.

° The lifting up, and agitation of the Breaft by Fits ⁶ and Starts, are the effects of drawing and holding ^e the Breath, being ordinary Actions of breathing; ^e from which one cannot infer any Poffeffion. The " fwelling of the Throat may proceed from holding of the Breath, and that of other Parts from Melane choly Vapours, which are often feen to wander through all the parts of the Body : Whence it " follows, that this Sign of Polleflion is not to be allow'd. and to shared wheel and to strand another and wheel and the strand

Sect. 24. 'Whether Dulness and Senfelessness, " or the privation of Senfe, even to be pinch'd and ^e prick'd, without complaining, without ftirring, and even without changing Colour, are certain Marks of Poffeffion ? one braw of best die

Il lood the Devils of Loudun.

ANSWER IV.

^c The young Lacedemonian who fuffer'd his Liver to be knaw'd by a Fox which he had ftoll'n, without making any fhew of feeling him, and thofe who fuffer'd themfelves to be fcourg'd before the Altar of Diana, even to Death, without knitting their Brows, fhew that Refolution may well enable one to endure the Pricks of a Pin without crying out : Befides, it is certain, that in a Humane Body there is in fome Perfons certain little parts of Flefh, which are without feeling, although the other parts which are about them are fenfible, which most commonly happens by fome precedent Difeafe. Therefore fuch an Effect is equivocal to prove a Poffesfion.

QUESTION V.

Seft. 25: 'Whether the Immobility of all the Body, which happens to the pretended Poffeffed by the command of their Exorcifts, during and in the middle of the ftrongeft Agitations, is a certain Sign of a truly Diabolical Poffeffion?

ANSWER V.

⁶ The Motion of the Parts of the Body being voluntary, it is natural to Perfons well difpos'd to move themfelves, or not to move themfelves, according to their Will. Therefore fuch an Effect, or Sufpenfion of Motion; is not confiderable to infer a Diabolical Poffelfion, if in the Immobility there has not been an entire privation of Senfe:

Q

SCESIL.

UESTE

QUESTION VI.

Sect. 26. Whether the Yelping or Barking like ' that of a Dog, in the Breaft, rather than in the ' Throat, is a Mark of Poffellion ?

ANSWER VI.

· Humane Industry is fo pliant to counterfeit all ' kinds of Actions, that there are daily feen Per-fons expert in expressing exactly the Actions, the ' Cry, and the Voice of all forts of Animals, and ' in imitating them without moving their Lips but ' unperceivably : There are found also very many ' who form Words and Voices in the Stomach, which ' feem rather to come from elfewhere, than from ' the Perfon who forms them after that manner; ç and they call those People Engastrimuthi, or Engastrologi ; i. e. those that Speak in their Bellies. ' Therefore fuch an Effect is natural, as Pafquier ' obferves in the 38th Chapter of his Inquiries, by ' the Example of a Buffoon nam'd Conflantine.

QUESTION VIL. 1 to mail

Sect. 27. Whether a fix'd fleady Look upon fome " Object, without moving the Eye on either fide, be a good Mark of Pofferfion? O good Mark of Pofferfion?

move themfel IIV R W Z N A themfelves, at cording to their Will Protectore facts an Effect

" The Motion of the Eye is voluntary, as that of other parts of the Body; and 'tis natural to move it, or to keep it fix'd : Therefore there is nothing ' confiderable in this.

QUESTI-

QUESTION VIII.

Self. 28. 'Whether the Anfwers that the preten-'ded Poffeffed niake in French, to fome Queffions 'that are put to them in Latin, are a good Mark 'of Poffeflion?

ANSWER VIII.

. We affirm, that to underftand and fpeak the Languages, which one has never learn'd, are things Supernatural, and which might make one believe that they are done by the Ministry of ' the Devil, or of fome other Superiour Caufe : " But to anfiver to fome Queftions only, that is altogether Sufpicious; a long Exercife, or a private Intelligence between Perfons, being able to contribute to fuch Anfwers ; it feeming to be a Dotage to fay, that the Devils understand Questions which are put to them in Latin, and that they ' always answer in French, and in the natural Language of that Perfon whom they would make pais for Poffeffed. Whence it follows, that from " fuch an Effect the Refidence of a Devil cannot be inferred, most especially if the Questions do not contain many Words and many Difcourfes. little Wounds ; and his for that Reafon that me

ny boise pair NONTESTION IX of the second patient

Sell. 22. Whether to vomit fuch things as Peo-

S. 2 : That Quellion made it appear, that MA happen & things Q furprising in the Pollefi-

ANSWER IX.

Debrio, Bodin, and other Authors fay, that by Witchcraft Wizards do fometimes caufe Nails, · Pins, and other ftrange things to be vomited by " the Work of the Devil : So that in the really pof-^c felfed the Devil can do the fame thing. But to ' vomit the things as they have fwallow'd, that is e natural, there being found Perfons who have a weak Stomach, and who keep for many Hours what they have fwallow'd, and then caft them up again as they took them ; and the Difeafe call'd the Lienteria rendring the Aliments through the Fundament, as they had been taken by the Mouth; without any alteration, is a fuller Proof of it.

QUESTION X.

Self. 30. Whether the Prickings of a Launcet " upon divers parts of the Body, without Blood iffining thence, are a certain Mark of Poffettion?

ANSWER X.

That ought to be attributed to the Difpolition of a melancholick Temper, the Blood whereof ' is fo thick, that it cannot iffue out through fo ' little Wounds ; and 'tis for that Reafon that ma-' ny being prick'd even in the Veins and natural " Veffels, by the Launcet of a Chyrurgeon, bleed not one drop, as 'tis feen by Experience : There-" fore there is nothing extraordinary in it.

Sect. 31. That Queftion made it appear, that there happen'd things as furprizing in the Poffeffi-0136

ons of other Countries as in that of Londun, where this laft Effect has not been obferv'd, and to which it can have no relation, feeing that there is nothing alike, either in the printed Books, or Manufcripts of that time. Neverthelefs the Poffeffion in the Diocefs of Nimes, where that pretended Miracle was done, has not been truer, nor judg'd fuch, becaufe the Promoter of that Diocefs had more Modefty and Honefty than many other Ecclefiafticks of his time.

Sect. 32. Thefe are the Decifions of the Univer-fity of Montpellier, which have been here related to fhew of what Nature those Miracles were which paft in the prefence of the Duke of Orleans. To which may be added further, to omit nothing which may not be alogether clear, and that the quiet and repos'd condition of the Poffefs'd at the end of their Agitations, where they feem'd to have fuffer'd no-thing, and where their Countenance recover'd in an inftant its natural Form, is fo far from being a good Proof of a true Poffeffion, that 'tis an evident Mark of the contrary, feeing that 'tis not the Cuftom of Devils to be contented to do feats of Activity, by the Bodies which they pollefs, and to leave them afterwards found, well difpos'd, and free from Pains. The Gofpel teacheth, that thefe terrible Guefts made fome of the Poffefs'd deaf and dumb ; that they caus'd others to fall into the Fire and the Water; that they made others to foam at the Mouth, or made them wither'd and confumptive, or tor-mented them as if they would break or tear them in pieces, and after the Agitations and Torments they left them feeble and tir'd, and fometimes half dead. So that there has been reafon to conclude that the Motions which begin and end at the Will of an Exorcift, jubentis aut probibentis, commanding or torbid-73 forbidding, as the Book of Demonomany mentions, are Motions fudied, concerted, and done out of a Defign, and that they who do them, being far from the being poffers'd by Devils, they poffers themfelves fo well that they frop and return to their natural State as foon as they pleafe. Duncan affures that the fame thing happen'd in his Prefence, and that in publick, upon the Stage, where a young Maid turn'd about for half an hour with fo wonderful a fwiftnefs, that the Sight was troubled to follow it; then the ftopt all on a fuddain, and made her Courtefie with fo good a Grace, and fo calm an Air, as if fhe had continued always ftill.

230

Sell, 33. It were but to tire the Reader, to make all the Reflections that offer themfelves upon the behaviour of the pretended Poffefs'd, and to relate all the examples of the Jugling Tricks, and other Actions counterfeit or natural, far more wonderful than those of the pretended Devils, which are con-tain'd in the Books of the Fathers of the Church, and in those of a great number of Authors ancient and modern. 'Tis therefore much better to refume the Order of things which past in that accurfed and abominable Intrigue at Loudun.

Sett. 34. The Expectations of a great Repute had doubtlefs flatter'd the Nuns, but they were not lefs touch'd with the hope of Plenty and Wealth, of which they were defititute. Their Expectation was not deceived; Their Reputation had flown into all Quarters, although it was not in a manner fo advantagious as they were perfuaded ; And they were from that time freed of their Indigence by the officious care of the Exorcifts, and by their follicitations to Perfons pious, credulous and charifollicitations to Perions pions, creation of the Demonomany faith, 'That table. The Author of the Demonomany faith, 'Alms

III sood the Devils of Loudun.

* Alms were fent them from all Parts, and that if ' they had not receiv'd a fufficient Charity, they " would make a Gathering for them in the Towns. The Generofity of the Nobility of the first Rank, and above all that of the Duke of Orleans, and all his Court, as we have feen before, put them altogether into a wealthy Condition. But that was not yet enough; all this was done but by the way of Perfuation, or by the Motions of Compatiion and Charity, which were only commendable, and which did not fuit with the Character of the Commiffary, nor with that of the Authors of the Contrivance, nor with that of the Exorcifts who directed it. To fill up thefe Characters, and to bring by little and little the Work towards the principal End. which was propos'd, they began to declare War a-gainst the Protestants, and to invest themselves with their Spoils. The Protestants enjoy'd one part of the Church-yard of Londun, which after many contestations had been left them by Rochefort, and fince confirm'd by Mangot and Douville, all three Commiffaries of the King in that behalf, fucceffively and at divers times, But Lanbardemont by Virtue of a Commiffion obtain'd upon falle Informations, took from them that Poffellion, and depriv'd them of their Right, by a Sentence which he gave the 23d. of January 1634. permitting them by a particular favour, to buy with their own Money fome Gardens for their Burying-place. He order'd alfo the Protestant Inhabitants, who had Houfes in those Streets thro? which the Proceffion was to pais, upon the Feftival call'd Corpus Christi day, to hang and adorn the Front of their Houfes, and alfo commanded them and the Confiftory totake care of the Execution of the faid Order against each of them in particular, who were not obedient, upon the Penalty Q4 of

232

of 500 Livres Fine, and fufpenfion of their Offices, if they had any, and the interdiction of the Exercise of their Religion within the Town and Suburbs: Which Order the Protestants vigoroufly oppos'd in confequence of the fecret Articles of the Edict of Nants, and they could not be induc'd to obey it, neither by the Intrigues which were imploy'd for that purpole, nor by the Threats which they made use of to terrifie them. They were again fent for another time by the fame Commiffary, who order'd them to affift at the Exorcifins, which they refus'd to do, as well becaufe of the Places where they exorcis'd, as the Ceremonies which they us'd during the Exorcifins, and of the use which they made there of the Sacrament ; which oblig'd the Affiftants to pay those Refpects, to which their Confcience could not fubmit. Laubardemont told them that they were afraid to be convinc'd by the Evidence of Truth to give Glory to God, and to acknowledge the Poffeffion; To which they reply'd, that fuppofing that the Pof-feffion was true, it would no ways prejudice them, nor their Religion, and that fo the fear to be oblig'd to own it, would not give them fo much trouble as he imagin'd. But bowever, faid the Commiffary to them, if the Poffeffion were acknowledg'd, one might infer thence divers Conclusions in favour of the Roman Religion, and against the Doctrine of Protestants. If it were permitted us to write, answer'd James de Briffac Sieur Defloges, one of the Ministers, there is nothing in the World more easie, than to prove that the Poffestion does not establish at all the Roman Religion, nor that it destroys that of the Reformed. Why do not you write then ? reply'd Laubardemont, Who is it that binders you ? The Threats that were made to Mr. Duncan, answer'd the Minister, and the Displeasure which we are told that Court and your Lordship have shewed against againft him; But if you pleafe to grant us liberty under your Hand, you shall quickly have the fatisfaction to judge of our Reasons, and the Publick may judge of them likewife. But, faid he, your design would be possibly to oppose the Possible faits that which cannot be tolerated, after that the Question has been judg'd in a legal Manner. We will suppose the Possible faits a legal Manner. We will suppose the Possible will be only, that the Roman Catholicks cannot draw thence any adwantage against the Protestants. Most of the Roman Catholicks there present, amongst whom was the Marquifs de la Rochepozai, would have been glad that the permission which the Minister defir'd might be allow'd him, but Laubar demont, who perceiv'd well the confequences, and who would not expose the Propositions of the Exorcift to the Confutation of the Ministers, fent them away without allowing them that liberty.

233

Sed. 35. The Proteftants who [by Virtue of the Edict of Nants] had a Right to keep little Schools for the inftruction of Youth, and the Right whereof had been confirm'd by the Commiffaries of the King, and by the Decree of the Parliament of the 30th of August. 1613. had in their Possellion a pretty large House, wherein they caused the Greek and Latin Tongue to be taught. That House feem'd convenient to lodge the Nuns of St. Urfula, who yet liv'd in an hir'd House : And 'twas believ'd that 'twould not be difficult to take it from its Owners, and to put it into the Hands of the Nuns. For that purpose James Denieau the King's Attorney in the Commission which concern'd the Affair of the Posselfion at Loudan, remonssrated to Laubardemont the 18th of January 1634. that the Lodging of the Ur-Julines was inconvenient, because of the simalness of its Extent; That they could not perform there the Exorcifus

234

Exorcifins but with much difficulty, and that there was not in the Town a fufficient number of Churches to Exorcife conveniently, by Reafon of the great concourfe of People, who came in Crouds from all Parts to affift thereat. But that the Reformed, to whom it was not permitted to keep Schools, had a Colledge, which was a large House, and was very fit for the Reception of these Nuns; That he requefted that it would pleafe Laubardemont to go thither and visit it, and then order what he should think good. The Commission gareed to go thither, which he did the very fame day, with Denieau. He found in the Colledge but two Regents, who told them that the Sieurs Defloges Minister, and Martin Counfellor of the Bailiwick, were the Directors of it : He order'd that thefe Directors fhould be appointed to appear before him, that the matter might be de-termin'd according to the Conclusions of the King's Attorney. They appear'd but would not acknow-ledge Laubardemont for a competent Judge, as not having any Committion for that purpole; how-ever he omitted not to make fome Procedures, and to give fome Orders, notwithftanding the refufal made by them. Whereupon the Protestants fignified that they appeal'd from his Orders, as being an incompetent Judge, and that they took upon them the Defence in their own Private Names : And to prevent all other Proceedings which he might make thereafter, they fent Deputies to Paris to complain to the King, and to maintain their Right. In prejudice thereof Laubardemont gave the 29th of January a Sentence, importing, That whereas the Protestants have establish'd a Colledge without the King's Permission, and to the Prejudice of his Edicts, he com-mands them to clear the Honse of the said Colledge of the Bodies and Goods, and to put the Keys into the Hands of

235

of the King's Attorney, three days after the intimati-on of the prefent Order; and that the faid time being paft, they shall be compell'd thereto what foever opposition or Appeals notwith standing. That Order was fignified the day following, and they caus'd all the Ec-clefiafticks, and Religious Orders of the Town to prepare to make a folemn Proceffion, and to conduct the Urfulines with pomp, and, as it were, in triumph into the Houfe of the Protestants, where in cafe they refus'd to let them in, they purpos'd to break the Doors open. The Protestants went to Laubardemont and remonstrated, That affoon as they fhould have underftood by their Deputies the King's pleafure, they would wholly fubmit to it, and that they befought him to grant them fo much time, Upon the refufal which he made, they fignified to him their new Protestations, Appeals, &c. and afterwards went to the ordinary Officers of London, before whom they made a long Verbal Process, containing all their Reafons and their Offers to obey the Will of the King, when it fhould be made known to them. Upon this the Catholick Officers fearing that the Populace would raile fome tumult prejudicial to their Interefts and to the Town in general, they fent to defire of the Commiffary a Delay for eight days, but he granted them but four, which he after revok'd the fame day, and the 4th of February the Provoft of Thouars came to Loudum with all his Company of Guards; which having caus'd much uneafinefs to the more moderate Inhabitants of both Religions, and to all those who defir'd to live in Peace, the Lieutenant Civil and the Judge of the Provoftship made many Proposals to each Party, to oblige the Protestants to fell their House, and the Nums to buy it : But that was not the defign of those Ladies, nor what was promis'd them. So the Maitrates 236

giftrates having not fucceeded in that N gotiation, they faw all the Town in trouble and tumult; for as they knew the imperious and violent Humour of Laubardemont, they judg'd that he would not eafily relinquish his defign. In effect the Provost of Thouars made himfelf ready to go with his Guards in-to that Houfe, but they met in the Streets the Protestant Women of all Qualities and Ages, with their Aprons full of Sand and Afhes, which they pretended to caft into the Eyes, to blind, as much as it fhould be poffible for them, all those that fhould attempt to go and force the Colledge; Whilf their Hufbands, who had underftood that there were come from Poitiers 800 Men, befides all the Marfhalfeas of the neighouring Towns, were in an ex-tream Confternation, being uncertain of the Iffue that an Affair of that Confequence might have. But Laubardemont feeing that it took fuch a Courfe, and finding in the Protestants more Obstinacy than Memuan the King's Advocate, and the reft of his Adherents had made him believe, he probably fear'd that that Attempt which be had made without any Or-der of the Court, fhould be difavow'd; and fo durft not proceed to Extremities. However it was, he fent away the Provoft of Thouars, and caus'd not the others to come, according to the Threats he had made. In the mean while he drew up a bloody Verbal Procefs againft the Protestants, and caus'd Informations to be made full of Calumnies and odious Imputations, The Lieutenant Criminal made alfo one on his part, upon the Demand of the King's Attorney; and 'twas hop'd by one or other of these Informa-tions, wherein the Protestants were firangely aspers'd and blacken'd, they would reduce them to ask for Favour, and to offer gladly what they had denied with

227

with fo much refiftance and refolution. They did not fail on their part to take care of themfelves, by prefenting their Petition to the Chamber of the Edia, where they obtain'd a Decree the 8th of Fe-bruary, which imports, That the Court receiv'd their Appeal from the Procedure made by Laubardemont, who was forbid to proceed further in the execution of his Order, till they had taken Cognizance of that Matter, upon the Penalty of Nullity of the Proceedings, and of all the Costs, Damages, and Interests. This Decree having been fignified to the Commiffary Deniean, the Lieutenant Civil, and the Judge of the Provofthip, with a Summons to appear at the Court, Lauberde-mont departed the 15th of February, to go to Paris, and carried the Informations of the Lieutenant Criminal, and the Verbal Proceffes which he himfelf had made; wherein he charg'd the Protefants with having caus'd a Sedition and popular Commotion. He fail'd not to be favourably receiv'd and heard by Cardinal de Richelien, and by the King's Council; where all he had done was approv'd of, and confirm'd by a Decree, with Prohibitions to the Parliament to take Cognizance of that Affair, and with a command to the Protestants to obey the Orders and Edicts of Laubardemont, of the 29th of January, and the 3d of February, and all that fhould be ordain'd by him, touching the Bufinels of the Colledge: There was also a Commiffion difpatched to d'Etampes, Master of the Requefts, to proceed to a new Information; and he had a Warrant of Imprifonment granted against fix of the principal Protestants, which caft them all in-to great trouble; whereunto the return of their Deputies from Paris did not put a ftop ; for they underftood that the Court was prepofiels'd against them to fuch a degree, that they would not confent to [sona] grant

228

grant any Audience to those who demanded it on their behalf; and that they had condemn'd them without hearing. Upon this they fent again new Deputies, fome whereof having rid Poft, confirm'd what the former related, and faid, that they were advifed to confent to a voluntary Sale of the Houfe in Queftion. But they refolved rather to fuffer it to be taken by Force, than to receive the Price which had been offer'd for it; which was fo low, that the Offer might rather pass for an Infult on the part of their Enemies, than for a ferious Propofal of Perfons, who, in good earneft, fought for an Accommodation. In the mean while the Deputies who had remain'd at Paris, writ that the Marquifs du Rivau had in his Hand a Letter of Privy-Seal, by which he was commanded to difarm the Proteflants of the Town of Londum ; That he was to depart from Paris for that purpole, and that Loubar-demont would come back with him ; which he did not however fo fuddenly; and during that time, Regnier, and Dumoutier Bourneuf, who were of the number of the Six, against whom he had caufed a Warrant to be decreed to feize their Perfons, furrendred themfelves in the Prifon of Fort l'Eveque, where they were heard and interrogated, whether there had not been a popular Commotion at Lou-dun; and if it had not been refolv'd before to make it, in an Affembly held by the Protestants, where the Ministers had affisted ? Whereunto having anfwer'd very pertinently, they were at first fet at li-berty under Bail; and fome days after their Sureties were difcharg'd, and they difinist. oning end lo

Sect. 36. At length, the 5th day of December, Lanbardemont being return'd to Loudun, fignified the Decree of the Council of State abovementioned, dated the 23d of May; to which the Protestants by a Verbal

239

Verbal Procefs having offer'd to obey, with a Proteftation to addrefs themfelves by their moft humble Remonftrance to his Majefty, againft that Deree which had been granted without their being heard or call'd, they deliver'd the Keys of the Houfe, and the Nuns were put into poffeffion of it, and made very quickly after other Purchafes of fome neighbouring Houfes, and the neareft Gardens : And fince that time they have added fuch confiderable Room, rais'd fo many Buildings in their Convent, and bought fo many Tythes, Rents, and other Lands and Demains in the Country, that one may be affur'd, that not only their pretended Diabolical Poffeffion has put them out of the State of Indigence, wherein they were, but that their Houfe may at this Day pafs for one of the richeft Communities of their Order.

Sett. 37. The noife which that Affair made, had drawn all the Attention of the People; and the Devils, who feem'd to have no other end than to divert and pleafe them, feeing them thereby drawn off from the Contemplation of the Miracles of the Poffeffion, continued quiet, and took that time to recover their paft Labour, and to prepare themfelves for new Endeavours at the return of Laubardemont. their famous Protector, who caus'd them to underftand, that he would fhortly return to favour and fhelter them with his Authority. Father Surin, whofe. Direction had not yet produc'd any thing extraor-dinary, except in his own Perfon, found it convenient, while they expected the Commiffary, to. raife by fome Miracle the Reputation of the Exorcifms, which began to diminish. There remain'd in the Body of the Superior, four Devils, Leviathan. Behemot, Balaam, and Haacarum, after the Expulsion of the three others, Almodee, Aman, and Grefil, which 187-

240

which had been effected by Virtue of the Exorcifins of Father Laclance. The Jefuit attempted not to drive them out all at once, for it was of too great importance to caufe always the best Actreffes to appear upon the Stage; and he accounted it much better to use moderately the Authority of the Church, in not delivering altogether that poor pof-fefs'd Perfon according to the Power which he had, and according to which Charity feem'd to require it, than to fuffer the most famous of the Posses'd to retire, who could beft of all impofe upon the Eyes of the Publick. 'Twas therefore refolv'd to expel only Leviathan at that time, who was an elo-quent Devil, and who fometimes made long difcourfes, as it appeard in a Book infituled, The Glo-ry of St. Joseph, Sc. printed at Saumar by Lewis Mace, fecond Edition; In which this Devil is made to fay, 'That his principal bufiness was to hinder " the Love of God to his Creatures, and that of the ^c Creatures to God ; That in that employment he ^c fuffered a new Hell, becaufe he could not prevent, but that fome would advance towards God ; " That he was very unfortunate in being come to • Londun to act the Nun; That they made him faft in • fpite of his Teeth, and wear Sackcloth, and that this " was worfe to him yet than a Hell; That he would 5 long fince have quitted the Body of the Superior, ' if God had not constrain'd him to continue there; • That he had made it all along his Bufinefs to poffefs Bodies, but that he never was fo much moleft-ed in any other as in that : To which the Author ' of the Book adds, That he was to be purfued with great Application of Spirit, through all the Fa-culties and Operations of the Soul, where he had " infinuated and intrench'd himfelf, fortifiying himfelf in the natural Inclinations, and the Roots of Im-

241

Imperfection, in which he maintains himfelf as in his own Territories; That when he had loft one Intrenchment, he entred into another; That 'twas neceffary to feek him every where, and to root him out by little and little; That he made ċ then great complaints and cry'd out, Thou takeft ć from me my Neft, where shall I be now ? Meaning è by that Neft, not great Failures, but petty Faults, č which others would call Virtues; That this De-¢ vil refifted the defigns of the Exorcifts, one while by violence, exercifing cruelties, which God per-mitted him for her greater Merit, and another while by Craft, making use of his rights of Tempè t ċ tation and Poffeffion ; That they had experimented against him the Affistance of the Holy Guar-dian Angels, and that of Providence, and that with incredible Labour they were affisted by ¢ ċ ċ Grace against Nature Supported by Satan ; That ĉ this Conflict had continued feveral Months, and ¢ that they had feen with admiration the things which pafs'd in the Secret of Hearts, to become c ¢ fenfible and visible; That at last the Devil had ë yielded, choosing rather to be difinist, than kept 2 in poffeffion, feeing that his Houfe was chang'd è into a Prifon. That Book imports further, That the Poffeffion of London was one of the ftrangeft and delicateft that had ever been feen ; That'twas ć founded upon the Operation of Magick, and up-on the Wicked ulage of the Liberty of Men, ĉ ć to which God condefcended very much, refpecting the Free-will of his Creatures; That the Principal defign of the Magicians was to conceal the ê refidence of Devils in those Bodies, and that for these reasons the exterior effects which were feen in other Poffellions, and were supported by the Power of Satan alone, were neither fo numerous, nor fo great,

242

Seft. 38. That Devil having been expell'd, they gave notice of it to the Bishop of Poitiers by a Letter, to which they added the Extract of the Verbal Procefs of the Exorcifins ; whereof this is the Copy. " Monday the 5th of November 1635. after the · Devil nam'd Ifaacarum, one of the four poffelling . the Mother Priorefs, had made this Adoration to " the Holy Sacrament in the Church of the Urfulines, where the Reverend Father Surin of the Society of Jefus exorcis'd him, the Body of the Pollefs'd ç 6 has been fuddenly rais'd upon her Feet, and Leviathan, chief of all the Troop of the Poffession, appear'd on a sudden in the Place of the faid Isaa-C ¢ carum, manifesting himself by difdainful frowning c and proud Gate as of a Queen, with a very fair 6 and thining Countenance : Whereupon the Exor-cift fpeaking Latin, according to his Cuftom, faid, Here's a Devil who makes himfelf a Beau, but 6 ς for the Glory of God and the Edification of Souls, I " intend prefently to make him shew his ugliness and deformities; And the Hymn Gloria & c. having been fung to that end, the Body of the faid Priorefs was caft to the Ground, fhewing a very hideous and frightful Vifage, with ftrange contorfions in all her Members, turning her Face towards the Earth, that it might not be feen, and then lifting up her felf with a very majeftick Countenance, went and fet her felf proudly in a Chair, nodding 6 ç ^c her Head with Gravity, and feeming to defire to fay fomething; But the Exorcift having con-ftrain'd her by a fpeedy command to humble her - C felf and to caft her felf on the Ground, afking the Devil if it were not true that Jefus Chrift had van-quifh'd him in that Maid, and by her anfwer'd with Blafphemy in a doleful tone, and a dejected look, It is but too true for me. Moreover being · urg'd

243

urg'd again to finifh his Adoration, he caft himfelf at the Feet of the Father, rolling himfelf along with frightful Agitations, embracing them divers times, and whilft the Magnificat, & c. was fung, the extended her Arms and Hands, making them become ftreight and ftiff, and her Head lean'd on the Foot of the faid Exorcift, upon the middle of the ftep of the Altar, the did turn it fide-ways towards fome of the Spectators, on the fide of the Window, and fhew'd a wound in form of a Crofs,
Blood dropping from it of a fresh and Vermillion Colour, the firft and fecond Skin which they call the Dermis and Epidermis were fcratch'd and a little open'd, and that Crofs was near of the fame length that appears in this Figure.

Sed. 39. ' At the fame time the Father, who knew the Sign by the laft going out of the chief Devil, promis'd and fign'd by the faid Leviathan fince the 17th. of May in the prefence of the Lord Bifhop of Poitiers, cry'd aloud, Bebold, Sirs, God be thanked, the fign of the Ejection, Leviathan is gone out, and then the faid Priorefs appear'd on 6 a fudden with a Countenance fo modeft and fe-' rene, and a Spirit fo quiet and fettled, that the ' Spectators well perceiv'd, notwithftanding the Blood which was upon her Fore-head, that in-' deed the Finger of God and the Ray of his Mer-" cy was there, which oblig'd them to fing prefently, with Tears of Joy, the Hymn Te Denin, Scc. There. R 2

244

Thereupon the Exorcift being refolv'd to make ٤. Isaacarum appear again, and make him give an ¢ account of that Wound, and having fung to that c end Memento falutis Author, &c. the faid Ifaacarum ¢ shew'd himself upon her Visage with a frightful ¢. aspect, then with an infolent Joy he cry'd aloud thrice, I am now Master my felf, I am now Master. c Being afk'd how ? He anfwer'd, That the chief is ٤. c gone away. Being urg'd whether he fpake true, be-ing fo great a Liar? He reply'd, 'Tis as true as that the Flesh of God is in that Tabernacle there. Be-¢ ¢. c ing afk'd where is Leviathan at prefent ? He an-¢ fwer'd, What do I know ? In Hell, I think ; Being G demanded from whence came that fudden De-C parture, he faid, renouncing God as 'twas ufual G with him, That he knew nothing, adding, Joseph 4 came, who has driven him away, intimating to him on C the behalf of God, that there was now no longer time C to refift the Ministers of the Church, and that he had ç triumph'd enough. Finally, being urg'd to tell whether the Bloody Crofs which was on her Fore-۲ ' head, was a wound by a Mans Hand ? he faid, . 6 No. and fivore. Upon which the Father Exor-" cift declar'd fuccincitly three things to the Affiftants, That the Priorefs, by the advice which had ' been given her fince the time he had begun to · Exorcife her, had put her felf under the fpecial ¢ Protection of that Holy Patriarch ; That for thefe two Months paft, fhe had very much increas'd 1 " her devotion towards him; and that in fine two Days ago fhe had made a Vow to fay the little Office of the Saint every day for the fpace of a ' Year. This Act is fign'd by the Register of the Commission, by Laubardemont, and by eight Ex-orcifts, Jesuits, and Capucins, fome Priests, Cu-" rates and Nuns, and fome Officers as well of the "Baili-

245

Bailiwick, as of the Province of the general Affeffors, and Office of Salt at Londum.

Seft. 40. After fuch a Verbal Process fo authen-tickly attested and fign'd, can one doubt the truth of the Miracle ? And was it not imprudence in the Incredulous to fay, that the Nun might have made that Wound whilft fhe roll'd her felf, and that fhe might have had an Iron Crofs hid in her Clothes, or in her Hands, which were at liberty, and have made a flight Wound, having not judg'd it fit to make a deeper ? 'Tis true, that to fupport that Su-fpicion and their Prejudices, they alledg'd, that the Wounds made by the three former Devils, who were already gone out of the fame poffeffed Perfon, having been fuspected, as it was clearly manifested, and even by a Writing, those Devils, who seem'd to be fo well dispos'd, and to have a mind to confound the Incredulity of Gainfayers, ought to use more Precaution, and not to forget any Circumftance which might have fatisfied the Publick, and convinc'd them wholly of the truth of that Action. But would it have been reasonable to give one felf fo much trouble to fatisfie the Whimfies of the Publick? What needed there more ? One Devil had promis'd in the prefence of the Bilhop of Poitiers, a good while ago, he had now perform'd his promife : Another Devil ferv'd for a Witnefs, he had made his Deposition, and confirm'd it by a folemn Oath in proper Terms, without any Equivocation, As true, as that the Flefh of God was in the Tabernacle. And all these things were well attefted by a number of Friars, and other Perfons of Quality, all good Friends of thefe Devils, who frequented them often, had Commerce with them, and had known their Sincerity. What could then have been faid against it ? And what ground of Unbelief must not one have had to refift fo many Proofs ? R 3 Sect.

246

Sell. 41. This laft Miracle was followed quickly by a new one, done upon the fame Perfon, by the Expulsion of the Devil Balaam. This is the Verbal Process that was then publish'd,

" Thur [day the 29th of November 1635. We, James * Denieau, Counfellor of the King at the Prefidial ⁶ Court of la Fleche, and his Attorney in the Com-⁶ miffion given by him for the Fact of Exorcifins to Monfieur de Laubardemont, Counfellor of his Mae jefty in his Council of State and Privy-Council, É. being at the faid Loudun in the Church of the Urfulines, with James Nozai, Register in the faid Commission. The Reverend Father Surin of the ' Society of Jesus, having receiv'd a Letter from the Lord Archbishop of Tours, by which he recommended to him to caufe that Mr. Montague, a Noble Englishman, might receive Edification by ' the fight of what pass'd at the Exorcifins ; The ' faid Father Surin fhould diligently apply himfelf to exorcife the Mother Priorefs of the faid * Nuns, in the prefence of the faid Mr. Montague, " Mr. Killegrew and Mr. Scandret, English Gentleç men, and of many other Perfons of Quality : .0 In performing of which Exorcifm, the Devil Ba-2 laam appear'd counterfeiting the Poftures and Mo-S .. V. tions, which Maacarum and Behemot have been accuftom'd to do : Whereupon the Father fuppo-6 fing that it was Ifaacarum, he commanded him to 4 give the reafon of an Accident that happen'd eight days fince to the faid Mother Priorefs, C which was an extraordinary wandring of her Spi-6 rit, with a perpetual Inclination to eat and fleep, whereby the felt an extream pain, as of things un-ulual and very violent. To whom the faid De-" vil anfwer'd, That 'twas on Enterprize; and as the Father

Father purfu'd him to know that Enterprize, the Devil retir'd : Then the Hymn Magnificat, &c. being fung, he appear'd again in the very fhape of 5 Ifaacarum; and the Father forbearing to continue ¢ his Demand, enjoyn'd him to proftrate himfelt C as he us'd to do, and to adore the Holy Sacraç ment ; to which having been obedient, as he was in the middle of the Action, he flopt on a fud-G C den, and the form of Balaam appear'd in her Vi-6 fage fad and hideous, making however fome ¢ fhew of Laughter, which caus'd him to be known. Then the Father told the Spectators, that it was ¢ " Balaam, which the Devil own'd; and as it was ¢ obferv'd, that the Face became wan, and like one dead, the faid Father Surin faid to him, Thou 2 look It pale, as one guilty; what hast thou done ? ć He answer'd, 'Tis true, 'tis I who have done the Eς vil whereof thou complainest. The Father urging him to tell plainly what it was, after fome lit-tle delaying, he faid, 'Tis my felf, who thefe days paft have caus'd to the Difeas'd that extraordinary Hunger and troublefome Sleep, and who have kept her from all the Exercises of Prayer and Piety, which the bad been accustom'd to do. Whereupon the Vi-fage continuing to appear full more pale, and ¢. tending to an Extremity, the faid Father perceiv-C ed that the Devil could hold out no longer, and conjecturing that he was ready to go out of the ¢ ¢ Body, he commanded him with great Fervour to do it. Then the Body of the faid Maid, being upon her Knees, would be bow'd backwards upon her Heels, and firetching out her Left-Arm in the Air to the fight of all, We faw, with many 5 ' others of the Affiftants, viz. the Sieur Demorans, 6 the Vicegerent of the Bifhop of Poitiers, the Father Auginot and Bacheterie Jefuits, Exorcifis, R 4 Father

247

248

Father Luke Capucin, Exorcist, the faid English Gentlemen, the faid Nozai Register, the Sieur de · Frefne Burgels of Loudum, and efpecially the faid ' Father Surin Exorcifing bloody Characters, forming themfelves upon the Back of her Hand, which compos'd the Name of Joseph; this being perceiv'd by the faid Father, he faid, that 'twas the fign of the going out of Balaam: The faid ' Name is written in Roman Letters, and in the form and bignefs almost as this is, JOSEPH; " which Sign the faid Father had extorted from the Devil the 1st of the Month of October last, which happen'd in this manner. The faid Father Su-' rin having taken notice that the Mother Priorefs e received the special Favours of God, by the Intercellion of St. Joseph ; and that the Devil Balaam had own'd that the faid Saint was his parti-5 cular Enemy in Heaven, he purpos'd to compel him, for a fign of his final departure, to write 8 the Name of Joseph on the back of the Left-Hand of the poffelfed Maid, inftead of that of " Balaam, which two Years before he had promis'd to write; the Father thinking it more de-' cent that a Religious Perfon, fhould have upon her Hand the Name of a Saint, than that of a Devil. Having therefore feveral times command-ed that Devil to promife this Sign, without be-5 ing able to engage him to confent to it, he refolv'd to perfwade the Maid to perform fome Devotion for that End; which was, to receive the Sacrament nine days together, and to do fome ' Aufterities every day to the Honour of St. Jofeph; that being done, the ninth day at the Exorcifins, without the Fathers feeming to enquire into that Affair, the Devil Balaam appear'd in a terrible Form, contrary to his ordinary Practice, the set to set it is the ingen of and 249

and biting with rage the back of her Left-hand, confeft that he was compell'd by the Guardian Angel of the Maid, on the behalt of St. Joseph, to make the Sign commanded at the very time of his laft going out; after which he promis'd him, and fwore upon the Holy Sacrament, not without regret, faying, That he intended, being not able c 6 to go to Heaven in Perfon, that at least his Name Should go thither, being ingrav'd upon the Hand of that Maid : In conformity to his Promife, that being come to pass which has been represented above : And the faid Name being mark'd in fuch a mane ner, that the first and second Skin, and the Flesh, feem'd pierc'd; after which, the Maid being come to her felf, they fung Te Deum Laudamus, Oc. " Then 'twas advis'd to make fome of the Devils to 6 appear, to know how the matter had paffed. Up-5 on that the Father, having the Holy Sacrament in ' his Hand, commanded that Devil who should be ' in the Body, to appear and answer to what 6 he fhould be interrogated; and prefently Behe-' mot appear'd with his frightful Countenance, who being commanded to tell who had writ that Name upon her Hand, anfwer'd, That 'twas Ba-' laam, who had appear'd alone, counterfeiting the oc thers. Being ask'd if he were truly gone out, he anfwer'd, Ies, by the Flesh and Blood of God which is there, making a Sign towards the Sacrament. " Being ask'd, who compell'd him to go out ? ' Stretching out his Hand, he faid, 'Tis his Enemy, " He whofe Name is written there, who is come, and · hath commanded bim to leave his Diffimulation, " and to appear in his own Countenance; and to declare " that he was the Author of the Diforder that hape pen'd eight days fince to the Priores, and for the pr. mishment of that diforder, to go out prefently. Being T.4 . 5 . 1 afk'd

250

e ask'd more exprelly of the Caufe of his going out, he faid, That he was driven out, becaufe be * had bindred the Works of God. Being ask'd, what Works? he anfwer'd, Prayer, Aliftinence, Penance, and all other Recollections of Spirit, by the irregula-' rity of the abovefaid natural Actions. Being urg'd " to tell plainly, what Irregularity ? and in what ? he reply'd, That it was, as he had faid, by making " her eat continually, by fleeping, doing idle Tricks, and · bindring the other Nuns in their Devotions and Offices. Whereupon the Father having faid to him. "Thou wilt play the Same Pranks one of these days ; and for a Punishment thou shalt be constrained to go out, as well as he, he answer'd, fwearing, I would tit were in my Power to obey, I would go bence without being entreated; for I am too much tormented. And ' as he looked fleadfaftly on the Pix, the Father ' having faid to him, What do you look on fo much ? ' he answer'd, I look upon him who is not to be seen by bodily Eyes; and upon that he withdrew. Upon which, We, the faid Attorney of the King, have made and drawn up our Verbal Process, and caus'd it to be fign'd by the Perfons prefent, for a Teftimony of the Truth which it contains : after which the fame was read aloud by the Regifter. Thus Sign'd : Denieau. John Joseph Surin of the Society of Jefus. Montague, as having feen the Letters of the Name of Joseph mark'd upon her Hand. Thomas Killigrew. And below the faid Subscription there is written in English, which has been translated into French, by Mr. Montague, I faw her Hand white as my Hand, and in an instant change Colour all along the Vein, and be-" come red, and all on a fudden a Word diffinctly appear'd, and the Word was JOSEPH.

Set.

251

Seft. 42. Thus thefe wretched Poffeffed conti-nued molefted and tormented by the Devils, without their Exorcifts giving themfelves the trouble to deliver them, but when they were con-cern'd to edifie fome great Perfons of Quality, and to fatisfie the Prelates, whole Recommendation thefe Honourable Perfons brought. Some Chyrurgeons being fent to view the Impression of that Name, they perceiv'd an Inflammation, which made them suspect that it had been done, not by the Operation of a Spirit, but by Humane Art; knowing, that in other matters 'twas very eafie to make a like Impression with Aqua fortis, or some other Compositions. But Denieau kept the Verbal Proceffes, and suppress'd them, and caus'd other Chyrurgeons to be fought for, who fhould fpeak a little more favourably, but who however durft not, or could not, fo well difguise the matter, but that the Exorcifts were oblig'd to own in their Books, 'That there happen'd a thing very remarkable to that Name of Joseph writ by Balaam; " which was, that after its having been for fifteen ' days very well mark'd upon the Hand of the Superior without any Inflammation or Suppura-' tion happening there, the Devil Ifaacarum, had in " his Ragebit it in fuch a manner, that it became a great Sore on her Hand in the place of that " Writing ; That after a Swelling and Inflammati-5 on there grew a Scab, which had entirely taken off, and erac'd the Name of Joseph, which was feen no more, and continued ten or twelve " days without appearing ; after which, the Scab, ' being dried and fallen off, the fame Characters ' that were first form'd, by little and little re-^e turn'd, contrary to all appearance, fhewing them-^e felves as fair as ever; which could not happen natu-

* naturally, according to the Report of the Chy-* rurgeons, whereof a Certificate was made. To which they added, That Behemot being thereupon interrogated about that matter, faid, That in truth naturally these Characters could not return; but that God had confirained Ifaacarum, who by his biting had defac'd that Name, to reflore it to its former condition. ' Moreover, they fay further, they plainly perceiv'd therein the Providence of God, as well to favour the Piety of a poor afflicted Maid, as to ' fupport the Proofs which have been given of her ^c Deliverance ; and that there is a great appearance ⁶ that thefe Names and thofe which were written ' afterwards, would continue imprinted all the ' time of that Maid's Life. But the Incredulous were of an Opinion very contrary to the Teftimo-ny of Behemot; for they believ'd that the Inflam-mation had been caus'd by the anguish of the Wound which had been made by writing the Name Joseph; and that the Characters which were defac'd by time, and which they faid to be from time to time renew'd by the Guardian Angel of the Superior, were alfo refresh'd, not by the Operation of that Angel, but by the use of Aqua fortis: And in effect those Characters did. wholly difappear towards the end of her Life, when the leannefs of her Hand had made it uncapable of receiving that Impression, as shall be told hereafter.

Sect. 43. During this time the Poffeffion at Chinon went on, although it made little Noife, the Court being not fo favourable to it, as to that of Loudun, because of a report which was made to the King by the Cardinal of Lions, and the Bishops of Nimes, Chartres, and Angers, or rather because that the Cardinal de Richelien was not concern'd for it, and that that there was no Body at Chinon who had been render'd odious to him, as Grandier had. The punifhment that that unhappy Prieft had undergone would not permit those four Prelates, who met together at Bourguil in the Month of November, in the Year 1634. to concern themfelves with the matter of the Poffeffion at Loudun, which had been declar'd real by the Sentence of the Bifhop of Poitiers, and afterwards by a Decree of the Commiffaries of the Court ; But alfo reflecting upon the Scandal which thefe Pofferfions had caus'd to fome good Catholicks, and upon the Scoffs that the Hereticks had taken occafion to make upon the unworthy manner in which they made use of the Authority of the Church, and wherewith they profan'd the Sacrament, they refolv'd to examine that of Chinon, in favour whereof no Court either Ecclefiaftical or Civil had yet given their Opinion. For that purpose they fent for Barre, and order'd him to bring the Maids, which he ufually exorcis'd, to Bourguil. The Order of the Prelates was executed, but the pretended Poffefs'd were fo confounded and dazled by their prefence, that they durft not open their Mouths to fpeak one fingle Word. The Cardinal of Lions put to them feveral Queftions in vain, they continued always Silent. They afk'd Barre, why they did not answer ? It must needs be, faid he, that there bas been a Compact of Silence agreed on hetween the Devils who poffess'd them and the Magicians; They told him, that he ought to break that Pact, in the Quality of Exorcift, who labour'd in the Name and in the Authority of the Church ; but he refus'd to do it; and Prelates fo difcerning as thefe, fail'd not to fee whence the caufe of his refufal proceeded : The fuspicions which they feem'd to conceive against him, made him uneasie, he fear'd the confegences thereof.

253

of, and to prevent them, he took the Sacrament in his Hand, and protefted in the prefence of all the Company, that he believ'd the Devils poffefs'd the Maids whom he exorcis'd, after the fame fashion, and with as much certainty as he believ'd that the Body of Chrift was contain'd under the Accidents of Bread and Wine. Whereupon thefe Prelates told him, that he was very infolent, to. advance fuch a Proposition; That he had not a fufficient Authority to decide fo important a Queffion; That although these Maids were not effectually poffefs'd, they might believe they were fo upon his word, as well becaufe of their Melancholy, as becaufe of the good Opinion which the poffefs'd had of him. There was one of the Prelates that told him, that if he was under his Jurifdiction, he would affuredly caufe him to be chaftis'd. Some time after, the Cardinal of Lions being at the Court, made a Report to the King of the things which pass'd at Bourgueuil in his prefence, and fo well perfwaded his Majefty, that those Maids were not poffes'd, that the King fent a Letter of Privy-Seal to the Archbishop of Tours, which was afterwards printed. and whereof this is the Copy.

My Lord Archbishop of Tours.

Self. 44. ' Having been inform'd that one named Barre, Curate of St. James of Chinon, contrary ' to all forts of Advice and reafonable Counfel, ' which have been given him, exorcis'd a number of Maids and Women of Chinon, who are not · poffefs'd, as it has been related to me by feve-" ral Prelates fully inform'd of that Affair ; efpeci-" cially by my Coufin the Cardinal of Lions, in " whole prefence they have been exorcis'd by the faid faid Barre; wherefore it being neceffary to take care of this matter, and to prevent the evil Confequences which may happen; I have been willing to write this Letter by the Bifhop of Nimes, whom I have fent express to you, to the intent he might confer with you upon the Subject of that Irregularity, and to exhort you to interpofe your Authority for the ftopping of these Proceedings, according as he shall acquaint you with my Intention, wherein you may give him entire Credit. Wherefore referring my felf to him, I will no further express my felf, and pray God, my Lord Archbifhop, to have you in his holy Protection. Written at St. Germains in Laie the 19th of December 1634.

255

Seff. 45. The Archbishop of Tours having re-ceiv'd that Letter, gave notice to the Court, that there would be need of a very confiderable Sum of Money to proceed to the Instruction of fuch a Procels; for which, feeing that he was not provided, and befides having no ill will neither for the Devils nor for the Exorcifts, he caus'd not any Proceedings to be made againft Barre, who continued exorcifing, and added to the Exorcifms frequent Sermons against the Corruption of Manners, aggravating with fo apparent a Zeal the Faults of the Age, that the common People took him for a Saint, and that there were even Perfons of Merit and Quality, who were feduc'd by his extraordinary Hypocrifie. There was of this Party one Duclos a Phyfician, 'who main-tain'd the truth of the Poffession at Chinon, being engag'd to it by the Judgment which he had already given in favour of that at Loudan ; but he had for an Antagonist, another Physician, named Quill t, who publish'd in the Year 1635. an excellent Latin Poem dedicated to the Clergy of France, which was then affembled at Paris; therein he ridicul'd all the Contrivances of the Exorcifts, and fhew'd that Melancholly, or rather the Frenzy of Barre and the Maids whom he exorcis'd, were the only Devils that poffefs'd them: And in fine, after having prov'd, by very folid Reafons, the Fallhood of fuch Poffeffions, he folicited the Clergy to employ their Authority to fupprefs the Audacioufnefs of thofe who ufe fuch fcandulous Practices; by inflicting on them fevere Chaftifements. The Clergy was not at all mov'd by the reading of that Poem; and the Language of the Gods feem'd not to touch the Ears of the Ecclefiafticks, who were affembled for other Affairs more important for their Intereft, than that of the Poffeffions of Chinon and Loudum.

tin

236

Sect. 4.6. In the mean time Father Surin, continuing his Exorcifins with fuccefs at Loudun, apply'd himfelf at the beginning of the Year 1636. to the Expulsion of Ifaacarum out of the Body of the Superior. But as this Devil feem'd very obstinate, and that he would not obey nor go out by the com-mands which had been given in the name of Jefus, the Exorcift happily bethought himfelf of invoking the names of Mary and Joseph. This is what we learn in the little Book which has been publish'd under this Title; The Glory of St. Joseph, victorious over the Principal Devils of the Poffeffion at Loudun, wherein is particularly to be seen what happened on. Twelftly day in this Year 1636. in the going out of Ifaacarum from the Body of the Mother Priorefs, dedicated to Monfieur, the Duke of Orleans, the King's only Brother. That Book imports, ' That the Father Jefuit having known the Condition of the Mother Priorefs, and confider'd that fhe, as well as he, had need of the affiftance of Heaven, and the the experiments heretofore made upon feveral oc-cafions, having inform'd him of the benefits which the Souls received in this World by the aid of St. Joseph, he purpos'd to take that great Saint, next the Holy Virgin, for a fpecial Protector in in all that Affair. Twas faid that this Saint had ٤ been chofen for the Conformity of his Name with that of the famous Father Joseph Capucin, who had been the Protector of the Exorcifts, next to Cardinal de Richelien, becaufe that Cardinal feem'd no more to be fo much concern'd for the Poffellion, af ter Grandier had been executed, and that 'twas with difficulty he caus'd the Penfions to be paid, which had been granted to the Exorcifts. It is further inention'd in that Book, ' That Ifaacarum is one of the Devils who has given most disturbances to the Mother Priorefs, and who had caus'd her greateft ' vexations; That he had declar'd, that he would go out at Saumur at the Feet of the Holy Virgin, in the Chappel of Ardilliers, as Behemot had already promis'd to go out at the Tomb of the late Bifhop of Geneva, Francis de Sales; for although this Saint had not yet been canoniz'd, they C had invok'd him fince the beginning of the Inchante ment, and he had affifted to expell the former Devils. It was in acknowledgment of that favour, that the Community made a Vow to fing to his Honour, every day till Easter, the Pfalm Laudate Deum Omnes; &c. and that new Devotion " was countenanc'd by the favour that God did to the Superior in advertifing her by a Revelation which fhe had, being awake, that Behemot thould go out at the Tomb of that Prelate.

257

Sett. 47. But Laubardemont, who return'd then, as it has been already faid, and brought a new Commission for the Exorcifins, thought it not convernerte venient, that the thould take a Journey to Geneva, which was long and troublefome, the Seafon it felf being incommodious; 'Twas therefore advis'd, that 'twould be better to publish Declarations at the Exorcifms, whereby it might be concluded, that the Orders of Heaven for the going out of those Guefts were chang'd, and that fo they were not oblig'd to keep their promife. In the mean while his Affairs calling him into Guicrme, he departed and went thither. A little while after the Superior related to her Exorcifts a Dream which fhe had had twice, and as it was found very confiderable, and had relation to the Orders which Laubardemont had left, they oblig'd her to put it in Writing, which fhe did in thefe Terms.

258

' The first day of the Year 1636. about two ' Hours after Midnight, being gone to Bed after our Prayers, where having recommended my felf to the Glorious St. Joseph, and having pray'd him to take me into his particular Protection the whole · courfe of that Year, and to obtain of our Lord for " me, that he would do me the favour to take from " me all the inward Impediments which hinder me from the Union of his Love and Service; after I ' had fall'n afleep I feem'd to feel a particular Emoti-6 on accompanied with an exceedingly fweet finel-Iing Odour, and quite different from that of Per-funes of the World; and I heard at the fame time a Voice, which faid to me, Behold himto whom thou 6 0 bast recommended thy felf. Immediately the thought ¢ of that Holy Patriarch return'd into my Mind, ' and my Heart was full of a great refpect and ' love towards him, and to my thinking I faw a · clear Light much more bright and refplendent than " that of the Sun, and within that Light I faw a · Face

259

Face full of Majefty, accompanied with fo per-fect a Beauty, that I have not Words to express it, nor can I find any Comparisons which can come ' near it. From this Vifage proceeded a Sweetnefs and Modefty very admirable, which fpake to me, as I thought, in these Words. Have constancy and patience under the Impediments which you feel, support them with refignation, and forget your felf, God will do you good. Tell your Father Exorcift, that if Men do not, in a little time, take pains for your Recovery, God will provide for it by fome other way, and that your Exorcist continue with patience to exorcize you, whereby he will much content our Lord by labouring in his work, and that he shall drive out by his Ministry, if there be no or-der taken, the Devil, who does most retard your Recovery. 'After which the whole difappear'd, but the • Odour continued yet for fome time after, and • being awake, methought that all my Bed was per-" fum'd. The thought of that Dream all the day long in my privacy gave me great Sentiments of Confidence in our Lord, and a particular affurance of the Afliftance of St. Joseph in my necessities; however I neglected to fpeak of it, not regard-ing the whole but as a Dream. The night fol-lowing the fame thing, with all the circumftances as above related, happen'd to befal me again in my Sleep, but the beautiful Vifage feem'd to ' me a litle more ftern ; It afk'd me what was the " reafon that I had not told my Exorcift what happen'd to me, and that I fhould not fail to tell him, which I did the next day. Sign'd by Sifter Jane des Agnes, Urfuline Nun:

Seff. 48. The Favourers of the Posseficien put this Dream in the Rank of those which God pro-mis'd to his Children by the Prophet Joel, They S 2 com-

compar'd it to those of the two Josephs mention'd in the Scripture, and all the proof that they brought for that purpose, befides the Account of the good Nun, was drawn from the Authority of the Devils ; for they write, ' That when the Priorefs related that Dream to her Exorcift, One of the Devils ftopt her Speech and feiz'd upon her Spirit, tefti-٤ fying a great fury, and that the Exorcift having demanded of him what he thought of that Dream, 6 6 he answer'd, I know not what to Jay, I was not in her Body that night, nor the precedent, my Com-panion and I were at the Witches Sabat; I can only fay, that when we return'd into her Body, we were fenfible that there was a marvellous ' fweetnefs, and an extraordinary quiet in her · Soul.

Sett. 49. The Incredulous, whole Sentiments were more ready to agree with the testimonies of Devils, than those of the pious Exorcists, were not however latisfied of the truth nor fincerity of that Dream, they believ'd that those words, Tell your Exercift, that if Men take not pains for your Reco-very, God will do it fome other way, ought to be thus explain'd; Say, that if they will not conduct you to Saumur into the Chappel of Ardilliers, to the Feet of the Image of the Virgin, the place from whence Ifaacarum was to make his going out, that Devil shall in fine be expell'd at Loudun, by the Ministry of the Exorcists, and by that means one fhall fave them, and alfo you, not only the trouble, Cofts and Fatigue of a Journey to Geneva, but alfo the trouble of that to Saumur. In effect, Father Surin having heard the relation of that Dream, faid to the Superior, That we must wait in humility for what God will do; and that if it please him, he can easily change things by the effects of his Providence, as he

261

be had already done, and that the events would justifie the whole.

Self. 50. The Exorcift often interrogated this Devil; he commanded him to tell him, by what Artifices he debauch'd Men from the fervice of God ? Ifaacarum was not then pleafed to answer that Queftion, he chofe rather to amplifie the reafons for which he was fill'd with rage against God and Men. Thefe Reafons were, That God had not equally treated Men and Angels after their fall; That he shew'd favours to Men, which the most part abus'd, and that he deny'd them to Devils, who would not have abus'd the fame, and that nevertheless he oblig'd them to adore the humane Nature in his Son. The Father afk'd him afterwards, what was the beft way by which the Creature, which was gone aftray from God, might return to him, and which he would make use of, if it were in his power? 'Tis the Love of God, reply'd Ifaacarum, and if I had the liberty as Man has, I would employ all my power by the Virtue of that Love, to produce Works to Satisfie him. That Doctrine of a Devil, who Authoriz'd the Freeedom of the Will, and humane Satisfactions, began that day to be fufpected by very good Catholicks, becaufe of the Channel through which it pafs'd.

Seft. 51. The Exorcift continued to demand of the Devil, If fince his fall he had ever tafted of the Sweetnefs of divine Love? No, faid he, and I am glad of it, prefuppoling that I ought to loofe it, becaufe it would be a very great Mifery to me to call to mind fo great a good. Thou haft however received Charity and Grace, reply'd the Exorcift; 'Tis true, answer'd the Devil, but I have never produc'd an aff by which it has been able to continue in me an impression of that sweetness of Love. The Exorcift proceeded afterward to another Queftion, viz. What is the strongess of all the bands S 3 which may keep a Man ty'd to the Creature? Whereunto he answer'd, after some resistance, That 'tis the Pleasure of the Sense, preceded by the forgetting of God, and that the cares of Life, the fears, and the troubles, which one has to enslave himself, are the means which the Devils make use of to produce this Oblivion in the Mind of Men.

Seff. 52. The Devil continuing to discover the infernal Artifices, and to furnish Men with Reafons how to avoid them, which was properly to divide his Kingdom, and to put it into a Condition to fublift no longer, as the Gofpel fpeaks, faid, That he deftroy'd very many Perfons by Incontinence; That he had acquir'd very much Credit with Lucifer by the fall of Macaire the younger, by visiting him in his Defart, and intrapping him by the means of a Woman's Shoe, and a perfum'd Handkerchief, which be put in his way; That for three days he made the relifs of Sin to increase by that perfum'd Handkerchief, which he fam and smelt often ; But that he recover'd his former State, and for Penance made a Pit, wherein he buried him-felf up to the Neck, leaving no more than his Head out to look up to Heaven. The Devil added, That Alumette, another Devil, by whom Elizabeth de la Croix was poffess'd, intrapp'd Martinien after the same manner by a Courtesan, which he had sent to him. He was also interrogated, If there were Persons in Hell, who had very much tafted of the divine Love upon Earth? He anfwer'd, That there were fome who had tafted of that Love in perfection, but there were very few; That those kind of People could not be surprized, and fell not but by a Secret Vanity, and that their torments proceeded from calling to remmembrance the favours of God. These Queftions were not much more extended, and at the end Ifaacarum feem'd inraged, making frightful howlings, and endeavouring to ftrike the

262

the Exorcift, Becaufe, faid he, that he constrain'd bim to Speak to the Advantage of Men, whereas he defir'd but to destroy the Works of God, and to annihi-late himself, repenting that ever he became into a Bo-dy, wherein he served the Counsel of God against his Will; That'twas a long time that he toyl'd in the World, altho' Behemot had labour'd much longer, and that he had been employed from the beginning against Job, whom be had not only tormented in his Body, but that he had alfo befieg'd his Soul, and that 'tis thence that those Words proceeded, which feem to approach to Defpair, and which have given so much trouble to Interpreters; and 'twas also for that reason that he simmed not in all that he faid. This Difcourfe was mightily applauded by all the Exorcifts that were prefent, although to convince him of a Lie that made it, there needs but to relate the very Words of Jeb, who faid, I am terrified for having Spoke thus, and I repented my felf in Sackcloth and Albes, which fhew'd his Sin and the Sentiments that he had of what God himfelf. had reprov'd.

Self. 52. But behold another difcovery which Jaacarum made (for he always lov'd to make long Harangues) he faid, That before the Incarnation, the Devils did not poffefs Men, as they have done fince; That indeed they had not, during the Life of Jefus Chrift, underflood the manner of the Union of the Word to Man to conform themfelves to it; That they knew not even the Divinity of the Son, nor how the Motherbood of Mary could be join'd with her Virginity; That when Lucifer tempted Jefus Chrift in the Wildernefs, his defign was to penetrate into that Secret; but thefe Words, Thou fhalt not tempt the Lord thy God, left him in blinduefs as to that Myftery; That fince the Death of Jefus Chrift, the Devils have endeavour'd to imitate him, and to be incarnate in foure fort, peff firg Leveral feveral Persens by a very subtle mixture, which is not to le perceived; and that the Magicians serve them most in the Defgn. All these things having been utter'd by the Mouth of the Superior, Father Surin, after the Devil was retir'd, ask'd her, if fhe remem-bred well that fhe had faid for two Hours? To whom the anifwer'd, That the did not ; fo that fome of the Exorcifis doubted whether that was Ifaacarum that had fpoke by her Mouth. She then entreated the Father to give her leave to perform nine days Devotion to the Honour of St. Joseph, to obtain that her Prayers might not be fo often troubled and interrupted; which was readily agreed to by the Exorcift, who doubted not of good Succefs by that extraordinary Devotion, and who promis'd on his part to fay Maffes for the fame purpole; for which the Devils were inrag'd ; and to be reveng'd, on Twelfth-day, which was the third of that nine Days Devotion, when the Polleffed would have fung the Office of that Day, they diffurb'd her, made her Face blewish, and caus'd her to fix her Eye steddily on the Image of the Virgin-Twas already late; but Father Smin refolv'd to exorcife her powerfully, and to caufe the Devil with fear to worthip him, before whom the Wife-Men profirated themfelves. For that purpose he made the Poffeffed go from the Convent into the Chappel, where the fpake many Blafphemies, endeavouring to firike the Affiftants, and firiving to abufe the Father himfelf, who brought her however quietly to the Altar, where he caus'd her to be bound on a Bench ; and after fome Prayers, he order'd Ifaacarum, who appear'd inftead of Behemot, and who was taken for him, to proftrate himfelf on the Ground, with a fign of Reverence and Subjection, to Honour the Child Jefus Chrift, ador'd heretofore by

264

by the Wife-Men, which the Devil refus'd to do, blafpheming horribly. Then the Exorcift fung the Magnificat, E'c. and when he came to thefe laft Words, Gloria Patri, & Filio, & Spiritui Sancto, the wicked Nun, whole Heart was really fill'd with the Devil, cry'd out, Curfed be the F ____ Curfed be the S ____ Curfed be the H ____G. and curfed be Mary, and all the Heavenly Court. The pretended Devil redoubled yet his Maledictions againft Mary, upon the occasion of the Ave Maria Stella, Se. which was alfo fung ; and faid, That he fear'd neither God nor Mary, and that he defied them to drive him out of the Body which he poffeffed. He was ask'd, why he defied a God that was Almighty ? I do it for madnefs, reply'd he, and henceforward neither I, nor my Companions, will do any thing elfe : The more we go on, the more we conceive a Hatred against God ; because we see that he is well ferv'd, and that thereby Men are fortified against us. Then he began his Maledictions again, and curfed at the fame time the nine Days Devotion of the Superior. Whereupon Father Surin advertis'd the People to obferve the fpite of this Devil, becaufe that good Nun had begun a nine Days Devotion in Honour of St. Joseph : And he again commanded Ifaacarum to adore the Child Jefus Chrift, and to make Satisfaction as well to the Divine Infant, as to the Holy Virgin, for fo many Blasphemies which he had vomited against them. Ifaacarum was not tractable ; he refus'd to obey, faying. That he should be better pleas'd to swallow the Exorcift himfelf ; and the Gloriofa, &c. which had been fung at that time, ferv'd but to make him utter new Blafphemies against the Virgin. Fresh inftances were made to oblige Bebemot to beg Pardon . of Jefus Chrift, and Ifaacarum of his Holy Mother; during which, the Superior having had great Convulfions.

265

266

vulfions, fhe was unty'd, becaufe they imagin'd the Devil would obey : But Ifaacarum fuffering himfelf to fall to the Ground, cry'd out, Curfed be Mary, and curfed be ---- whom the has born; the Exorcift commanded him at that inftant to make Satisfaction to the Virgin for these horrible Words, by winding himfelf on the Ground like a Serpent, whofe Head the has cruth'd, and licking the Pavement of the Chappel in three places, and to ask pardon in express Terms before the Image that was in that place; but he again refus'd to obey for that time, until they came to continue the finging of fome Hymns. Then the Devil began to twift himfelf, and by winding and rolling himfelf, he brought his Body to the end of the Chappel, where he thruft out a great Tongue, very black, and lick'd the Pavement, with Tremblings, and Howlings, and Contorfions very borrible. He did the fame thing alfo again near the Altar : After which he rais'd himfelf up from the Ground, and continued upon his Knees, with a Countenance full of fiercenefs, making a fnew of his unwillingnefs to proceed any further. But the Exorcift, with the Sacrament in his Hand, having commanded him to give fatisfaction for the Words, his Vifage chang'd and became hideous; and the Head turning backward, he was heard to pronounce with a ftrong and quick Voice, which came from the bottom of the Breaft; Queen of Heaven and Earth, I ask pardon of your Majesty for the Blasphemies which I have utter'd against your Name : Which the Father having heard, he cry'd out with a loud Voice, He is going out. And altho' Ifaacarum had never promis'd to change the Sign of his going out, however the Exorcift vehemently commanded him in Latin to write the Name of Mary. Then lifting up the Left-Arm, and fhewing

267

ing the Hand all uncover'd, with Cries and redoubled Howlings, he quitted the Body, leaving upon the Hand, in the fight of Perfons who were neareft, the Holy Name MARIA, writ in the Flefh in very fair Characters, and fo perfectly, that 'twas not in the Art of Man to imitate them, in fuch a manner, that that Event was miraculous, and a certain Proof of the going out of the Devil. But to confirm it yet, the Sieur de St. Marte, and a Gentlewoman whom he accompanied, teftified that they had feen a kind of Vapour go out with impetuofity, at the place where the Name was writ, which was feen and kifs'd by the Spectators, fome whereof fhed Tears; and the Mother Priorefs immediately came to her felf, and was full of Joy. They fung Te Deum, &c. and the Exorcift having commanded Behemet, who continued alone, to appear, and to give an Account of what had happened; that Devil declar'd, That Ifaacarum was gone out by the Virgin's command; who, during the Vespers, had order'd him at his going out, to write the Name of Mary near that of Joseph, and him, Behemot, to write that of Jefus, upon the Right-Hand, when he went out; That that command was brought to Ifaacarum by the Guardian Argel of the Nun; and that when he began to ask pardon of Mary, the bad made him feel her Power, and commanded him from Heaven to go out; That he did not go out at the Chappel of Saumur, becaufe Men had not endeavour'd to perform what God had ordain'd, and to make that use of it to which it was destined; That Joseph had requested Mary, and that Mary had confented that that Miracle should be done at Loudun, and not at Saumur, becaufe it had been fo delay'd; That as for bim, he knew not whether he should go out at the Tomb of the Bishop of Geneva, or elfembere ; That he had not learnt any thing of late con-

concerning it; That be would do harm enough before that should come to pass ;. That God might hasten his time, but let him do it if he would; as for me, faid he, with Eyes full of Tears, I care not, I am mad to be here; in the mean while I will do the worff I can againfl God. Upon which Father Surin curs'd him. and commanded him to worthip with trembling the Divine Majefty in the Sacrament : Which Order he having obey'd with great Convulfions, he lay upon the Ground, and winding his Arms twice, he joyn'd his Feet and Hands together backward; after that he retir'd, leaving the Priorefs the use of her Understanding, and full of Joy, for having her late Dream fo quickly and fo happily accomplish'd.

Self. 54. The Author, whence this Relation has been extracted, fays further ; * That Bebemot had e promis'd to raife up the Mother Priorefs, and to hold her fuspended in the Air, as long as one could be in finging the Pfalm Miferere, Ec. But ' that the Superior having earneftly defir'd to bear 9 on her Hands the Name of Jefus, with that of Mary and Joseph, with intent to have before her Eyes, whilf the liv'd, the principal Objects of her Devotion, the had entreated that Favour of our Lord, by the Interceffion of St. Joseph : ⁶ So that upon the fimple Wifh of that good Maid, ⁵ and without any command of the Church, 'twas ⁶ enjoyn'd that Devil to add this fecond Sign to ⁵ the former already promis'd, in conformity to ' that pious Defire.

Sett. 55. The Night which follow'd Twelftb-day, in which that famous Miracle happen'd to be wrought, the Superior had a Vision, which she her felf writ down in these Words, 'I find in my felf a great consolation of Spirit, and a lively imagi-

' imagination of the great St. Joseph, and at the fame time I have finelt a very fweet Odour, and ' feen a very clear Light, out of which proceeded ' a Voice exceedingly agreeable and courteous, which ' faid to me thefe Words. Tell your Father Exorcift, that the Holy Mother of God defires that he go to Saumur with another Father, to celebrate in her Chap-pel some Masses, as an Action of Thanksgiving, for that she had permitted that the Devil Haacarum should go out; and fay alfo to bim, that be use all the diligence be can, to prepare what is necessary for the rest of your Cure. And as for you, do you learn to confide in God ; complain not of the great hindrances which he will fuffer to befal you by the Devil who remains in you, he will relieve you by the help of your Exorcift. After which all difappear'd. Sign'd by Sifter Jane des Agnes, Urfuline Nun.

Self. 56. When the precedent Relation was publish'd, the Author well imagin'd that 'twould be rejected by the Incredulous, and that fo many Vifions and Dreams would effectually be confider'd as meer Dreams. Wherefore he express himfelf in this manner, "Tisvery credible that this Relation which ' we have made will be diverfly confider'd by Men " who fhall read it ; Worldly Perfons will fay, ' that these are Fables which are mingled with Devo-' tion, and that the Imagination has a great Share in ' thefe Matters, and they will think that their Judg-' ment is founded upon the Strength of their Wit. "They who diftruit the whole, will suppose, that one cannot fee clearly into thefe Affairs, where-' in the Devil intermeddles, and that 'tis difficult to lay any folid Foundation upon the things re-' lated. That Author was not deceiv'd in his Conjecture ; for fome maintain'd, That the Decrees of

269

of God are unchangeable ; that the Negligence of Men, or any other Reafon or Accident, could not be Caufe fufficient to change them; That the Divine Power should at least have as well inspir'd Men with the Defign of bringing the Superior to Ar-dilliers at Saumur : They pretended that the had made known, by her Dreams and Visions, that the Or-ders of his Providence were chang'd, becaufe Men had broke his former Measures ; That 'twas certain and notorious, that Ifaacarum had promis'd at other times, for a fign of his going out, to fplit the Thumb of the Left-Hand of the Superior, fo that it fhould divide the Nail on both fides; and that this Sign had not been chang'd, but becaufe the o-ther which had been put in its place was more eafie, lefs painful, and lefs dangerous; That there was no appearance that God out of Complaifance. to the Defires of the Superior, had been willing to contradict himfelf, feeing he had already faid in the Scriptures, You shall not make any Cuttings in your Flesh for the Dead; Tou shall not stamp any Marks up-on you, I am the Lord. Because that if it was not permitted to make those kinds of Characters on ones felf, it was far lefs lawful to defire to do it by the Ministry of the Devil, whether in respect of fofeph or of Mary, or of any other decealed Per-fon: And, in fine, the uttering of fo many Curles, Blafphemics, and Impieties, was accounted abominable, feeing the Exorcifts had not, fince the beginning, any ways prohibited the Devils from fpeaking them any more, nor interpos'd the Au-thority of the Church for that purpofe. Sect. 57. These Reflections diffurb'd a little the Ex-

orcifts upon the going out of Behemot, who was appointed to go out at the Tomb of Francis de Sales, Bilhop of Geneva; and they were hard put to it to invent invent plaufible Reafons to authorize the change of the Declaration whichhad been made. The Book intituled, The Glory of St. Jofeph, & c. imports further, 'That they defir'd that Men fhould favour the Defign of God, to the Glory of that Prelate, and to the Confufion of Hereticks; and that they would not reftrain Providence, which changeth its Effects according to the neceffity of thofe whom it loves, to provide by any other way the relief of that afflicted Nun. But whilft all the Cabal employed themfelves to make the Expulfion of this laft Devil fuccefsful, whether by the Courfe already obferv'd, or by fome other which might authorize the Reafons of a Change, and give them a refemblance of Truth, fee what happen'd again at Cbinon.

Sett. 58. Santerre Curate of St. Louand, and Canon of St. Memes, having been accus'd of Magick by the pretended Devils which Barré exorciz'd, he brickly profecuted that Exorcift, and the poffeffed Maid, whole Confessor Barré was, before the Parliament of Paris; the Matter was referr'd to the Officiality of the fame City of Paris, where a Decree was made against Barré, and the pretended polfes'd. But Santerre being return'd to Chinon to put that Decree in execution, he acquainted the Lieutenant General of that Town with it, and fhew'd him his Papers. He had receiv'd many Civilities and Offers of Service before his departure for Paris, and he feem'd at that very time fully perfwaded that all that Affair was but an Impofture contriv'd by Barré. But this Magistrate, who had been one of the Judges of Grandier, and to whom Barré had been very much recommended by the Marquifs du Rivau, who otherwife was a Perfon of Honour, had his Head fill'd with the Hypocrfie of that Exorcift,

272

Exorcift, andlook'd upon it as a real Sanctity ; this Magistrate, I say, who all his Life time had not been over scrupulous, fail'd not to discover the secret of Santerre to Barre, who fecur'd the poffefs'd in the Caftle of Chinon, and address'd himself to Laubardemont, who had then been made Inten-dant for the King in the Provinces of Touraine, Anjou and Maine. This Intendant made an Order the 15th of March, whereby he forbid Santerre to apply himfelf elfewhere than to him for the Fact of the Poffeffion. Neverthelefs Paul Bonneau Sieur Defgenetes Counfellor at Chinon, did not fcruple to go, accompanied by the Register, and three of the Guards, to the House of Jane le Tailleux and others Poffes'd, and fummon'd the Kindred of thefe Maids to produce them immediately, in default whereof he would carry them away the next day. Hereupon Barré put up his Petition to Laubardemont, and remonftrated, that these Maids, vexed and tormented by Devils, had need to go to places of Devotion, and to pray to God, that they might receive fome fpiritual Confolation, and efpecially at that time, which was that of Easter ; That in the mean time, they durft not go from the Caftle of Chinon, for fear that Bonneau and his Guards should attempt fomething against them, and should do fome ininjury to their Kindred, under the pretence of Ju-ftice; That he intreated him that he would be pleafed to reiterate the prohibitions which he had already made for Santerre to address himself to any but to him, to make void and annull all the Judgments and Decrees given by other Judges, and forbid Bonneau and other Officers from executing the faid Judgments and Orders. It was order'd by the Intendant, upon the hearing of the King's Attorney in that Committion, That the Judgment given the Isth

273

15th of the Month fhould be executed according to its form and tenour, and prohibitions made to Bonneau and all others to oppofe it, upon the Penalty of 1000 Livres. In effect none durft gainfay that Order, becaufe of the Authority wherewith Laubardemont was invefted in Quality of Intendant of the Province, and the matter continued in that condition.

Sell. 59. Since the Expulsion of Ifaacarum, there was no Wonder done at Loudum, till the beginning of the Year enfuing ; but in the mean while there happen'd fome things from time to time which very much vexed the Exorcifts, amongst which was the Diffimulation of the Count du Lude: He came to Loudun out of Curiofity; and having feen the Contorfions and Convultions of the Pollefs'd, he feem'd very well fatisfied, and told the Exorcifts that he doubted no more of the truth of the Poffeffion, than that of the Gofpel, wherewith the Fathers were very well contented, and they thought him fully perfuaded. He told them after that, that he had brought a Box of Reliques, which had been left him by his Anceftors, That he really believ'd that there were fome true Reliques worthy of Mens Veneration, but that there were fome also that were falfe, and that he would fully know of what Order his were, and whether they deferv'd his efteem or contempt; That he had hopes to know the Truth infallibly at Loudun, becaufe if the Reliques were true, the Devils would be fenfible of the Virtue and Efficacy, and feem difturb'd when the Application thould be made. The Exorcifts affur'd the Count that he could not put his Reliques to a better Trial ; where fore they took them from his Hand, and apply'd them to the Priorefs, after having made a fight hat the underftood very well, but whereof the Count, T who

274

who obferv'd them, had alfo taken notice. She made at the fame time hideous Cries, and fright-ful Contorfions; One would have faid that fhe was confum'd by an invisible Fire, fo extraordinary were her Torments, and her Agitations violent : In the height of that fit of Rage, the Box of Reliques was taken off her, and in an inftant fhe feem'd as cool and calm, as fhe was before. The Exorcift then turn'd himfelf to the Count, and faid to him, I don't believe, Sir, that you question now the truth of your Reliques; I doubt no more of it, reply'd the Count, than of the Truth of the Pollefion. The Father exprefs'd, that he defir'd to fee those precious Reliques, and the Spectators fignified that they had the fame defire. The Count permitted it, the Box was open'd, and the Exorcift confounded and non-pluft, who found therein nothing but Feathers and Hair, in-flead of the Reliques he fought for. Ab ! Sir, faid he, why have you mock'd us? But, Father, reply'd the Count, why do you mock God and Men?

Sett. 60. Madam de Combalet, otherwife call'd the Dutchefs d' Aiguillon, being at Richelieu, would alfo go to Londun to fee the Miracles which were done there; She was accompanied by Mademoifelle de Rambouillet, the Marquifs de Brezé, the Marquifs de Faure, an Abbot, an Almoner, Cerizantes Governour of the Marquifs de Faure, and Son of Duncan Phyfician of Saumur, and many other Perfons. The Abbot and the Almoner difputed continually upon the Subject of the Poffeffion ; the Almoner believ'd it real, and the Abbot derided it as an Impofture ill contriv'd. The principal Perfuafion of the Almoner proceeded from this, that the Polfefs'd reproached Perfons unknown, who came a great way off, with Sins which they had actually committed, and whereof they were convinc'd

III lood the Devils of Loudun.

275

vinc'd by the teftimony of their own Confcience The Abbot maintain'd, that not using it fo indifferently towards all Strangers, but only in regard of fome, one must necessarily conclude, according to what he had heard, that thefe Travellers who were the most curious and most fimple, or the most bigotted, addrefs'd themfelves to the Exorcifts, and told them, That being come from far to be Witneffes of the effects of the Poffellion, they earneftly defir'd to fee fome extraordinary Sign before their Return ; That the Exorcifts advis'd them first to patience, and told them; That one ought not defire, nor curioufly feek after Signs; That when the Curious grew weary of attending and made fresh importunities they were told at last, that 'twas expedient that they fhould pray to God, to the end that he would grant them the favour that they defir'd, and that the beft way to obtain it, was to prepare themfelves by Prayer, Confeffion, and the Communion; That these Perfons fail'd not to confess themselves either to the Exorcifts or to other Confessions, who were all of Intelligence with them. That in the Confef-fion 'twas commanded them to proftrate themfelves before a certain Image, to repeat the Prayer of the Guardian Angel, or to make fome other Devotion of that Nature, whilft others were bulie about the Exorcifins ; That when the Priorefs, or fome other Perfon poffefs'd, whom they exorcis'd faw the Penitent kneel before the Image, fhe faid boldly, that Man repeats the Prayer of the Guardian Angel, which he must needs grant to be true. Upon which the Poffefs'dupbraided him with all the Sins which he had pour'd into the Breaft of his Confeffor; of whom this Penitent having too good an Opinion, and not daring fo much as to think of having been betray'd, he continued perfuaded and convine d

276

vinc'd, that 'twas the Devil who had revealed his Secrets. Madam de Combalet, who was often as Prefident in that Difpute, acknowledg'd that all the Abbot faid feem'd not impossible, but she objected to him two things, which held her Mind in fulpence, and which hinder'd her from determining against the Poffeffion ; and that was, the Marks that were feen upon the Hand of the Superior, and the Trouble that one had to lift up the Poffefs'd, when they were ftretch'd upon the Pavement, for they became fo ftiff towards the Ground, that when one took them by the middle of the Body to lift them up, they were found to be as heavy, as if they had been lead. But Cerizantes promis'd to fhew that the first of thefe might be done by Art ; And for the fecond he faid, that the difficulty that there was to lift up those Bodies, when they were fo laid, proceeded doubtless from their fituation, rather than from any fupernatural Virtue which ty'd them to the Ground, which he hop'd to prove upon occasion. In effect, the next day he shew'd his Arm before all the Company who were in the Caftle of Richelien, and they faw a Name as well mark'd and as red, as those which were writ upon the Hand of the Superior; And fince that time in the year 1652. the Queen's Maids who went to Loudan, having been brought to the Grate of the Urfulines to fee those wonderful Impreffions, they derided them openly both at the Court and in the Citizens Houfes where they lodg'd, becaufe they faid that their Gallants without any other Magick then that of Love, bore their Miftreffes names upon their Arms. Cerizantes having fo well fucceeded in that first Experiment, he caus'd at the fame time a Carpet to be fpread on the Pavement and he lay down upon it in the fame pofture that the Posseffed of Loudan plac'd themselves ; He was found found as heavy as they, and they had not lefstrou-ble to lift him, when they took him by the middle of the Body, but when he told them that they ought to put their Hands under his Head, there was not any who could not raife him eafily. Mademoifelle de Rambouillet defir'd paflionately to make the fame Trial upon the Poffels'd, and it was partly to fatisfie her that all the Company of Richeling a fatisfie her, that all the Company of Richelieu reforted to Loudun, When the Superior and the other Poffels'd faw the Perfons of Quality, they came forward commonly and call'd them by their Names with intent to per-fuade'em that that knowledge of their Names proceeded from the Devils. Cerifantes who was well inftru-Eted in all that pass'd, faid to Madam de Combalet, That there were at Londun Confederates in the Poffellion, who took care to give notice to the the Exorcifts and the Poffefs'd of all the Strangers that arriv'd there, were they but any ways confider-able, and that they made a defcription of them, or told them fome other circumftances, by which they might diffinguish them ; That 'twas probable that on the prefent occasion they would content themselves in faying to these good Maids, that the Marquis de Brezi took place of the Marquis de Faure, without troubling themfelves to defcribe them more particularly, being both almost of the fame Age. That 'twould be very proper to be-gin that way to difcover what one fhould think of that great Affair, the conduct whereof was imputed to fo many People, and that for that pur-pole the Marquifs de Faure thould go in before the Marquifs de Brezé. That propolal having been per-form'd, the Devil fail'd not to take the one for the other; however, the poffels' d took courage, and made their ufual Contorfions, amongst which the Situati-on of their Bodies, whereof I have already spo-T $_3$ key ken

278

ken, was not forgot. The Exorcift perceiving that Mademoifelle de Rambouillet feem'd more curious than others, he entreated her to fatisfie her Curiofity, and to endeavour to lift up from the Ground the Nun whom he exorciz'd. The Lady, at firft feem'd in no wife to doubt of the Poffellion, but at laft feeing her felf urg'd by the Exorcift, who would confirmher in the belief, fhe gave her Gloves to her Woman, and taking hold of the Nun, who feem'd to be as heavy as lead, not by the place where they us'd to take her, and which the Exorcift directed her to, but by that which Cerizantes had fhew'd her, fhe lifted her up without trouble, to the great amazement of the Standers by, and to the great Mortification of the Exorcifts.

Sect. 61. There were yet other means, whereof these Fathers, and the Favourers of the Possession, were accustom'd to make use of to know the humour, quality, and adventures, of those who came to behold thefe Wonders. The Perfons who gave themfelves the trouble to come fofar, were not ufu-ally of the meaneft fort of People, they fcarce left the places of their Abode, but the Convents of the Capucins, Carmelites, Recollects, or Jefuits, who were fettled there, had fome knowledge thereof, and they gave notice of it to the Exorcifts of their Order, with whom they entertain'd a correspondence, and to whom they fent Accounts of what concern'd the Travellers: Befides that there were a hundred feveral Accidents which happen'd there, that the Devils knew well to make advantage of, and from whence they took occasion to shew that they could discover things very fecret. As for example, Mary Aubin had been a Boarder in the Convent, and had a par-ticular familarity with the Poffeffed; fhe knew a part of their fecret, at leaft of what happen²d at firft first amongst them in respect of walking Spirits, as may be feen in the beginning of this Hiftory. She was an Orphan, Daughter of the late Senefchal de Monstreuil-Bellai ; her Uncles Bourneuf, and Charles Aubin, had taken her from the Convent, to marry her to Havart Sieur de la Perriere, who was one of the Gend'armes of the King ; He was a Man leaft fcrupulous of all those of his Profession ; he went one Friday in the Morning to vifit his Miftrefs at the Houfe of Charles Aubin, who was of the Reform'd Religion, and who invited him to breakfaft with him on a broiled Leg of a Turkey, which he willingly accepted of. His young Miftrefs, who had no great affection for him, gave fecret notice of it to her good Friends the Poffefs'd Nuns, into whole Bolom the pour'd out her Complaints againft her Uncles who would force her to marry him; She went that day to fee them, and aggravating the fault of the Spoufe whom they defign'd for her, the alledg'd his little Piety, and that on that very day he had eaten Flefh without fcruple. The Nuns fail'd not in the course of their Conversation to get a Description of the Perfon of the Gallant, and of his Cloaths. He went that Evening to the Exorcifins. As foon as the Poffels'd perceiv'd him, they cry'd out, O what a Villian ! O what a wicked Wretch ! He is worfe then a Huguenot, he has breakfasted this Morning on the Leg of a Turkey ! How refolute foever Havart was, he could not but he furpriz'd and confounded at this reproach ; And as there was then in the Houfe none but his Miftrefs and her Uncle, he would have believ'd that 'twas really the Devil who had difcover'd that Secret, if his manner of living, and the little difturbance he gave himfelf about the Affairs of Devils and of Religion, had not immediately stifled in his Mind the reflections which that ad-Set venture had rais'd. A

280

* Self. 62. The Accounts we have, contain yet many other Difcoveries of that Nature, by which it appears after what manner, and by how many Accidents the Poffeffed and the Exorcifts acquir'd the Knowledge which they made use of for their purpose; but 'twould be too tedious to relate all here, and one may judge sufficiently by this last Adventure, what must be prefum'd of the rest. We fhall therefore mention only fome Examples of the Mortifications, which the Curiofity of feve-ral Perfons, too fulpicious and little credulous, give to thefe good Fathers, and their Poffeffed, in examining them too narrowly.

Sect. 63. The Duke and Dutchefs de la Trimouille were of this number; they were at Thouars in the Neighbourhood of Loudun, and they fail'd not to come alfo to fee this Sight. The Dutchefs, who was of the Reformed Religion, did not pour out her Secrets into the Bofom of the Exorcifts, as Monfieur the Duke of Orleans had done; but on the other fide, to the end that the Perfon whom fhe us'd might not be fuspected, she spake a Word to the Almoner of the Duke her Husband, and made her felf fure of this Almoner, by keeping him near her all the while that the Exorcift conjur'd, adjur'd, pray'd, and threatned the Devils, to whom he had at first promis'd to cause them to reveal the Secret. This Management lafted three Hours, and the Duke and Dutchefs having had the patience to attend all the time, the Exorcifts at laft difinift them, telling them, that the Devil was obflinate and rebellious at that inflant.

Sett. 64. Those whom they exorcis'd at the Priory of the Caftle, were put to a like Experiment by two Counfellors of the Court of Parliament, who agreed immediately among themfelves upon a certain certain thing, whereof they gave no notice to the Exorcifts, nor to the Priefts nor Fryars, nor, by confequence, to the Devils; who could not fatisfie them neither, nor difcover to them, what they had too well conceal'd. The Exorcift freed himfelf from that Surprize, the ordinary way, which was to fay, That there was a Pact of Silence, which reftrain'd the Devil from fpeaking.

Seft. 65. All thefe Accidents, and divers others, which 'twould be too tedious to recite, put the Favourers of that Poffeffion much out of Humour ; but they were yet infinitely more mortified by the Confessions which the Sifter Claire and the Sifter Agnes reiterated from time to time in publick. The acting the part of Demoniacks quite tir'd them, and in the Fits of their ill Humour they often, fince the Death of Grandier, made the fame Declarations, which they had formerly made when he was yet alive. Moreover, Sifter Agnes being one day exorcis'd in the prefence of a Phyfician of Chateaugontier, who propos'd to her fome Queftions in Greek, the anfwer'd ingenuoufly, That the understood not the Language, and that the had never learnt it. The Exorcift quarell'd with her in Terms which fhewed rather, that fhe had not well difcharg'd her Duty, than in a manner which might incline one to believe that fhe was really poffeffed ; and he continued afterwards to exorcife her with all his might; but the was out of all Patience, and cry'd out, That the never was a Demoniac ; that for a long time they had tormented her in private, to oblige ber to do all the things which she did in publick ; That if God had not supported her, the should have defpair d; and that the was very unhappy in being in the Hands of those Perfons. The Tears, wherewith the accompanied her Difcourfe, drew the Eyes of the greateft which he ways in thele a crait part part of the Affiftants, who believ'd not but that 'twas the Devil who had fpoke thus through Craft, and only to crofs the Exorcifts.

Selt. 66. The Sifter Claire being exorcis'd in the prefence of an Advocate of Saumur, and feveral other Perfons, was burnt by the dropping of a Thread dipt in Brimftone, with which the Exorcift us'd to finoak out one of her Devils : When the felt the finart, the briskly withdrew her felf out of the Hands of the Exorcifts, bewailing her condition, and declaiming against the Tyranny of those who forc'd her to counterfeit a possessed Person ; and the earnestly pray'd to God to take her out of the Mifery wherein the was. The Devil who poffeffeth this Maid is extreamly crafty, faid the Exorcift hereupon, and the God be invokes is Lucifer. That's falle, reply'd fhe, I call upon the true God, Creator of Heaven and Earth. Being afterwards transported. with Anger, fhe ran out of the Church, protefting that the would never return thither; but the was followed by a Lady of Quality, who was her Kinfwoman, who allay'd her Paflion, and brought her back to the Convent, having not been able to oblige her to return to the place where they perform'd the Exorcifins.

Set 67. About the end of the Year 1637, Father Surin was recall'd from Loudum, and in the beginning of 1637. Father Reces, alfo a Jefuit, was put in his place. Thefe are the new Miracles which were wrought by his Miniftry, as may be feen in a Book intituled, The Miraculous Cure of Silter Jane des Agnes, Priorefs of the Urfuline Nums of Loudun, by the Unction of St. Joseph. It was the Bifhop of Poitiers who gave the Name of a Miraculous Cure to the Unction, whereof there is mention made in this Writing, as appears by the approbation of that Prekate, to whom it was dedicated, which he gave in thefe Terms: Having

282

Having underflood the truth of the Miraculous Cure, &c. We have judg'd it convenient for the Confolation of Pious Souls, that the Narrative made of it should be pub-list'd. That Narration contains, 'That Bebe-'mot being left alone in the Body of the Prioe refs, he had bound himfelf by a Confederacy with Afmodee, one of the Devils who poffefs'd " the Sifter Agnes; and that they had promis'd ' jointly to a famous Witch, to do fome remarka-* ble thing for the Confusion of the Church; That Afmodee fhould delude his Exorcift, telling him " the Day and Hour of his going out ; That he " thould deceive him, and expose him to the laughf ter of Hereticks; That Behemot, on his part, fhould * trouble the Mother Priorefs, and let her have no * reft from the 8th or 9th of November, the Day of her Confederacy, until the end of the Year; But that God oppos'd the Defigns of these Con-' federates ; and that the Pact given to the Witch, " which confifted in three fmall Branches of Mirtle, ' each whereof had three Leaves, was the 9th of * the Month brought and put into the Mouth of the " Superior; from whence it was afterwards, by God's Permifion, pluckt out by her Exorcift; " That the two Devils renew'd their Agreement ; and Behemot being gone out of the Superior, to feek for a new Pact, the Nun's Guardian Angel feiz'd of him, and bound him for a Month, under the Picture of St. Joseph, which was in the * Church, at the great Altar, under the Feet of the Sacrament, That all thefe things were reveal'd by a Vision to the Superior, who enjoy'd a great freedom of Mind during the Abfence of her Devil, of whofe return the was fentible, as foon as his Month was ended; That the Exorcift had no fooner perceiv'd him on the Countenance of the

284

' the Poffeffed, but he ask'd him the reafon of his ' Absence; to which he answer'd, That he was not far off, that he had not gone out of the Temple of God, where he had continued under the Feet of Joseph ; That a Spirit, which was the Maid's Guardian Angel, and was his Inferior in Nature, but Superior in Grace, bad bound him there for the Punishment of what he had attempted, not to leave her one Moment at Liberty all the reft of that Year ; That he had broil'd near a violent Fire that had buint him, that is to fay, near the Sacrament ; That fince his Creation, he had not been fo captivated, having not one Foot Square for all his length. The Book adds, ' That the 1ft Day of the Year ' 1637. that Devil was oblig'd to fpeak much du-' ring the Exorcifins, and to adore in a more ve-" nerable manner than ufual, for the Edification of the Affembly, which was exceeding numerous and famous that Day; That the Exorcifm being ended about five in the Evening, the Superior was " conftrain'd to go to Bed, and to fubmit her felf to " the violence of a Feaver which feis'd her, and caus'd her all that Night great Pains in all her Body, and ^e particularly in her Left-fide, which made the · Phyfician judge that it was a Pleurifie; but that · he was altogether aftonifhed when he faw that the Blood was not spoil'd nor alter'd, contrary to the Nature of a Pleurefie; That Behemot being s adjur'd to declare, whether he contributed any ⁶ thing to the Sickness of the Superior, answerd, ⁶ That he did not contribute any thing burtful, but that he bad receiv'd order from God by the Maid's Guardian Angel, to preferve the Blood entire; That that Des claration was made the 6th day of the Difeafe, f after the Vifit of the Phylician; That Behemot being adjur'd again, fwore by the Living God, That he had fpoke the Truth; That the Phyfician fpeak-

fpeaking to the Exorcift in Latin, and fometimes also in Greek, of the danger wherein the Life of the Superior was, Behemot gave Intelligence of ¢ all their Discourse, with intent to fright her, 6 ¢ which did not fucceed, becaufe fhe fubmitted her telf wholly to the Will of God; That the De-6 vil kept her employ'd a Night and a Day in " thinking of all the things that befel her, to the prejudice and ruin of her Health, at least in appearance; fuch as were the Bleedings which were often repeated, and efpecially in thinking 6 of the Order which was given her to abstain ' from the Communion, becaufe they were ob-' liged to make her take from time to time fome " Food, by reafon of the weak Condition fhe was in; " That the next day the complain'd foftly to Fefus " Chrift, that after fo turbulent a day and fo tedious a night, he had refus'd to fee her, and that then fhe had receiv'd him in an extraordinary manner by a fpiritual Communion; That her good Angel taking her part, drew off foftly the Glove of her Let-hand, and renew'd after the " usual manner the Names of Joseph and Mary, lea-* ving her at his departure a great Joy at the bottom of her Soul, in which her Confessor found " her at that time ; That the 11th day of her Sick-" nefs Behemot had the liberty to wander, and that • then fhe began to be much better, and more chearful then ufual, hearing fomething, I know not what, which faid to her that fhe must shortly go " and take the Air ; Upon which Behemot coming to feize upon her Tongne, faid, That had be been absent, she would have died, because all her Blood had been Corrupted; That he was ask'd, why he ' fpake of Walking, and that he reply'd, That after bauing been bound in the body of the Nun, not to remove

286

move thence, he had now, as well as his Companions. the liberty to go and come from one place to another. C That when Behemot using that Freedom did beat about the Fields, there feem'd to the Superior that è there parted fomething from her Head, which ċ went off from her, and that in proportion to ċ that retreat, her bodily ftrength diminished ; which was an evident Proof that she had been ¢ fupported by Behemot during her Sicknefs That upon the Weaknefs which had been caus'd her by the Feaver, Pleurifie, and frequent Bleedings. 6 ç there happen'd to her a flux of Blood, which caft έ her again into a greater weaknefs, but that this flux ¢ was a Crifis, which evacuated all her peccant Huć mours, after which the was no more fenfible of her Feaver, but fome little Fits from time to time, ¢ Ł of which fhe took no heed, becaufe fhe knew that ¢ they proceeded from the Operation of the Devil. ¢ But that the Feaver feiz'd her again on Sunday Jan. 25. ç with an extream violence, and redoubled the next ç day in the Morning, accompanied with pains of the Heart, frequent Vomitings, and intollerable ¢ ς Aches in her Right-fide; That the Phyfician Fanć ton, who was of the Reformed Religion, having been fent for, he judg'd alfo that it was a Pluri-¢ fie, that kind of diffemper being at that time G become Epidemical; That he caus'd the fick Perfon to be blooded, and tended her with very much care and diligence; That the Wednefday ç following her pain was very great, which the ۲ Devil perceiving, he appear'd to her about fix or feven a Clock in the Evening in a frightful man-" ner, and under a hideous form; That then fee-ing her fall into great Faintings, he believed that ' fhe was in an Agony, and gave her a terrible affaults of which the fpeaks in a Letter writ to Father ther Surin in these Terms. The mischievous Behemot took that opportunity to give me a furious affault, for during the space of half an hour, he shew'd bimself to me under a hideous and frightful form, with a great Throat caffing out Fires and Flames as well at his Month as at his Eyes; he had great Claws which he ftretch'd out upon my Head, telling me, that I was condemn'd by God to eternal Flames, and that he waited for the coming out of my Soul to carry it to Hell. He endeavour'd during that time to give me ftrong impressions of Despair, but our good God by his Mercy Supported me in this Conflift, for I found my Spirit very much refign'd to whatfoever it should please bis divine Goodness to dispose of me, yea even to go Hell, provided that it was not with his Malediction, and that I should there fing his Praifes; and make it a Paradife. This is all the Answer that I had to make to that impious Spirit. In this manner are related the Words of the Superior in the Book of the Miraculous Cure, &c. wherein there is further added. 'That during that Combat fhe ' feem'd troubled and amaz'd, and notwithstanding " fhe faid twice or thrice, That must be, what God appoints; That her Confessor having been call'd to her affiftance, fhe told him that Behemot, to overwhelm her with defpair, had taken from her ' all the remembrance of St. Joseph and other Saints: ' That he had not left her the liberty to caft her felf into the Arms of God, and to practife any act of Confidence, but that at laft, at the end of half an ' hour the felt her Heart to throw it felf upon the Pro-' vidence of God, towards whom the turn'd her felf ' faying, that he was her Father ; after which the " was quiet all the Night and the day following, " but that her Sickness increas'd on Thursday in the " Evening, even as the has exprest her felf in the ' Letter already mention'd, which the writ to Fa-

' Father Surin, where the goes on in this manner: About nine a Clock on Thurfday in the Evening, that wicked Spirit began to give me great thwartings of Mind, and to represent to me the condition of all my Life since fix years of Age, and brought into my Mind, by a difcourfe which he made in my Head, the least diforderly Actions wherein I fuffer'd my felf to be carried ; especially he made great Infrances upon the time of my Poffefion, and upon that mingling of the Spirit of the Maid and that of the Devil; And to tell you the Truth, I was then in a great Perplexity, and had nothing to fay, unlefs that our good God had given me the Grace to acknowledge bim by a more certain pleasing way, which was Contrition and Confession; and I believe if I had not made a Confession fo exact to you, as that I have made, and that God had not supported me, I had upon that occasion lost my peace of Mind; but my fweet Love was not willing to Suffer it, for which I am much obliged to bim. His divine Goodness was so great, that after baving feen me all the night in that Combat, he fent about five a Clock on Friday Morning my good Angel, to renew the Names of Mary and Joseph, and gave me great Sentiments of Confidence in his divine Majefty, whom I shall always Bless and Adore in all the Designs he shall have for me. The fame Book of the Miraculous, &c. relates further, ' That the Difease went on daily increasing, and that the Physician having feen a redoubling of it, which happen'd the Sunday ' following, faid openly, that fhe was in danger of e Death, but that the Exorcifts, and even fome of the ' Seculars maintain'd, that fhe would not die, grounde ing their Opinion as well upon the Providence of God in general, who feem'd much engag'd in the " matter of the Poffeffion, whereof the Mother Priorefs was as the fpring and foundation ; as in e particular upon the Promifes which had been gi-" veni

289

ven of her deliverance before her death, and upon the impression of the name of Jejus on her ' hand ; That the fick Perfon, declar'd that fhe ' would not require Extream Unction, upon her be-· lief that the thould not die; That this Confidence ' was augmented to her by an extraordinary way, " viz. by a Vifit which the receiv'd on Thur fday in the Morning, and by a Voice which exhorted ' her to take Courage and Confidence, and which ' faid to her, that her Difcafe would reduce her in-' to a greater danger, but God would exert his ' Power ; That the thought neverthelefs the night following that her Confidence ought not to be too prefumptuous, and that feeing that Men gaveher for dead, she was oblig'd to put her felf in the condition of a Daughter of the Church, having reć ¢ courfe to the Sacraments, which that Holy Mother caufeth to be given to dying Perfons; That having had this thought, fhe pray'd her Exorcift on Friday Morning to give her Extream Unction, in cafe that the relaps'd into the fame condi-G ç tion, wherein fhe had been before, which he promis'd her; That on Saturday Morning about fix Ģ a Clock, her good Angel was fent to her again to renew those Holy Names, and that the call'd ć one of the Sifters who were at the Grate, to be a Witness of what pass'd ; That that Nun being C upon her Knees at her fide, there was heard di-6 ffinctly a little Noife under the Coverlet; That the Mother's Glove was pull'd off, and put, afide G upon the fheet, the Left-hand withdrawn from the right, and brought low upon her Breaft, and put in a polture fit to write, which was done without precipitation, and very leifurely; That fince that her Glove was pull'd off, to that time that the Writing was renew'd, it feem'd that thet 3

290

there was a little Dove which flew to and fro very foftly and perceiveably; That its retreat was as visible as its entrance; That the Nun, " who was prefent, put her Hand to the fame ^c place where she had heard the little Noife, but that " The perceiv'd not the Motion of any thing ; That " the Characters having appear'd fresh after that Vi-' fit of the good Angel, the Fathers had taken a e new occasion of Confidence; That the Physie cian, to whom they fhew'd them, faid, That it did not follow from these Marks, that the fick Per-fon should not die, but that they would be useful to ber for her Salvation; That the Difease was very " much increas'd from the very day the Extream Unctions was brought to her by her Exorcift having on his Surplice and Stole, and accompanied by another Father, and by Demorans, That when they were ready to administer it to her, she defir'd to be given over by the Physician, and to ⁶ be judg'd paft recovery, according to Nature, but ⁶ that before fhe had time to impart that defire to her Confessor, she felt that unperceiveably she begg'd " of God to be left to the Mercy of his only Providence; That half an hour after making that Prayer, fhe was in an Agony, fo that when the Phyfician, the Surgeon, and the Apothecary were ' come in, the fell into the laft Convultions of Death; ' That they faw in her Perfon all the Marks of a dying Maid ; That fhe had a great oppression in her Breast, her Throat swollen, her Tongue and Mouth black, her Noftrils open'd and drawn ⁶ back, her Eyes funk, her Hands clutch'd, her Pulfe " Convulfive and intermitting, her Stomack and ' her Belly much fwell'd, her Sweat cold, and the defluxion of her Brain impetuous; That when they faw her in that Condition, they judg'd her e to

to be dying, and faid, that fhe had not two Hours to live; So that they retir'd to make room for the Ceremonies of the Church; That at laft the Phyfician being defir'd to inform Lanbardemont with the condition of the Difeafe of the fick Perfon, he wrote to him this Letter.

Sect. 68. Sir, I have been obliged by the Gintlewomen Urfuline Nuns of the Convent of this Town, to give you notice of the condition wherein the Lady their Superior is in at prefent, who is in an estate of extremity. and without any appearance of Recovery, the faid fick Perfon having not been able to spit, nor to give its any fight of a Cure by the discharging of any Excrement, and having at prefent a convullive Pulle, and fo great a difficulty of breathing as she never had before; chil having ber Belly much extended, without fufficient firength to admit of any Medicine, not even a Gly/ter, instead whereof we are going prefently to give her a fmall Suppository, to endeavour to caufe a part of that to come away, which fwells her Belly, and throws her into an Opprefi-on, which is fo great it cannot be expreft. I shall add nothing more to the Circumstances above describ'd for fear of being troublesome to you, only I shall entreat you to believe, that the Shall be affifted with the like Fidelity. and Affection, as you shall be during my Life, by Sir, &c. From Loudun in haste, about seven a Clock in the Evening, the 6th of February 1637. Fanton Phylician. 'Tis added in the Relation already cited, 'That " they continued again the Prayers of the Ritu-' al, and that they ended the Ceremonies of the Sacrament ; That though all the Sifters had feet " their good Mother in extremity, they wept not, however, for the great confidence they had of her future recovery; That the Ceremonies be-ing ended, as they approach'd the fick Perfon; A A II 2

292

' fhe was reftor'd to the late Condition wherein " fhe was before the coming of the Phyfician, whom " fhe prefently after call'd to Mind, faying, God will fuddenly convert that Man, he has shew'd him at present all the Signs of my Death, what could be answer him if he be not converted ? ' That she felt some time after ' a gentle but ftrong inclination to take reft, in ' praying at the Feet of her glorious Father Joseph, ' whofe Picture fhe had before her Eyes; That ' this defire having been divers times interrupted, a Slumbering feiz'd her at laft; But that fhe ' had fcarcely flept one quarter of an hour, when " the fame Accidents, and fome others coming upon her, she fell into the utmost conflict of Life; That ' the Exorcift and two Nuns ran to her, in whofe ⁶ prefence fhe had one or two Convultions, and like one a dying; That fhe had two visible stroaks of the Hiccup of Death; But that instead of the " third, they heard a very ftrong Sigh, and that in ' a Moment fhe became found and vigorous, and ' faid fhe had felt her felf depriv'd of all her bodi-' ly Senfes, altho' fhe had always had her Judgment ' free, and that as fhe was in that Condition, fhe " had feen a fair and great Cloud, in which was " inclos'd on the Right-fide her good Angel, of an incomparable beauty, as of a young Man of eighteen years of Age, with comely Hair, flaxen " and very long, which reach'd to the Shoulder of ' the Reverend Father Reces, who was on the fame fide of the Bolfter of her Bed ; That this bleffed " Spirit held in its hand a fair Flambeau of White-' wax; That her glorious Father Joseph was on " the other fide of the Cloud, having a Countenance ⁶ brighter than the Sun, and a Majefty more than ⁶ Humane, of the Age of a Man between forty and " five and forty Years, with a full Head of Hair, mighty

293

' mighty bright, though of a Chefnut Colour; That the faw him look on the Companion of the Exorcifts who was on the fame fide, after a fashion very pleafing and full of Majefty; That af-¢ ter that beholding her, he put his hand upon the Side where the principal Caufe of her Difeafe ς had always been; That he anointed her with ç ç Oyl, or fome other Liquor; That the place which was anointed was made fomewhat moift; And that at that very inftant fhe was cur'd, as fhe ć teftified to them by these Words which she ut-C ¢ ter'd, I am heal'd, my good Angel and St. Joseph are C come, he has anointed my fide, and I have no more pain. ς That the Exorcift, having heard her fpeak of C anointing, afk'd her if fhe felt any thing? She ¢ anfwer'd that fhe felt Moifture, and that having C taken her Shift, she wip'd it prefently without ç making any other reflection ; That her recovery ç having been fo fudden and momentary, they fung c Te Deum; That the Phyfician having been fent for, ¢ came to the Convent without having heard any ¢ thing of that Miracle, and that he faw the Priorefs c come towards him cloath'd with her Nun's Habit, ¢ who finiling, related to him the Miracles of her Recovery ; That his amazement was fo great, that 5 he continued fome time without faying any thing, but that in the end he exprest these words, The Change is great, but the Almighty Power of God can do any thing.

Sett. 69. The Recital of that Hiftory being thus ended, the Author of the Book makes thereupon divers Reflections, in which he prefuppofeth that the Difeafe of the Superior was not feigned, neither in whole nor in part, but all real, true, and natural, and the Proof which he produceth as the most evident, helides that which he drew from the Teftimo-U 2 nies nies of the Phyficians, Apothecary, $\mathfrak{S}c$. of the Exorcifts, Confeffors, and of all those who faw or attended the fick Perfon, is the certain knowledge the had of the Quality of her Difease, and the Authentick Oath which the Devil had made, that this Sicknefshad its beginning iu Nature; and indeed he fpake the truth; the caufe was, in effect, in corrupted and perverted Nature. He proceeded next to the proofs of the Miraculous Cure, which are equally drawn from feveral Teftimonies mention'd in the Relation, and also of the extraordinary and infinitely agree-able Odour, which remain'd in her Shift, wherewith that Unction had been wiped off from her Side ; And in fine, the Virtue of that fame apointing has fince been manifested in fundry Difeases, and against the Devils themselves. For Confirmation of this laft Argument, the Author relates, that the 10th of February Father Reces having caus'd a little Paper to touch that Unction, he went to the Exorcifin of Frances Fillatreau, where the De-vil Souillon, who finelt that excellent Odour, fell in a rage, and faid, That he lov'd not to fmell that, and that it was fuch a Balm, that the Perfon who had been anointed with it, ought no more to do any thing against the Will of God.

294

Sca. 70. The 15th of the fame Month, the fame Devil, who doubtless was no Lover of Perfumes, felt alfo the Virtue of that Ointment in the Hands of Manouri the Surgeon, which made him withdraw, faying to the Surgeon, That be had touch'd fomething which difpleas'd him. The Devils Cedon, Afmodee, Davia, and Baruc had the fame Aversion; there was one which faid, that 'twas the Father of God who tormented them, and others fell into Blafphemics against St. Joseph. That Saint was pleas'd that a Number of Miracles should be wrought by the

the means of that Shift, perfum'd with a Heavenly Ointment, which had gain'd a great reputation, and justly too, on Madam de Laubardemont, who being dangeroufly fick at Tours, eight days after the Superior was recover'd, and not daring to make. use of Medicines, because of her being four Months gone with Child, her Husband in despair, faw no other recourfe, but that precious Relique which St. Joseph had left in the hands of his Kinfwoman. He fent for it, and you may eafily judge that 'twas not deny'd him. In effect, the 25th of February, Demorans carried the Shift into the Houfe of Laubardemont, who went to Prayers with his Domefticks, after which the Canon prefented to the Sick that excellent Remedy which he had brought, the only Smell whereof fill'd her with Joy, accorde ing to the Relation which the fame Author makes of the Miraculous Cure, &c. But when an Application . had been made to the Right-fide of the fick Perfon the was perfectly cur'd, and was the fame day, without pain, deliver'd of a Child which had been dead in her Body about a Month, according to the Judgment of Phyficians. They us'd again that odoriferous Ointment to suppress the Vapours of the Matrix, which flew up to the Brain of the lying in Woman, which fail'd not to produce the defir'd effect, contrary to the ufual Virtue of Perfumes, which excite that kind of Ailment, inftead of affwaging it. After a Miracle fo furprizing, wrought in the Perfon of the Intendant's Wife, there was at Tours a great Concourfe of People of all Ranks, who came to vifit, finell, and kifs the Celeftial Relick, and to caufe their Beads and Images to be touch'd with it. At laft it was brought to Loudum, and there again it produc'd a confiderable Cure on the Mother Angelica, a Nun alfoof St. Urfula, to U a whom whom it was happily apply'd in the extream ne-ceffity of a Difeate, for which they could not find any other Remedy.

Sect. 71. Upon the Credit which fuch Hiftories deferve, the Relation concludes boldly, ' That the ' Recovery of the Superior was miraculous, and as eminent as any other one can quote out of the Wrif tings of any Author. It cannot be afcrib'd to Devils, " without denying the Providence of God, nor be fufpected for an Impofture, without calling into " quefiion the Miracles of Saints, whom the Church has canoniz'd, there being none better certified, * than that although there is no obligation to believe f it under the pain of an Anathema, being not in-' ferted as those of the Scripture amongst the Ar-⁵ ticles of our Faith ; But that it cannot be rejected without imprudence, nor misbeliev'd without ' rafhnefs, and they who believe it not ought at leaft to fufpend their Judgment, and be fi-· lent.

Sect. 72. If this Conclusion can be admitted in the Court of Rome, as 'tis the Defign of the Society of the Nuns of St. Urfulz, for the Glory of their Order, fure it would not have been long before we Thould have feen the Mother, Jane des Agnes, canoniz'd. But in fpite of the Confidence, with which these Fictions and Visions have been vented for Truths, there were then, and always will be, fome Unbelievers, who would overthrow all these Fables by a fingle Negation, feeing that they are not founded upon any Reafon, nor upon any Proof, which may be in the leaft likely to be true, or which deferves to have the least regard. In effect, can one conceive any thing more ftrange, than to fee God employ the Devils to do good to Mankind ? And Behemot to become the Minister of Divine Grace

Grace in the Prefervation of the Blood of the Superior, which would have been entirely fpoil'd and corrupted, if the had been feiz'e with a real Pleurefie, and if the had felt in her Side the great Pain that fhe pretended to feel? Is it not alfo a thing wonderful and aftonishing, that a Humane Body, fuch as is that of our Lord Jefus Christ, could be contain'd all entire and eafily, under the Accidents of one Grumb of Bread? And that a Spirit fhould want room in the fpace of one Foot Square, under the Picture of St. Joseph ? But the Teftimonies of the Phyfician, Apothecary and Surgeon, are pollibly more confiderable Proofs, and effectially that of the Phyfician Fanton, who was of the Reformed Religion, and who has writ a Letter full of Facts; which infer, by neceffary Confequences, the Truth of the Miracle, when even the bad Reputation of Mannouri, with the former Proceedings, and the Stupidity of the Apothecary Gouin, might hinder them from being admitted of for unqueftionable Witneffes. But the Phyfician told his Friends and his Children, and has left it in Writing; That the Nuns had deceiv'd him, in fending to his Houfe very late in the Evening their Maid, to entreat him for Reafons, which to them were important, that he would write to Laubardemont, that the Sickness of the Superior was extream, and feem'd irrecoverable, faying, that he ought not to pry into their Reafons, which would prejudice no body; That they had a particular Interest which concern'd the Temporal Affairs of the Convent, to oblige the Intendant to come to Londust, which perhaps he would not do becaufe of his great Employments, if they did not caufe him to be written to, in that manner, by their Phyfici-an himfelf, who could not be fufpected by him. The

298

The Phyfician further affirms, That the Superior was really bad enough by her Feaver, which had feiz'd her for fome time, although he doubted not, but that extream Pain in her Side, whereof fhe complain'd, was counterfeit ; but that as he himfelf was uncapable of fuch a Diffimulation, he could not imagine that it could enter into the thoughts of an-other; That upon her Complaints, he judg'd that the Difeafe might be a Pleurefie, which was then a Difeafe Epidemical : But the Blood of the fick Perfon which he had feen, had given him reafon to doubt, and had even perplex'd him concerning the Nature of the Difeafe, having had no occasion to fufpect any Intrigues and Cheats, as to the Declarations and Teftimonies of the Devils touching the Caufes of that Accident, becaufe he had not had any notice thereof given him ; That when he faw the Superior after her pretended Cure, fhe was in the fame Condition as before, in refpect of her Weaknefs and Feaver; That fhe was upon her Knees, becaufe fhe could not fupport her felf; That the was lifted up by two other Nuns, and that after having gone two or three Steps, the excus'd her felf upon fome remainder of her Weak-nefs, and caft her felf upon the Bed ; where having felt her Pulfe, he told her, that fhe was not fo well recover'd, but that fhe needed to be put into it; but that feeing fhe was fo well perfwaded of her Cure, that was as much as to fay, that the had no more need of a Phyfician, and that 'twas time for him to retire ; which he did prefently, and 'twas very lucky for him; for in go-ing down the Stairs he heard a Voice, which was not unknown to him, and that he believ'd to be of Memin de Silly, who cry'd out to the Fryars, Jefuits, and others, who were in the Chamber, W by do VQB

299

you not flop bim then ? That was, as he was inform'd fince, to make him fign willingly, or by force, the Attentation which had been already drawn up by Gouin and Mannouri; but far from doing it, and from being perfwaded of the Truth of that Miracle, or from having faid (concerning the Characters pretended to be renewed upon the Hand of the Superior) That those Marks might be useful to her for ber Immortality, he continued all his Life-time a good Protestant, and so offended with the Cheat, that they would have put upon him, that he would never fince put his Foot within the Convent of the Urfulines, notwithstanding the Sollicitations they made to him divers times, and even to the Year 1661, when he died; for he was an excellent Physician, and that notwithstanding his Religion, he always ferv'd the greatest part of the other Convents, and the Hospital of the Town.

Sect. 73. In the mean time Laubardemont came to London, to promote that Miracle of St. Joséph, and to use all his Authority in conjunction with the Endeavours of the Ecclesiasticks, with intent to beget a belief of it in the Minds of Men. The 12th of February he fent for the Physician Fanton, who was gone to visit fome Persons in the Country: They believ'd that he conceal'd himself. The Lieutenant Criminal, who profess himself to be his Friend, came to acquaint his Wife, that this Course would ruin him, and do what he could, they should be fure to find him sooner or later. The next Day in the Evening Fanton being return'd, went to the Inn of the Sign of the Cross, where Laubardemont lodg'd, who supp'd that Evening in the Convent of the Urfulines. The next Day in the Morning he return'd to the faid Inn; and the Intendant

300

tendant beginning to put Interrogatories to him, he anfwer'd, That if it was commanded him to give his Certificate touching the Difeafe of the Superior, he was ready to do it; which was the manner of proceeding upon the like occafion, the King's Edicts prefcribing no other ways ; and that therefore he could not fubmit to that new Cuftom, nor anfiver. Whereupon he was fent away for that time. The 16th of February the Intendant made an Ordinance, in which was contain'd, that the Phyfician fhould answer to the Interrogatories which should be put to him, upon the Penalty of a hundred Livres Fine. That Order was not fignified, till the 27th of the fame Month, with a command for Fanton to go to Tours, whither Lau. bardemont was return'd, to answer there to the Interrogatories which should be put to him; and for want of doing that, they fummon'd him before the Council. Fanton appear'd at Tours the 3d of March : He was discharg'd of the Fine and Summons to the Council, upon the offer which he made to anfwer. In effect, having taken his Oath, and de-clar'd, That he was betwixt fix and feven and thirty Years of Age; they afk'd him, if he had not visited the Mother Priorefs of the Urfulines of Loudan in two Sickneffes which fhe had the firft Day of the Year, and what were those Maladies ? He answer'd, That he began to visit her the third Day of her first Sickness; ' That she complain'd of a Pain in her Left-fide, feated below the " Breaft of the faid Side, even to the Hypochondria; that he judg'd her to have fomething of a Baftard Pleurefie, having a continual Feaver, with daily Remiffions; for which Difeafe he tended her during nine or ten Days, and caus'd her to be blooded three or four times; That on Thurfday the the 26th of the fame Month of January, the Priorefs fent for him early in the Morning, and told him, that about ten a Clock the Night ^c before, there was fallen a great Defluxion on her ' Stomach, which had caus'd her a difficulty of ' Breathing, and an Oppreflion, with Pain on her • Right-fide; and that fhe had a Spice of a Fea-• ver, which Diftemper he had judg'd to be a true · Pleurefie on her Right-fide, followed by a Defluxi-' on on the Stomach, which fhe afterwards voided ' by Spitting and Vomiting; which Evacuations " the Sick Perfon caus'd to be kept in a Balon to be ' view'd, being Flegmatick, with a little Froth, and 6 fometimes finall Streaks of Blood, very red, like ' to that which the thew'd him alfo in a Napkin : " He added alfo, that he continued to phyfick her, ' till about fix a Clock in the Evening of Saturday, " the 7th of February; during which time he had ' not obferv'd any Signs of Concoction, neither in the Urine by Night, which they made to be kept ' for him, nor in that which the did fpit; That ' having perceiv'd fome Convultion in her Arms, ⁶ he began to make fome bad Prognoftication of ' the Difeafe; for the Cure whereof he had order'd ' a convenient Courfe of Diet, bleeding at the Arm feven or eight times, nine Ounces each time, except the laft, which was to be three Ounces on-' ly, four Glyfters, and fome other Medicines; ' That he had not been prefent at the administring of any of the faid Medicines, but that he was " at most of the Bleedings. They ask'd him, if he had not faid to divers Perfons, that the Difeafe was Mor-G ' tal ? He reply'd, That he did judge that 'twas like " to prove fo, faving that 'tis common to hope, as ' long as there is Breath ; That for the reft, he ob-' ferv'd the fwelling of the Belly of the Priorefs to be lefs

202

⁶ lefs than ufual the laft Day that he faw her, and ⁶ only a great Weaknefs; which oblig'd him to or-" der her a Suppository, and to caufe her to take ^c two Yolks of Eggs. They ask'd him, if he did ^c not own the Letter writ by him to Laubardemont? " To which he answer'd, that he did own it. Be-' ing demanded, if an Hour after he had writ it, ' he did not go to the Convent, and faw the Prio-'refs up, dreft, and in good Health? He faid, ' That he went indeed to the Convent two Hours after he had writ the Letter fnew'd to him; That " being enter'd into the Chamber, where he had vi-^e fited the fick Perfon, and not finding her in Bed, ' he believ'd at first that she might be dead, but that ċ. they fhew'd him her kneeling against the Wall, with the greateft part of the Nuns of the Convent; That ¢ two Nuns lifted her up under the Arms and follow'd ¢. her; That fhe came towards him, being but the length of an Ell from him, that the walk'd very flow, faying to him, I thank you for the Affiftances you have given me, I am much oblig'd to you; ć ċ. That he felt her Pulfe, and found it very weak, and that fhe pray'd him to excule her, if fhe laid ' her felf upon the Bed, becaufe of her great Weak-Ġ nefs; That after he had again felt her Pulfe, he ć, went out of the Chamber, and return'd to his own Houfe ; That the next Day about four in ¢ the Afternoon, fhe fent to him a Maid, who entreated him on her behalf, to come and fee her; ¢ but that he answer'd, That he pray'd the Supe-rior to excuse him if he did not, after having ć ¢ been told in her Chamber, that the was well, ¢ · being neverthelefs well inform'd of the Condition wherein he had left her the Night before. " Being ask'd why he answer'd not the famethings " to the Interrogatory which was put to him by Lan-

303

Laubardemont the 14th of February ? He anfwer'd, That he might not be oblig'd to contradict plainly the noife that was fpread abroad of that Cure, he had pray'd him to be fatisfied with the Certificate he fhould give concerning the Difeafe. Whereupon they ask'd him, if feeing the Priorels perfectly recover'd, he did not fay, C That there was fomething extraordinary in it, and that the Phyficians in their Prognoffications never exclude the Power of God ? And if, in 6 effect, he refus'd not to go fee the Priorefs, out 6 of a defign to exempt himfelf from giving his ' Teftimony of what he acknowledg'd extraordi-nary and fupernatural in her Recovery, for fear of difpleafing the Party of those of the Pre-6 tended Reformed Religion ? He faid, That he had not found, and much lefs judg'd, her recover'd, as appear'd by what he had already faid, and that he went out without having utter'd the Word Extroardinary, nor any other like it; That the Phyficians never exclude the Power of God for the Cure of Difeafes; That, on the contrary, they have recourfe to him as to 6 ¢ a Sovereign Phyfician, without whole Bleffing upon Food and Phyfick, they believ'd not any Cure poffible; That he never refus'd to give his Certificate concerning the Difeafes of the Priorefs; That the Letter of the 7th of February, written at the Requeft of the Nuns, contain'd many things which might be declar'd and fet forth by a Certificate, but that it contain'd them not fo precifely, having not been oblig'd to be fo pun-C ¢ ¢ G Etual and ftrict in a Letter requir'd of him, and ¢ writin hafte, without circumfpection, and which ought not to bear fo good Teftimony in a Court of Judicature, as a Certificate made by Order of a

304

a Judge, and fubfcrib'd by him; That for the reft ' he had not writ the Letter in compliance with " the defire of the Nuns, but to give notice to him (Laubardemont) of the condition of the faid Prio-" refs, becaufe of the affurance which they had, that " he would give more credit to what fhould be writ ' to him by a Phyfician, then to what fhould be " writ to him by others, believing that the defign of the faid Nuns was only to caufe him to come to · Loudun, which they faid would be much for their ' intereft ; They afk'd him again if he own'd not ' that the Contents of his Letter to be true ? He re-6 ply'd, that they were in fome fort true, not fo ć exact as things ought to be declar'd by a Certic ficate; It being ufual for Men to take more liberty in a Letter to express themfelves, which is not ć. fit to bear Teftimony in a Court of Judicature, C Ċ. as when one is to fet down a Truth to be certifiċ ed and affirm'd. The Intendant afk'd him in fine, how he judg'd that the Priorefs had been able to Ċ pass from that condition of Extremity representċ ed by him, to that in which he faw her an hour ć after ? He answer'd, that her Condition was not fo very extream, but however that might hap-pen, as 'tis every day to be feen in the Motions of ć ċ é Nature, by the evacuation of fome fenfible huć mour, or by the excretion which is infenfibly ć made through the Pores of the Body, or elfeby the removal of the humour from the place where ¢ it caufeth fuch accidents, to another part lefs conċ 2 fiderable. That moreover fome troublefome Sympč toms which are produc'd by the humour being ¢ in one certain place, may be feen affwag'd without neceffity of changing the part, which hap-pens by the mitigation of the humour allay'd by Ċ Nature, or by the coming of another humour which 18

305

is lefs acute, which may take off the Acrimony of the former; That the manifeft Evacuation is made by Urine, by Stool, or by Vomits, Sweats, and lofs of Blood; That the infenfible Excretion is, when the parts are infenfibly difcharg'd, which kinds of Excretion are oftener made in Difeafes, which are caus'd by hot Humours, and chiefly from Choler, without any figns of Concoction, which precede fuch Excretions, although it may be for the difcharge of Nature, and by way of a Criffs; And that for the cure of Difeafes, there ought naturally to go out of the Body lefs Humours, when they are evacuated by Remedies, which not only carry off the antecedent Caufe of the Difeafes, but allo the prefent; and that the Humours in their Motions obferve certain regular Hours.

Seft. 74. Thefe Anfwers which contain'd fo long an account of the Maxims and Practices of Phyfick, being not what Laubardemont fought for ; " He • continued to interrogate Fanton, and afk'd him, • if he did not take notice that the Priorefs had not ' had any Crifis from the time he writ to the time he " vifited her again, and that the alteration of her · condition, reprefented by his Letter, could not have " been to quickly wrought by natural Caufes, and e-• ven by those he had mention'd in his last Answer? " To whom he answer'd, That he was not able to judge of that, having but juft gone in and out the laft time he faw the Priorefs, and having not examin'd what had pass'd during his Absence; But that very often it happens to a Phylician, " to fee fuch, whom he had defpair'd of, to become better two Hours after ; Whence the Latin Hyppocrates, Celfus, relates that fometimes there happens wonders in Phyfick. The Intendant, not finding vet X yet his account in these Answers, ask'd him, if he had not conferr'd with Duncan about what ' he was to answer concerning the Sickness of the " Priorefs and her Recovery ? He anfwer'd, not, and ' that he had not feen him fince the 14th of Februe ary, and had not held any communication with him by Letters; That in Truth he had feen him be-' fore that day, but that he had neither afk'd him ' any advice touching that matter, nor had he real-' ly receiv'd any. Laubardemont then reproach'd him that he had not fully told the Truth, that ⁶ he had involv'd it in a great number of Words, to ⁶ the end that it might be lefs underflood, having " been induc'd to do it by those of the Pretended Re-" form'd Religion, and that he advis'd him to tell the whole Truth. Whereupon Fanton declar'd that ' he had told it, and that he had not fpoke of that e affair but by meeting accidentally which fome of his Kindred and Friends, whom he had never 6 call'd together for that purpofe. He faid further, that he remembr'd not that the Priorefs feeing him, ' the 7th of February in the Evening, had faid to him ' that God had miraculoufly Cur'd her; That * indeed a Jesuit, whom he believ'd to be her Exorcift, told him, when the Priorefs was laid upon the Bed, that wonderful things were done by the intervention of St. George or St. Joseph [which of C the two he knew not] and that the Father had 6 ' added, that he was neither a Prophet nor a Pro-phet's Son, neverthelefs that he knew well what would happen, and that he had often fpoke to ' him of it. He was afk'd if before the Ex-' treme Unction was given to the Priorefs, he was ' not afk'd, whether fhe were in fuch a condition, ' that they ought to give it her ? He reply'd, that the 5th or 6th of February, going out of the Prioreffes

306

307

⁵ feffes Chamber, he was follow'd by Demorans and one of the Jefuits, who enquir'd of him, if he judg'd that it was neceffary that the Priorefs fhould have the Extreme Unition? Whereunto he anfwer'd, that his Judgment ought not to be follow'd?, being of a Religion which was miftrufted by them, and that however to content them, he faid, that he had feen it given to them, who were not more fick than fhe. All the Interrogatories above mention'd, and his Anfwers having been read to him, he figu'd them, and Laubardemont difmift him.

Sect. 75. Fanton's Anfwers do fufficiently fhew, that he was a little deceiv'd in his conjectures of the Superior's Sicknefs, and that he had thought it greater then it really was, upon the relations that fhe made him of what the felt as well in her Side, as elfewhere, upon the difficulties of breathing that fhe mention'd her felf to have during the few Moments that he was by her; upon the quality of the Excrements, Blood, and other things which they caus'd him to fee, as if she had really voided them. and that they had not been alter'd and put for him to fee, in fuch a condition as they ought to have been, that they might make him give fuch a Judgment as they defir'd; or elfe whether they did fhew him the Excrements of fome other fick Perfon, and he always affirm'd fince in his Family, and to his more particular Friends, ' That the matter must needs be fo, becaufe he had never feen any Exrements " that the fick Perfon had voided in his prefence; * That as he was uncapable to commit an impofure, he did not imagine that they would put one upon him, whatever occasion he might have to think fo, by the reflections which he ought to have made upon the Intrigues of these Nuns, Neigh-Xi and

308

and by the Delufions of which they had been fuf-· pected by the Publick ; That he ought to have · confider'd, that the Superior knew well how to " make her Throat and her Tongue to fwell, and to * make extraordinary Contorfions during her Exor-' cifins; She might as well make her felf fwell, and ' feign an oppression before her Physician, and counterfeit a retraction of her Arms, which however it was, they remain'd ftill in the fame condition after he had given over visiting her; That ' for the reft, during the time he had vifited her, fhe had a very violent Feaver, and all the figns of a ¢ great Sickness upon her Countenance; That this is all the certain Testimony that he could give, s, G nothing having been more easie then to cheat him ¢ in the reft, as well becaufe the Circumftances of .¢ C. the matter might permit it, as becaufe he had not any fufpicion of the Cheat, and that he had not 6 made any particular examination of those cir-6 ¢ cumftances upon that account ; But that he durft not reafon fo boldly in his Interrogatories upon 4 the fufpicions he then had, or upon the eafinefs C s that there had been to delude him upon that occafion, nor upon the apparent figns that there were ' that they had really coufen'd him ; And that he was content to fay only the truth upon the mat-ters which were propos'd to him, becaufe it would have been dangerous for him to have done otherwife, and that the confequences would not ' have fail'd to be very fatal to him and all his · Family. * that the fick Fertion h

Sett. 76. The following Year 1638. the famous Father Tranquille died. He was a Capucin Preacher, the most renown'd of all the Exorcifts then remaining. He made, a little before he died, horrible Cryings out, which were heard by all the Neigh-

309

Neighbours of the Convent of the Capucins, and the report being quickly fpread abroad in the Town, there were a number of People, who went towards the Convent, and into the neareft Streets, to the intent they might hear his Cries, and to be Witneffes themfelves, if what was faid of it were true. There went not any Perfon who was not convinc'd, nor ought there to be any at this day unfatisfied of the Truth of that matter, who confiders the relation of the circumftances of his death, which was publifh'd by a Capucin, and whereof this is the Extract.

Seff. 77. ' Father Tranquille was a Native of St. Remi in Anjou ; He was the most famous Preacher of his time. His Vow of Obedience call'd him to the Exorcifins of Loudun. The Devils 6 dreading this Enemy, went to meet him to fright-¢ en him, if it had been poffible for them; and C they made him feel fuch a Weaknefs in his Legs ć upon the way, that he thought to ftop, and go ¢ no further. He was four Years in the Employć ment of an Exorcift; during which God purified him by Tribulation, as Gold in the Furnace. He thought at first that he should quickly C expel the Devils, being fupported by the Authority which the Church has receiv'd of our Lord: But having found by Experience that he was deceived, he refolv'd to have Patience, and to at-5 tend the Will of God. He was willing to abftain from Preaching, fearing that his Talent ¢ fhould be a Snare to him, and to raife Pride in him, and he gave himfelf wholly to Exorcifin. ' The Devils feeing his Humility, conceiv'd fo great a Rage, that they refolv'd to incamp in his Body. All Hell affembled for that purpole; and neverthelefs it could not caufe him to be either befieg'd or fully poffefs'd, God having not per-5-mitted X 3

310

mitted it. 'Tis true, that the Devils threw themfelves into his inward and outward Senfes; they ' overturn'd him on the Ground, ; they cry'd out, ' and fware by his Mouth ; they made him thruft out his Tongue, hiffing like a Serpent ; they bound his Head, prefs'd his Heart, and made ' him endure a thousand other Pains : But in the " midft of all thefe Evils his Spirit kept united to God, and with the affiftance of his Companion · he readily routed the Devil which tormented him; who cry'd out fometimes by his Mouth, Ob, how I fuffer ! The other Fryers and Exorcifts pitied Father Tranquille in his Sufferings, but he was pleas'd with them wonderfully; and " there was this difference between him and Job, that God fuffer'd not the Devil to touch the Life of the last, whereas he gave up to him the Life of Father Tranquille. When he felt the Tempta-^c tion of the Fleih, he refifted readily the deceit-^f ful Allurements of Satan; he cry'd out extream-' ly to his Confeffor, he entreated him to have ' pity on him, and was not asham'd to discover to him the Affaults of that ftinking Owl of Hell, and that he might effect it more eafily, he caft himfelf into the Arms of the Virgin, his particular Advocate, for whom he had fo great a Devotion, that he had put an Iron Chain about his Neck, in the Quality of her Slave, to " the end that he might fay in truth to that Queen of Virgins, My dear Mistrefs, I am your Slave; Alas! Suffer not that your Enemies and mine should ever seize on him who belongs to you. When the Devil of Pride tempted him, he conceal'd from the Eyes of Men, as well his Sufferings as his Actions of Virtue, and he call'd that, Hiding his Life in Jefus Chrift. Then he took St. Joseph for

^e for his Patron, whofe Life has been in fuch a ' manner conceal'd, that many Ages are paft withf out People's having been inclin'd to invoke and e reverence him according to his Merits. He re-¢ quir'd not that it might be permitted him to ¢ do publick Penances above the common Sort, to the end that he might not feem more perfect ¢ 6 than others : And to obtain a more profound " Humility, he took for his Advocate the humble ⁶ St. Francis, his Seraphick Father. Having been ⁶ follicited by a great Minister of State to quit his Employment, to ferve God and the King in ¢ ¢ a place where he fhould bring forth more Fruit, he answer'd him, That it behov'd him to over-¢ C come, or die in the Field of Battle, where his ç Obedience had planted him. His Humility was ç fo great, that he faid, he thought himfelf unworthy of all Confolation. The Devils have of-ten been defirous to beget in him a difliking of ¢ e his Perfection; but their Attempt was in vain; ¢ and his Courage was fo great, that he often pray'd his Seraphick Father St. Francis, to give Ģ 6 him part of his continual Sufferings, but not of ę é his Confolations, which he wholly renounc'd, ç because he deferv'd them not. In fine, when he ç was provok'd to Anxiety of Mind by fome Devil of Impatience, he invok'd prefently the Gloric ous St. Bonadventure, with the Bleffed St. Francis ç ¢ de Sales, who were rendred famous to the World by their Meeknefs and Affability. The Devils ¢ having refolv'd to kill him, the Magicians re-¢ 6 doubled their Sorcery, and God, by a Secret, but very Juft, Judgment, fuffer'd them to do it. ¢ They affaulted him more vehemently than ever upon Whitfunday, when he was to preach; and the time for his Sermon being come, he found hun XA

311

212

' himfelf not difpos'd. His Confessor commanded " the Devil to leave him at liberty, and the Father ' to go up into the Pulpit upon his Obedience; ' which he did, and preach'd more to the fatisfaction of his Auditors, than if he had fpent whole "Weeks in Study. He did Wonders upon the De-' fcent of the Holy Spirit; and 'twas then that he ' rendred to the fame Holy Spirit the fiery Tongue ' which he had receiv'd, because that was the last of his Sermons. After that Sermon the Devils 6 afflicted him more than before. He faid Mais " three or four Days, at the ending whereof he was conftrain'd to keep his Bed till Monday, when ' he died. He vomited much Filth, which was judg'd to be fo many Pacts, from the Expulsion whereof there was ftill hop'd fome Relief, but the Surgeon found him very ill, and faid, That if · God did not fuddenly ftop the Courfe of that Dia-" bolical Operation, 'twas impoffible that he fhould - fubfift; for as foon as he had taken any Nou-' rifhment, though with an Appetite, the Devils ' caus'd him to caft it up, with fuch violent Pal-^e pitations of his Heart, that the foundeft Perfon ^e might have burft. They caus'd him Pains in " his Head and Heart, of fuch a kind, whereof * there is no mention in Galen or Hyppocrates; and to express their Nature well, one must have fuf-' fer'd them like that good Father. They cry'd ' and roar'd out of his Mouth; but in the mean time ' he had always his Judgment free. All thefe ' Torments were join'd to a continual Feaver, and to divers other Accidents, which cannot be comprehended by those that have not feen them, ' and who have not the Experience of the ways by " which the Devils act upon Men's Bodies. The " Devils encreas'd exceedingly the Pain of the Pa-¢ tient · tient the Night before his Deceafe; which they ' hop'd to haften, by caufing him to render his. 6 Soul by an approaching and extraordinary Vomi-' ting, to the end that he might die without being e perceiv'd; their Intention being to tarnish alfo the Luftre of his Death, and to avoid themfelves C 6 the Lafh of the laft Remedies, which the Church ' has been accuftom'd to make a devout use of, ' upon these occasions. They did then what they could to make him be left by the Fryer that G watch'd with him : They made a continual Noife on one fide or other in the Infirmery, which would ' quickly have put to flight one lefs refolute than that ' Fryer, who, in fpite, of them, continu'd firm and ' couragious to affift the fick Perfon in the vio-' lence of his Vomiting, wherein he caft up much " Filth, ftinking fo horribly, and which was fo ' intolerable, that they were forc'd to throw it ' out of the Window without delay, fo much ' it did infect the Chamber. The next Morning his Brethren, the Fryers, perceiv'd that God ' would give way, and take off his Reftraint on the ' Powers of Hell over the Life of their Patient, who ' pray'd them to give him the Extream Unction, ' when they faw he should have need of it. About ' Noon one knocked at the Door, to know, if ' what the Devil had newly declar'd at the Exor-' cifin were true, viz. That Father Tranquille was ' departing, and that he could not hold out longer; which being found true, the Extream Unction was given him; after which his bleffed Soul took its flight to Heaven, to receive there the Crown " which one may pioufly believe was prepar'd for ' him, after having fought fo Couragioufly, and conquer'd fo Glorioufly. For if those are the cruelleft who deftroy the Life of any one, becauf

313

314

The History of Book III,

· caufe he maintains the Glory of his God and his 5 Mafter, fo is he fo much more excellent, there being not more fubtle Tyrants than the Devils, " who were the Executioners that put to death the humble Tranquille, for fupporting the Glory of God ; and becaufe of the Charity which he had for his Neighbour, he could not confequently be ' more excellently Martyrized, and afterwards more glorioufly crown'd. It was thus that he died in the 43d Year of his Age, and the 23d fince his Admiffion into the Religion of the Capucins.
He was vifited, during his Sicknefs, by a num-' ber of Perfons of Honour, who return'd greatly comforted with his Words. His Patience was fo great, that he defir'd not even the things for which he had an Inclination, but he took all in-' differently that was prefcrib'd him. The Devils, inrag'd to see fo Heroick a Virtue, cry'd out often by his Mouth in these Words, O, how " I fuffer ! I fuffer more than all the Devils together, and than all the dammed. In brief, it was a very War in Hell to them, to find a Soul fo gene-rous in the Body which they tormented. He was ' open'd after his Death, to fee if there remain'd in his Body any Effects of Sorcery, but there were none found. The time of his Interment being come, they carry'd his Body into the Church, which was fill'd with People. They had no fooner fet him down to perform the Ser-• vice, but the People flew upon him to touch their • Beads : Others cut off pieces of his Habit, which " they kept as precious Relicks. The Croud was fo great that they broke the Coffin, and mov'd the Body from I know not how many places, every one drawing it to him, to have his piece: Infomuch that he would really have been left ftark-

F ftark-naked, if fome Perfons of Honour had not ' interpos'd themfelves round about, to fecure him ' from the indifcreet Devotion of the People, who ⁶ having cut in pieces his Habit, might poffibly ⁶ have committed fome Excels upon the Body it felf. A Jefuit made the Funeral Oration : The · Priefts of the Town came in Proceffion at his ' Interment : The Regulars and Seculars offer'd the ⁶ Sacrifice of the Mais for the Repole of his Soul. And one of the Magistrates having got leave to fet a Tomb over his Grave, he put this Epitaph upon it ; Here lieth the humble Father Tranquille of St. Remi, a Capucin Preacher. The Devils being no more able to endurc his Courage in his Em-ployment of Exorcift, they caus'd him to die by their Vexations, induc'd thereto by the Magicians, the last of May 1638. The faid Writings contain'd alfo other confiderable Particulars of the Sicknefs of that Exorcift, with what follow'd after his Death, which well deferve to be inferted here : Which is, " That when they administred to him the Extream ⁶ Unction, the Devils, feeling the Efficacy of that Sacrament, were oblig'd to raife the Siege : But 'twas not to go very far, forafinuch as they en-• tred into the Body of a good Father, a very Rebigious Perfon, who was there prefent, and whom they have ever fince poffefs'd, whom they ' vex'd prefently with Contorfions, and very ' ftrange and violent Agitations, with thrufting out of his Tongue, and very frightful Howlings, redoubling alfo their Rage at each Unction that ' they made upon the fick Perfon, and encreafing ' it again at the fight of the moft Holy Sacrament, ' which was fent for, becaufe the Real Prefence of that Man and God altogether, forc'd them to · let him die in Peace, for whom in this last Paffage

315

316

fage they would willingly have laid fome Snare. Alfo at that very inflant of his Death, out of Fury and Rage that they could no longer lay claim to him, they cry'd out horribly, He is dead ; as who would fay, All is done, there is no more hope for us of that Soul. Afterwards rufhing upon the other poor Fryers, they agitated him to firangely and fo horribly, that although he ' was held by a great many Fryers, they could not however hinder that he fhould not kick out 6 ' with his Feet toward the deceafed Perfon, till he was carried out from thence ; And he con-C ¢ tinued thus ftrongly and cruelly agitated Day and Night till after the Burial; fo that they c ς. were conftrain'd to leave always fome Fryers to attend him. The next Day after the Burial, a " Devil being adjur'd to adore the Providence of God in the death of Father Tranquille, he ^c threw the Perfon poffeffed against the Ground, ^c and faid, I adore the Providence of God in the 5 death of his Saint Father Tranquille, who has always glorioufly triumph'd, even to the end of his Life. Another Devil being likewife exorcis'd, went upon the Grave, which he trampled with his Feet, after clawing with his Hands, and throwing the Earth from fide to fide, as if he ' would take him out; and caffing upon him great Stones, with a furious Look he utter'd thefe Words; Come out you Hangman, come out there. Whereupon being ask'd, why he perfecu-ted him thus after his death? he acted a long ' while with the Hands of the Maid, and after an extreamly inrag'd manner, the fame Poftures, which a Perfon doth who kneads Dough : He was urg'd to explain himfelf clearly by Words : "Tis, faid he, becaufe be dealt thus with me. As

As if he had faid, I perfecute him after that ^e manner, to testifie the rage that I have a-gainst him, because he doth now by me, as the Baker doth by his Dough, who toss and tumbles it as he thinks good; to which he added, He burns me more than ever. He fwore alfo, That 'twas they and the Magicians that kill'd him, but that they were all much out in their reckoning, becaufe in doing that, they imagin'd they should overurn one of the Principal Supports of the poor Poffeffed Maids, and of the best Protectors they had with God and Men; But that at prefent he " Supported them more powerfully and more effectually than ever, becaufe of the great Power which he had " with God'; fo that thinking to gain much, they had " loft all. Befides that, he attefted with an Oath, that the Seraphic Father St. Francis was at the Bolfler of * the dying Father, where he receiv'd his Soul, and put it into the Hands of the Virgin, who prefented it to ber Son at the Foot of the Crofs, becaufe he had born " it ; that before God he was a Martyr, whom Hell ' had Martyriz'd, and that as he had been Tranquille + in his Life, and his Death, he was also Tranquille " in bis Glory. At last the Exorcift having con-" demn'd him to do an honourable Penance, and ' to ask pardon in the name of all Hell, of him " whom they durft put to death; in the end he obey'd, * after much refiftance, Kiffing the Grave in two * places, which answer'd the two parts of the Body where they had most cruelly afflicted him, the Head and the Heart, faying, That his greatest pain bad been there; Then coming to the Foot of the Grave, he kift it again, and proftrating humbly ^e before it, he faid, I, Leviathan [thus this Devil call'd ^f himfelf, who is the chief of all the Devils of the * Poffeffion] I alk pardon in the Name of all Hell, of 318 The History of Book III. of that Servant of God whom we have caus'd to die.

Sect. 78. What ground for Reflection doth not that Hiftory printed the 29th of August 1638. furnifh the Incredulous with ? They conclude, that thet vexation of the Devils, if it were true, or at least the torments of Father Tranquille, which were but too real, and which could not proceed but from the remorfe and agitations of a tortur'd Confcience. were very fenfible Marks of the Severity of the Judgments of God, who permits that the Devils, or the Ideas of Devils and of Hell should thus torment at the hour of death these pretended Exorcists, who whilft they liv'd fo impudently mock'd both Hell, the Devils, and God himfelf ; That otherwife fupfing that the Devils had acted after a fenfible and immediate manner upon this Capucin, the Confequence which his Panegyrift drew from thence to prove the Sanctity of the Deceased, was falle and that it ought to be retorted upon him : Becaufe there are found in the Scripture but two Examples, at most, of the faithful immediately afflicted in their Perfons by the Ministry of Devils, viz. Job under the Old Teftament, and possibly the Apostle St. Paul under the New, which shews that God suffer'd very rarely that that fhould happen. That if fometimes he employ'd those evil Spirits to afflict his Children, we do not read that he made use of them to take away their Lives, and there is no appearance that he permits the Devils to attempt it, becaufe the Life of the Righteous is too precious before him, to give it them for a Prey. That feeing that they allow that the Devils were the Executioners, who had put to Death the humble Tranquille, it must necessarily be concluded that he had well deferv'd to be * their

319

their Martyr. Likewife, that he wonderfully delighted himfelf in fufferings, which happen'd to him upon their Account, and preferr'd them before all the Confolations which might have come to him from elfewhere. But whether that fo many horrible Oaths, fo many dreadful Blafphemies, and fo many other words of Defpair having been utter'd by the Operation of Evil Spirits, and that they did really torment that unhappy Father, when he express them, and that he cry'd, thrusting out his Tongue, and hilling like a Serpent; Whether he has done all these things by the only perverfenefs of Nature, and without being otherwife poffefs'd than by his Defpair, his condition had far lefs refemblance to that of a just Perfon, who never fails to have recourfe to his God when he is under Sufferings and an Agony, than to that of a Reprobate, who teftifies that his Punithment is greater then he can bear, as it appears by the frightful Words which that unhappy Perfon fpake, Ab ! how I fuffer, I fuffer more than all the Devils to gether, and than all the damned. Words worthy of the reft of his Actions, his Thoughts, his Devotions, worthy of a dying Man, who amongft fo many Patrons that he chofe, forgot and left our Jesus Christ the only Mediator, whom the Father had given him. Words, in fine, worthy of a Man who renounc'd Spiritual Confolations and the Sweetnefs which they produce in the Soul. In the mean time, becaufe it pleas'd the Monks to beftow upon fo many horrible Things, I know not what, falle Lights of Merit and Sanctity, in attributing boldly the name of Virtue to Vices, and that of a quiet death to a death most terrible ; to a death accompanied with horrible torments and dreadful Cries; The People fuffer'd themfelves not only to be furpriz'd with these weak allurements, but they seem'd perfuaded fuaded and prepoffels'd to that degree as to run in Crouds to the Coffin of the dead Man, and to tear his Habit in pieces, which had an extraordinary Stench and Naftinefs, becaufe befides the Vomit-ings and Ordures of his Deceafe, there happen'd to him yet other Accidents after his Death. The Relations above mention'd evidence the Truth of thefe Matters, and all the most fensible Perfons of both Religions, who were then alive, and fome of whom are living at this day, have attefted the most confiderable things, which could come to their knowledge, affuring that it was with an Aftonishment and Indignation which cannot be expreft, that they faw the furious fits of the indifcreet Devotion.

220

Sett. 79. After the death of that Heroe, the Poffeffion produc'd no more Miracles. The poffeffed Seculars went to the Exorcifins at certain hours, as fome go to take a Walk ; when they were afk'd on the way, if they were yet poffes'd ? Tes, faid they, Thanks be to God. 'Twas advis'd fometimes to alk the other Bigots, who went daily to behold that Sport, if they were not also possessed, they answer'd, We are not so happy, God has not lov'd us enough for that. But the fatal Blow to that diabolical Inrtigue was the cutting off 4000 Livres Penfion, which the King gave for the charges and expences of the Exorcifts. This crofs accident proceeded from this, that fince the death of Grandier, Cardinal de Richelieu had no more a particular concern in that affair; and from what Madam de Combalet his Niece had affur'd him, that this Game was foill play'd, that he must be a very Chouse to believe it, which made the Cardinal conclude, that if he fuffer'd it to continue a longer time, that would ferve but to difcover further ther the Injuffice which had been committed in the death of Grandier. Befides, he did not much concern himfelf in the defign which the Monks had to eftablish a kind of Inquisition; Pollibly alfo that in his Heart he did diflike it, and that he had not allow'd of all their management both at Loudun and at Chinon, and in many other Places of France, but that he in many other Places of France, but that he might not difcontent them, at a time when he might have need of them; being affur'd that he could eafily ftop them, when he judg'd it fit, and when they fhould become ufelefs or inconvenient. Befides the Fathers Lachance and Tranquille, the two Principal Supporters of the Poffellion, who had had a very great re-putation both by themfelves and by Father Taken who protected them were no long*folepb*, who protected them, were no long-er in being, and the manner, in which they ended their days, had been fo ftrange, that almost all those who were engag'd on the behalf of the Possession before in the pursuit of they had always been before in the pursuit of their defigns, did not fail to be shaken, and to make some reflections, which troubled them and put them into diforder. If there were to make tome reflections, which troubled them and put them into diforder. If there were fome who could perfift yet, and not be touch'd by the examples which they had before their Eyes, they were much concern'd at the lofs of the Penfion, which made them at laft refolve to take no more fuch extraordinary Pains, which were like to be fo ill recompenc'd. Mignon alfo, whofe hatred was fatisfied, and revenge clutted by the death of Grandier was clud glutted by the death of Grandier, was glad to fee the end of fo dangerous an Intrigue, from which he was not to hope any fur-X ther ther advantage to himfelf. For he had too much Wit not to know that the Poffeffion was already but too much decry'd, and that the applause which it had whilst the Govern-ment was favourable to it, was very much diminish'd, when 'twas known abroad that it would be no more fupported by their Authority; and that the Court feem'd inclin'd to be no further concern'd. They brought no more the Poffeffed fo often to the Exorcifms; and they left off at laft by little and little to bring them, upon a Pretence that they would no more exorcize but in private. In effect, the Superior having not been conducted to the Tomb of the Bishop of Geneva, God provided in secret for her Cure, becaufe Men neglected to do their en-deavours in it. Behemot was driven out with little noife, and without other Witneffes than the Exorcifts and Confederates in the Poffeffion; amongst which number there were fome Magi-ftrates with Laubardemont, who, altogether fecretly, and without the knowledge of the Publick, made Verbal Proceffes of the pretended Miracles that were wrought at the going out of this last Devil, to be put amongst the Papers, which might one day be useful for the Canonization of the Superior of the Urfulines of Londun.

322

Sect. 80. But the Poffession at Chinon having had its beginning much later then that of Londim, it continued alfo a little longer time. For in the Year 1640 there was one of the Poffeffed named Beloquin, who being provok'd by fome violent Paffion against a Prieft call'd Giloire. or

or follicited by fome of his Enemies, caus'd a Pullet to be bought by a Woman, her Neigh-bour, and having let out the Blood, fhe preferv'd it in a Viol, and eat at night the Pullet in the Company of that Neighbour who bought it, and of another Man, one of her Friends, whom and of another Man, one of her Friends, whom fhe had invited, to whom, without doubt, fhe did not impart her defign. The next day fhe went very early into the Church of St. James, as it were to perform her Devotions and finding no Body there, fhe went to the Altar, and pour'd the Blood out of the Glafs upon the Linen-Cloth which cover'd it. When Barré the Curate of that Church came thither, and went to the Altar, he made great enquiries to know how that Blood came there; Whereupon receiving no information from Men, he interrogated the Devil of Beloquin, who being urg'd by the Ex-orcifm, anfwer'd that it came from the Maid her felf. That it was the Prieft Giloire, who being inform'd by Magical Art, met the Maid in the Church very early in the Morning, as fhe came to perform her Devotions, and that he had ravish'd her upon the Altar. That Declaration, which caus'd a horrour in all good Catholicks, and which at first held fome others in fuspence, open'd the Eyes of her Neighbours who had bought the Pullet; She difcover'd her fufpicions to another Friend, who could not hold her Peace, fo that the Report thereof began to fpread abroad till it came to the Ears of the Lieutenant Criminal. This Magistrate making a very first enquiry, came at last to the very rife of that Report. The Friend and the Neigh-bour of Beloquin, who had eaten the Pullet, were Y 2 fent

323

334

fent for and interrogated; They declar'd what they knew and what they fulpected. The Verbal Process of their Examination was taken in writing and fent to the Archbishop of Tours. Beloquin who had notice of it, took at a Pewterer's House of Chinon a leaden Buckle, which she put into her Matrix, and bound it in with a Napkin, complaining bitterly of the Pains fhe felt by ftoppage of Urine, which was caus'd her by the Sorceries of certain Magicians. She defir'd afterwards of the Ecclefiafticks, who were Exorcifts at Chinon to be conducted to Tours before the Archbishop, to receive from that Prelate, by the Authority of the Church, some relief to the Pains fhe endur'd. But fome Spies amongft the Friends of Beloquin having been mifinform'd, gave her falfe advice, and the Archbishop favourable to the Poffeffion, was not to be met with in his Diocefs. The Coadjutor, who fupplied his Place, heard quietly the afflicted Perfon, and promis'd to afflift her, and for that effect to use all the means which fhould be in his Power. Beloquin took courage again, and comforted her felf for the unlucky Abfence of the Archbifhop. The Coadjutor, to perform his Word, caus'd two lufty and firong Men to be call'd, whom he commanded to hold her, and two Midwives, whom he order'd to fearch her. That fearch difcover'd the Cheat, at which the Coadjutor, being exceedingly offended, caus'd the pretend-ed Poffefs'd to be put in the Prifon of Chinon, and went himfelf quickly after to the fame Town, where having made an information against her, and a-gainst all the Cabal of her Confederates, he fent for the Judges of Richelicu and Chinon, to

the Devils of Loudun. 325,

to proceed to Judgment in that matter; which to proceed to Judgment in that matter; which was carried on with fo much Vigor, that none doubted but that the Guilty would be feverely and exemplarily punifh'd. But the follicitati-ons of the Kindred of the pretended Poffeffed, the moft part whereof belonged to confiderable Families of Chinon and efpecially to the Fami-ly of the Counfellor Chefnon, who was of the num-ber of the Judges; the Orders of Cardinal de Richelien, who defir'd that the Bufinefs of the Poffeffion thould end without noife leaft it the Poffeffion fhould end without noife, leaft it fhould call to Mind what had formerly hap-pen'd. Thefe Orders, I fay, and thefe Sollicitations hindred the Punishment from being fo terrible and exemplary, as it would other-wife have been. Barré was only depriv'd of his Cure and his Prebend, exil'd out of the Diocefs of Touraine, and confin'd to the Town of Mans, where he kept himfelf conceal'd to the end of his Life, in a Convent of Monks : And the Maids whom he Exorciz'd, were condemn'd to pals the reft of their days between four Walls.

Sect. 81. Since this Sentence was given, and that it had diffipated that Cabal, there was no further talk of Poffeffion, Exorcifin, or De-vils. 'Tis true, the greateft part of the Poffeffed, as well Seculars as Nuns, and even the Superior, being tir'd with the Trade which they drove and the Pains it had given them ; they were not dif-pleas'd to fee them end quietly, efpecially when they heard of the fatal Success of the Poffeffion at Chinon, which gave them occasion to re-flect upon the danger which they had run, if Y 2 they

they had been examin'd with fo much Severity and Rigour, as thefe laft. Therefore they re-ceiv'd with Joy the Condition of remaining in quiet, and enjoy peaceably the Riches they had acquir'd by a way fo extraordinary and fo dangerous. But they were not want-ing to manage all the other advantages which they could expect, endeavouring to make pro-fit of the Reputation, which their pretended Poffeffion had procur'd them with all the good Poffeffion had procur'd them with all the good Catholicks, whom the Monks perfuaded every where, that thefe good Maids were the moft illuftrious Examples of Virtue and Piety, and at the fame time, of Pains and Sufferings, which had ever been in the World. Which found more or lefs credit according to the proporti-on of the diffance of Countries. For as in the Neighbourhood of Loudun there were but few Towns, from whence there came not a great number of Speciators, to behold the Wonders of that famous Polleflion, there were alfo in those Towns a great many Witneffes of the little Edification which they receiv'd, the report whereof gave a great Check to the Relations publish'd by the Monks. But 'twas not fo with those who liv'd far off. All the Conversations of devout Persons ran upon this Subject. The Affurance with which the Story was deliver'd to them, and the Character of those who publish'd it, fuf-fer'd them not to doubt of it. The Books which were given them, fill'd with Facis related with the utmost boldness, the Quality of an In-tendant, Commission of the King, by whom these Facts were attested, and the dreadful punishment they had caus'd a Parlon to undergo, confirm'd firm'd them entire in their perfuafion. 'Tis true, that there were few places, where there were not alfo fome Unbelievers, who told the News of what they had heard or feen, but the number of those afar off was fo finall, and the Proofs of the contrary feem'd fo ftrong, and were after fuch a manner authoriz'd, that in general all the good Catholicks gave Credit to it; and in particular those of the Province of Bretagne, where the People are very fuperftitious and credulous, even to that degree, that there was then a Superior of another Order of Nuns, who writ to the Superior of the Urfulines, That if the had liberty to difpofe of her felf at her own Choice, fhe offered her felf willingly to come to Loudun, to ferve the Poffeffed who were fo dear to God and to St. Joseph, and efpecially to pass the reft of her days near the illustrious Mother Priorefs, upon whom God had made fo great an effusion of his Graces; in whole Perfon there were feeen fo many Miracles wrought, and who had been fo particularly favour'd by the great St. Joseph, that he had been fo ready as to come himfelf to affift at her Recovery, and to bring her a Heavenly Ointment for that effect. So the Urfuline Nuns were every where famous ; their Reputation flew into all Parts, and Strangers, as well Incredulous, as others, who pafs'd by Loudun, fail'd not to go and fee the Names of fofepb, Mary and fefus, which had been writ by the Devils upon the Hands of the Superi-or, and the Characters whereof were often refresh'd by the Ministry of her good Angel, who came from time to time to vifit her, and to Y 4 per perform that Service to her; in acknowledg-ment whereof fhe did not fail to give him the Glory of it; for the refus'd not, during a certain time, to fhew thefe Names to all the Curious, whom the took care to entertain with the Vifits of that Spirit, and the Favours with which fhe was honour'd: But at laft the Spirit grew weary, or by fome particular difpensation, was not able to work that Miracle any longer; Or rather, to fpeak more intelligibly and more truly, when the wrinkles of old Age had made her Hand dry and lean, the Druggs which were employ'd to renew them, were no longer able to imprint them. The good Mother faid then, that God had granted upon her Prayers to fuffer those Names to wear out, which were the caufe that a Multitude of People came to importune her, and to withdraw her often from her Acts of Devotion.

327

Sett. 82. If there be any place in the World, where People can well keep a Secret, it is in the Convents, when there is a Concern for the Catholick Party in general, or for the Order, and the Convent in particular. So that one has not been able to learn any thing of the State of the Poffeffed after the end of the Poffeffion, unlefs it were, that they made fome Verbal Proceffes of new Miracles, which had been wrought in the Perfon of the Superior, of one of which there was fome Knowledge gain'd by means of the Magiftrates who attefted them, efpecially by those who had been follicited to do it, (as the Counfellor Tabart) refus'd notwithftanding to atteft one Event, whereof they had not been Witneffes, and

and upon the bare Relation of the Mother Prio-refs of the Urfulines, who faid, fhe had heard a forrowful Voice, first in the Dormitory, and then at the Door of her Chamber; where, after many Groans, fhe faw a great dead Body all in Eire come in, who came from Purgatory, whether it were to go into Paradife, or to de-fire the Succour of fome Maffes for his Eafe: For the Magistrates, who refus'd to fubscribe that Miracle, and have made that Report, were not fo exactly informed of all its Circumftances, as they who faw and fign'd the Verbal Proceffes which were made thereof. The Superior was exceedingly frighted at the fight of that dreadful Object, which prefented it felf to her. She ran to her Holy-Water-pot, fhe took Holy-Water and threw it upon the dead Body, to oblige him by virtue of that Water to retire. The Water made the fame noife as when it falls upon a Bar of red-hot Iron. It rebounded upon the Hand and the Cheek of the Superior, where it raifed fome Blifters, the Scars whereof, 'tis not doubt-ed, would have continu'd all her Life time. So confiderable an Accident which is pretended to have happen'd in the Convent, could not continue fo conceal'd from the Boarders which were there. There was one who was of a merry Humour, and who apparently was not fatisfied with the ufage fhe had receiv'd from the Superior who faid, that 'twas very eafie to make the like Scars; and that fhe doubted not but that the Superior us'd for thar purpose the Beggars Herb, a Name which is given in that Country to a certain Herb, with which the Beggars rub themfelves, to make Sores to appear upon their Bodies,

329

330

Bodies, with intent to excite more Compaffion, and of which there grew a great quantity in the Garden of the Convent. They were not then able to keep the Secret in that particular, as in the reft of the things which were done to obtain one Day the Canonization of that Nun. One cannot alfo fay any thing of the manner wherein fhe ended her Days; but 'tis well known what was the End of almost all the Authors and Favourers of the Poffeffion, and of the Witneffes who teftified against Grandier. We fhall not however report here the Particulars, becaufe those kinds of Relations find little credit : Or if there were incontestable Proofs of them, fuch Events would be afcrib'd to Chance, and to the ordinary courfe of things of this World. However, were it expedient to enter into a particular Account of them, there would not be wanting Proofs, both within the Country and without, feeing that the greatest part of those People liv'd a long time after the Poffeffion ceas'd, and that the Circumstances of their Death were well known by a number of Perfons, yet living at this Day. But, at leaft, I may be allow'd to quote Monfieur Patin, and relate here what he fays concerning Laubardemont, in his 37th Letter dated at Paris, the 22d of December 1651. Page 130. of the Edition at the. Hague.

' The 9th of this Month, at nine of the Clock at Night, a Coach was fet upon by Rob-bers: The Noife which they made caus'd the * Townfinen to come out of their Houfes, as * well poffibly out of Curiofity, as Charity. · They

• They fhot on both fides : One of the Robbers • having receiv'd a Shot, fell to the Ground, and • a Lacquey of their Party was feiz'd. The others • fled. The wounded Perfon died the next Day • in the Morning, without faying any thing or • complaining, and without declaring who he was. However he was known at laft to be the Son of a Master of Requests nam'd Laubardemont, ' who condemn'd to death in 1634. the poor " Parfon of Loudun, Urban Grandier, and caus'd ' him to be burnt alive, under the pretence that he had fent the Devil into the Bodies of the Nuns of Loudan, whom they had caus'd to learn fome Tumbling Tricks to 5 ' perfuade Fools that they were Demoniacks. ' May not this be taken for a Divine Punish-' ment of God upon the Family of that ' unhappy Judge ? to expiate in fome manner the cruel and mercilefs death of that poor Prieft, whole Blood ftill cries for Venges ance.

Seff. 83. Those who know the circumstances of the death of Manmouri, and many others of those unhappy Caballers, and in what condition feveral of their Families are at prefent, have reafon, as well as Patin, to acknowledge and admire the Judgments of God, and to fay, that the Blood of Grandier has cry'd for Vengeance a long time after his Death, and poffibly to this very day.

FINIS.

B O O K S Printed for, and Sold by William Turner, at the Angel at Lincolns-Inn Back-Gate, and Richard Baffett, at the Mitre in Fleet-Street.

THE English Theophrastus, or the Manners of the Age; being the Modern Characters of the Court, the Town and the City; written by feveral Hands; Price Free Shillings.

Letters of Wit, Politicks and Morality; by Cardinal Bentivoglio, Father Rapin, Aurelian the Emperor, Queen Zenobia, Don Quevedo, Petronius, Madain Maintenon, &c. with feveral Original Letters of Love and Friendship; by Mr. Cheek, Mr. Savage, the Sieur Boyer, Capt. Ayloff, Mrs. Carrol, and feveral others; Price Five Shillings.

The French Spy; being the Memoirs of John Baptist, De la Fontaine; containing many Secret and Pleafant Transactions, relating both to England and France; Price Five Shillings.

The Vantities of Philofophy and Phylick, to be perufed chiefly by all that would preferve Health, and prolong Life, as well in a Regular as Irregular Way of Living, by Directions and Medicines therein mentioned; the Third Edition; by Dr. Gideon Harvey; Price Five Shillings.

The Good Old Way : Or Three Brief Difcourfes, tending to the Promotion of Religion, and and the Glory, Peace and Happiness of the Queen and Her Kingdoms, in Three Effays; by Johna Barnes, Her Majeftys Greek Professor of Cambridge; Price Two Shillings.

Serious Thoughts on Second Thoughts; being a plain Confutation of Dr. Coward's Damnable and Erroneous Book, wherein he Endeavours to prove the Opinion of the Souls Exiftence, to be a plain Heathenish Invention, and not Confonant to the Principles of Philosophy, Reason or Religion, with a Character of the Doctor. Price Two Shillings.

A Compleat Courfe of Chymiftry, containing near three Hundred Operations, feveral of which have not been publish'd before : Alfo the Structure of feveral Furnaces, with near three hundred Characters, which are difperfed in Chymical Authors, and fuch Instruments and Vessel's as are necessary in a compleat Elaboratory, all cut in Copper, written by George Wilfon Chymist; Price Five Shillings.

The Perfidious P— being Letters from a Nobleman to two Ladies, under the Borrowed Names of Corydon, Clarinda, and Lucina, with the Ladies Anfwer; Price 1 s. 6 d.

The Lives and Characters of the English Dramatick Poets: Alfo an exact Account of all the Plays that were ever yet printed in the English Tongue; their double Titles, the Places where acted, the Dates when printed, and the Perfons to whom dedicated, with Remarks and Obfervations on most of the faid Plays; Price Three Shillings.

A Defence of Mr. Lock's Effay of Humane Understanding; wherein its Principles, with refeference to Morality, Reveal'd Religion, and the Immortality of the Soul, are confidered and juflifted ftified, in answer to some Remarks on that Effay ; Price One Shilling.

The Life of the late famous Comedian fo. Hayns, containing his Comical Exploits and Adventures both at Home and Abroad; Price One Shilling.

An Hiftorical Account of Mr. Broome's Three Years Travels over England, Scotland and Wales; giving a true and exact Defcription of the chiefeff Cities, Towns and Corporations; together with the Antiquities of divers other Places, with the most famous Cathedrals, and other eminent Structures; of feveral remarkable Caves and Wells; with many other divertive Paffages, never before published; Price Four Shillings.

The Book of Martyrs, with an Account of the Acts and Monuments of Church and State, from the time of our Bleffed Saviour to the Year 1701. Wherein is given a Faithful Relation of the Sufferings and Martyrdoms of the Apoftles, Evangelifts, and Primitive Christians, under the Ten Heathen Perfecutions, and of the Anti-Christian Popish Perfecutions that have been in England, Ireland, Italy, Germany, Bohemia, Spain, Flanders, France, Hungary, Poland, Litbuania, Savoy, Picmont, and in other Countries. Abstracted from the best Authors and Original Papers-Illustrated with Cutts engraved on Copper-plates-In Two Volumes. Price Ten Shillings.

The English Hiftorical Library; or, a Short View and Charatter of most of the Writers now Extant either in Print or Manuscript; which may be Serviceable to the Undertakers of a General History of this Kingdom. By William Nicolfon, A. M. Arch-Deacon of Carlisse. Price Three Shillings and Six-pence. Modus Transferrendi Status Per Recorda : A Compleat Collection of Choice Precedents for Fines upon Writs of Entry in the Polt, in all Cafes ; Whereby Lands may be Settled. 1. In the Crown to preferve the fame in the Name and Blood to the utmost Posterity : Or, 2. The fame may be transferred from one Person to another, in Feesimple, Fee-Tail, for Life or Years : Or, 3. Annuities, or Rent-Charges may be granted thereby, in Fee, in Tail, for Life or Years : And, 4. Any other Eftate may be raifed thereby, which can be done by Deed of Conveyance at Common Law. To which Precedents are prefixt two Discourfes of the Nature and Operation of, and the Use and Practice relating to Fines and Recoveries, deduced from Experience, and the best Authors both Antient and Modern upon the Subject. By W. Brown a Clerk of the Court of Common-Pleas. Price Five Shillings

Little Venus unmalk'd, the feventh Edition, being a Difcourfe of the French-Pox with all its Kinds, Caufes, Signs, and Prognofticks; alfo the Running of the Reins, Shanker, Bubo, Gleets, &c. with their Cures, whereby a Patient may eafily difcover the Nature and Degree of his Difafter; and, if not very inveterate and malignant, may cure himfelf beyond any Apothecary or Surgeon; and, what is the Chief, an Apendix of new Obfervations never yet difcoveerd by any: To which is added a particular Venereal Cafe, never before printed, by Dr. Gideon Harvey M. D. Price Two Shillings.

The Hiftory of England faithfully extracted from Authentick Records, Approv'd Manufcripts, and the most Celebrated Hiftories of this Kingdom in all Languages, Languages, whether Ecclefiaffical or Civil, with the Effigies of all the Kings and Queens of England from the Norman Race to the prefent time, curioufly Engraved on Copper Plates from Original Medals and Pictures, in 2 Vol. 8vo. the 2d. Edition Corrected, Price 12 s.

A Compleat Hiftory of Germany, comprehending the Lives and Reigns of all the Emperors from its Origin to this time, extracted from the beft Authors and private Memoirs, by Mr. Savage. To which are added, the Effigies of all the Emperors curioufly Engraved on Copper Plates from Original Medals, the like never extant in any Language, in 2 Vol. 8vo. Price 12 s.

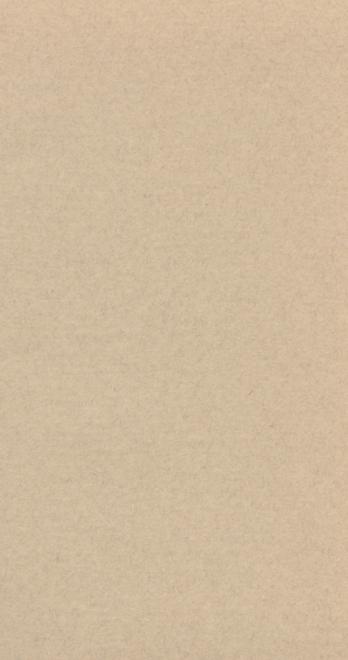

The Mifcellaneous Works of the Honourable Sir Charles Sidley Bar. containing Satyrs, Epigrams, Court-Characters, Tranflations, Effays, and Speeches in Parliament, collected into one Vol. To which is added the Death of Marc Antony, a Tragedy never before printed; published from the Original Manuscripts, by Captain Ayloff, 8vo. Price 5 s.

Amufements Serious and Comical, calculated for the Meridian of London, by Mr. Tho. Brown, 8vo. Price 5 s.

A General Charge to all Grand-Juries, with Advice to thole of Life and Death, Nifi Prius, &c. collected and published for the ease of Justices of the Peace, quicker dispatch of Business, better information of Jurors, and common Benefit of all Free-holders, who shall be call'd to so honourable and necessary a Service : To which is perfixed a Discourse of the Antiquity, Power and Duty of Juries, with an Exhortation to their due performance thereof, by Sir James Aftry; Price 1s. 6d.

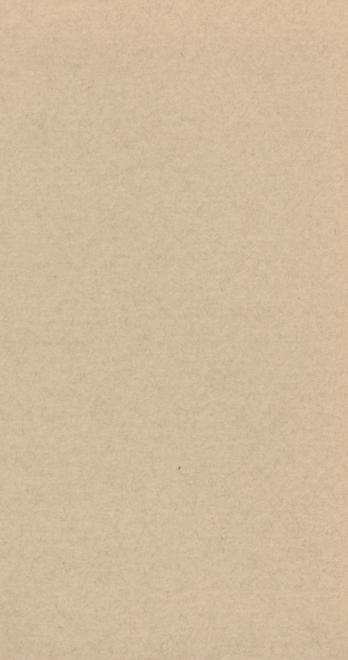

Book taken apart, washed & deacidified with magnesium bicarbonate. Leaves mended where needed & reseved. Book bound in full cloth with new unblached linen hinges & acid free end signatures.

Sky Meadow Bindery, Inc. September 1991

HMD WZ 260 A 888 1705

