The Board of Aldermen, acting ex-officio as the Board of Health, in giving these instructions to you, think proper to state, that they shall expect of you the utmost vigilance in performing the important duties confided to you, and at the same time they also think it proper to state that they consider you responsible if any ship or vessel, not having been duly cleansed or purified, should come up to the wharves of the city by your permission or consent.

You will also hoist a signal at the flag staff on the hill, and keep it up until such ship or vessel shall be visited by the Health Officer.
